Statement in Explanation of "Yes" Re Denial of Licenses Application

On January 25, 2019 and May 6, 2019, the Utah Department of Commerce ("UDOC"), due to application non-completeness, denied Cintas Corporation No. 2's ("Cintas") applications of Pharmacy - Class E permits for facilities located in Henderson, Nevada and Mason, Ohio.

Cintas subsequently renewed the application for the Henderson, Nevada facility and the UDOC did ultimately issue the permit to Cintas on June 4, 2019 (Permit No. 11279941-1714).

In addition to issuing the permit to Cintas for the facility in Henderson, Nevada, the UDOC has also issued permits to Cintas for facilities in Salt Lake City (11107516-1714), and Sparks, Nevada (11080860-1714).

Item 1. Business

Overview

Cintas Corporation (Cintas, Company, we, us or our), a Washington corporation, helps more than one million businesses of all types and sizes, primarily in the United States (U.S.), as well as Canada and Latin America, get READY™ to open their doors with confidence every day by providing a wide range of products and services that enhance our customers' image and help keep their facilities and employees clean, safe and looking their best. With products and services including uniforms, mats, mops, restroom supplies, first aid and safety products, fire extinguishers and testing, and safety training, Cintas helps customers get Ready for the Workday®. Cintas was founded in 1968 by Richard T. Farmer when he left his family's industrial laundry business in order to develop uniform programs using an exclusive new fabric. In the early 1970's, Cintas acquired the family industrial laundry business. Over the years, Cintas developed additional products and services that complemented its core uniform business and broadened the scope of products and services available to its customers.

Business Segments

Cintas' reportable operating segments are the Uniform Rental and Facility Services operating segment and the First Aid and Safety Services operating segment. The Uniform Rental and Facility Services reportable operating segment consists of the rental and servicing of uniforms and other garments, including flame resistant clothing, mats, mops and shop towels and other ancillary items. In addition to these rental items, restroom cleaning services and supplies and the sale of items from our catalogs to our customers on route are included within this reportable operating segment. The First Aid and Safety Services reportable operating segment consists of first aid and safety products and services. The remainder of Cintas' business, which consists of the Fire Protection Services operating segment and the Uniform Direct Sale operating segment, is included in All Other.

The following table sets forth Cintas' total revenue and the revenue derived from each reportable operating segment and the remaining operating segments included in the All Other category for the fiscal years ended May 31:

(In thousands)	2023	2022	2021
Uniform Rental and Facility Services	$ 6,897,130	$ 6,226,980	$ 5,689,632
First Aid and Safety Services	951,496	832,458	784,291
All Other	967,143	795,021	642,417
Total Revenue	$ 8,815,769	$ 7,854,459	$ 7,116,340

Additional information regarding each reportable operating segment and All Other is also included in Note 13 entitled Operating Segment Information of "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements."

Customers

We provide our products and services to over one million businesses of all types, from small service and manufacturing companies to major corporations that employ thousands of people. This diversity in customer base results in no individual customer accounting for greater than one percent of Cintas' total revenue. As a result, the loss of one account would not have a material financial impact on Cintas.

Competition

The primary markets served by each of the Cintas operating segments are local in nature and highly fragmented. Cintas competes with national, regional and local providers, large national retailers and small local retailers as well as companies with a significant online presence and the level of competition varies at each of Cintas' local operations. In addition, businesses may decide to perform certain services in-house instead of outsourcing these services. Product, design, price, quality, service and convenience to the customer are the competitive elements in each of our operating segments.

Operations and Distribution

Within the Uniform Rental and Facility Services reportable operating segment, Cintas provides its products and services to customers via local delivery routes originating from rental processing plants and branches. Within the First Aid and Safety Services reportable operating segment and All Other, Cintas provides its products and services via its distribution network and local delivery routes or local representatives. At May 31, 2023, Cintas, in total, had approximately 11,500 local delivery routes, 461 operational facilities and 12 distribution centers.

Sourcing

Cintas is committed to sourcing responsibly. Cintas sources finished products from many outside suppliers. As mentioned on our website, www.cintas.com, each and every supplier must comply with a vendor code of conduct as a condition of doing business with Cintas. Cintas also conducts internal training to ensure that employee-partners who have direct responsibility for supply chain management are knowledgeable and aware of issues and concerns surrounding our supply chain. In addition to sourcing from third-party suppliers, Cintas operates five manufacturing facilities that provide for standard uniform needs. Cintas purchases fabric, used in the manufacturing of its products, from several suppliers. Cintas' ability to find qualified suppliers who meet its standards and to access products in a timely and efficient manner, is subject to ongoing market risks. For a discussion of the risks associated with sourcing that may materially impact Cintas, please see "Item 1A: Risk Factors - Risks Relating to Business Strategy and Operations."

Government Laws and Regulations

Cintas is subject to a wide array of laws, government regulations, including environmental regulations, and standards in each domestic and foreign jurisdiction in which it operates. In addition to Cintas' U.S. operations, which in fiscal 2023, fiscal 2022 and fiscal 2021, generated over 90% of its consolidated revenue, Cintas also operates its business through wholly-owned subsidiaries in foreign jurisdictions, primarily in Canada. Compliance with these laws, government regulations, including environmental regulations, and standards requires the dedication of time and effort of employee-partners as well as financial resources.

Compliance with environmental regulations and prioritizing our environmental sustainability efforts are important to us as a good corporate citizen. Our journey started in 1929 during the Great Depression when Doc and Amelia Farmer collected shop towels that had been disposed of by manufacturing facilities along the Ohio River. They washed, recycled and sold the clean towels back to companies. Today, the majority of our total Company revenue comes from our Uniform Rental and Facility Services reportable operating segment. Most of these items are cleaned and processed in ways that extend their lifespan and, when not in use, are re-stocked for future customers to maximize their lifespan. Our laundering processes generate far less wastewater than home laundering. Water discharged into the environment is treated at our operating facilities and in accordance with local discharge standards and permits. Our lasting commitment to the environment and our communities is evident from our processes and innovation, which are designed to ensure that our operational facilities are operating efficiently. Cintas is subject to various environmental laws and regulations, as are other companies in the uniform rental industry. The primary federal statutes that apply to our activities in the U.S. are the Clean Air Act, the Clean Water Act and the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act. We are also subject to the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986, which imposes certain reporting requirements as to emissions of hazardous substances into the air, land and water. While environmental compliance is not a material component of our costs, Cintas makes capital expenditures and associated operating costs, primarily for water treatment and waste removal, on a regular basis in order to comply with environmental laws and regulations, to promote employee-partner safety and to carry out its environmental sustainability principles. Environmental spending related to water treatment and waste removal was approximately $26.0 million in fiscal 2023, approximately $22.0 million in fiscal 2022 and approximately $19.0 million in fiscal 2021. Capital expenditures to limit or monitor hazardous substances totaled approximately $1.0 million in fiscal 2023, approximately $0.2 million in fiscal 2022 and approximately $1.0 million in fiscal 2021.

In addition, health and safety regulations (including laws or regulations promulgated in response to the novel strain of coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic) have necessitated, and may continue to necessitate, increased operating costs or capital investments to promote a safe working environment. Cintas is also required to comply with increasingly complex and changing laws and regulations enacted to protect business and personal data in the U.S. and other jurisdictions regarding privacy, data protection and data security, including those related to the collection, storage, use, transmission and protection of personal information and other consumer, customer, vendor or employee data. With respect to the laws and regulations noted above, as well as other applicable laws and regulations, Cintas' compliance programs may under certain circumstances involve material investments in the form of additional processes, training, personnel, information technology and capital. In fiscal 2023, compliance with the applicable laws, government regulations, including environmental regulations, and standards did not have a material effect on Cintas' capital expenditures or consolidated results of operations. For a discussion of the risks associated with government regulations that may materially impact Cintas, please see "Item 1A: Risk Factors—Legal and Regulatory Risks."

Communication

Cintas uses its corporate website, www.cintas.com, as a channel for routine distribution of important information, including news releases, analyst presentations and financial information. Cintas files with, or furnishes to, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Annual Reports on Form 10-K, Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, Current Reports on Form 8-K and any amendments to those reports, as well as proxy statements and annual reports to shareholders, and, from time to time, other documents. The reports and other documents filed with or furnished to the SEC are available to investors on or through our corporate website free of charge as soon as reasonably practicable after we electronically file them with or furnish them to the SEC. The SEC maintains an internet site located at www.sec.gov that contains reports, proxy and information statements and other information regarding issuers, such as Cintas, that file electronically with the SEC. Cintas' SEC filings can be found on the Investor Relations page of its website at www.cintas.com/investors/financial-reports and its Code of Conduct and Business Ethics can be found under the Impact page of its website at www.cintas.com/company/esg. These documents are available in print to any shareholder who requests a copy by writing or calling Cintas as set forth on the Investor Information page under the FAQs. Environmental, Social and Governance

In fiscal 2023, Cintas published its third annual environmental, social and governance (ESG) report and reported on Cintas' continued strategy of a Shared Drive for Better. The report included information on Cintas' efforts in areas of climate and energy initiatives, water interactions, materials and waste, sustainable supply chain, diversity, equity and inclusion efforts, employee-partner development, safety and health strategy, human rights and labor rights positions and governance, ethics and integrity foundations. Cintas' most recent ESG report can be found on our website at www.cintas.com/company/esg.

Human Capital

Cintas' key human capital management objectives are to attract, retain and develop talent to deliver on the Company's strategy. To support these objectives, Cintas' human resources programs are designed to: keep people safe and healthy; enhance the Company's culture through efforts aimed at making the workplace more inclusive; acquire and retain diverse talent; reward and support employee-partners through competitive pay and benefit programs; develop talent to prepare them for critical roles and leadership positions; and facilitate internal talent mobility to create a high-performing workforce. The principles and values our employee-partners share are the driving force behind all our accomplishments. At May 31, 2023, Cintas employed approximately 44,500 employee-partners in our global workforce, of which approximately 1,000 were represented by labor unions.

Our primary areas of focus in managing our human capital include the following:

Corporate Culture

We believe that our culture at Cintas is just as essential as our products and services. Our culture impacts the quality of the employee-partners we hire, the way we communicate and interact with our customers and each other and our performance standards. Our culture is the cornerstone representing our values, our behaviors, our way of working and how we approach our business, which is strong relationships and a dedication to taking care of one another and our customers. We operate according to the Cintas Code of Conduct, available on our website www.cintas.com, which mandates full compliance with applicable laws and regulations and helps to preserve the integrity of our Company.

Health and Safety

We aspire to achieve zero workplace injuries and collisions and provide a safe, open, healthy and accountable work environment for our employee-partners. To align with internationally recognized standards, we have implemented an occupational health and safety management system in accordance with the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) that is modeled after the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) 45001 and OSHA Voluntary Protection Program (VPP). Employee-partners, contractors, vendors and visitors are all covered by the system, which focuses on hazard prevention, training, management commitment and worker involvement. We are also committed to continuously improving performance through our Health and Safety Improvement Committees in every operation, while corporate health and safety employee-partners conduct annual reviews of our operations. Additionally, every year our employee-partners receive online, on-the-job and classroom training on over 50 health and safety topics, and all maintenance staff must complete our award-winning Maintenance Safety Certification process. Every Cintas driver completes monthly driver safety training courses and/or on-the-road skills evaluations. All production-related managers attend OSHA's 10-hour Safety Improvement course, and each member of our Senior Management team takes the Management and Leadership Skills for Environmental Health and Safety Professionals Course, part of the Harvard T.H Chan School of Public Health safety and health curriculum. In addition, we provide several channels for all employee-partners to speak up, ask for guidance and report concerns related to ethics or safety violations, and we address those concerns and take appropriate actions to uphold our Cintas values and health and safety culture. Through these efforts, Cintas has reduced our recordable injury rate by over 75% since 2008, has been awarded 124 OSHA Star sites in the VPP, which is more than triple any other company in the U.S. and has received numerous safety, health and ergonomics awards from national and international groups.

Employee-Partner Wellness

We are committed to the physical and mental health and wellness of our employee-partners. We provide our employee-partners and their families with access to a variety of health and wellness programs, including our long-running Live Well program that supports employee-partners on their health and wellness journeys. We provide free annual biometric screening and health assessments at work or offsite, annual free flu shot clinics, a tobacco cessation program, weight management programs and an employee-partner assistance program, which offers advice on mental health, legal and financial issues.

Diversity, Equity & Inclusion

Cintas supports diversity, equity and inclusion by fostering a respectful, creative and productive environment where all employee-partners can reach their full potential without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status. We actively recruit, retain, develop and advance a diverse and talented workforce. We have six Employee-Partner Business Resource Groups, focused on Women, African Americans, Hispanic and Latin Americans, Asian American/Pacific Islanders, LGBTQ+ and Military and Veteran employee-partners. These groups provide platforms for our employee-partners to showcase skills, experiences and perspectives. The Employee-Partner Business Resource Groups also help foster inclusion among all employee-partners to build awareness, recruit and retain a diverse workforce and support the overall success of Cintas. We also have a diverse Management Trainee program that helps Cintas find and develop the best talent for our leadership pipeline, and we monitor representation across management positions. Cintas' diversity, equity and inclusion efforts are led by our Senior Vice President of Human Resources and Chief Diversity Officer. This position reports to our Chief Executive Officer and works to help achieve our goals and obtain a diverse and talented workforce, which is critical to our success.

In addition to competitive base salaries, the total rewards package (which may vary by position and country) includes, among other items, bonuses, long-term incentives, retirement savings plans, medical insurance, prescription drug benefits, dental insurance, vision insurance, accident and critical illness insurance, life and disability insurance, health savings accounts, flexible spending accounts and an employee-partner assistance program.

Talent Development

We provide numerous training opportunities for our employee-partners, with a focus on continuous learning and development and methodologies to manage performance, provide feedback and develop talent. We offer a wide array of training solutions (classroom, hands-on and e-learning) for our employee-partners. Our talent development programs strive to provide employee-partners resources to achieve career goals and build management and leadership skills. We offer mentoring programs, a management trainee program and executive leadership programs to support the professional growth of our employee-partners and ensure we have the right succession plans in place.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

The statements in this section describe the most significant risks that could materially and adversely affect our business, consolidated financial condition and consolidated results of operation and the trading price of our debt or equity securities. Although the risks are organized by headings, and each risk is discussed separately, many are interrelated. Readers should not interpret the disclosure of any risk factor to imply that the risk has not already materialized.

In addition, this section sets forth statements which constitute our cautionary statements under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995.

This Annual Report on Form 10-K contains forward-looking statements. The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 provides a safe harbor from civil litigation for forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements may be identified by words such as "estimates," "anticipates," "predicts," "projects," "plans," "expects," "intends," "target," "forecast," "believes," "seeks," "could," "should," "may" and "will" or the negative versions thereof and similar words, terms and expressions and by the context in which they are used. Such statements are based upon current expectations of Cintas and speak only as of the date made. You should not place undue reliance on any forward-looking statement. We cannot guarantee that any forward-looking statement will be realized. These statements are subject to various risks, uncertainties, potentially inaccurate assumptions and other factors that could cause actual results to differ from those set forth in or implied by this Annual Report. Factors that might cause such a difference include, but are not limited to, the possibility of greater than anticipated operating costs including energy and fuel costs; lower sales volumes; loss of customers due to outsourcing trends; the performance and costs of integration of acquisitions; inflationary pressures and fluctuations in costs of materials and labor, including increased medical costs; interest rate volatility; costs and possible effects of union organizing activities; failure to comply with government regulations concerning employment discrimination, employee pay and benefits and employee health and safety; the effect on operations of exchange rate fluctuations, tariffs and other political, economic and regulatory risks; uncertainties regarding any existing or newly-discovered expenses and liabilities related to environmental compliance and remediation; our ability to meet our goals relating to ESG opportunities, improvements and efficiencies; the cost, results and ongoing assessment of internal controls for financial reporting; the effect of new accounting pronouncements; disruptions caused by the inaccessibility of computer systems data, including cybersecurity risks; the initiation or outcome of litigation, investigations or other proceedings; higher assumed sourcing or distribution costs of products; the disruption of operations from catastrophic or extraordinary events including global health pandemics such as the COVID-19 coronavirus; the amount and timing of repurchases of our common stock, if any; changes in federal and state tax and labor laws; and the reactions of competitors in terms of price and service. Cintas undertakes no obligation to publicly release any revisions to any forward-looking statements or to otherwise update any forward-looking statements whether as a result of new information or to reflect events, circumstances or any other unanticipated developments arising after the date on which such statements are made, except otherwise as required by law. The risks and uncertainties described herein are not the only ones we may face. Additional risks and uncertainties presently not known to us or that we currently believe to be immaterial may also harm our business. Forward-looking and other statements in this Annual Report on Form 10-K regarding our greenhouse gas (GHG) reduction plans and other ESG goals are not an indication that these statements are necessarily material to investors or required to be disclosed in our filings with the SEC. In addition, historical, current and forward-looking GHG-related and/or ESG-related statements may be based on standards for measuring progress that are still developing, internal controls and processes that continue to evolve and assumptions that are subject to change in the future.

Risks Relating to Business Strategy and Operations

Negative global economic factors may adversely affect our financial performance.

Negative economic conditions, in North America and our other markets, may adversely affect our financial performance. Higher levels of unemployment, inflation, recessionary conditions, geopolitical developments, tax rates and other changes in tax laws and other economic factors could adversely affect the demand for Cintas' products and services. Increases in labor costs, including the cost to provide employee-partner related healthcare benefits, minimum wages, labor shortages or shortages of skilled labor, regulations regarding the classification of employees and/or their eligibility for overtime wages, higher material costs for items such as fabrics and textiles, the inability to obtain insurance coverage at cost-effective rates, higher interest rates, inflation, global health pandemics such as the COVID-19 pandemic, higher tax rates and other changes in tax laws and other economic factors could increase our cost of labor, uniforms and facility services, cost of other services and selling and administrative expenses. As a result, these factors could adversely affect our sales and consolidated results of operations.

Increased competition could adversely affect our financial performance.

We operate in highly competitive industries and compete with national, regional and local providers. Product, design, price, quality, service and convenience to the customer are the competitive elements in these industries. If existing or future competitors seek to gain or retain market share by reducing prices, Cintas may be required to lower prices, which would hurt its results of operations. Cintas competitors also generally compete with Cintas for acquisition candidates, which can increase the price for acquisitions and reduce the number of available acquisition candidates. In addition, our customers and prospects may decide to perform certain services in-house instead of outsourcing these services to us. These competitive pressures could adversely affect our sales and consolidated results of operations.

An inability to open new, cost effective operating facilities may adversely affect our expansion efforts.

We plan to expand our presence in existing markets and enter new markets. The opening of new operating facilities is necessary to gain the capacity required for this expansion. Our ability to open new operating facilities depends on our ability to identify attractive locations, negotiate leases or real estate purchase agreements on acceptable terms, identify and obtain adequate utility and water sources and comply with environmental regulations, zoning laws and other similar factors. Any inability to effectively identify and manage these items may adversely affect our expansion efforts, and consequently, adversely affect our financial performance.

Risks associated with our acquisition practice could adversely affect our consolidated results of operations.

Historically, a portion of our growth has come from acquisitions. We continue to evaluate opportunities for acquiring businesses that may supplement our internal growth. However, there can be no assurance that we will be able to locate and purchase suitable acquisitions. In addition, the success of any acquisition, including the ability to realize anticipated cost synergies, depends in part on our ability to integrate the acquired company. The process of integrating acquired businesses may involve unforeseen difficulties and may require a disproportionate amount of our management's attention and our financial and other resources. If management is not able to effectively manage the integration process, or if any significant business activities are interrupted as a result of the integration process, we may not be able to realize anticipated cost synergies resulting from acquisitions and our business could suffer. Although we conduct due diligence investigations prior to each acquisition, there can be no assurance that we will discover or adequately protect against all material liabilities of an acquired business for which we may be responsible as a successor owner or operator. The failure to identify suitable acquisitions and successfully integrate these acquired businesses, or to discover liabilities associated with such businesses in the diligence process, could adversely affect our consolidated results of operations.

Risks associated with the suppliers from whom our products are sourced could adversely affect our consolidated results of operations.

The products we sell are sourced from a wide variety of domestic and international suppliers. Global sourcing of many of the products we sell is an important factor in our financial performance. We require all our suppliers to comply with applicable laws, including labor and environmental laws, and otherwise be certified as meeting our required supplier standards of conduct. Our ability to find qualified suppliers who meet our standards, and to access products in a timely and efficient manner, is a significant challenge, especially with respect to suppliers located and goods sourced outside the U.S. Political and economic stability in the countries in which foreign suppliers are located, the financial stability of suppliers, suppliers' failure to meet our supplier standards, labor problems experienced by our suppliers, the availability of raw materials to suppliers, currency exchange rates, transport availability and cost, inflation and other factors relating to the suppliers and the countries in which they are located are beyond our control. In addition, U.S. and foreign trade policies, tariffs and other impositions on imported goods, trade sanctions imposed on certain countries, the limitation on the importation of certain types of goods or of goods containing certain materials from other countries and other factors relating to foreign trade are beyond our control. Taxes and other factors, including the potential negative impact of global health pandemics such as COVID-19, affecting our workforce and our access to products could adversely affect our consolidated results of operations.

We rely extensively on computer systems, including third-party systems, to process transactions, maintain information and manage our businesses. Disruptions in the availability of computer systems due to implementation of a new system or otherwise, or privacy breaches involving computer systems, could impact our ability to service our customers and adversely affect our sales, consolidated results of operations and reputation and expose us to litigation risk.

Our businesses rely on various computer systems, including third-party systems, to provide customer information, process customer transactions and provide other general information necessary to manage our businesses. We have an active disaster recovery plan in place that is frequently reviewed and tested. However, our computer systems are subject to damage or interruption due to system conversions, power outages, computer or telecommunication failures, catastrophic events such as fires, tornadoes and hurricanes and usage errors by our employees. Although we believe that we have adopted appropriate measures to mitigate potential risks to our technology and our operations from these information technology-related and other potential disruptions, given the unpredictability of the timing, nature and scope of such disruptions, we could potentially be subject to production downtimes, operational delays and interruptions in our ability to provide products and services to our customers. Any disruption caused by the unavailability of our computer systems could adversely affect our sales, could require us to make a significant investment to fix or replace them and, therefore, could adversely affect our consolidated results of operations. In addition, cyber-security attacks are evolving and have become increasingly more sophisticated. Cyber-security attacks may include, but are not limited to, malicious software, attempts to gain unauthorized access to data and other electronic security breaches that could lead to disruptions in systems, unauthorized release of confidential or otherwise protected information and corruption of data. We have experienced cybersecurity incidents in the past, but none of these incidents, individually or in the aggregate, have had a material adverse effect on our business or results of operations. If the network of security controls, policy enforcement mechanisms and monitoring systems to address these threats to our technology fails, or we are unable to successfully address security incidents, production downtimes, operational delays and interruptions in our ability to provide products and services to our customers, the compromising of confidential or otherwise protected Company, customer, or employee information, destruction or corruption of data, security breaches, or other manipulation or improper use of our systems and networks could result in financial losses from remedial actions, loss of business or potential liability and damage to our reputation.

We also rely on software applications, enterprise cloud storage systems and cloud computing services provided by third-party vendors for certain information technology services, including our SAP enterprise system, payroll data, risk management data and lease data. If these third-party vendors, as well as our suppliers and other vendors, experience service interruptions or damage, security breaches, cyber-attacks, computer viruses, ransomware or other similar events or intrusions, our business and our consolidated results of operations may be adversely affected.

Failure to achieve and maintain effective internal controls could adversely affect our business and stock price.

Effective internal controls are necessary for us to provide reliable financial reports. All internal control systems, no matter how well designed, have inherent limitations. Therefore, even those systems determined to be effective can provide only reasonable assurance with respect to the consolidated financial statement preparation and presentation. While we continue to evaluate our internal controls, we cannot be certain that these measures will ensure that we implement and maintain adequate controls over our financial processes and reporting in the future. If we fail to maintain the adequacy of our internal controls or if we or our independent registered public accounting firm were to discover material weaknesses in our internal controls, as such standards are modified, supplemented or amended, we may not be able to ensure that we can conclude on an ongoing basis that we have effective internal control over financial reporting in accordance with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. Failure to achieve and maintain an effective internal control environment could cause us to be unable to produce reliable financial reports or prevent fraud. This may cause investors to lose confidence in our reported financial information, which could have a material adverse effect on our stock price.

We may experience difficulties in attracting and retaining competent personnel in key positions. Failure to preserve positive labor relationships with our employees could adversely affect our consolidated results of operations.

We believe that a key component of our success is our corporate culture, which has been fostered by management throughout our corporate organization. Our corporate culture, along with our entire operation, depends on our ability to attract, develop and retain key employees. Competitive pressures and labor shortages within and outside our industry may make it more difficult and expensive for us to attract and retain key employees which could adversely affect our businesses.

We believe we have positive labor relationships with our employees. However, factors such as difficulty to attract key employees, reduced employee engagement, third-party organizational efforts and increased employee turnover could adversely affect our labor relationships with our employees. A failure to preserve positive labor relationships with our employees and could adversely affect our consolidated financial condition and consolidated results of operations.

Unexpected events could negatively impact our business and adversely affect our consolidated results of operations.

Unexpected events, including fires or explosions at facilities, severe weather conditions and natural disasters such as hurricanes and tornadoes (including those caused by climate change), war or terrorist activities, unplanned outages, global health pandemics such as COVID-19, supply disruptions, failure of equipment or systems or changes in laws and/or regulations impacting our businesses, could adversely affect our consolidated results of operations. These events could result in customer disruption, physical damage to one or more key operating facilities, the temporary closure of one or more key operating facilities or the temporary disruption of information systems. In addition, negative publicity, whether warranted or not, impacting brand image perception could adversely affect our consolidated results of operations.

Financial Risks

Our indebtedness may limit cash flow available to invest in the ongoing needs of our business.

Our outstanding indebtedness along with adverse interest rate fluctuations may have negative consequences on our business, such as requiring us to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to the payment of debt service, reducing the availability of our cash flow to fund working capital, capital expenditures, acquisitions, dividend increases, stock buybacks and other general corporate purposes, as well as increase our vulnerability to adverse economic or industry conditions. In addition, it may limit our ability to obtain additional financing in the future to enable us to react to changes in our business or industry or place us at a competitive disadvantage compared to businesses in our industry that have less debt.

Changes in the fuel and energy industry could adversely affect our consolidated financial condition and consolidated results of operations.

The price of fuel and energy needed to run our vehicles and equipment is unpredictable and fluctuates based on events outside our control, including geopolitical developments, supply and demand for fuel and other energy related products, actions by energy producers, war and unrest in oil producing countries, regional production patterns, limits on refining capacities, natural disasters, environmental concerns including the impact of legislative and regulatory efforts to limit GHG emissions and global health pandemics such as COVID-19. Increases in fuel and energy costs could adversely affect our consolidated financial condition and consolidated results of operations.

Fluctuations in foreign currency exchange could adversely affect our consolidated financial condition and consolidated results of operations.

We earn revenue, pay expenses, own assets and incur liabilities in countries using currencies other than the U.S. dollar, primarily the Canadian dollar. In fiscal years 2023, 2022 and 2021, revenue denominated in currencies other than the U.S. dollar represented less than 10% of our consolidated revenue. Because our consolidated financial statements are presented in U.S. dollars, we must translate revenue and expenses, as well as assets and liabilities, into U.S. dollars at exchange rates in effect during or at the end of each reporting period. Therefore, fluctuations

In the value of the U.S. dollar against other major currencies, particularly in the event of significant increases in foreign currency revenue, will impact our revenue and operating income and the value of balance sheet items denominated in foreign currencies. This impact could adversely affect our consolidated financial condition and consolidated results of operations.

We may recognize impairment charges, which could adversely affect our consolidated financial condition and consolidated results of operations.

We assess our goodwill and other intangible assets and our long-lived assets for impairment when required by U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (U.S. GAAP). These accounting principles require that we record an impairment charge if circumstances indicate that the asset carrying values exceed their estimated fair values. The estimated fair value of these assets is impacted by, but not limited to, macroeconomic, industry and market conditions in the locations in which we operate. Deterioration in these general economic conditions may result in: declining revenue, which can lead to excess capacity and declining operating cash flow; reductions in management's estimates for future revenue and operating cash flow growth; increases in borrowing rates and other deterioration in factors that impact our weighted average cost of capital; and deteriorating real estate values. If our assessment of goodwill, other intangible assets or long-lived assets indicates an impairment of the carrying value for which we recognize an impairment charge, this may adversely affect our consolidated financial condition and consolidated results of operations.

The effects of credit market volatility and changes in our credit ratings could adversely affect our liquidity and consolidated results of operations.

Our operating cash flows, combined with access to the credit markets, provide us with significant discretionary funding capacity. However, deterioration in the global credit markets may limit our ability to access credit markets, which could adversely affect our liquidity and/or increase our cost of borrowing. In addition, credit market deterioration and its actual or perceived effects on our results of operations and financial condition, along with deterioration in general economic conditions, may increase the likelihood that the major independent credit agencies will downgrade our credit ratings, which could increase our cost of borrowing. Increases in our cost of borrowing could adversely affect our consolidated results of operations.

Legal and Regulatory Risks

Failure to comply with federal and state regulations to which we are subject could result in penalties or costs that could adversely affect our consolidated results of operations.

Our business is subject to complex and stringent state and federal regulations, including employment laws and regulations, minimum wage requirements, overtime requirements, working condition requirements, citizenship requirements, transportation and other laws and regulations. In particular, we are subject to the regulations promulgated by the U.S. Department of Transportation (USDOT) and under the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, as amended (OSHA Act). We have incurred, and will continue to incur, capital and operating expenditures and other costs in the ordinary course of our business in complying with the USDOT regulations, the OSHA Act and other laws and regulations to which we are subject. Changes in laws, regulations and the related interpretations, including any laws or regulations that may be enacted by the current U.S. presidential administration and Congress, may alter the landscape in which we do business and may affect our costs of doing business. The impact of new laws and regulations cannot be predicted. Compliance with new laws and regulations may increase our operating costs or require significant capital expenditures. Any failure to comply with applicable laws or regulations could result in substantial fines by government authorities, payment of damages to private litigants, or possible revocation of our authority to conduct our operations, which could adversely affect our ability to service customers and our consolidated results of operations.

We are subject to legal proceedings that may adversely affect our consolidated financial condition and consolidated results of operations.

We are subject to various litigation claims and legal proceeding arising from the ordinary course of our business, including personal injury, customer contract, environmental and employment claims. Certain of these lawsuits or potential future lawsuits, if decided adversely to us or settled by us, may result in liability and expense material to our consolidated financial condition and consolidated results of operations.

Compliance with environmental laws and regulations could result in significant costs that adversely affect our consolidated results of operations.

Our operating facilities are subject to environmental laws and regulations relating to the protection of the environment and health and safety matters, including those governing discharges of pollutants to the air and water, the management and disposal of hazardous substances and wastes and the clean-up of contaminated sites. The operation of our businesses entails risks under environmental laws and regulations. We could incur significant costs, including clean-up costs, fines and sanctions and claims by third parties for property damage and personal injury, as a result of violations of or liabilities under these laws and regulations. We are currently involved in a limited number of remedial investigations and actions at various locations. While based on information currently known to us, we believe that we maintain adequate reserves with respect to these matters, our liability could exceed forecasted amounts, and the imposition of additional clean-up obligations or the discovery of additional contamination at these or other sites could result in significant additional costs which could adversely affect our results of operations. In addition, potentially significant expenditures could be required to comply with environmental laws and regulations, including requirements that may be adopted or imposed in the future.

Under applicable environmental laws, an owner or operator of real estate may be required to pay the costs of removing or remediating hazardous materials located on or emanating from property, whether or not the owner or operator knew of or was responsible for the presence of such hazardous materials. While we regularly engage in environmental due diligence in connection with acquisitions, we can give no assurance that locations that have been acquired or leased have been operated in compliance with environmental laws and regulations during prior periods or that future uses or conditions will not make us liable under these laws or expose us to third-party actions, including tort suits.

Increased global focus on climate change may result in the imposition of new or additional regulations or requirements applicable to, and increased financial risks for, our business and industry. A number of government authorities and agencies have introduced or are contemplating regulatory changes to address climate change, including the regulation of GHG emissions. The outcome of new legislation or regulation in the U.S. and other jurisdictions in which we operate may result in new or additional requirements, including to fund energy efficiency activities or renewable energy use, and fees or restrictions on certain activities or materials. Compliance with these climate change initiatives may also result in additional costs to us, including, among other things, increased production costs, additional taxes, additional investments in renewable energy use and other initiatives, reduced emission allowances or additional restrictions on production or operations. We may not be able to timely recover the cost of compliance with such new or more stringent laws and regulations, which could adversely affect our consolidated results of operations.

Our ability to achieve our environmental, social and governance goals are subject to risks, many of which are outside of our control, and our reputation and brands could be harmed if we fail to meet such goals.

Companies across all industries are facing increasing scrutiny from stakeholders related to ESG matters, including practices and disclosures related to environmental stewardship; social responsibility; diversity, equity and inclusion; and workplace rights. Our ability to achieve our ESG goals, including our goal to achieve Net Zero GHG emissions by 2050, and to accurately and transparently report our progress presents numerous operational, financial, legal and other risks, and may be dependent on the actions of suppliers and other third parties, significant technological advancements with respect to the development and availability of reliable, affordable and sustainable alternative solutions, all of which are outside of our control. If we are unable to meet our ESG goals or evolving stakeholder expectations and industry standards, or if we are perceived to have not responded appropriately to the growing concern for ESG issues, our reputation could be negatively impacted. In addition, in recent years, investor advocacy groups and certain institutional investors have placed increasing importance on ESG matters. If, as a result of their assessment of our ESG practices, certain investors are unsatisfied with our actions or progress, they may reconsider their investment in our Company.

As the nature, scope and complexity of ESG reporting, diligence and disclosure requirements expand, including the SEC's recently proposed disclosure requirements regarding, among other matters, GHG emissions, we may have to undertake additional costs to control, assess and report on ESG metrics. Any failure or perceived failure, whether or not valid, to pursue or fulfill our ESG goals, targets and objectives or to satisfy various ESG reporting standards within the timelines we announce, or at all, could increase the risk of litigation.

Increases in income tax rates, changes in income tax laws or unfavorable resolution of tax matters could adversely impact our consolidated results of operations.

Changes in tax laws or regulations in the jurisdictions in which we do business, or other tax law implementation or interpretations, including the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA), which includes a corporate alternative minimum tax on certain large corporations, incentives to address climate change mitigation and other non-income tax provisions, including an excise tax on the repurchase of corporate stock could increase our effective tax rate, restrict our ability to repatriate undistributed offshore earnings, or impose new restrictions, costs or prohibitions on our current practices and reduce our net income and adversely affect our cash flows.

We are also subject to tax audits, including with respect to transfer pricing, in the U.S. and other jurisdictions and our tax positions may be challenged by tax authorities. Although we believe that our current tax provisions are reasonable and appropriate, there can be no assurance that these items will be settled for the amounts accrued, that additional tax exposures will not be identified in the future or that additional tax reserves will not be necessary for any such exposures. Any increase in the amount of taxation incurred as a result of challenges to our tax filing positions could result in a material adverse effect on our business, consolidated results of operations and consolidated financial condition.

Subject: Zoetis US LLC Request for Temporary Wholesale License

Importance: High

WARNING - This email originated from outside the State of Nevada. Exercise caution when opening attachments or clicking links, especially from unknown senders.

We submitted an Out of State Wholesaler application in early December for our Zoetis logistics facility at 1100 NW Main St, Unit D in Lee's Summit MO 64086.

I would like to request a temporary Nevada Wholesale license for this facility until our application can be reviewed/approved at your March board meeting.

We are standing up this new facility in Lee's Summit MO as the supply hub for Zoetis product, and also have a supply spoke in Reno NV (NV license WH0990) that we would like to start supplying out of the new facility. It will impact operations considerably if we cannot ship to our Reno NV facility until March.

I believe the application is complete and we have satisfied the requested deficiencies. If there is anything else you need please let us know.

Thanks and Stay Safe!

Morris & Dickson Holding Company L.L.C.

This narrative is submitted by Morris & Dickson Holding Company L.L.C. in connection with its response to Section 8, Questions 5 and 6 on its Personal History Application (the "Application") submitted to the Nevada State Board of Pharmacy.

The owners of M&D Specialty Distribution, L.L.C. ("MDSD") are individuals, partnerships, and L.L.C.s (collectively (the "MDSD Owners"). MDSD, a pharmaceutical wholesaler, has never distributed controlled substances. Some of the MDSD Owners also indirectly are owners of Morris & Dickson Co., L.L.C. ("M&D Co."). M&D Co. is also a pharmaceutical wholesaler, and its business includes the distribution of controlled substances.

Events Concerning M&D Specialty Distribution, L.L.C.

Kansas 2022-12-06 Summary Order, $1,320.00 Civil Fine

In October 2022, MDSD applied to the Kansas State Board of Pharmacy ("KSBOP") for registration as a wholesale distributor. MDSD's license application was granted on December 6, 2022 (a copy of the December 6, 2022 Order is submitted with this Narrative as MDSD Exh. 1). As part of MDSD's license application, it informed KSBOP that between October 2021 and April 2022, prior to MDSD being licensed in Kansas, it had inadvertently shipped a quantity of Rabavert, a rabies vaccine, to an entity in the state. This occurred because Morris & Dickson Co., L.L.C. ("M&D Co."), which was and is licensed in Kansas and has overlapping ownership with and is contractually affiliated with MDSD, had supplied Rabavert to the customer previously. When M&D Co. discontinued the product, the product continued to be available through MDSD, and the Kansas entity ordered the product from MDSD. MDSD then mistakenly shipped the product to Kansas due to an error in software, which should have prevented the shipment to Kansas by MDSD. When MDSD discovered the error, it immediately ceased shipments to the Kansas entity and measures were implemented to prevent a recurrence in that and in all situations. In granting MDSD a wholesaler license in Kansas, KSBOP assessed a civil fine of $1,320.00 for the inadvertent shipments.

Events Concerning Morris & Dickson Co., L.L.C.

The below information pertains to M&D Co., and not to MDSD.

DEA Proceeding and New Suspicious Order Monitoring and Reporting protocols

Background

On May 2, 2018, approximately five years ago, the DEA commenced an administrative proceeding concerning M&D Co.'s controlled substance registrations (the "2018 Proceeding") by issuing an Order to Show Cause/Immediate Suspension (the "OTSC/ISO") against M&D Co.'s two registrations to distribute controlled substances (the "DEA Registrations"). Six days later, on May 8, 2018, a federal district court judge issued a temporary restraining order against the DEA, ordering that M&D Co. may resume distributing controlled substances. Shortly thereafter, on May 18, 2018, the DEA ordered that the ISO was rescinded. M&D Co. has been fully operational and its DEA Registrations in place since that time.

The 2018 Proceeding concerned M&D Co.'s suspicious-order monitoring ("SOM") procedures between 2014 and 2018. Following the OTSC/ISO, M&D Co.'s SOM procedures were comprehensively restructured, a state-of-the-art system was implemented, and M&D Co. has operated in complete compliance with federal and state regulations in the half-decade following the OTSC/ISO. It has continued to do so to the present date.

Between May 13-17, 2019, an administrative hearing was conducted before a DEA Administrative Law Judge ("ALJ"). Following the 2019 hearing, and for the past approximately four years, negotiations were ongoing between M&D Co. and the DEA to resolve the 2018 Proceeding and, until May 19, 2023, four years after the hearing, as described below, the DEA Administrator did not issue a final order following the ALJ's 2019 confidential recommendation. During this five year period following the OTSC/ISO, M&D Co. continued to report to the DEA regarding its restructured SOM procedures, which the DEA has described as "impressive." This restructuring is summarized below, followed by a description of the DEA's May 19, 2023 order, which subsequently was amended by a further order from the DEA Administrator, dated May 23, 2023 (the May 19, 2023 order together with the May 23, 2023 order will be referred to below as the "May 19/23 Order").

2018 Restructuring of M&D Co.'s SOM Procedures

The primary basis for the DEA's OTSC/ISO was its view that prior to 2018 M&D Co. had failed to report suspicious orders and to conduct due diligence on certain identified customers. M&D Co. took the DEA's allegations and conclusions very seriously and immediately, in 2018, undertook a restructuring of its SOM procedures. At that time M&D Co. hired the Analysis Group ("AGI"), an experienced data analytics firm with expertise in controlled substance order monitoring to develop a statistical methodology for identifying orders of unusual size, frequency, or pattern. An interim version of the AGI model was put in place on May 24, 2018, less than a month following the OTSC/ISO, and the permanent model was implemented for all retail pharmacy customers on October 1, 2018, alternate care customers in January of 2019 and hospitals in May of 2019. Since the implementation of the interim AGI order monitoring system in 2018-2019, M&D Co. has reported on a daily basis all of the orders flagged by the system to the DEA's complete satisfaction.

In addition, in May 2018, the same month as the OTSC/ISO, M&D Co. hired Guidepost Solutions and its then-Senior Managing Director, Louis Milione to assist M&D Co. in the enhancement of its policies, procedures, and processes related to controlled substance monitoring. The Guidepost personnel were all former DEA Diversion Investigators, former Senior Attorneys, former DEA Special Agents and former state and local law enforcement officials and have been involved in overseeing M&D Co.'s compliance processes since May 2018. Guidepost and members of the M&D Co. Compliance Team have conducted enhanced due diligence, including site visits, on the entirety of M&D Co.'s customer base, which totals over 1,000 customers, with most being the subject of more than one site visit. Since the site visit project began, M&D Co. has terminated the supply of controlled substances to approximately 44 customers and declined to onboard 52 accounts. In August 2021, Mr. Milione left his position at Guidepost to rejoin the DEA as the Principal Deputy Administrator. Presently, Guidepost Senior Managing Director Krista Tongring is M&D Co.'s Interim Chief Compliance Officer.

Further, M&D Co. created an official regulatory affairs group under the leadership of a senior company executive and increased the full-time staff from 1 to its current 11 employees, in addition to Guidepost personnel. In connection with the new regulatory affairs group, M&D Co.'s IT department years ago implemented numerous enhancements to the electronic customer due diligence files from which the regulatory affairs team makes its order review and other due diligence decisions. Training has been conducted for the new personnel regularly since 2018. All regulatory affairs personnel have been trained on DEA policies and procedures, and several of the team have attended DEA training for wholesale distributor registrants. A written manual of M&D Co.'s Standard Operating Procedures ("SOP") relating to customer due diligence and order review went into effect in May 2019 and was updated in July 2020; SOPs for M&D Co.'s hospital customers went into effect at that time as well.

The DEA Administrator's May 19, 2023 Order and May 23, 2023 Amended Order

In the 2018 Proceeding, on May 19, 2023 the DEA issued a Final Order and then an amended order dated May 23, 2023 revoking the controlled substance registrations of M&D Co. (the "May 19/23 Order," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 1(A)(the May 19, 2023 Order) and M&D Exh. 1(B)(the May 23, 2023 Order) respectively). The May 19/23 Order by its terms did not go into effect until 90 days following the filing of the May 19/23 Order in the Federal Register, which occurred on May 30, 2023. A purpose of the 90-day period prior to the May19/23 Order's effectiveness was to permit the DEA and M&D Co. to negotiate a settlement of the 2018 Proceeding.

The May 19/23 Order was issued five years after the commencement of the 2018 Proceeding, four years after the administrative hearing on the same, and was based solely on events prior to 2018. Furthermore, in the May 19/23 Order, the DEA Administrator determined that since 2018, M&D Co.'s controlled substance policies and procedures were "impressive." Notwithstanding that M&D Co. has been in regulatory compliance since 2018, and will continue to be in regulatory compliance, the May 19/23 Order concluded that M&D Co.'s registrations should be revoked for pre-2018 events.

Fifth Circuit Appeal

On May 30, 2023, before the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit (the "Fifth Circuit"), M&D Co. filed a Petition challenging the May 19/23 Order as unjustified and improper. On June 2, 2023, M&D Co. sought a stay of the effectiveness of the Order from the Fifth Circuit for the entire duration of M&D Co.'s appeal (the "Stay Motion").

The Fifth Circuit granted the Stay Motion by Order dated June 16, 2023, (the "June 16, 2023 Stay Order," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 1(C)). The June 16, 2023 Stay Order's effect is to maintain M&D Co.'s DEA Registrations in force during the entirety of M&D Co.'s challenge to the May 19/23 Order. The June 16, 2023 Stay Order was premised upon the Fifth Circuit's determination that M&D Co. was likely to succeed in challenging the May 19/23 Order.

On November 3, 2023, a joint motion was made by the Department of Justice ("DOJ")/DEA and M&D Co. to suspend the litigation of the 2018 DEA Proceeding in the Fifth Circuit (the "Joint Motion to Suspend Litigation") because "the parties are in advanced stages of settlement negotiations and believe that they may be able to resolve the underlying dispute between them." In response to the Joint Motion to Suspend Litigation, on November 8, 2023, the Fifth Circuit issued an Order holding the entire proceeding before the Court in abeyance for a 90 day period "to facilitate settlement discussions" (the "November 8, 2023 Abeyance Order," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 1(D)). If the matter is not settled at the end of the 90 day period, proceedings before the Fifth Circuit would continue. During the entire period and until the end of the litigation, the June 16, 2023 Stay Order also will remain in place.

WDLA Settlement

Additionally, on May 24, 2019, M&D Co. agreed to pay a civil fine of $22 million to the Department of Justice in a settlement reached through the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Louisiana ("WDLA Settlement," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 2). The WDLA settlement, which was not an admission of liability, was finalized and paid in full on May 24, 2019.

Alabama Proceeding

On March 29, 2021, the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy ("AL BOP") issued an Order to Show Cause requiring that M&D Co. show cause why its Alabama state license is relevant to and consistent with public health and safety of Alabama (the Alabama Order to Show Cause is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 3). The AL BOP attached the WDLA Settlement from 2018 as its only allegation against M&D Co.. M&D Co. opened a dialogue with then-current counsel for the AL BOP and voluntarily provided a litigation history and summary of its compliance program to the AL BOP. M&D Co. explained through written discourse that the WDLA Settlement contained no admissions of wrongdoing by M&D Co. and was simply a "pay for peace" type settlement. M&D Co. requested that the matter be favorably resolved prior to a hearing in light of M&D Co.'s submissions and willingness to be open and forthcoming with the AL BOP. Following the aforementioned dialogue, the AL BOP continued the matter for two years. Recently, new counsel at AL BOP has scheduled a hearing for February 20 2024, wherein, if the matter is not resolved prior to the hearing, M&D Co. will continue to assert that there is not now, nor has there ever been any basis for revocation. Since receiving notice from the AL BOP of the proceeding, in March 2021, M&D Co. has at all times remained a licensed pharmaceutical distributor in the state of Alabama and continues to hold that license to date.

Kentucky BOP Letter of Concern

On February 7, 2022, the Kentucky Board of Pharmacy ("KBOP") sent a letter to M&D Co., stating that it had reviewed the WDLA Settlement and the policies and procedures of M&D Co. both before and after the Settlement, and concluded that the issuance of a complaint was not appropriate (the Kentucky BoP Letter of Concern is submitted with this Narrative as Exh. M&D 4). The letter further stated that the KBOP "expressed concern" regarding the WDLA Settlement, but had determined that no other action was appropriate. M&D Co. believes that the February 7, 2022 letter concludes the review of the WDLA Settlement and M&D Co.'s policies and procedures by the KBOP. M&D Co. has at all times remained a licensed pharmaceutical distributor in the state of Kentucky and continues to hold that license to date.

Multi-District Litigation

M&D Co. has been named as a "distributor defendant" in approximately 225 cases which have been, or will be consolidated in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio under Multi District Litigation No. 2804, the National Prescription Opiate Litigation. Though the cases are many, the allegations in these cases are materially the same, alleging that the manufacturers of prescription opioids grossly misrepresented the risks of long term use of those drugs for persons with chronic pain, and distributors failed to properly monitor suspicious orders of those prescription drugs, all of which contributed to the current national opioid epidemic. M&D Co. has been placed in a small distributors defendants class for purposes of negotiation or litigation, and to date all litigation has been stayed for M&D Co., and for the small distributors defendant class as a whole until resolution of the bellwether trials with the larger defendants has been reached. The complaints do not allege any specific allegations against M&D Co., but rather sweep the entire industry into a set the set of general allegations described above. If and when litigation begins for M&D Co., M&D Co. will deny the allegations alleged in each complaint. M&D Co. believes that the vast majority of this litigation will ultimately be resolved through settlement.

DEA Proceeding and New Suspicious Order Monitoring and Reporting Protocols

Background

On May 2, 2018, approximately five years ago, the DEA commenced an administrative proceeding concerning M&D Co.'s controlled substance registrations (the "2018 Proceeding") by issuing an Order to Show Cause/Immediate Suspension (the "OTSC/ISO") against M&D Co.'s two registrations to distribute controlled substances (the "DEA Registrations"). Six days later, on May 8, 2018, a federal district court judge issued a temporary restraining order against the DEA, ordering that M&D Co. may resume distributing controlled substances. Shortly thereafter, on May 18, 2018, the DEA ordered that the ISO was rescinded. M&D Co. has been fully operational and its DEA Registrations in place since that time.

The 2018 Proceeding concerned M&D Co.'s suspicious-order monitoring ("SOM") procedures between 2014 and 2018. Following the OTSC/ISO, M&D Co.'s SOM procedures were comprehensively restructured, a state-of-the-art system was implemented, and M&D Co. has operated in complete compliance with federal and state regulations in the half-decade following the OTSC/ISO. It has continued to do so to the present date.

Between May 13-17, 2019, an administrative hearing was conducted before a DEA Administrative Law Judge ("ALJ"). Following the 2019 hearing, and for the past approximately four years, negotiations were ongoing between M&D Co. and the DEA to resolve the 2018 Proceeding and, until May 19, 2023, four years after the hearing, as described below, the DEA Administrator did not issue a final order following the ALJ's 2019 confidential recommendation. During this five year period following the OTSC/ISO, M&D Co. continued to report to the DEA regarding its restructured SOM procedures, which the DEA has described as "impressive." This restructuring is summarized below, followed by a description of the DEA's May 19, 2023 order, which subsequently was amended by a further order from the DEA Administrator, dated May 23, 2023 (the May 19, 2023 order together with the May 23, 2023 order will be referred to below as the "May 19/23 Order").

2018 Restructuring of M&D Co.'s SOM Procedures

The primary basis for the DEA's OTSC/ISO was its view that prior to 2018 M&D Co. had failed to report suspicious orders and to conduct due diligence on certain identified customers. M&D Co. took the DEA's allegations and conclusions very seriously and immediately, in 2018, undertook a restructuring of its SOM procedures. At that time M&D Co. hired the Analysis Group ("AGI"), an experienced data analytics firm with expertise in controlled substance order monitoring to develop a statistical methodology for identifying orders of unusual size, frequency, or pattern. An interim version of the AGI model was put in place on May 24, 2018, less than a month following the OTSC/ISO, and the permanent model was implemented for all retail pharmacy customers on October 1, 2018, alternate care customers in January of 2019 and hospitals in May of 2019. Since the implementation of the interim AGI order monitoring system in 2018-2019, M&D Co. has reported on a daily basis all of the orders flagged by the system to the DEA's complete satisfaction.

In addition, in May 2018, the same month as the OTSC/ISO, M&D Co. hired Guidepost Solutions and its then-Senior Managing Director, Louis Milione to assist M&D Co. in the enhancement of its policies, procedures, and processes related to controlled substance monitoring. The Guidepost personnel were all former DEA Diversion Investigators, former Senior Attorneys, former DEA Special Agents and former state and local law enforcement officials and have been involved in overseeing M&D Co.'s compliance processes since May 2018. Guidepost and members of the M&D Co. Compliance Team have conducted enhanced due diligence, including site visits, on the entirety of M&D Co.'s customer base, which totals over 1,000 customers, with most being the subject of more than one site visit. Since the site visit project began, M&D Co. has terminated the supply of controlled substances to approximately 44 customers and declined to onboard 52 accounts. In August 2021, Mr. Milione left his position at Guidepost to rejoin the DEA as the Principal Deputy Administrator. Presently, Guidepost Senior Managing Director Krista Tongring is M&D Co.'s Interim Chief Compliance Officer.

Further, M&D Co. created an official regulatory affairs group under the leadership of a senior company executive and increased the full-time staff from 1 to its current 11 employees, in addition to Guidepost personnel. In connection with the new regulatory affairs group, M&D Co.'s IT department years ago implemented numerous enhancements to the electronic customer due diligence files from which the regulatory affairs team makes its order review and other due diligence decisions. Training has been conducted for the new personnel regularly since 2018. All regulatory affairs personnel have been trained on DEA policies and procedures, and several of the team have attended DEA training for wholesale distributor registrants. A written manual of M&D Co.'s Standard Operating Procedures ("SOP") relating to customer due diligence and order review went into effect in May 2019 and was updated in July 2020; SOPs for M&D Co.'s hospital customers went into effect at that time as well.

The DEA Administrator's May 19, 2023 Order and May 23, 2023 Amended Order

In the 2018 Proceeding, on May 19, 2023 the DEA issued a Final Order and then an amended order dated May 23, 2023 revoking the controlled substance registrations of M&D Co. (the "May 19/23 Order," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 1(A)(the May 19, 2023 Order) and M&D Exh. 1(B)(the May 23, 2023 Order) respectively). The May 19/23 Order by its terms did not go into effect until 90 days following the filing of the May 19/23 Order in the Federal Register, which occurred on May 30, 2023. A purpose of the 90-day period prior to the May19/23 Order's effectiveness was to permit the DEA and M&D Co. to negotiate a settlement of the 2018 Proceeding.

The May 19/23 Order was issued five years after the commencement of the 2018 Proceeding, four years after the administrative hearing on the same, and was based solely on events prior to 2018. Furthermore, in the May 19/23 Order, the DEA Administrator determined that since 2018, M&D Co.'s controlled substance policies and procedures were "impressive." Notwithstanding that M&D Co. has been in regulatory compliance since 2018, and will continue to be in regulatory compliance, the May 19/23 Order concluded that M&D Co.'s registrations should be revoked for pre-2018 events.

Fifth Circuit Appeal

On May 30, 2023, before the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit (the "Fifth Circuit"), M&D Co. filed a Petition challenging the May 19/23 Order as unjustified and improper. On June 2, 2023, M&D Co. sought a stay of the effectiveness of the Order from the Fifth Circuit for the entire duration of M&D Co.'s appeal (the "Stay Motion").

The Fifth Circuit granted the Stay Motion by Order dated June 16, 2023, (the "June 16, 2023 Stay Order," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 1(C)). The June 16, 2023 Stay Order's effect is to maintain M&D Co.'s DEA Registrations in force during the entirety of M&D Co.'s challenge to the May 19/23 Order. The June 16, 2023 Stay Order was premised upon the Fifth Circuit's determination that M&D Co. was likely to succeed in challenging the May 19/23 Order.

On November 3, 2023, a joint motion was made by the Department of Justice ("DOJ")/DEA and M&D Co. to suspend the litigation of the 2018 DEA Proceeding in the Fifth Circuit (the "Joint Motion to Suspend Litigation") because "the parties are in advanced stages of settlement negotiations and believe that they may be able to resolve the underlying dispute between them." In response to the Joint Motion to Suspend Litigation, on November 8, 2023, the Fifth Circuit issued an Order holding the entire proceeding before the Court in abeyance for a 90 day period "to facilitate settlement discussions" (the "November 8, 2023 Abeyance Order," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 1(D)). If the matter is not settled at the end of the 90 day period, proceedings before the Fifth Circuit would continue. During the entire period and until the end of the litigation, the June 16, 2023 Stay Order also will remain in place.

WDLA Settlement

Additionally, on May 24, 2019, M&D Co. agreed to pay a civil fine of $22 million to the Department of Justice in a settlement reached through the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Louisiana ("WDLA Settlement," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 2). The WDLA settlement, which was not an admission of liability, was finalized and paid in full on May 24, 2019.

Alabama Proceeding

On March 29, 2021, the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy ("AL BOP") issued an Order to Show Cause requiring that M&D Co. show cause why its Alabama state license is relevant to and consistent with public health and safety of Alabama (the Alabama Order to Show Cause is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 3). The AL BOP attached the WDLA Settlement from 2019 as its only allegation against M&D Co. M&D Co. opened a dialogue with then-current counsel for the AL BOP and voluntarily provided a litigation history and summary of its compliance program to the AL BOP. M&D Co. explained through written discourse that the WDLA Settlement contained no admissions of wrongdoing by M&D Co. and was simply a "pay for peace" type settlement. M&D Co. requested that the matter be favorably resolved prior to a hearing in light of M&D Co.'s submissions and willingness to be open and forthcoming with the AL BOP. Following the aforementioned dialogue, the AL BOP continued the matter for two years. Recently, new counsel at AL BOP has scheduled a hearing for February 20, 2024, wherein, if the matter is not resolved before the hearing, M&D Co. will continue to assert that there is not now, nor has there ever been any basis for revocation. Since receiving notice from the AL BOP of the proceeding, in March 2021, M&D Co. has at all times remained a licensed pharmaceutical distributor in the state of Alabama and continues to hold that license to date.

Kentucky BOP Letter of Concern

On February 7, 2022, the Kentucky Board of Pharmacy ("KBOP") sent a letter to M&D Co., stating that it had reviewed the WDLA Settlement and the policies and procedures of M&D Co. both before and after the Settlement, and concluded that the issuance of a complaint was not appropriate (the Kentucky BoP Letter of Concern is submitted with this Narrative as Exh. M&D 4). The letter further stated that the KBOP "expressed concern" regarding the WDLA Settlement, but had determined that no other action was appropriate. M&D Co. believes that the February 7, 2022 letter concludes the review of the WDLA Settlement and M&D Co.'s policies and procedures by the KBOP. M&D Co. has at all times remained a licensed pharmaceutical distributor in the state of Kentucky and continues to hold that license to date.

On January 14, 2022, the Government filed an opposition to this motion and on January 21, 2022, Respondent filed a Reply Memorandum in Support of its Motion to Reopen the Administrative Record. The Agency addresses the Exceptions throughout and the Motion to Reopen at the end of this Decision.

system "consistent with best practices for compliance," and its failures to adequately resolve red flags on orders that it shipped. See infra section V. Respondent also admitted that its three suspicious order reports to DEA during the relevant time period were insufficient. Id. Nonetheless, Respondent presented testimony and evidence aimed at rebutting the Government's case with regard to the scope of its regulatory noncompliance during the relevant time period.

After thoroughly reviewing the entire record, the Agency finds substantial record evidence that Respondent's continued registration is inconsistent with the public interest in light of the long-term, egregious failures of Respondent in its responsibility as a distributor to maintain effective controls against diversion of controlled substances. Furthermore, the Agency finds that Respondent has failed to demonstrate that the Agency should continue to entrust it with its controlled substance registrations.

I. SUMMARY OF THE ALLEGATIONS

1. The OSC primarily alleged that Respondent failed to maintain effective controls against diversion when it failed to report to DEA thousands of unusually large orders for hydrocodone and oxycodone, which constituted potential suspicious orders, and when it shipped orders to customers without resolving red flags of diversion or reporting the orders to DEA in violation of 21 U.S.C. §§ 823(b)(1) and (e)(1) as well as 21 C.F.R. §§ 1301.71(a) and 1301.74(b). OSC, at 2. Further, the OSC alleged that Respondent failed to adequately design and operate a system to alert Respondent to suspicious orders of controlled substances and failed to report the suspicious orders to DEA in violation of 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). Id.

2. The allegations included that, from January 2014 until April 2018, Respondent shipped approximately 7,000 unusually large orders of oxycodone and almost 5,000 unusually large orders of hydrocodone. OSC, at 5; Govt Prehearing, at 8. During this time, Respondent filed a total of only three suspicious order reports with DEA.

3. Furthermore, the OSC alleged that, from approximately January 2014 to April 2018,[3] Respondent failed to carry out its due diligence and suspicious order monitoring policies and failed to conduct or failed to document the resolution of meaningful due diligence into orders placed by the following pharmacies: Wallace Drug Company, Inc.; Bordelon's Super-Save Pharmacy; Folse Pharmacy; Pharmacy Specialties Group, Inc.; Dave's Pharmacy; the Wellness Pharmacy, Inc.; Wilkinson Family Pharmacy; and Hephzibah Pharmacy, L.L.C. (hereinafter, the exemplar pharmacies).

II. THE WITNESSES

A. The Government's Witnesses

The Government presented its case through the testimony of six witnesses and the introduction of 70 exhibits. The Government's first witness was the Acting Section Chief of the Pharmaceutical Investigation Section of the DEA (the Section Chief), who testified generally regarding the regulatory requirements for distributors. Tr. 47-87. The Government also presented testimony from two Diversion Investigators (DI 1 and DI 2) regarding the history of the investigation and the identification of Government exhibits.[4] See RD, at 11-12 (citing Tr. 94-101; 144-177). Next, the Government presented testimony from the Chief of the Statistical Services Section of DEA, G.R., who was qualified without objection as an expert in "developing and implementing statistical models and methods of analyzing large and complex data sets." RD, at 13 (citing Tr. 192). G.R. testified to the methodology he employed in analyzing the statistical data that was used by DEA in its determination that Respondent had failed to report suspicious orders.[5] RD, at 12-15 (citing Tr. 187-245). The Government also presented testimony from the Group Supervisor of the New Orleans Field Division (the GS), who was accepted as an expert in "the identification of common red flags suggestive of an illicit pharmaceutical operation and as well [as] with respect to the requirements imposed on DEA registrants to identify and investigate such red flags when they become aware of them." RD, at 16 (citing Tr. 282).[6]

[3] The allegations for three of the exemplar pharmacies only spanned a subset of this timeframe: Wellness Pharmacy, January 2014-December 2017; Wilkinson Family Pharmacy, January 2014-April 2017; Hephzibah Pharmacy, April 2017-May 2017. Govt Prehearing, at 3.

[4] The Government presented testimony from a third Diversion Investigator (DI 3) to rebut the testimony of Respondent's witness, however, the Agency agrees with the RD that the testimony of DI 3 was not essential to the case and is therefore not including it herein. RD, at 20.

B. Respondent's Witnesses

Respondent presented its case through the testimony of three witnesses and the introduction of ten exhibits. Respondent's first witness was Kenneth A. Weinstein, Tr. 501-689, who was the Vice President of the consulting firm Analysis Group, Inc. (AGI), and was accepted without objection as an expert in statistical analysis related to controlled substance distribution and in pharmacy ordering and inventory management. RD, at 22 (citing Tr. 513-14; 520-21). Weinstein authenticated Respondent Exhibit (RX) 14, pages 15-19, and RX 28 and 29. Tr. 506, 562-68. Weinstein testified generally regarding the use of the Tukey analytical model in developing Suspicious Order Monitoring systems and testified specifically regarding what he found to be deficiencies in G.R.'s statistical analysis in this case. Weinstein also testified regarding AGI's compliance work for Respondent after DEA had issued the OSC.

[5] G.R. testified that he had corrected DEA's admitted error in the calculations in the OSC, which applied a Three Interquartile Range (IQR) to the median of the data set, or the 50th percentile, instead of the 75th percentile, and as a result, produced a larger group of outliers. Tr. 204, 208-09. G.R. further acknowledged that the error was identified by Respondent's expert. Tr. 218.

[6] The Agency adopts the ALJ's credibility findings regarding the Section Chief, the DIs, G.R., and the GS. RD, at 11-12, 15, 19.

Respondent's second witness was Scott Irelan, Tr. 693-840, who had worked for Respondent for 31 years before becoming the Director of Corporate Compliance and Security in May 2018 after the OSC was issued. Irelan testified regarding his current role at Respondent, the remedial measures that Respondent had put in place since the issuance of the OSC, Respondent's preexisting compliance measures during the relevant time period, and Respondent's acceptance of responsibility.

Respondent's final witness was Louis Milione,[7] Tr. 841-1057, who was, at the time, the Senior Managing Director of Guidepost Solutions. Respondent hired Guidepost Solutions to enhance Respondent's compliance system. Tr. 878-79. Milione was previously the Assistant Administrator of the Diversion Control Division at DEA and was offered and accepted without objection as an expert "in diversion." Tr. 851. He testified regarding his factual interactions with Respondent during his tenure at DEA[8] and regarding the work Guidepost performed for Respondent to improve its compliance with DEA requirements.[9]

III. FINDINGS OF FACT

[7] Milione is currently the Principal Deputy Administrator of DEA. Despite his return to the Agency, it is noted that Milione has not had any contacts with the Administrator nor anyone participating in the decisionmaking in this matter about and due to his prior involvement with this case.

[8] Respondent presented evidence, including testimony from Milione, about a meeting with Respondent at Respondent's invitation that occurred in August 2016 when Milione was in the role of Assistant Administrator of the Diversion Control Division at DEA. Tr. 856-861; RX 21; RX 11 (PowerPoint slide deck). Milione testified that, at that meeting, he believed that Paul Dickson, Sr., was committed to his regulatory obligations and sincere. Tr. 873. The powerpoint slides from that meeting, which Respondent submitted into evidence, generally support Respondent's statements regarding the workings of its previous SOM at a high level and its termination of customers pursuant to its due diligence efforts. RX 11; see infra n.61 regarding termination of Respondent's customers, and infra n.89 regarding evidence of the sincerity of Paul Dickson, Sr.

[9] The testimonies of Weinstein, Milione, and Irelan are afforded full credibility in this Decision on all points that are within their expertise and relevant to the final decision as further found herein. This Decision has found all major points of conflict between the Government's and Respondent's witnesses to be largely irrelevant to the Agency's adjudication of the allegations. The Agency analyzes the evidentiary weight of portions of the testimony of these witnesses in balance with other evidence on the record where relevant. It is noted that, although Irelan's testimony regarding acceptance of responsibility is analyzed in the Sanction Section infra, it is afforded full credibility.

The Parties agree to 47 stipulations (Stips.), which are accepted as facts in these proceedings. The Agency incorporates all of these into the record—the most relevant of which are summarized here. See RD, at 33-38. Between January 2014 and May 2018, Respondent submitted a total of three suspicious order reports to DEA. Stip. 7. In this same approximate timeframe, Respondent supplied controlled substances, including oxycodone and hydrocodone, to Wallace, Bordelon's, Folse, Pharmacy Specialties, and Dave's pharmacies. Respondent also supplied Hephzibah with controlled substances, including oxycodone and hydrocodone, between April and May 2017, Wellness Pharmacy between January 2014 and December 2017, and Wilkinson[10] between January and April 2017. See Stips. 11-20. The timeframe of the allegations in the OSC are hereinafter referred to as "the relevant timeframe."

A. DEA's Investigation

In 2017, while investigating pharmacies in Louisiana selling high volumes of oxycodone and hydrocodone, the DEA New Orleans Division discovered that some of those pharmacies were supplied by Respondent. Tr. 92. During a subsequent audit, Respondent told DEA that it used Pro Compliance Reports and its employees to identify suspicious orders. Tr. 93.

DEA served Respondent with three separate subpoenas and several requests for clarification between February 1, 2018, and April 2018.[11] RD, at 44-50. The subpoenas related to Respondent's identification of suspicious orders, due diligence, internal investigations, and internal policies and practices, and also identified specific pharmacies. Government Exhibits (GX) 7, 8, 10, 12, 15. Respondent responded via letters and produced some documentation. For example, GX 9 contains an undated letter from Jacob Dickson, stating that Respondent submitted only two suspicious order reports to DEA because it "utilizes a pro-active approach to avoid diversion of controlled drugs, including: screening new pharmacy customers; aggressively monitoring orders for controlled drugs; and eliminating pharmacy customers who fill orders for controlled drugs in excess of acceptable ratios, accept cash payments, fill prescriptions for the 'Holy Trinity' and/or other unacceptable practices." GX 9, at 1; Tr. 319. The undated letter also states that "DEA and applicable regulations do not require that a wholesale distributor maintain records of each and every internal investigation conducted on possible suspicious orders." GX 9, at 1-2 (emphasis in original); Tr. 319-20. The letter further explained that once Respondent has cleared a possible suspicious order, "no record is maintained." GX 9, at 2. The undated letter explained that Respondent used a "four-fold approach to monitor all prescription drug orders and detect unusual ordering patterns, amounts, and cash payments to identify potentially suspicious orders." GX 9, at 2; Tr. 321. The four-fold approach included: use of Pro Compliance Reports; preparing a Market Basket Report of each customer on a monthly basis; since April 2017, use of software that identifies orders that are more than 10 times the "average dosage units ordered on a given drug on a certain day with the last 90 days of ordering patterns of the same drug"; the experience of the employees who fill the orders for controlled substances; and the input of delivery drivers and salesmen. GX 9, at 3-4.

[10] Wilkinson Family Pharmacy voluntarily surrendered its DEA Certificate of Registration for Cause. Stip. 20.
[11] The Agency adopts the findings of fact in the RD related to these subpoenas and Respondent's response and summarizes herein. RD, at 44-50.

Government Exhibit 11 is Respondent's (signed by Paul Dickson) supplemental undated response to DEA following up on subpoenas issued to Respondent. Tr. 144-45, 324; GX 11, at 2. This response states that "[b]ecause formal records are not kept in the regular course of business on the investigation of orders which do not result in the finding of a 'suspicious order' per 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74, the email communications produced herewith represent the most responsive records maintained." GX 11, at 2; Tr. 324.

At the same time, Respondent produced an external hard drive containing documents in response to the February subpoenas. Tr. 146. Again, DEA emailed Respondent to ensure a complete response, which Respondent generally affirmed and also then provided a phone log[12] with the earliest entry dated January 5, 2016. GX 12-14. In response to the subpoena for policies and trainings, Respondent informed DEA that its training of employees on suspicious order monitoring "does not necessitate or result in the production of documents." GX 16, at 1. Respondent's reply included two policy and procedure documents, which Respondent described as containing "some limited direction as to suspicious order monitoring." Id.; Tr. 174-76; GX 17, 18.

B. General Regulatory Obligations

21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b) requires distributors to

> . . . design and operate a system to disclose to the registrant suspicious orders of controlled substances. The registrant shall inform the Field Division Office of the Administration in his area of suspicious orders when discovered by the registrant. Suspicious orders include orders of unusual size, orders deviating substantially from a normal pattern, and orders of unusual frequency.

Id.

Respondent received a copy of a letter sent on September 27, 2006, by DEA to distributors of controlled substances. Tr. 62-63; GX 3, at 1. The letter emphasized that "[d]istributors are, of course, one of the key components of the distribution chain. If the closed system is to function properly as Congress envisioned, distributors must be vigilant in deciding whether a prospective customer can be trusted to deliver controlled substances only for lawful purposes." GX 3, at 1. The letter therefore, reminded distributors of their "responsibilities . . . in view of the prescription drug abuse problem our nation currently faces." Id. Further, the letter reminded distributors of their duty under the regulation to "design and operate a system to disclose to the registrant suspicious orders of controlled substances," and their duty to report suspicious orders to DEA upon discovering the suspicious order. Id. at 2. In addition, the letter reminded distributors of their duty to exercise due diligence to avoid filling suspicious orders. Id. Finally, the letter provided distributors with 14 examples derived from DEA investigations of a customer's behavior that might be indicative of diversion. Id. at 3. The letter states that these examples are not all-inclusive and that "[d]istributors should consider the totality of the circumstances when evaluating an order for controlled substances, just as DEA will do when determining whether the filling of an order is consistent with the public interest within the meaning of 21 U.S.C. § 823(e)." Id. DEA sent the same letter a second time on February 7, 2007. Tr. 64-65; GX 69.

Government Exhibit 4 is a December 20, 2007 letter that the DEA sent to every distributor of controlled substances. Tr. 63-64; GX 4, at 1. The stated purpose of this letter was to again remind distributors of the requirement to inform DEA of suspicious orders. GX 4, at 1. The letter reminded distributors that in addition to "maintain[ing] effective controls against diversion," they are also required to "report suspicious orders of controlled substances." Id. The letter reminded registrants that the regulation requires that these orders be reported "when discovered by the registrant." Id. (emphasis in original). The letter also reminded distributors "that their responsibility does not end merely with the filing of a suspicious order report.

Registrants must conduct an independent analysis of suspicious orders prior to completing a sale to determine whether the controlled substances are likely to be diverted from legitimate channels" in accordance with their requirements to maintain effective controls against diversion in 21 U.S.C. § 823(e). Id. The letter also informed registrants that DEA interpreted the list of types of suspicious orders to be "disjunctive and [] not all inclusive." 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b).

DEA maintains an Automation of Reports and Consolidated Orders System (ARCOS). Tr. 69-70. Distributors are required to report to ARCOS all shipments of controlled substances in schedules I and II and all narcotic controlled substances in schedule III. Stip. 9; Tr. 70. In April 2008, DEA met with Respondent's President Paul Dickson, Sr., and discussed Respondent's legal obligations and requirements as a distributor, including suspicious order requirements, the need to know its customers, and the need to conduct due diligence. Tr. 67-68. At the time, DEA reviewed its ARCOS data with Respondent to show customers who had anomalies and to demonstrate "things that [Respondent] should be looking at and questioning [its] customers [about]." Tr. 68-69. In 2013 and 2015, DEA conducted distributor conferences and Jacob Dickson, Respondent's compliance officer,[13] attended both conferences. Tr. 66-67. Both sides also presented evidence about a meeting with Jacob Dickson, Paul Dickson Sr., C.G. (a former compliance officer at Respondent) and officials from DEA, including Milione, in which Respondent presented its Suspicious Order Monitoring (SOM) system to DEA. See RX 11 (powerpoint); see supra n.8.

Respondent filed three suspicious order reports during the relevant time period. Stip. 7. The first, dated April 7, 2014, states that "[a]t this time, and pending further review by you or [13] The GS testified that "one time [Jacob Dickson] was marked as president and then in the other time it was compliance officer." Tr. 67. In a letter to DEA in response to subpoenas, Jacob Dickson's title was listed as Vice President, SOM Manager. GX 9, at 4.

M&D, M&D has stopped selling schedule II through schedule V drugs to the captioned pharmacy." GX 6, at 1. The next report is dated April 26, 2017, and states that the pharmacy in question "purchased a quantity of 60 cartons of prefilled 10 mg morphine sulphate syringes . . . This was a substantial increase over a total sales of one carton in the prior four months." GX 6, at 35. The letter states that the order was investigated but does not discuss the resolution of this investigation, nor whether the order was filled. Id. The final report was filed on the same day, April 26, 2017, and gives no facts related to what order was deemed suspicious nor any information about an investigation or whether the order was shipped. GX 6, at 36.

Distributors are required to design and operate a suspicious order monitoring system that identifies suspicious orders. 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). Suspicious orders include, but are not limited to, three stated criteria: orders of unusual size, orders deviating substantially from a normal pattern, and orders of unusual frequency. Id.

Additionally, a distributor's general duty to prevent diversion includes the duty to perform due diligence on its customers. Southwood Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. 36,487, 36,500 (2007); see also Masters Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. 55,418, 55,476 (2015), pet. for review denied, Masters Pharmaceuticals, Inc. v. Drug Enf't Admin., 861 F.3d 206 (D.C. Cir. 2017). The GS testified that if the required due diligence at the customer level identifies red flags indicative of diversion, Tr. 328, those red flags render an individual order suspicious and trigger the investigation or reporting requirement, even if the regulatory criteria in 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b) are not present, e.g., the order size is not unusual. Tr. 477-478; see also Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,477 (stating that "an order is not only suspicious by virtue of its internal properties—i.e., being of unusual size, pattern, or frequency—but by virtue of the suspicious nature of the pharmacy which placed [the order]").

The Agency's decision in Masters sets forth that a distributor must either investigate suspicious circumstances on an order and resolve all indicia of diversion or decline to fill the order and report it to DEA. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,478.

C. Red Flags—Customer Due Diligence

The record evidence establishes that customer red flags indicative of potential diversion include a pharmacy customer that: dispenses a high volume of narcotics; dispenses the trinity drug cocktail;[14] dispenses disproportionally more controlled substances than non-controlled substances;[15] fills prescriptions for customers who live far away from the pharmacy; fills prescriptions for a high volume of patients who pay for prescriptions in cash;[16] fills prescriptions

[14] The trinity drug cocktail consists of an opioid, such as hydrocodone, a benzodiazepine, such as alprazolam, and a muscle relaxer, such as Soma, and the combination of substances is still a red flag even if each element is prescribed by different prescribers. Tr. 55, 300, 344.

[15] The record contains varying evidence as to the threshold percentage of a pharmacy customer's controlled substance fills relative to its non-controlled substance fills that would trigger a red flag for the distributor. See Tr. 351, 461 (The GS testifying that if the percentage of controlled substance prescriptions filled exceeds 15 percent of total prescriptions, it is a red flag); Tr. 1030 (Milione testifying that if a pharmacy is filling controlled substance prescriptions at a percentage exceeding the national average, then the distributor can resolve the red flag without reporting a suspicious order); Tr. 867 (Irelan testifying that the previous SOM system involved monitoring "for customers that were getting a little closer to 20 percent of that ratio"); RD, at n.5 (noting that the Masters decision found the threshold to be around 20 percent for controlled versus 80 to 90 percent for non-controlled, Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,480, but finding that the GS presented the most credible evidence at 15 percent).

The Agency finds the exact percentage threshold to be largely irrelevant to determine in this case, because in every instance of the Government's allegations, this particular red flag was flagged by the Pro Compliance Reports that were created for Respondent. Furthermore, all of the pharmacy customers in the allegations were dispensing controlled substances at 20 percent or more of their total dispensing—with one customer at one point dispensing as high as 69 percent controlled substances, see GX 26, at 11 (Wellness). The only exception was Bordelon's dispensing at 17 percent controlled substances, but which Pro Compliance reported as being "slightly higher than national average." GX 21, at 6. Furthermore, seven of the eight exemplar pharmacies demonstrated multiple red flags in addition to this one. It is indisputable that Respondent was aware of this red flag for each of these customers at a customer level due to the Pro Compliance Reports in its possession.

[16] The record contains varying evidence as to the threshold percentage of cash payments for controlled substance prescription fills at a pharmacy customer that would trigger a red flag for the distributor. See Tr. 328 (The GS testifying that any pharmacy customer exceeding 9 percent cash payments from customers should raise red flags); see also 1036-37 (Milione testifying that a high percentage of cash in controlled versus non controlled prescriptions is a red flag, but can be resolved with due diligence, the records of which must be maintained); Tr. 681 (Weinstein testifying that if a pharmacy has "a substantially higher percentage of cash payments for controlled substances than it did for a non-controlled substances, that would be a [potential] red flag of diversion," but that he does not have "a particular definition of substantial or significant," because it was more of a "relative comparison"); but see Tr. 649 (Weinstein answered that it was "fair" to say that when a distributor becomes aware of factors, such as cash payments, "they're significant red flags of diversion.").

for practitioners whose DEA registrations cannot be verified;[17] fills a disproportionate volume of controlled substance prescriptions written by only a few prescribers; and/or orders excessive quantities of a limited variety of controlled substances. Tr. 297, 299-301, 335, 411, 427, 489-90, 648-49, 681, 1037; see also Pro Compliance Reports GX 20-56. Weinstein noted that red flags are visible in a pharmacy's dispensing data and not its ordering data.[18] Tr. 679. Irelan admitted that, during the relevant time period, due diligence was not being applied at the ordering level.[19] Tr. 722-23.

Again, the Agency finds the exact percentage threshold for cash payments to be largely irrelevant to determine in this case, because in every instance of the Government's allegations, this particular red flag was flagged by the Pro Compliance Reports that were created for Respondent. As detailed herein, the percentages of cash paid by Respondent's customers at issue were also particularly high, see, e.g., 41 percent, GX 22, at 12 (Folse). It is indisputable that Respondent was aware of this red flag for each of these customers at a customer-level based on the Pro Compliance Reports in its possession.

[17] The Pro Compliance Reports additionally contain reports of prescribers whose DEA controlled substance registrations "could not be verified through DEA-Verify.com" and whose controlled substance prescriptions were filled by Respondent's customers. See, e.g., GX 22, at 17; Tr. 336 (June 2017 Report showing that Folse filled controlled substances prescribed by 23 practitioners whose registrations could not be verified). Both Irelan and Milione testified that the portion of the Pro Compliance Reports concerning the verification of prescriber DEA numbers is unreliable. Tr. 765-66, 797, 901. Milione also testified that a distributor needs to hold and report a suspicious order if it is aware that a customer is filling prescriptions for a practitioner with no DEA registration. Tr. 1025. Although the Agency agrees with the RD, at n.14, that during the relevant timeframe, there is no evidence in the record that Respondent resolved the red flags presented by these reports demonstrating unverified registrations, even if they were unreliable, the Agency also finds that there is more than enough evidence on the record that Respondent did not resolve the other clearly established red flags of diversion and therefore finds it unnecessary to address these additional red flags in this Decision.

[18] The fact that the red flags applied to the customer generally and not to each individual order, see ALJX 89, at 99, is irrelevant to this adjudication, because under the relevant legal requirements, Respondent cannot ignore red flags that demonstrate that its customers are potentially diverting controlled substances and continue to fill those individual orders without resolving each of those red flags. See Tr. 477-478. At a minimum, Respondent must either have stopped the shipments and reported orders to DEA or resolved and documented each of the red flags. See Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 222-23.

[19] It is noted that Respondent attempted to introduce and the ALJ rejected, Exhibit 32C, based on lack of identification. Tr. 447. Respondent's stated purpose was to impeach the Government's witness in demonstrating that Respondent's due diligence files did include photographs as described in its policy, Tr. 447, contrary to the GS's testimony that he did not "recall any" photographs, Tr. 322; RX 32C. The GS testified credibly that he did not recall seeing the file with the photograph "at all." Tr. 447. The Agency has reviewed the document and notes that it did include a photograph; however, the Agency is not finding that Respondent's compliance with its policy on this issue is relevant to this decision and, therefore, the exhibit marked for identification as RX 32C plays no role in the adjudication of this matter. Further, if this exhibit had been included in the record, standing alone, it bodes poorly for Respondent concerning its failure to report suspicious orders for terminated customers. See infra n.61.

The GS testified that when Respondent received the Pro Compliance Reports in GX 20-56 that demonstrated red flags of diversion, it was obligated to resolve the red flags and document their resolution. Tr. 474-76. Based on the record testimony of the experts, and the Masters decision, the Agency finds that when a distributor is aware of red flags indicating diversion of controlled substances from a customer, at a minimum, it is obligated to investigate further and resolve the red flags, or, if it chooses not to investigate and resolve, it must report the order as suspicious to DEA and not ship the controlled substances. See infra, section IV.A.4.

D. Pro Compliance and Market Basket Reports

In conducting customer due diligence, Respondent used, at least up to and including during the hearing, Pro Compliance Reports,[20] which provide analysis of a pharmacy's dispensing data to include key indicators of red flags of diversion, such as the percentage of a customer's business that represents controlled substance dispensing, the volume of cash payments, and the amount of trinity drug cocktails filled. Tr. 464-65, 716-17. In this case, the reports in Respondent's possession for the exemplar pharmacies demonstrated numerous red flags of diversion, and the Agency finds substantial record evidence that Respondent did not adequately document the resolution of those red flags or report the orders to DEA as suspicious.[21] Additionally, the reports in evidence for the exemplar pharmacies appear to demonstrate violations of Respondent's purported policy of "eliminating pharmacy customers who fill orders for controlled drugs in excess of acceptable ratios, accept cash payments, [20] Each Pro Compliance Report contains a statement regarding the Controlled Substances Act (CSA) requirement on manufacturers and distributors to design and operate a system that will disclose suspicious orders of controlled substances. See, e.g., GX 23, at 11; Tr. 355.

[21] Respondent argues that "the Government offered no evidence to demonstrate that Respondent failed to dispel suspicion." ALJX 89, at 100. The Agency finds this argument to be circular. Respondent did not maintain adequate documentation of its resolution of red flags or suspicious orders, so there is no evidence to demonstrate whether it did or did not conduct the due diligence necessary to resolve the red flags. See infra n.80. As described herein, the Agency requires documentation of Respondent's due diligence for many reasons.

prescribe the 'Holy Trinity' and/or other unacceptable practices." GX 9, at 1. According to Respondent, Market Basket Reports[22] were prepared for each customer on a monthly basis as part of its due diligence. GX 9, at 3-4. The reports identified percentages of controlled substances in total dispensing. Id.; see, e.g., GX 59. Respondent no longer uses Market Basket reports but continues to use Pro Compliance Reports. Tr. 716.

The GS testified that he did not find evidence that Respondent ever rejected a controlled substance order from any of the exemplar pharmacies, nor did he find documentation that Respondent dispelled all of the red flags in these reports. Tr. 385-86, 316,[23] 413.

1. Folse Pharmacy

The record evidence demonstrates that the Pro Compliance Initial Risk Evaluation Report provided to Respondent for Folse Pharmacy designated the pharmacy as "high risk." GX 22, at 5; Tr. 328. Further, Pro Compliance Reports for Folse Pharmacy in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Folse Pharmacy's dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including: high percentages[24] of controlled substance prescriptions, high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash,[25] an

[22] Respondent points out that the GS's testimony regarding the Market Basket reports was possibly based on a misinterpretation of the numbers. ALJX 89, at 30 (citing Tr. 409, 423-425). In adjudicating the allegations, this Decision focuses on the Pro Compliance Reports in which there is more than enough information to support the Agency's finding that the alleged customers presented red flags of diversion, the resolution of which was not adequately documented, yet Respondent continued to ship. The Market Basket Reports are only considered to demonstrate that Respondent was conducting some due diligence.

[23] Respondent points to Irelan's testimony to contest the notion that Respondent was not stopping shipments based on reports; however, the citations to his testimony support that Respondent was generally conducting some due diligence as it had described in its letters to DEA in response to the subpoena, not that the red flags at issue for the exemplar pharmacies were resolved. ALJX 89, at 16; see also, e.g., RX 31.001 (notes on pharmacies other than exemplar).

[24] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, percentages of controlled substances during the relevant time period ranged from approximately 30 to 36 percent of Folse's total dispensing. GX 22, at 12-17.

[25] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, percentages of controlled substance dispensing paid for in cash ranged from approximately 18 to 41 percent. GX 22, at 12-14, 17.

increase[26] in the number of oxycodone dosage units dispensed, and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[27] See RD, at 51-53. Furthermore, in June 2017, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Folse's owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices . . . ." GX 22, at 17. The record does not include evidence of an investigation into or resolution of the red flags identified. Further, the record is clear that Respondent did not report any orders from this customer to DEA as suspicious and there is no record evidence that Respondent stopped shipping to this customer as a result of these reports. Tr. 340; Stip. 13.

2. Bordelon's

Pro Compliance Reports for Bordelon's Super Save Pharmacy in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Bordelon's dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including: high percentages[28] of controlled substance prescriptions, higher than average oxycodone and hydrocodone units, and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[29] See RD, at 53-54. In March 2017, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Bordelon's owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices . . . ." GX 21, at 6. The record is clear that Respondent did not report any orders from this customer to DEA as suspicious and there is no record evidence that Respondent stopped shipping to this customer as a result of these reports. Tr. 347-48; Stip. 12.

3. Wallace Drug Company

[26] Between September 2013 and November 2014, the number of oxycodone dosage units dispensed increased from 40,812 to 52,571. GX 22, at 12; Tr. 330-31 (The GS describing this increase as "a very big red flag"); see also Tr. 471-74.

[27] In June 2017, Folse dispensed nine trinity drug cocktails and in September 2016, Folse dispensed twenty-two trinity drug cocktails. GX 22, at 17, 14; Tr. 300, 335-36.

[28] In March 2017, the percentage of controlled substances dispensed represented 17 percent of Bordelon's total dispensing, which Pro Compliance reported to be "slightly higher than national averages." GX 21, at 5-6.

[29] In March 2017, Bordelon's dispensed four trinity drug cocktails. GX 20, at 5-6.

Pro Compliance Reports for Wallace in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Wallace's dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including, but not limited to: high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash,[30] higher than average dosages of oxycodone and hydrocodone, and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[31] See RD, at 54-55. In August 2017, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Wallace's owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices." GX 20, at 6. Respondent produced phone log entries on January 9, 2018, for Wallace. See GX 14, at 31 (note stating that the pharmacy salesman had been contacted and Respondent recommended that he return the order, noting "might need to check on this guy" and "looks like he is hitting this stuff hard!"). Another note on the same date states that the customer was contacted and the customer explained the large order. According to the note, Respondent's employee recommended the return of the hydrocodone and the customer returned it. This note did not occur until five months after the Pro Compliance Report for Wallace, which demonstrated multiple additional red flags of diversion for which there is no documented resolution. Therefore, it is unclear whether the employee flagging this particular order knew that there might be further reason to suspect that this pharmacy was engaging in diversion in order to be able to adequately resolve the suspicious circumstances surrounding the order. Even if this note arguably provided a documented resolution of an unusually large order, the other red flags for this customer are unresolved and unaccounted for. There is also no record evidence that Respondent reported the unusually large order or any orders from this customer to DEA and

[30] In August 2017, 31 percent of controlled substance prescriptions filled by Wallace were paid for in cash. GX 20, at 5.

[31] In August 2017, Wallace dispensed three trinity drug cocktails. GX 20, at 5-6; Tr. 349-50.

there is no record evidence that Respondent stopped shipping to this customer as a result of these reports or notes. Tr. 353; Stip. 11.

4. Pharmacy Specialties Group

Pro Compliance Reports for Pharmacy Specialties in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Pharmacy Specialties' dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including: high percentages[32] of controlled substance prescriptions, high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash,[33] an increase[34] in the number of hydrocodone, oxycodone, and benzodiazepine dosage units dispensed, and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[35] See RD, at 55-57. In February 2016, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Pharmacy Specialties' owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices." GX 23, at 6. Respondent's phone logs demonstrate that an employee raised a concern on March 7, 2016, regarding Pharmacy Specialties Group; however, there is no record documentation of how the concern was resolved and Respondent continued to distribute. See GX 14, at 4 ("[C]heck out this guys usage for item [] compared to his overall warehouse purchasing, this seems quite elevated to me.....????"). This note identifies a suspicious order; however, according to the record evidence, Respondent did not report the order to DEA. Further, there is no documented investigation or resolution of the concern raised by the employee in the record. On December 13, 2017, another note reads, "Henry will give the customer a warning about his Oxy purchases.

[32] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, the percentages of controlled substances ranged from approximately 24 to 30 percent of Pharmacy Specialties' total dispensing. GX 23, at 5, 18; Tr. 353-54.
[33] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, the percentages of controlled substances dispensing paid for in cash ranged from approximately 28 percent to 31 percent. GX 23, at 5-6, 16, 18, 18.
[34] From February 2016 to October 2016, the number of hydrocodone dosage units dispensed increased by 25 percent, while from October 2016 to September 2017, the number of dosage units of oxycodone, hydrocodone, and benzodiazepines dispensed increased by 148, 89, and 106 percent respectively. GX 23, at 16, 18; Tr. 358-59.
[35] In February 2016, October 2016, and September 2017, Pharmacy Specialties dispensed trinity drug cocktails. GX 23, at 6, 16; Tr. 355, 358-59.

Too much cash, too much growth. Will re-run and if no improvement will either restrict or cut off completely." Id. at 31. Although this note seems to set forth a plan for compliance, it does not include any indication of an investigation into or resolution of the red flags identified. Further, the record evidence is clear that Respondent did not report this order or any orders from this customer to DEA and there is no record evidence that Respondent stopped shipping to this customer as a result of these reports. Tr. 362; Stip. 14.

5. Dave's Pharmacy

Pro Compliance Reports for Dave's Pharmacy in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Dave's dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including: high percentages[36] of controlled substance prescriptions, high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash,[37] increases[38] in the number of oxycodone dosage units dispensed, and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[39] See RD, at 57-59. In March 2014, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Dave's owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices. . . ."[40] GX 24, at 6. It also states that this pharmacy "represents a relatively high risk to [Respondent]." Id. (emphasis in original). A year later, on February 16, 2017, Respondent's phone logs contain the following

[36] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, percentages of controlled substances during the relevant time period ranged from approximately 20 to 22 percent of Dave's total dispensing. GX 24, at 5, 18-21, 24, 30; Tr. 362-67.

[37] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, percentages of controlled substance dispensing paid for in cash ranged from approximately 17 to 35 percent. GX 24, at 18-21, 23, 24, 30; Tr. 364-67.

[38] For example, from March 2014 to January 2015, the number of oxycodone dosage units dispensed increased from 17,889 to 29,994, and from May 2014 compared to December 2015, the number of dosage units of oxycodone increased by 205 percent. GX 24, at 18, 19, 21; Tr. 364; see also RD, at 57-59.

[39] Between March 2014 and January 2015, Dave's dispensed 57 trinity drug cocktails. GX 24, at 18; Tr. 364. Between May 2014 and December 2015, Dave's dispensed 27 trinity drug cocktails, and between December 2015 and June 2016, Dave's dispensed 33 trinity drug cocktails. GX 24, at 19-20. Tr. 365-66. Further, between June and November 2016, Dave's dispensed 37 trinity drug cocktails and in June 2017, Dave's dispensed 14. GX 24, at 21, 24.

[40] This Pro Compliance Report identifies Dave's second highest prescriber as having eighty-five incidents of prescribing trinity drug cocktails.

note about Dave's: "Talked to [D.J.] about the issues at his store. He will let the doctors know that he will no longer be filling these scripts." GX 14, at 23. According to the record evidence, Respondent did not elicit or document an explanation for the red flags and the record is clear that Respondent never reported this order or any orders from this customer to DEA. Further, there is no record evidence that Respondent stopped shipping to this customer as a result of these reports. Tr. 384-85; Stip. 15.

6. Hephzibah Pharmacy

A Pro Compliance Report for Hephzibah Pharmacy in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Hephzibah's dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including: high percentages[41] of controlled substance prescriptions, high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash,[42] and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[43] See RD, at 59-60. In February 2017, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Hephzibah's owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices. . . ." GX 25, at 6.

Jacob Dickson sent an email to a DI stating that Respondent had ceased business with Hephzibah because Respondent did not support the customers who "wished to change their business model;" however, Respondent "did not find these accounts to exhibit suspicious activity or excessive orders." GX 72, at 1. Respondent's phone logs state on March 17, 2017, that "they must work on clearing up issues that Pro Compliance found, high cash, trinity & high quantities on Hydrocodone and Oxycodone. Will re-run in 90 days." GX 14, at 23. On March 21, 2017, [41] In February 2017, controlled substance prescriptions constituted 27 percent of Hephzibah's total dispensing. GX 25, at 6; Tr. 370-71.

[42] In February 2017, the percentage of controlled substance dispensing paid for in cash was 36 percent. GX 25, at 6, 12; Tr. 371.
[43] In February 2017, Hephzibah dispensed nine trinity drug cocktails. GX 25, at 5-6; Tr. 371.

there is a follow up entry that states, "After a couple of months, they decided they would rather change wholesalers than cooperate with our compliance program." Id. at 26. Although the notes demonstrate that Respondent was conducting some due diligence, this statement contradicts Jacob Dickson's email asserting that Respondent terminated the business relationship and also that Respondent did not find the accounts to exhibit suspicious activity when it clearly had identified red flags through Pro Compliance Reports. See GX 72, at 1 (listing Hephzibah Pharmacy as an account that Respondent "chose to close").[44]

7. The Wellness Pharmacy

Pro Compliance Reports for the Wellness Pharmacy in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Wellness's dispensing practices raised red flags of very high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions and high numbers of dosage units of hydrocodone and oxycodone. See RD, at 60-61. Although Pro Compliance's initial risk assessment evaluated Wellness as "low risk," it also revealed that between April and June 2013, 67 percent of all prescriptions dispensed by Wellness were for controlled substances. Further Pro Compliance Reports during the relevant time period demonstrated that Wellness's percentage of controlled substance prescriptions continued to range from approximately 64 to 69 percent. GX 26, at 10-12, 14, 21; Tr. 374. There is no record evidence that Respondent reported these orders to DEA or any orders from this pharmacy, documented the resolution of the red flags, or stopped shipping to this customer as a result of the red flags that these reports identified. Tr. 384-85; Stip. 17.

8. Wilkinson Family Pharmacy

[44] The Agency agrees with the ALJ's finding that the phone log note deserves more weight as to what occurred with this pharmacy than Jacob Dickson's email. RD, at 136 n.60.

Pro Compliance Reports for Wilkinson Family Pharmacy in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Wilkinson's dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including: high percentages[45] of controlled substance prescriptions, increases in oxycodone, high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash,[46] higher than average dosages of oxycodone and hydrocodone, and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[47] See RD, at 61-63. In January 2017, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Wilkinson's owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices." GX 27, at 26.[48] There is no record evidence that Respondent reported these orders or any orders from this customer to DEA, or stopped shipping to this customer as a result of these reports. Tr. 384-85; Stip. 19.

The Government has presented substantial record evidence that Respondent distributed controlled substances to the exemplar pharmacies during the relevant time period in the face of

[45] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, percentages of controlled substances during the relevant time period ranged from approximately 9 to 42 percent of Wilkinson's total dispensing. GX 27, at 20-23. 25-26; Tr. 367, 378-380.

[46] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, percentages of controlled substance dispensing paid for in cash ranged from approximately 17 to 38 percent and cash paid for non-controlled substance prescriptions was significantly lower. GX 27, at 20-23; Tr. 378-380.

[47] Between March 2014 and January 2015, Wilkinson dispensed twenty-six trinity drug cocktails. GX 27, at 21; Tr. 378. Between January 2015 and January 2016, Wilkinson dispensed twenty-one trinity drug cocktails, and between December January 2016, and August 2016, Wilkinson dispensed twenty trinity drug cocktails. GX 27, at 22-23. Tr. 379. Further, in January 2017, Wilkinson dispensed fourteen trinity drug cocktails, and in June 2017, Wilkinson dispensed 14. GX 27, at 26, 32.

[48] Respondent produced an email from March 4, 2014, from Wilkinson, which appeared to be in response to a Pro Compliance Report that Respondent had sent to Wilkinson. Wilkinson's explanation primarily focuses on cash payments. RX 05.001. The GS testified that this showed "some" due diligence. Tr. 452. There was extensive dispute about the introduction of this exhibit during the hearing. Tr. 453-458. It appeared that Respondent did try to offer the exhibit into evidence, Tr. 453, and then offered it subject to connection. Tr. 455. The ALJ ultimately determined to send it to the Agency as part of the administrative record. RD, at 104 n.41. The Agency has considered this exhibit because the contested nature of the hearing at this point has made it difficult to determine whether this exhibit was offered. The exhibit demonstrates that Respondent conducted "some" due diligence on Wilkinson. However, it is noted that the document does not demonstrate the resolution of each of the red flags of diversion, nor does it reflect any independent analysis of Respondent's statements regarding the cash red flag. Ultimately, the Agency accepts that Respondent conducted "some" due diligence for Wilkinson. Further, even if Respondent had adequately resolved the red flags for this pharmacy, there is more than enough evidence of Respondent's failures to conduct due diligence to support the Agency's finding that Respondent's registrations are inconsistent with the public interest.

red flags of diversion, including high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions, high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash, dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions, and increases and higher than average dosages of particular schedule II controlled substances. All of these red flags were specifically identified by Pro Compliance Reports in Respondent's possession. Although some of the notations provided by Respondent demonstrated that employees had suspicions about certain orders and had made some contacts, none of the notations adequately resolved the red flags and none of the orders were reported to DEA as suspicious. In the documents Respondent produced to DEA, the GS did not find any indication that the Compliance officer stopped shipment of any order of controlled substances identified as suspicious. Tr. 315-16, 385. It is noted that most of these customers displayed not just one red flag, but multiple red flags of diversion—most of them well over any arguable threshold that would require investigation, see supra notes 15-16—and there is insufficient record evidence that Respondent conducted or documented due diligence to resolve these numerous red flags of diversion presented by its customers.

E. Suspicious Orders under 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b)

The Government alleged that Respondent failed to design and operate an effective system to disclose to Respondent suspicious orders and to report those orders to DEA. OSC, at 8. DEA used statistical analysis of orders placed by Respondent's customers for oxycodone and hydrocodone to "identify extremely large individual pharmacy transactions and extremely large monthly volume totals," in order to demonstrate the failures of Respondent's SOM system and reporting. Id. The GS explained that the reporting of suspicious orders is particularly important for DEA to be able to "conduct an investigation" and identify potential diversion. Tr. 284-86.

G.R. testified regarding the statistical analysis that he performed for the investigation, including his use of a statistical methodology called the Tukey method to identify outlier transactions that represented possible suspicious orders. Tr. 225; 236-37. G.R. testified that Tukey uses an interquartile range, which is the difference between the first and third quartiles, and then is multiplied by a factor of one-and-a-half to six (IQR multiplier). Tr. 202. Although there is no single multiplier to use, Tr. 523, the higher the IQR multiplier, the fewer outliers will be identified. Tr. 523-24. G.R. used an IQR multiplier of 3 to calculate a smaller group of outliers to identify "what are called far out or extreme outliers." Tr. 203, 233, 242. G.R. testified that the transactions that he identified using three IQR above the 75th percentile represented unusually large transactions, which would normally occur less than one percent of the time. Tr. 238-39.

G.R. testified that he analyzed Respondent's sales of oxycodone and hydrocodone from January 1, 2014, to April 30, 2018, and compared every transaction the pharmacy made from January 1, 2014, to April 30, 2018, against every other transaction made during the same time period to the same pharmacy, which he called a "fixed-frame analysis." Tr. 197-98; 226-27. He credibly testified that he used the fixed-frame analysis because he was looking for "a ballpark estimate of scale, size of outlier population," as opposed to the exact number of outliers. Tr. 227, 234.

Government Exhibits 65 and 66 contain all of the transactions concerning oxycodone shipments that Respondent reported to DEA between January 1, 2014, and April 30, 2018, as well as the results of G.R.'s corrected analysis using the above-described methodology. Tr. 71-72. GX 65, 66; Tr. 71-72, 211-12. G.R.'s corrected analysis identified the following amounts of Respondent's oxycodone and hydrocodone sales as outliers, i.e., unusually large, from January 1, 2014, to April 30, 2018.

Substance	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018[49]	Total
Oxycodone	2,097	1,857	1,546	1,361	391	7,252

Tr. 212-13; GX 65-66, at Summary tab; Government Demonstrative Exhibit (GDX), at 10.

G.R.'s corrected analysis also identified approximately 450 potential outliers for Respondent's oxycodone and hydrocodone sales for seven[50] of the exemplar pharmacies from January 1, 2014, to April 30, 2018. Tr. 213-14, 216-17, 243; GDX, at 11.[51] See RD, at 68 for table. The Agency is considering the review of the exemplar pharmacies' unusually large orders for oxycodone and hydrocodone only to further demonstrate the general failure of Respondent to identify, investigate and report suspicious orders.[52]

In response to criticism from Respondent's expert, G.R. also conducted a "look-back analysis," which, according to G.R., produced results "consistent with what [he] found using the"[53] fixed-frame analysis method. Tr. 228, 235. In his look-back analysis, G.R. looked at "the entire population" and not only the seven exemplar pharmacies in the OSC showing unusually

[49] January 1, 2018, to April 30, 2018. Tr. 212, 226.
[50] G.R.'s corrected analysis did not identify any unusually large transactions of oxycodone or hydrocodone that Respondent shipped to Hephzibah Pharmacy. ALJX 14, at 4; Tr. 230. However, the Pro Compliance Report for Hephzibah Pharmacy demonstrated multiple red flags of diversion. Supra section III.D.6.
[51] The tables reflect transaction size, not frequency. Tr. 244.
[52] It is noted that Weinstein conducted a "look-back" analysis of G.R.'s data; Tr. 537-38, 550-51, 693, RDX-4; see also RD, at 73 (table analyzing these amounts). The Agency acknowledges that Respondent demonstrated Weinstein's analysis produced significantly lower results; "nearly half of the outlier transactions he identified in 2017 and 2018 would not have been identified as outliers." ALJX 89, at 38 (citing Tr. 529-30, 568; RX 28 and 29)).
[53] Respondent argued in its Exceptions that G.R.'s look-back analysis could not be characterized as "substantially similar" to the fixed-frame analysis because although the numerical size of outliers was similar, each analysis found substantially different outliers. Resp Exceptions, at 41-42. Respondent's point is noted; however, both analyses identified numerous outliers and, ultimately, the number of outliers that could have represented suspicious orders under both analyses far exceeded the three that Respondent reported to DEA during the relevant timeframe. Further, Respondent did not demonstrate adequate documentation of its resolution of suspicious orders nor is there information on the record that Respondent stopped shipping.

large transactions. Tr. 230. G.R. testified that statistical analysis is "one piece of the analysis that is necessary to comply with DEA's regulations governing distributors." Tr. 223-24, 1084-90. See GX 73 and 74 (analysis using the look-back methodology that Weinstein recommended). The look-back analysis for oxycodone transactions revealed 6,816 outlier transactions, a 6 percent reduction when compared to the fixed-frame analysis of 7,252 that the Government previously found. Tr. 1091; GX 73, at Summary tab. The look-back analysis for hydrocodone transactions revealed 5,222 outlier transactions, a 5.5 percent increase when compared to the fixed-frame analysis of 4,948 that the Government previously found. Tr. 1092; GX 74, at Summary tab.[54]

Respondent presented the testimony of its own expert, Weinstein, who opined that G.R.'s analysis failed to reliably identify unusually large or suspicious orders. Tr. 558. Weinstein based his criticism of G.R.'s analysis on four factors: 1) the use of a four-year fixed-frame as opposed to the look-back method; 2) the failure to consider the schedule change of hydrocodone in late 2014 from schedule III to schedule II; 3) the failure to consider package size and formulation; and 4) the use of the line item approach as opposed to a cumulative approach. RD, at 70; Tr. 525-28, 541-46, 558.

Weinstein credibly explained his criticisms of G.R.'s analysis in detail, opining that the factors he identified both over-estimated, see, e.g., Tr. 552, and under-estimated, see, e.g., Tr. 552-53, the number of outliers that could have potentially constituted suspicious orders.

[54] Respondent contests the Government's introduction of this rebuttal evidence in its Exceptions. Resp Exceptions, at 40-41. As further explained herein, the Agency credits Weinstein's criticism of G.R.'s analysis. The exact number of unreported suspicious orders is unnecessary for the Government to prove or the Agency to conclude in finding a violation because Respondent was responsible for creating and maintaining an adequate SOM system and identifying and reporting suspicious orders. Here, it is clear from the evidence that Respondent's SOM system during the relevant timeframe was inadequate.

Weinstein notably "did not conduct an original analysis to determine, retrospectively, which of Respondent's orders from 2014 through 2018 should have been identified as suspicious." Resp Exceptions, at 40; see also RD, at 25, 75. Respondent argues that it is not Respondent's burden to do so. Resp Exceptions, at 40 (citing Steadman v. Securities and Exchange Comm'n, 450 U.S. 91, 100-03 (1981); Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473; 21 C.F.R. § 130.44(e)).

Even if the Agency fully credits Weinstein's criticism of G.R.'s analysis, the Government has clearly demonstrated its prima facie case that Respondent failed to design and operate a system to identify suspicious orders and report them to DEA and Respondent admits as much. See, e.g., Tr. 666 (Weinstein testifying that the numbers run in early 2018 would have identified suspicious orders in similar quantities to what Respondent is currently reporting); Tr. 813 (Irelan testifying that he accepts responsibility for the Government's allegations in the OSC, paragraph 10, regarding the failure to design and operate an adequate SOM system). The G.R. analysis, according to G.R.'s credible testimony, offered a ballpark estimate of the scale of suspicious orders that Respondent neglected to identify and report to DEA. RD, at 12, and 136; accord Tr. 404 (The GS testifying that he asked G.R. to conduct an analysis "to get a sense of just mathematically quantifying how many suspicious orders could theoretically have been missed by Morris & Dickson"[55]). Respondent argued that the Government's case was founded[56] on [55] It is noted that Respondent uses a different quote from the GS that stated that the intent of the analysis was "to quantify, you know, just how many orders are we talking about that fell outside of just a normal pattern or set amount" and that "the analysis showed that there were roughly, 14,000 orders that should have been reported as suspicious based on the quantity that was ordered." Respondent's Exceptions, at 45 (quoting Tr. 293). Given the several contextual parameters that the GS used in these statements, like "just a normal pattern or set amount" and "based on the quantity that was ordered," the Agency does not find this statement to be inconsistent with the GS's statement at Tr. 404, regarding the purpose of G.R.'s analysis.

[56] The Government's Prehearing Statement states that G.R. "will testify that a standard statistical outlier analysis is a reasonable method to identify unusual transactions in the context of pharmaceutical distribution." ALJX 7, at 6. The description of G.R.'s testimony in both the Government's Prehearing Statement and Third Supplemental Prehearing establishing specific outliers that Respondent failed report to DEA as suspicious orders. Resp Exceptions, at 43 (citing e.g., OSC, at 37, 46, 54, 65, 74, 84, 93); see also ALJX 52, at 20. However, the Agency does not find it necessary to count and identify the exact number of specific outliers, and the reason why is simple. Respondent is charged with violating a non-prescriptive regulation, which clearly places the burden on the distributor to design and operate a system to disclose to the distributor suspicious orders of controlled substances under Agency guidelines.[57] The DEA regulations notably do not prescribe exactly what SOM system to use or what constitutes a suspicious order—what constitutes an order of unusual size, an order deviating substantially from a normal pattern, etc. Respondent, in its defense, did not attempt to demonstrate that the system that it had in place during the relevant time period adequately identified suspicious orders—in fact, Irelan took responsibility for Respondent's SOM system failures and failure to adequately report suspicious orders to DEA. Tr. 731, 733. Based on the evidence in the record and Respondent's admitted failures, the Agency finds that Respondent clearly violated 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b) in failing to design and operate its system and in failing to investigate or report suspicious orders to DEA. Respondent's attempts to distract the Agency from the notion that it did not adequately meet the regulatory obligation by picking apart DEA's ballpark estimate demonstrating the potential magnitude of Respondent's violations are unavailing. The Agency notes that Respondent contests the quantity of suspicious orders that G.R. identified as unreported to DEA; but G.R.'s analysis, which he notably calibrated to only

Statement discusses the manner in which G.R. arrived at his calculations and established reasonable thresholds. Id. at 6-8; ALJX 52, at 20 ("G.R. will testify that his analysis identified the following unusually large transactions for the exemplar pharmacies."). The Agency additionally agrees with the rationale of the ALJ that G.R.'s testimony regarding the intent of his statistical analysis did not give rise to a new allegation. See RD, at 96 n.33.

[57] The December 20, 2007 letter that DEA sent to manufacturers and distributors stated that "[t]he regulation clearly indicates that it is the sole responsibility of the registrant to design and operate such a system. Accordingly, DEA does not approve or otherwise endorse any specific system for reporting suspicious orders." GX 4, at 1.

identify extreme outliers, Tr. 203, shows that the number of unreported suspicious orders for these two controlled substances during the relevant timeframe could have potentially been in the thousands.[58]

F. Respondent's Policies and Procedures During the Relevant Timeframe

Respondent produced a Policies and Procedure Manual and a Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) Manual in response to DEA's investigation. GX 17 and 18. The Policies and Procedure Manual states, "Where a Compliance Officer sees a ratio of controlled drugs ordered out of the normal range, or the overall quantity is too high compared with the volume of the account, the Compliance Officer has a duty to investigate by calling the account. The Compliance Officer may stop shipment on any order if he or she finds the order to be unusually suspicious." GX 17, at 12. The Policies and Procedures Manual notably does not indicate an obligation to report suspicious orders to DEA. The GS testified that in his review of Respondent's records, he did not see documentation of stopped suspicious orders. Tr. 315-16. The SOP Manual[59] states that Respondent "keeps a system in operation which is designed to discover those purchasing patterns of controlled substances which exceed the norm and could possibly be related to diversion activities." GX 18, at 19. The GS testified that this statement does not adequately reflect the obligations in 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). Tr. 307. Further, although the SOP Manual describes various analytical reports regarding drug sales and drug volumes, the GS testified that he did not see any references to these reports in Respondent's relevant records. Tr. 308-09, 491. The SOP Manual does clearly state that "[w]hen a suspicious pattern or purchase is identified by any of the above methods the customer is contacted in some but not all cases and asked for a written explanation for the unusual order. In all cases,[60] a letter is sent to the DEA indicating a possible suspicious order." GX 18, at 20.

[58] Respondent further made arguments related to what it determined as inconsistent analysis in the RD related to G.R.'s outlier numbers. Resp Exceptions, at 44-46. The Agency finds that G.R.'s analysis provides a ballpark of the egregiousness of Respondent's failures to design and operate the required system. See Tr. 227, 224.

[59] The SOP Manual states that the details of Respondent's suspicious order monitoring program "are confidential and therefore are not made a part of this manual." Tr. 306; GX 18, at 17.

G. Respondent's Former SOM System

Irelan testified that Respondent's SOM system during the time period comprising the allegations (former SOM System) was "not as robust as what we have today." Tr. 738-40 (citing e.g., GX 19, at 3); see also RX 31.001 and 31.002 (notes that were part of Respondent's former SOM System). The former SOM system included: know your customer efforts; an electronic customer profile (ECP); a market basket system; reports from Pro Compliance; direct contact with and soliciting of information from customers; and reliance on Respondent's sales force and those who actually filled orders for controlled substances. Tr. 866-70; GX 9, at 2-3; GX 17, at 12; GX 18, at 19-20.

Irelan testified that Respondent's former SOM system would send an email or text message to the compliance officer, C.G., when an order was flagged as suspicious and the order would ship if C.G. did not take action to stop it. Tr. 728, 778.

Irelan testified that Respondent's former SOM system was "not consistent with best practices . . . . because it didn't hold the order. It didn't give an opportunity to resolve red flags before shipping." Tr. 729. Additionally, Irelan testified that "the calculation that the system was using [to identify potentially suspicious orders] was only using ten times a 90-day average," which made it "inadequate." Tr. 729; see also Tr. 321-22 (The GS testimony that 8 times the average could still be a suspicious order); Tr. 652 (Weinstein testifying that this calculation was not sufficient based on DEA guidance). Regarding the former SOM system, Milione testified that his "understanding is they accepted that there were things wrong with it, that the reporting to DEA was insufficient." Tr. 989. Further, he stated, "it was clear that there was an issue" and that after reviewing the system, his company told Respondent that "there are certain things that should be enhanced knowing what DEA expected." Tr. 990-91. For example, "one of the big things was a way to flag orders [in] real time and in an appropriate way with some kind of an algorithm and then report those flagged orders to DEA." Tr. 991.

[60] The GS testified that customers should be contacted in all cases. Tr. 484. Masters may provide some room for nuance if Respondent stops shipment of the orders and reports to DEA; however, none of this nuance is represented in the SOP Manual. Additionally, the policy states that "in all cases," DEA is required to be notified, when in fact, DEA was only notified three times during the relevant time period and the record evidence established that Respondent neither reported to DEA nor adequately documented the resolution of red flags for the exemplar pharmacies or generally for suspicious orders during the relevant time period. See supra III.D.

Respondent also argues that as a result of its former SOM system, it had ceased supplying controlled substances to 42 pharmacies from 2014 to 2016. RX 11, at 14 (powerpoint slide); Tr. 871. Respondent's expert acknowledged that if those customers had been terminated based on Respondent's SOM program, it should have filed suspicious order reports with DEA. Tr. 1015-16; see also Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,477 (holding that a distributor discovering a suspicious order must either stop shipping and report to DEA or investigate and resolve the red flags). If Respondent stopped shipping and terminated a customer as a result of discovering a suspicious order, that order should have been reported to DEA. There is no evidence that the 42 customers from 2014 to 2016 were reported to DEA—in fact, the evidence establishes that there was only one suspicious order report filed during this timeframe on April 7, 2014. See GX 6, at 1.[61]

[61] It is also noted that Jacob Dickson's letter stated that Respondent had ceased supplying 142 retail pharmacies "due to questions and concerns that the pharmacies were overdispensing controlled substances. After ceasing doing business with these 'bad accounts' [Respondent] has seen very few examples which would justify the reporting of a suspicious order." GX 9, at 5. Milione testified that Mr. Dickson "specifically took pride in being able to say, look, this—every year there has been this—this many customers that they focused on and identified. And I think—I don't know the exact math. It was 125, 135 customers from 2008 to 2016 that were terminated or suspended . . . based upon their compliance suspicious order monitoring program." Tr. 870-71. Respondent provided transcribed testimony from Mr. Dickson in a separate hearing stating that Respondent eliminated 142 customers "because in

H. Respondent's New SOM System

Respondent requested confidentiality related to its current SOM system and policies; therefore, this Decision incorporates by reference the findings of the RD related to Respondent's system and summarizes herein at as high a level as possible while appropriately adjudicating the facts.[62] See RD, at 75-82. Guidepost[63] undertook seven corrective measures on Respondent's behalf. Tr. 882. Those measures included: (1) establishing an anti-diversion compliance regulatory affairs team; (2) enhancing Respondent's SOM system; (3) redeveloping Respondent's ECP; (4) enhancing Respondent's "know your customer protocols"; (5) enhancing Respondent's due diligence investigative protocols; (6) conducting employee training; and (7) documenting everything and reporting to DEA. Tr. 882-900. The Analysis Group, Inc., (AGI) was also brought in to develop a live real-time order monitoring system that would identify suspicious orders. Tr. 885. Between May 14, 2018, and July 29, 2018, Respondent submitted 58 suspicious order reports to the DEA. RX 20. In those 58 reports, Respondent informed the DEA some form or fashion they might have been suspicious and diverting." RX 1, at 61. It is unclear how many of these customers were terminated during the relevant timeframe—other than the 42 customers that were terminated during 2014 to 2016. Without the benefit of evidence or testimony regarding the circumstances of the terminations during the relevant timeframe, it is difficult for the Agency to determine what weight to give these terminations, see RD, at n.32; however, the language on the record describing these orders as "suspicious and diverting" or "overdispensing" or "bad accounts" certainly brings into question whether they could constitute additional violations of the suspicious order reporting requirement. See also RD, at 136. In sum, without further evidence explaining the circumstances of the terminations or the reasons why they were unreported to DEA, the Agency cannot give Respondent's terminations during the relevant timeframe the weight that Respondent requests to demonstrate its compliance. These terminations are not being considered as further violations of DEA regulations, but they are also not given weight for Respondent in the public interest inquiry. Finally, the Agency notes that whether Respondent's SOM System was adequate prior to the relevant timeframe is not a matter currently before the Agency.

[62] See, e.g., Tr. 15 (Respondent requesting confidentiality based on "proprietary trade secrets of the Analysis Group regarding the customized suspicious order monitoring system that they have developed for the Respondent, as well as all of the different functionality of the Respondent's suspicious order monitoring system."); ALJX 82. The Agency has provided a high-level summary of these improvements to demonstrate consideration of the scope of Respondent's remedial measures. The numbers of suspicious orders have been included because the Agency finds this information to be relevant to the adjudication of this matter.

of approximately 3,915 suspicious orders. Id. Applying Respondent's new SOM program to its orders from early 2018, Weinstein identified a similar number of suspicious orders.[64] Tr. 666, 676, 682-83. Respondent's current SOM system holds customer's orders as "potentially suspicious" and prevents the orders from being shipped until the Compliance team has reviewed. Tr. 668-69, 672; 582. Furthermore, Respondent currently documents its due diligence regarding suspicious orders in the Enhanced Customer Profiles in a readily-retrievable format. Tr. 737, 716; RD, at 79.

IV. ANALYSIS

A distributor's registration may be suspended or revoked upon a finding that the distributor "has committed such acts as would render [its] registration under section 823 of this title inconsistent with the public interest as determined under such section . . . ." 21 U.S.C. § 824(a)(4). With regard to distributors of schedule II controlled substances, Congress has set forth five factors to consider when determining whether the distributor's registration would be in the public interest. The factors to be considered are:

> (1) maintenance of effective control against diversion of particular controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific, and industrial channels;
> (2) compliance with applicable State and local law;
> (3) prior conviction record of applicant under Federal or State laws relating to the manufacture, distribution, or dispensing of such substances;
> (4) past experience in the distribution of controlled substances; and

[64] Although Respondent did not run its new system on the old data during the time period covered by the OSC, Tr. 682, 686, Weinstein did testify that Respondent applied its current SOM system to the orders Respondent received in early 2018 (covering some of the allegations in the OSC) and Weinstein testified that using the current SOM system "[c]ertainly there were some that would have been identified in those months. And in a similar number to what's being identified currently." Tr. 666; see also Tr. 676 (data from April 2018 (in the relevant timeframe) produced a roughly similar volume of flagged orders, which "tends to be in the hundreds each month that are identified by the thresholds"). It is noted that these numbers reflect the quantity of orders that would have been flagged for suspicion and does not "take into account any due diligence" etc. Tr. 677. This testimony is not included in this Decision to prove the number of suspicious orders that DEA should have received in early 2018, but, instead, is included to further support the Agency's finding that Respondent's suspicious order monitoring and reporting during the relevant timeframe was insufficient to meet the regulatory requirements.

> (5) such other factors as may be relevant to and consistent with the public health and safety.

21 U.S.C. § 823(b).[65]

The Agency considers these public interest factors in the disjunctive and may rely on any one or a combination of factors and give each factor the weight the Agency deems appropriate in determining whether to revoke a registration or to deny a pending application for renewal of a registration. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,472 (applying DEA decisions on the public interest factors in 21 U.S.C. § 823(f) to the public interest factors for distributors in 21 U.S.C. § 823(b) and (e)); see also Southwood Pharm, Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,497-98. Any one factor, or combination of factors, may be decisive. David H. Gillis, M.D., 58 Fed. Reg. 37,507, 37,508 (1993). There is no need to enter findings on each of the factors.[66] Hoxie v. Drug Enf't Admin., 419 F.3d 477, 482 (6th Cir. 2005); Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473.

The Government bears the initial burden of proof and must justify revocation by a preponderance of the evidence. Steadman, 450 U.S. at 100-03; Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473; 21 C.F.R. § 1301.44(e). If the Government makes a prima facie case for revocation, then the burden of proof shifts to the registrant to show why its continued registration

[65] 21 U.S.C. § 823(e) also applies to distributors of controlled substances. The section sets forth the identical factors to be considered regarding a registration to distribute controlled substances in schedules III, IV, and V, as are contained in 21 U.S.C. § 823(b) concerning schedules I and II. The Government's allegations are focused primarily on Respondent's distribution of schedule II controlled substances, but in 2014, during the time period of the allegations, hydrocodone was changed from a schedule III to a schedule II controlled substance. Tr. 539. Additionally, Respondent is a registered distributor of controlled substances in schedules II-V; therefore, the Agency, even when referring only to (b), considers the identical public interest factors under both sections 823(b) and (e) in this section.

[66] Respondent argues that "an independent consideration of each of these [five] factors [at 21 U.S.C. § 823(b)(1–5)] weigh[s] against a finding that Respondent's continued registration is inconsistent with the public interest." ALJX 89, para. 291. In other words, although the Government only submitted evidence relevant to Factor One and Factor Four, Respondent urges the Agency to find evidence relevant to all five Factors. The Agency declines to adjudicate, at Respondent's request, arguments that the Government did not make, yet notes that if it were to do as Respondent requests, the ensuing analysis of all five Factors would continue to point to the revocation of Respondent's registration.

would not be inconsistent with the public interest. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473; see also Med. Shoppe—Jonesborough, 73 Fed. Reg. 364, 387 (2008).

In this case, the Government contends that Respondent's continued registrations are inconsistent with the public interest based on Factors One and Four. ALJ-90, at 27-29.

A. Respondent's Failure to Maintain Effective Controls Against Diversion and its Experience with Controlled Substances (Factors One and Four) [67]

With respect to Factor One, concerning the maintenance of effective controls against diversion, DEA has promulgated regulations to guide the regulated community. Specifically,

> All applicants and registrants shall provide effective controls and procedures to guard against theft and diversion of controlled substances. In order to determine whether a registrant has provided effective controls against diversion, the Administrator shall use the security requirements set forth in [21 C.F.R.] §§ 1301.72-1301.76 as standards for the physical security controls and operating procedures necessary to prevent diversion.

21 C.F.R. § 1301.71(a).

DEA's security regulations further provide that:

> The registrant shall design and operate a system to disclose to the registrant suspicious orders of controlled substances. The registrant shall inform the Field Division Office of the Administration in his area of suspicious orders when discovered by the registrant. Suspicious orders include orders of unusual size, orders deviating substantially from a normal pattern, and orders of unusual frequency.

21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b).

The OSC alleges that Respondent failed to maintain "effective controls against diversion of particular controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific, and industrial channels," in violation of 21 U.S.C. § 823(b)(1) and 21 C.F.R. § 1301.71(a). ALJX 1, at 3, [67] While listing the five public interest factors of 21 U.S.C. § 823(b), the Government specifically notes that it does not rely on Factors Three or Five and makes no argument concerning Factor Two. ALJ-90, at 27-29 & n.12. Further, the Government combines its analysis of Factors One and Four. Id. at 28-44. The Government notes that where it has not made allegations with respect to Factors Three and Five, the factors do not weigh for or against revocation. See ALJX 90, at n.12. As such, although the Agency has considered all five factors, its analysis focuses on Factors One and Four.

paras. 7, 10. Second, the OSC alleges that Respondent failed to adequately "design and operate a system to disclose to the registrant suspicious orders of controlled substances" and report them to DEA, in violation of 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). ALJX 1, at 3, paras. 8, 10.

Factor Four involves a registrant's past experience in the distribution of controlled substances, which the Government has argued is appropriately considered along with its maintenance of effective controls against diversion. See, e.g., Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473. In this case, Respondent argues that its experience in the distribution of controlled substances "is extensive," as it was "founded in 1841 and distributes more than 33,000 products," and that its history of compliance weighs against a finding that Respondent's registration is inconsistent with the public interest. ALJX 89, at 115-116 (citing RX 1, at 13:16, 15:10). Although Respondent's arguments have been considered, Respondent's misconduct as described further herein precludes a finding that Respondent's experience establishes a "history of compliance." See Novelty Distributors, Inc., 73 Fed. Reg. 52,689, 52,702 (2008) (analyzing the identical factor for distributors under 21 U.S.C. § 823(h)).

1. A Suspicious Order

To begin, the regulations require distributors to "design and operate a system to disclose to the registrant suspicious orders of controlled substances." 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). The regulations provide that, at minimum, a suspicious order includes "orders of unusual size, orders deviating substantially from a normal pattern, and orders of unusual frequency." Id.; see section IV.A.3. These three criteria are non-exclusive and registrants may encounter other considerations beyond those spelled out in the regulation that could qualify an order as suspicious. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473-74; Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 221 (noting the regulatory criteria for suspicion are "exemplary rather than exhaustive"). For example, a distributor might find a pharmacy's orders for controlled substances to be suspicious not only based on their exhibiting the characteristics set forth in the regulation, but also based upon the "pharmacy's business model, dispensing patterns, or other characteristics." Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473-74; see also id. at 55,477 (stating that "an order is not only suspicious by virtue of its internal properties—i.e., being of unusual size, pattern, or frequency—but by virtue of the suspicious nature of the pharmacy which placed [the order]"). The identification of a suspicious order that is based on the nature of the pharmacy's business takes place at the customer-level. See infra section IV.A.4.

In order to conclude that an order for controlled substances is suspicious, a "distributor is not required to establish, to a statistical certainty, that a pharmacy was likely diverting controlled substances." Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,480. In fact, suspicion is a low standard, defined as merely one's "'apprehension or imagination of the existence of something wrong based only on inconclusive or slight evidence, or possibly no evidence.'" Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,478 (quoting Black's Law Dictionary 1585 (9th ed. 2009)). Thus, if a distributor is aware of any indication of "the existence of something wrong" concerning the size, frequency, or pattern of an order, then the distributor is obligated to report it to the DEA. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,478. Because suspicion is a low standard, a distributor's obligation to report suspicious orders is triggered long before the distributor would have probable cause to believe that a customer is engaged in diversion. Id. As Masters explains, suspicion is not contingent on evidence that the order will be diverted or that the customer is engaged in diversion. Id. With regard to the reporting requirement, the Agency's emphasis is on suspicion and not conclusive proof of diversion. Id. at 55,420 (explaining that tying suspicion to evidence of diversion "imposes a higher standard than that of the plain language of the regulation, which requires only that the order be suspicious").

2. Respondent's Failure to Adequately Design and Operate a Suspicious Order Monitoring System.

When a distributor's suspicious order monitoring (SOM) system places a hold on a customer's order for controlled substances because the order is of unusual size, pattern, or frequency, the order meets the specific criteria of being suspicious. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,479; Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 216-17 (affirming the Acting Administrator's ruling that "orders held by the [distributor's SOM systems] met the regulatory definition of 'suspicious orders'"). DEA has made clear that it does not endorse any particular system for identifying suspicious orders. GX 4, at 1; Tr. 59-60, 76, 210, 497, 646.

In this case, Respondent's SOM system during the relevant time period did not have the capability to hold an order that was flagged as "potentially suspicious." Tr. 728, 778. Therefore, the system could not comply with the DEA legal requirements. Tr. 729 (Irelan testifying that the SOM system was "not consistent with best practices" because "[i]t didn't give an opportunity to resolve red flags before shipping.")

Additionally, the witnesses were in agreement that Respondent's SOM system during the relevant time period was inadequate to identify orders of unusual size in that it only flagged orders that were "ten times a 90-day average," Tr. 729-30, 321, 652.[68]

Further, while Respondent had written policies and procedures, those policies and procedures only identified three suspicious orders over a period of four years and four months that were reported to the DEA. Respondent admits that its previous policies were inadequate.

[68] DEA sent a letter in December 20, 2007, warning distributors that a SOM system "rely[ing] on rigid formulas to define whether an order is suspicious may be failing to detect suspicious orders." GX 4, at 2.

Tr. 720-21. Respondent had a policy of producing monthly and daily reports, yet none is apparent in the Administrative Record, and although Respondent maintained a proprietary database, RX 11, at 5, there is no record evidence from this database.

Finally, although Respondent argues that the record supports that it was conducting due diligence into its customers, Respondent admits that it did not adequately document that due diligence, nor did it apply that due diligence at an order level. See infra section IV.A.4. Respondent's policy of not documenting its due diligence, GX 9, was also inconsistent with the Masters decision. See id.

In sum, the Agency finds substantial record evidence that Respondent failed to design and operate an adequate SOM system in violation of 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b).

3. Respondent's Failure to Report Suspicious Orders under the Listed Criteria in 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b)

As explained above, DEA regulations obligate distributors of controlled substances to not only design and operate a system to identify suspicious orders, but to also report all suspicious orders to DEA. 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). In other words, DEA regulations require distributors like Respondent "to alert DEA when their retail-pharmacy customers attempt to obtain unusual amounts of a controlled substance, because such attempts are powerful evidence that the pharmacies are operating illegally." Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 217-18 (emphasis in original).[69] Moreover, the Agency has previously held that filing ARCOS reports does not satisfy a distributor's obligation to notify DEA of suspicious orders, Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,501, nor does filing reports on a routine or periodic schedule. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,478.

[69]Suspicious orders meeting the definition in 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b) must be reported to DEA, and Respondent did not argue otherwise. See, e.g., Tr. 732, 1024; RX 20.001, at 1. There is additionally no record evidence that Respondent investigated these suspicious orders and resolved them at any time.

The purpose of the DEA's reporting requirement is "to provide investigators in the field with information regarding potential illegal activity in an expeditious manner." Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,483 n.169 (quoting Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,501). As such, when a distributor obtains "information that an order is suspicious but then chooses to ignore that information and fails to report the order," the distributor violates its regulatory obligation. Id. at 55,478.

Here, DEA presented evidence using the Tukey statistical model to determine a ballpark number of suspicious orders that an adequate SOM system might have identified during the time period in the allegations both for the eight exemplar pharmacies and for Respondent's customer base at large for two frequently abused controlled substances: oxycodone and hydrocodone. The ballpark estimate found numerous potential suspicious orders for seven out of the eight exemplar pharmacies, and for the overall customers, it found that 7,252 sales of oxycodone and 4,948 sales of hydrocodone during this time period should have possibly been reported as suspicious to DEA.[70]

The ballpark numbers constitute substantial evidence that there were far more suspicious orders that should have been identified, investigated, or reported than the mere three that Respondent reported during the time period. Even taking into consideration all of the criticism levied on DEA's modeling by Respondent's expert, he himself admitted that the data run during the beginning of 2018 produced similar results to the quantity that Respondent was reporting under the new system, which, in a little over a year, amounted to 3,915 suspicious orders. As such, the Agency agrees with the ALJ that the three suspicious order reports filed during the relevant timeframe "barely scratched the surface," RD, at 140, and finds it clear that the Government has proven by substantial evidence that Respondent failed to investigate or report potentially thousands of suspicious orders of oxycodone and hydrocodone to DEA. Supra section III.E.

Furthermore, the Southwood decision explained that even after a suspicious order is reported to DEA, a distributor must conduct some due diligence and only ship the order "if it is able to determine that the order is not likely to be diverted into illegal channels." Masters Pharmaceuticals, 861 F.3d 206 (2017) (citing Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,500). Here, it is undisputed that Respondent submitted three suspicious order reports to DEA during the relevant time period. The GS testified that Respondent shipped these orders without documenting any resolution of the suspicious circumstances that caused Respondent to report them to DEA. Tr. 294. Thus, the Agency finds substantial record evidence that Respondent's lack of documentation of its investigation into and resolution of these red flags, coupled with its shipping of the suspicious orders, demonstrates additional violations of Respondent's regulatory obligations to provide effective controls and procedures to guard against diversion of controlled substances.

4. Customer Due Diligence and Red Flags

It is inherent in the obligation under 21 C.F.R. § 1301.71(a) to maintain "effective controls" against diversion that "a registrant has an affirmative duty to protect against diversion by knowing its customers and the nature of [their controlled substances] sales." Holloway Distributing, 72 Fed. Reg. 42,118, 42,124 (2007).[71] Therefore, a distributor is required to act on [71] See also Holloway Distributing, 72 Fed. Reg. 42,118, 42,124 (2007) (finding that a distributor of List I chemicals' "policy—which is fairly characterized as 'see no evil, hear no evil'—is fundamentally inconsistent with the obligations of a DEA registrant").

"'information which raise[s] serious doubt as to the legality of [the customer's] business practices,'" also referred to as red flags,[72] indicative of diversion. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,477 (alteration in original) (quoting Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,498). A distributor must also "conduct a reasonable investigation to determine the nature of a potential customer's business before it sells to the customer." Id. Furthermore, a distributor has a continuing obligation to perform due diligence of a customer throughout the distributor's relationship with that customer. Id. at 55,477. Masters clarified that "although a distributor's investigation of the order (coupled with its previous due diligence efforts) may properly lead it to conclude that the order is not suspicious, the investigation must dispel all red flags indicating that a customer is engaged in diversion to render the order non-suspicious and exempt it from the requirement that the distributor 'inform' the Agency about the order." Id. at 55,478.

The record evidence and testimony from multiple experts in this case, the Pro Compliance Reports themselves, and prior DEA decisions have all clearly demonstrated that such suspicious circumstances, or red flags, include a pharmacy that: dispenses a high volume of narcotics;[73] dispenses the trinity drug cocktail;[74] dispenses disproportionally more controlled

Reg. 79,188, 79,195 n.23 (2016), pet. for rev. denied, 881 F.3d 823 (11th Cir. 2018). [79] Respondent introduced testimony regarding whether Respondent could continue to ship during a due diligence investigation into customer-level red flags of diversion—arguing that there is a certain amount of discretion involved and that stopping shipments would disrupt the supply chain. See, e.g., Tr. 1049, 1050, 1042; 649. The record does not support a finding that Respondent did, in fact, adequately dispel all of the red flags on these customers at any time (before or after distributing), or that Respondent adequately documented purported resolutions of the red flags. The Masters decision cannot be read to intend to create a loophole in which a distributor could avoid reporting requirements and continue to ship orders of controlled substances while conducting lengthy investigations into red flags. Such an interpretation would not meet the requirement that a distributor maintain effective controls against diversion. To the extent that, as Respondent argues, there may be some discretion in the

has an obligation to guard against diversion, and as such, must resolve red flags of diversion presented by its customers or decline to ship the controlled substance. 21 U.S.C. §§ 823(b), (e); 21 C.F.R. § 1301.71(a).

When a customer demonstrates red flags of diversion, the distributor must report a suspicious order to DEA unless the distributor conducts a due diligence investigation, which "must dispel all red flags indicative that a customer is engaged in diversion." Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,478. "Put another way, if, even after investigating the order, there is any remaining basis to suspect that a customer is engaged in diversion, the order must be deemed suspicious and the [DEA] must be informed." Id.; see also id. at 55,479 n.164 (same).

In upholding DEA's interpretation of the due diligence requirement in the Masters decision, the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals stated:

> As we have emphasized throughout this opinion, it is not necessary for a distributor of controlled substances to investigate suspicious orders if it reports them to DEA and declines to fill them. But if a distributor chooses to shoulder the burden of dispelling suspicion in the hopes of shipping any it finds to be non-suspicious, and the distributor uses something like the SOMS Protocol to guide its efforts, then the distributor must actually undertake the investigation. For example, when an employee uses the SOMS Protocol to confirm or dispel suspicion based on the amount of controlled medication the pharmacy is selling, the employee must request a 'UR,' i.e., a document showing the pharmacy's 'actual dispensing[s] . . . of each drug.' [Masters Pharm., Inc.,] 80 Fed. Reg. [55,418,] 55,420 [(2015)]. Moreover, the investigating employee must 'document' customers' explanations for suspicious orders, so that he or she can verify those explanations and make sure they are consistent over time. Id. at 55,428 n.21. Additionally, if a customer's explanation for its order is 'inconsistent with other information the investigator has obtained about or from decision of when to ship, it is abundantly clear that a distributor cannot ship if it cannot determine that the "proposed transaction is for legitimate purposes," Novelty Distributors 73 Fed. Reg. at 52,699, or without resolving "'information which raise[s] serious doubt as to the legality of [a potential or existing customer's] business practices.'" Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,477 (alteration in original) (quoting Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,498). Further, Respondent's supply chain argument is weakened by the fact that Respondent had a duty to and was purportedly running reports on prospective customers; therefore, it knew about many of the red flags in the eight exemplar pharmacies before engaging in business with them. See, e.g., GX 25, at 4 (Initial Risk Evaluation Report for Hephzibah Pharmacy LLC); RX 11, at 15 (powerpoint demonstrating turned down prospective accounts based on Pro Compliance Reports).

> the customer, . . . the [investigator] must conduct 'additional investigation to determine whether [its customer is] filling legitimate prescriptions.' Id. at 55,477. Finally, the investigation must dispel all of the 'red flags' that gave rise to the suspicion that the customer was diverting controlled substances. Id. at 55,478. The Administrator recognized that, if investigating employees fail to take such basic steps, the SOMS (or similar protocol) does not function as an effective tool for dispelling suspicion.

Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 222-23. The D.C. Circuit made clear that all red flags must be resolved or the order must be reported to DEA as suspicious.

In this case, Respondent received numerous Pro Compliance Reports that raised multiple red flags for each of the relevant customers during the relevant time period. See GX 20-56; supra section III.D. The Pro Compliance Reports themselves clearly identify specific red flags in Respondent's customers' data and frequently recommend further discussions and onsite visits to resolve them. See, e.g., GX 21, at 6; supra III.E. Although Respondent produced some minimal evidence consisting of phone logs for some of the exemplar pharmacies in the OSC, see supra n.12 and section III.D., which indicated a few instances over the several year timeframe where Respondent had engaged with these customers regarding red flags and/or suspicious orders, there is not adequate documentation as to how Respondent resolved the red flags, even as Respondent continued to fill these orders without reporting them to DEA. Moreover, the GS credibly testified that documentation was an essential component of due diligence. Tr. 298-99 ("[I]f you don't document it how are you going to remember it, how are you going to be able to prove it happened"). The Masters decision further pointed out that documentation is essential in maintaining effective controls against diversion to ensure that customers are consistent in their explanations regarding red flags. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,428 n.21. The D.C. Circuit also affirmed the Agency's position that if a distributor undertakes an investigation into its customer's potential diversion, then it must document and "dispel all of the 'red flags' that gave rise to the suspicion that the customer was diverting controlled substances" to avoid the requirement to report the suspicious order to DEA. Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 222-23.

Here, Respondent acknowledged the paucity of documentation in its records that might show that it had resolved red flags. See, e.g., Tr. 720; GX 9, at 1-2. Contrary to Respondent's argument (ALJ-89, at 101-03, paras. 272-75), the absence of documentation of resolving red flags does indeed constitute evidence that the red flags were never resolved. See Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 218.[80] While Respondent did conduct some due diligence, such as by obtaining Pro Compliance Reports and by preparing its own monthly Market Basket Reports of its customers, ordering the reports without taking appropriate action based on the content of those reports does not come close to satisfying the regulatory obligation to conduct due diligence. These Pro Compliance Reports identify multiple red flags from Respondent's pharmacy customers—demonstrating that Respondent was aware of these red flags—while the records it produced do not resolve them in any substantive way to demonstrate effective controls against diversion. See, e.g., GX 20-56 (the Pro Compliance Reports for the exemplar pharmacies). Respondent's employees even noted occasions where information in the Pro Compliance Reports was specifically concerning to them or where they were aware of additional [80] To permit Respondent to escape any liability for its lack of adequate controls to protect against diversion merely because Respondent created a policy that did not require documentation of how those controls were exercised would nullify the purpose of the statutory and regulatory requirements. Further, the Agency agrees with the ALJ that Respondent's intentional strategy of not presenting the testimony of any witness who was actually involved in Respondent's purported resolution of red flags further undermines its argument that the red flags were actually resolved. Id. Finally, Agency decisions have frequently described the importance of documentation to meet DEA regulatory requirements in other contexts. See Kaniz F. Khan-Jaffery, M.D., 85 Fed. Reg. 45,667, 45,686 (2020) ("DEA's ability to assess whether controlled substances registrations are consistent with the public interest is predicated upon the ability to consider the evidence and rationale of the practitioner at the time that she prescribed a controlled substance—adequate documentation is critical to that assessment." (citing Cynthia M. Cadet, M.D., 76 Fed. Reg. 19,450, 19,464 (2011))). In particular, the Masters decision affirmatively stated the requirement for distributors to document their resolutions of red flags and gave a rational basis for that requirement—ensuring that the information is memorialized for the resolution of future indicia of diversion. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,428 n.21. This basis is very apparent here where Respondent's customer base is large and the shipments are numerous. As such, the Agency finds that Respondent's failure to maintain adequate documentation indicates a violation of the requirements to maintain effective controls against diversion.

indicia of diversion or suspicious orders, yet these orders were neither reported to DEA nor is there record evidence to support a finding that Respondent resolved all of the red flags that gave rise to the suspicion. See, e.g., Respondent's employee's comments, at GX 14, at 4 ("[T]his seems quite elevated to me.....????") and 31 ("Henry will give the customer a warning about his Oxy purchases. Too much cash, too much growth. Will re-run and if no improvement will either restrict or cut off completely."). The note documenting this interaction not only fails to offer any resolution of the suspicious circumstances or indicate any reporting to DEA, but also indicates that Respondent knew of the existence of a suspicious order and that the customer was given a warning—providing it with a chance to amend its behavior and further avoid detection from DEA. The regulations require resolution or reporting, not implementation of a "second chance" or "three strikes you're out" program.

A distributor fails to conduct meaningful due diligence that satisfies its regulatory duties where it merely "accept[s] at face value whatever superficial explanation" the pharmacy offers and then fails to independently verify it. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,457. Further, conducting due diligence but then failing to act on the findings is also inadequate. See Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,500 (finding the distributor's due diligence efforts to be inadequate where the distributor possessed information that customers were diverting controlled substances yet the distributor continued to provide them with controlled substances). Thus, as the GS credibly testified as an expert witness, the Agency finds that even though Respondent produced some due diligence files to DEA, Respondent seemed to "conduct due diligence and ignore the red flags that are in [its] face and continue to ship" without documenting the resolution of red flags or reporting to DEA, in violation of DEA regulations. Tr. 463; see also Tr. 80 (testimony of the Section Chief: "[Y]ou can ask for all these things, but you have to do something with it."). As the evidence shows, Respondent continued to distribute controlled substances despite the red flags raised in its due diligence files and without either adequately documenting an investigation or resolution of the red flags or refusing to ship and reporting the orders to DEA. As such, Respondent's due diligence was clearly insufficient to meet DEA's legal requirements. See also RD, at 120-128 (finding that Respondent did not either dispel all red flags for Folse, Bordelon's, Wallace, Pharmacy Specialties, Dave's Pharmacy, Hephzibah, Wellness, and Wilkinson or report the customers to DEA and refuse to ship).

5. Summary of Public Interest Factors

There is substantial record evidence that Respondent failed to adequately design a suspicious order monitoring system and failed to report suspicious orders to DEA. Further, Respondent failed to report controlled substance orders from customers displaying red flags of diversion and in such cases failed to either cease shipment, or, alternatively, to investigate, resolve, and document the resolution of the red flags. Thus, the Agency finds that Respondent failed to maintain effective controls against diversion of controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific, and industrial channels in violation of 21 C.F.R. § 1301.71(a). The Agency also finds that Respondent failed to adequately design and operate a system to disclose to the registrant suspicious orders of controlled substances and report those orders to DEA in violation of 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). See also RD, at 138. These violations constitute failures to maintain effective controls against diversion under 21 U.S.C. § 823(b)(1) and demonstrate negative experience in distribution under 21 U.S.C. § 823(b)(4) and weigh strongly in favor of revoking Respondent's Certificates of Registration.

B. Respondent's Integrated Enterprise

DEA has requested revocation of both Respondent's registration at its distribution center in Shreveport, Louisiana, and Respondent's second registration in New Orleans (Jefferson Parish). Respondent argues that DEA has not "alleged any misconduct to have occurred at Respondent's Jefferson location or adduced any evidence or testimony at the hearing regarding Respondent's Jefferson registration." Resp Exceptions, at 49.

The Agency has frequently "treat[ed] two separately organized business entities as one integrated enterprise . . . based on the overlap of ownership, management, and operations of the two entities." Jones Total Health Care Pharmacy, L.L.C., and SND Health Care, L.L.C., 81 Fed. Reg. 79,188, 79,222 (2016) (citing MB Wholesale, Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. 71,956, 71,958 (2007)). "[W]here misconduct has previously been proved with respect to the owners, officers, or key employees of a pharmacy, the Agency can deny an application or revoke a registration of a second or subsequent pharmacy where the Government shows that such individuals have influence over the management or control of the second pharmacy." Superior Pharmacy I and Superior Pharmacy II, 81 Fed. Reg. 31,310, 31,341, n.71 (2016). Further, the Agency may revoke a registration without misconduct attributable to that particular registration if the Agency finds that the registrant committed egregious misconduct under a second registration. Roberto Zayas, M.D., 82 Fed. Reg. 21,410, 21,430 (2017) (revoking physician's DEA registration in Florida due to conduct attributed to a Texas registration that had expired).

When a practitioner registrant acts in a manner inconsistent with the public interest, in determining whether to revoke, DEA looks to whether the practitioner can be entrusted with a registration. See, e.g. Arvinder Singh, M.D., 81 Fed. Reg. 8247, 8248 (2016). If a practitioner holding multiple registrations cannot be entrusted with one, then it would be difficult to justify entrusting the same practitioner with another in a separate location. Similarly, when a corporate entity is owned and operated by individuals who have acted inconsistently with the public interest and have misused one of their registrations, the Agency cannot ignore this fact when considering whether to entrust those same individuals with another registration. Furthermore, even if Respondent has not used the Jefferson registration for distribution, this fact does not prevent it from using its registration for distribution in the future.[81] See Suntree Pharmacy and Suntree Medical Equipment, LLC, 85 Fed. Reg. 73,753, 73,766 (2020).

The lens through which Congress has instructed the Agency to assess each distributor registration is whether or not such registration is consistent with the public interest. 21 U.S.C. § 823(b). In this case, if Respondent was allowed to simply shift its operations to an entity with the same ownership, then the effect of the violations found herein against Respondent would be a nullity and there would be nothing to prevent Respondent's Jefferson location from continuing to act inconsistently with the public interest. It would be inconsistent with the intent of the CSA to permit such an easily implementable loophole, while it is consistent with Agency decisions to close the loophole by treating the two overlapping entities as one integrated enterprise for purposes of sanction.

Therefore, due to the uncontested commonality of ownership, management, and operations, see RD, at 154, the Agency finds that it is appropriate to treat Respondent's two registrations as one integrated enterprise.

V. SANCTION

The Government has established a prima facie case to revoke Respondent's registration; therefore, the Agency will review any evidence and argument that Respondent submitted to determine whether or not Respondent has presented "sufficient mitigating evidence to assure the [81] The ALJ noted that Respondent's exhibits demonstrate that it uses the Jefferson location to "secure controlled substances" and makes distributions out of its Shreveport facility. RD, at 156 (citing RX 1, at 15, 16).

Administrator that [it] can be trusted with the responsibility carried by such a registration." Samuel S. Jackson, D.D.S., 72 Fed. Reg. 23,848, 23,853 (2007) (quoting Leo R. Miller, M.D., 53 Fed. Reg. 21,931, 21,932 (1988)). "'Moreover, because "past performance is the best predictor of future performance," ALRA Labs, Inc. v. Drug Enf't Admin., 54 F.3d 450, 452 (7th Cir. 1995), [the Agency] has repeatedly held that where a registrant has committed acts inconsistent with the public interest, the registrant must accept responsibility for [the registrant's] actions and demonstrate that [registrant] will not engage in future misconduct.'" Jayam Krishna-Iyer, 74 Fed. Reg. 459, 463 (2009) (quoting Medicine Shoppe, 73 Fed. Reg. 364, 387 (2008)); see also Samuel S. Jackson, D.D.S., 72 Fed. Reg. at 23,853; John H. Kennnedy, M.D., 71 Fed. Reg. 35,705, 35,709 (2006); Prince George Daniels, D.D.S., 60 Fed. Reg. 62,884, 62,887 (1995). The issue of trust is necessarily a fact-dependent determination based on the circumstances presented by the individual respondent; therefore, the Agency looks at factors, such as the acceptance of responsibility and the credibility of that acceptance as it relates to the probability of repeat violations or behavior and the nature of the misconduct that forms the basis for sanction, while also considering the Agency's interest in deterring similar acts. See Arvinder Singh, M.D., 81 Fed. Reg. 8247, 8248 (2016).

A. Acceptance of Responsibility

1. Standing and Authority to Accept Responsibility

Respondent contends that it has unequivocally accepted responsibility for the proven misconduct and that Irelan, as its Controlled Substance Compliance Officer, was both authorized by Respondent and an appropriate person to accept responsibility on behalf of Respondent. Resp Exceptions, at 8. The Agency agrees that neither Agency regulations nor prior Agency decisions clearly preclude Irelan from accepting responsibility on behalf of Respondent and will therefore consider his acceptance of responsibility on its merits. Further, the Agency finds that the record supports that Mr. Irelan is responsible for preventing the reoccurrence of Respondent's compliance failures and accepts that Irelan obtained authority from Respondent to accept responsibility at the hearing. See Tr. 803 (Irelan is responsible for continued remedial measures), Tr. 1072-74[82]; but see Tr. 804 (decisions also go through the chain of command and to the Board).

Ultimately, as explained above, the Agency has long stated that when the Government has presented a prima facie case, the burden shifts to the respondent to demonstrate why it can still be entrusted with a registration in spite of its misconduct and the Agency has emphatically emphasized the requirement that respondent unequivocally accept responsibility to establish that trust. See, e.g., Jeffrey Stein, M.D., 84 Fed. Reg. 46,968, 46,972 (2019); see also Leo R. Miller, M.D., 53 Fed. Reg. 21,931, 21,932 (1988) (describing revocation as a remedial measure "based upon the public interest and the necessity to protect the public from those individuals who have misused controlled substances or their DEA Certificate of Registration, and who have not presented sufficient mitigating evidence to assure the Administrator that they can be trusted with the responsibility carried by such a registration"). For several reasons, Irelan's testimony has not adequately convinced the Agency that Respondent unequivocally accepts responsibility for its past misconduct.

2. Minimization and Characterization of the Misconduct

Here, Irelan accepted responsibility for Respondent failing to effectively apply its customer due diligence in assessing orders of controlled substances, Tr. 722-23, for Respondent

failing to implement and maintain a suspicious order monitoring system "consistent with best practices for compliance," Tr. 729, 731,[83] and for the fact that "[t]he reporting that was being done, there were three suspicious order reports to the DEA, and that was insufficient," Tr. 731, 733. Irelan also testified that he accepted responsibility for Respondent shipping orders of controlled substances from January 2014 to May 2018 without resolving red flags and testified that he is responsible "for preventing reoccurrence of the company's past failures with respect to application of customer due diligence." Tr. 807, 721.[84]

In discussing his acceptance of responsibility for Respondent's failure to apply its customer due diligence, Irelan specifically testified that, based on his review of Respondent's records before May 2018, Respondent conducted "a tremendous amount of due diligence" on its customers. Tr. 704-05, 710. Irelan caveated that Respondent did not keep the due diligence documentation "in such a way as to make it . . . easily accessible." Tr. 705 (referring to "notes on paper," "notes . . . kept in a database" and "limited notes in our enhanced customer profile"). Nonetheless, the Agency finds that Irelan's statements claiming a "tremendous amount of due diligence" were aimed at minimizing the extent of Respondent's misconduct, which the Agency has previously weighed against a finding of unequivocal acceptance of responsibility. See Ronald Lynch, M.D., 75 Fed. Reg. 78,745, 78,754 (2010) (finding that Respondent did not accept responsibility after noting that he "repeatedly attempted to minimize his [egregious] misconduct"; see also Michael White, M.D., 79 Fed. Reg. 62,957, 62,967 (2014)). Additionally, Irelan's insistence that Respondent was conducting this "tremendous amount" of due diligence "but it was not applied at the order level," e.g., Tr. 828, not only minimizes the violation but fails to acknowledge its scope. At the end of the day, the fact that Respondent was not applying the due diligence to the orders (investigating/stopping/reporting) is possibly the most impactful aspect of Respondent's violation. If Respondent was conducting due diligence that was not documented or could not be retrieved such that it could be applied to the actual filling of orders, then Respondent was not exercising effective controls against diversion because employees filling future orders would not know if there were customer-level red flags or whether they were resolved.

[83] Compare Tr. 731 (Respondent's counsel asked whether the SOM system "was consistent with best practices and compliance" (emphasis added)). Whether or not this distinction from the previous statement was an error of speech, the Agency finds this statement to not differ significantly from the previous statement—in both, there was clearly a purposeful avoidance of taking responsibility for the full scope of Respondent's actions and an attempt to characterize the DEA regulations as being merely best practices as opposed to affirmative legal requirements.

[84] When Government Counsel asked him whether he accepted responsibility in several specific paragraphs of the OSC, Irelan either refused or testified that he was not in a position to answer. See RD, at 86. For a few of the paragraphs, Irelan's reservations seemed to be that Respondent conducted at least some additional due diligence on some of the eight pharmacies, but Irelan admitted that the due diligence was not properly applied. See, e.g., Tr. 832-33, 828-29. Given the contested nature of this part of the hearing, the Agency does not find these failures to accept responsibility to imply that Irelan has not accepted responsibility for the misconduct. See Resp Exceptions, at 24 (arguing that these were not proven allegations). However, the Agency does find, as explained herein, that Irelan's continual insistence on referring to all of the due diligence that Respondent was conducting—while not documenting it in a retrievable manner nor applying it to the orders—was clearly intended to minimize Respondent's misconduct.

Further, Irelan's statements regarding whether Respondent's monitoring systems were "consistent with best practices" also clearly minimized the scope of Respondent's misconduct and did not demonstrate a full grasp of the breadth of the misconduct alleged—which was that Respondent had violated DEA regulations,[85] not failed to implement "best practices." Respondent's attempt to characterize the DEA regulations as being merely best practices as opposed to affirmative legal requirements both minimizes the severity of the violations and also demonstrates a failure to grasp of the significance of the requirements.

3. Scope of the Misconduct

The requisite acceptance of responsibility hinges on the respondent demonstrating an understanding both of the past misconduct and its extent. See Jones, 881 F.3d at 833. Here, the [85] Even if Respondent chose its language to avoid drawing legal conclusions, the use of the term "best practices" was not sufficient to accurately describe the violations found herein and was clearly aimed at minimizing them. See supra n.83.

ALJ found that Irelan did not "acknowledge the scope of the Respondent's misconduct," and therefore, his acceptance was equivocal. RD, at 151 (citing Arvinder Singh, M.D., 81 Fed. Reg. at 8250-51).

As Respondent stated in its Exceptions:

> Multiple United States Courts of Appeal have upheld DEA's acceptance of responsibility requirement as rational on the grounds that if a respondent "does not understand the extent of the past misconduct or its current responsibilities under the law, the DEA rationally could doubt that the [respondent] would faithfully comply in the future with its obligations under the CSA." Jones Total Health Care Pharmacy, LLC v. [Drug Enf't Admin.], 881 F.3d 823, 833 (11th Cir. 2018); accord MacKay v. [Drug Enf't Admin.], 664 F.3d 808, 820 (10th Cir. 2011) (admittance of fault is relevant to Administrator's consideration of whether a respondent will change its future behavior). As Respondent's current Compliance Director, Mr. Irelan has assessed Respondent's past controlled substance compliance failures and is responsible for preventing their reoccurrence.

Resp Exceptions, at 13.

In contrast to Respondent's final statement above, there were a few times where Irelan's limited involvement and knowledge of the misconduct indisputably impeded his ability to accept full responsibility, such as when, regarding Wellness Pharmacy, he was unable to state what due diligence "specifically was performed for that account." Tr. 831. The Agency finds that Irelan's admission that he had not familiarized himself with the specific due diligence performed by Respondent for the exemplar pharmacies demonstrates that he did not actually have the knowledge required to accept unequivocal responsibility on behalf of Respondent for the full extent of the violations found. Irelan's assertion that Respondent did conduct a "tremendous amount" of due diligence is also inconsistent with his stated lack of knowledge regarding the amount of due diligence conducted for the limited number of customers included in the OSC's allegations. It seems logical that in cultivating an understanding of Respondent's violations in order to adequately accept responsibility, Irelan would have focused his review on the customers most relevant to the allegations. Therefore, Irelan does not seem to have been equipped to meet Respondent's burden in accepting responsibility.

4. Trust in Respondent

Although the Agency does not challenge Irelan's authority to act on behalf of Respondent in accepting responsibility, the burden is on Respondent to credibly and candidly demonstrate that it can be entrusted with a registration. Respondent chose to meet that burden by presenting Irelan's testimony in lieu of a principal or an individual who had knowledge of the full scope of the violations. Although the Agency does not contest that Respondent could choose Irelan to accept responsibility on its behalf, that finding does not mean that Irelan was equipped to do so unequivocally.

It is noted that the Agency has long held that the misconduct of an entity's principal is properly considered in determining whether to revoke the entity's registration. Chip RX, L.L.C., d/b/a City Ctr. Pharmacy, 82 Fed. Reg. 51,433, 51,438 (2017) (citing G & O Pharmacy of Paducah, 68 Fed. Reg. 43,752, 43,753 (2003)). An essential element of Respondent's showing of trust is that the registrant and its principals accept responsibility for their misconduct by acknowledging their wrongdoing. Sun & Lake Pharmacy, 76 Fed. Reg. 24,533 (citing Medicine Shoppe, 73 Fed. Reg. at 387; Jackson, 72 Fed. Reg. at 23,853; Kennedy, 71 Fed. Reg. at 35,709). In this case, at least one of Respondent's principals, Paul Dickson, Sr., bears at least some responsibility for the misconduct, and Irelan bears none. See Tr. 723.

Irelan opined that C.G. and Jacob Dickson, who were in charge of compliance during the relevant time period, were responsible for Respondent's misconduct, but was not sure enough of the "dynamics" or "reporting process" to opine about whether Paul Dickson, Sr., carried any responsibility. Tr. 808-09. The extent of the misconduct is an important factor in the Agency's ability to determine whether to entrust Respondent with a registration and Irelan's inability to testify to the level of involvement and knowledge of Respondent's principals in the misconduct demonstrates another reason why the Agency cannot deem his acceptance of responsibility to be adequate such that the Agency can entrust Respondent with a registration. In fact, Respondent's submitted evidence includes testimony from the Hearing on the Motion for Temporary Restraining Order[86] in which Paul Dickson, Respondent's president, testified that he was primarily responsible for development of Respondent's SOM program and that he designed the system. RX 1, at 33. Paul Dickson further told the Court that in designing the system, he knew that he "didn't do a perfect job," but that "it was the best that [he] could do. And [he] think[s] it's dang good. And [he doesn't] think a single person has gotten hurt by [their] drugs. [He] sure do[esn't] know of one . . . . So [he] think[s] it works." RX 1, at 57. These statements from the president of a family-owned and -operated company so strongly miss the point of the requirements of a DEA registrant that they further undercut the Agency's ability to entrust Respondent with a registration. To equate a registrant's compliance with an agency's closed regulatory system with the consequence of knowing whether anyone was hurt "by [their] drugs" exhibits a stark misunderstanding of the regulatory requirement.

The Agency finds that Irelan's inability to describe Paul Dickson's involvement in the proven misconduct further demonstrates the inadequacy of Respondent's acceptance of responsibility in this proceeding. In all, Irelan's lack of understanding and recognition of the full scope of the misconduct and attempts to minimize the misconduct lead the Agency to conclude that Respondent's acceptance of responsibility was equivocal and insufficient to ensure that Respondent can be entrusted with a registration.

[86] It is noted that the ALJ excluded pages 147 to 216 of this transcript as irrelevant, but allowed pages 1 through 146 because Respondent offered it as remedial, mitigation, or community impact evidence. ALJX 59, at 6 (citing ALJX 29, at 2, 4.) Although it is also noted that the hearing in which these statements were made was related to the public interest in the context of the ISO, the ALJ found, and the Agency agrees, that this evidence bears some relevance to the current inquiry. Id. Furthermore, Respondent argues in its Exceptions that "[t]his testimony is relevant evidence of Respondent's credibility and good faith intent in working with DEA to stop diversion." Resp Exceptions, at 31. For the reasons stated above, the Agency finds that, if anything, Paul Dickson's remarks seem indignant that DEA is pursuing enforcement, seem aimed at minimizing the misconduct, and display a lack of understanding and respect for the regulatory requirements.

B. Remedial Measures

When a registrant fails to make the threshold showing of acceptance of responsibility, the Agency has stated that it need not address the registrant's remedial measures. Daniel A. Glick, D.D.S., 80 Fed. Reg. 74,800, 74,810 (2015); see also Ajay S. Ahuja, M.D., 84 Fed. Reg. at 5498 n.33; Jones Total Health Care Pharmacy, L.L.C., & SND Health Care, L.L.C., 81 Fed. Reg. at 79,202; The Medicine Shoppe, 79 Fed. Reg. 59,504, 59,510 (2014). A registrant does not unequivocally accept responsibility for its actions simply by taking remedial measures. Holiday CVS, L.L.C., d/b/a CVS/Pharmacy Nos. 219 & 5195, 77 Fed. Reg. 62,316, 62,346 (2012). Refusal to acknowledge the full scope of misconduct, even with remedial measures, is a risk to the public interest. Arvinder Singh, M.D., 81 Fed. Reg. 8247, 8250-51 (2016) (emphasis added).

The ALJ characterized Respondent's remedial measures as "impressive." RD, at 152. The Agency similarly credits the efforts that the record reflects Respondent undertook to improve its compliance with DEA's requirements after being served with the OSC. As the ALJ appropriately stated, the Agency has also made it abundantly clear that remediation alone is not adequate to avoid a sanction and that limited-to-no-weight is given to remedial measures when the effort is not made until after enforcement begins. See Mireille Lalanne, M.D., 78 Fed. Reg. 47,750, 47,777 (2013) (quoting Liddy's Pharmacy, L.L.C., 76 Fed. Reg. 48,887, 48,897 (2011) ("The Agency has recognized that a cessation of illegal behavior only when 'DEA comes knocking at one's door,' can be afforded a diminished weight borne of its own opportunistic timing.")); see also Southwood Pharm. Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,503 (giving no weight to respondent's "stroke-of-midnight decision" to cease supplying suspect pharmacies with controlled substances and to employ a compliance officer).[87]

Additionally, the ALJ found that, based on prior Agency decisions, he could give no weight to Respondent's remedial measures given the lack of Respondent's unequivocal acceptance of responsibility. RD, at 152.[88, 89] As the Agency has consistently held, "past performance is the best predictor of future performance." Lesly Pompy, M.D., 84 Fed. Reg.

[87] In its Exceptions, Respondent points to the factual distinctions between cited cases in the RD and the circumstances in this case and also points to numerous other settled cases that, in Respondent's opinion, demonstrate that the sanction here is unfair. Resp Exceptions, at 25 and 33. However, "the issue of trust is necessarily a fact-dependent determination based on the circumstances presented by the individual respondent," and it is the respondent's burden to bear. See, e.g., Stein, 84 Fed. Reg. at 46,972. And contrary to Respondent's arguments, the proposed sanction is supported by similar sanctions in other recent distributor adjudications where the Agency similarly found that respondents' registrations were inconsistent with the public interest and that those respondents had not demonstrated that they could be entrusted with a registration. See Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,487 (rejecting the ALJ's sanction because it was "insufficient to protect the public interest. While [the Agency is] mindful of the corrective measures engaged in by Respondent, its sales of extraordinary quantities of controlled substances to entities which it had reason to know were diverting the drugs caused extraordinary harm to public health and safety."); see also Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,501.

[88] Respondent repeatedly asserts that these adjudications are difficult to defend due to what it claims is an unfair system—that Respondent must accept responsibility prior to knowing what misconduct has been proven. Resp Exceptions, at 7. Respondent chose litigation strategies presumably based on the longstanding structure and content of Agency decisions in these adjudications and the Agency does not fault it for those decisions. In the end, Respondent had the burden to prove that it could be entrusted with a registration and it has failed to meet that burden. See Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d 206 (D.C. Cir. 2017) (rejecting arguments that DEA's structure of requiring acceptance of responsibility is unfair, because "under longstanding DEA precedent, once DEA presents enough evidence at hearing to show that a registered vendor or distributor of controlled substances has 'committed acts inconsistent with the public interest,' the 'registrant must present[] . . . mitigating evidence' including evidence that it has 'accept[ed] responsibility for its actions and demonstrate[d] that it will not engage in future misconduct'" (quoting Medicine Shoppe-Jonesborough, 73 Fed. Reg. 364, 387 (2008)). Furthermore, the Agency's finding on this issue does not hinge on whether Irelan has accepted responsibility for each proven allegation, but instead hinges on Irelan's persistent minimization of the misconduct and further on Respondent's overall failure to demonstrate that Respondent has unequivocally accepted responsibility and can be trusted with a registration.

[89] Respondent argues that Milione's testimony regarding the August 2016 meeting with Paul Dickson, Sr., supra n.8, demonstrates Respondent's "good faith and sincerity, which flatly contradict the ALJ's intent-laden description of Respondent's compliance as 'cavalier'" and argues that this fact is relevant in considering Respondent's likelihood towards recidivism. Resp Exceptions, at 30 (citing RD, at 156). The Agency cannot give this meeting or Paul Dickson's sincerity during this moment in time the weight that Respondent requests it be afforded given that the evidence demonstrates that for approximately two years prior to this meeting and two years afterwards, Respondent was not complying with DEA regulations. Further, Respondent did not present the Agency with Paul Dickson's testimony at this hearing to be able to weigh his credibility and sincerity either in 2016, when this meeting occurred, or at the time of the hearing. The transcribed testimony that Respondent did submit from Paul Dickson demonstrated that he believed his SOM system to be "dang good"—a statement with which the Agency emphatically disagrees. See RX 1, at 57.

57,749, 57,761 (2019); see also Jones Total Health Care Pharmacy, LLC v. Drug Enf't Admin., 881 F.3d 823, 833 (11th Cir. 2018) (affirming refusal to consider remedial measures where registrant did not accept responsibility for its misconduct); Pharmacy Doctors Enterprises, Inc. v. Drug Enf't Admin., 789 F. App'x 724, 2019 WL 4565481, at *7–8 (11th Cir. Sept. 20, 2019) (same).[90]

In this case, even if the Agency gave weight to Respondent's remedial measures, the measures are outweighed by the fact that it has not adequately established that Respondent as an entity fully understands the scope of the misconduct such that it can be entrusted with regulatory compliance in the future.

C. The Extent of the Misconduct

The record demonstrates that Respondent's violations of the law were not isolated occurrences, but took place over the course of four years and involved multiple customers. See Garrett Howard Smith, M.D., 83 Fed. Reg. at 18,910 (collecting cases) ("The egregiousness and extent of [the] misconduct are significant factors in determining the appropriate sanction."). In spite of its self-described status as a privately-owned company that has been in business for 177 years,[91] Respondent maintained sparse documentation of its SOM procedures generally and maintained very little documentation of its resolution of red flags of diversion displayed by its customers or of individual suspicious orders. The record evidence demonstrates that Respondent attended two conferences, held a personal meeting with DEA, and received multiple letters in which DEA emphasized the critical importance of a distributor's role in preventing diversion given the opioid crisis in the nation and reminded distributors of their obligations under the law. A letter from DEA dated September 27, 2006, stated "[G]iven the extent of prescription drug abuse in the United States, along with the dangerous and potentially lethal consequences of such abuse, even just one distributor that uses its DEA registration to facilitate diversion can cause enormous harm." GX 3, at 2. In spite of Respondent's established knowledge regarding the criticality of its role in preventing "dangerous and potentially lethal consequences," Respondent did not adequately resolve or document investigation into the numerous red flags indicating diversion that its own Pro Compliance Reports identified on the exemplar pharmacies and failed to report a multitude of suspicious orders to DEA.

[90] See also Hills Pharmacy, LLC, 81 Fed. Reg. 49,815, 49,847 (2016) ("[T]here is no need to consider Respondent's remedial efforts as they are rendered irrelevant by its failure to acknowledge its misconduct."); Daniel A. Glick, D.D.S., 80 Fed. Reg. 74,800, 74,810 (2015) ("[S]ince the Respondent has not tendered an unequivocal acceptance of responsibility, under established Agency precedent, [it] is foreclosed from a favorable result in these proceedings and the issue of remedial actions is irrelevant.").

[91] See also RX 1, at 21 (estimating Respondent's number of retail pharmacy customers at "approximately 600 primary . . . and another 200 secondary that fluctuates") and 22-23 ("[O]nly competition are what's called 'the big three,' the global companies").

D. Deterrence

Finally, both specific and general deterrence strongly weigh in favor of revoking Respondent's registration. See Daniel A. Glick, D.D.S., 80 Fed. Reg. at 74,810. The record demonstrates that Respondent violated DEA regulations over a lengthy time period—failing to report a multitude of suspicious orders to DEA and depriving DEA of valuable information about pharmacies and practitioners who might have been engaging in diversion or violating their obligations as DEA registrants, thus contributing to the country's devastating prescription drug abuse problem. Under these circumstances and on this record, a sanction less than revocation[92]

[92] Respondent argues without support that a sanction short of revocation would serve the same deterrence goals and would prevent harm to the community that would result from closing Respondent. Resp Exceptions, at 28, 31. The Agency does not consider community impact in its decisions. See infra n.96. As Respondent notes, it is difficult to know what level of sanction would deter future non-compliance in the registrant community, but in Respondent's case, where the violations were blatant, long-term, and impactful, the Agency finds, given the record before it, that revocation offers an appropriate deterrent effect. Furthermore, again, Respondent has not adequately established trust, see supra Section V.A.4, which is crucial to demonstrate the appropriateness of a sanction less than revocation under the Agency's consideration of specific deterrence. Respondent also argues that the ALJ erred in its deterrence analysis by failing to consider the Government's purported unwillingness to engage Respondent in settlement negotiations. Resp Exceptions, at 33-35. While a settlement agreement between the Government and a respondent would send a message to the current and prospective registrant community that compliance with DEA regulations is not a condition precedent to maintaining a DEA registration and that a distributor can spend years insufficiently reporting suspicious orders and inadequately resolving red flags presented by its customers, so long as it finally invests in the procedures it should have had in place all along after it is caught and faces potential consequences.[93]

Although Respondent has implemented remedial measures, it has not adequately demonstrated that its leadership can be entrusted to continue these measures and prevent reoccurrence of what happened prior to the issuance of the OSC, which amounted to a SOM system that was not designed or operated in a way that would adequately prevent diversion of controlled substances nor provide DEA with information critical to its mission. Respondent argues that the ALJ erred in finding that "the continued registration of a fully remediated registrant with an 'impressive' anti-diversion regime, along with evidence of good faith desire to prevent diversion, does not serve the public interest."[94] Resp Exceptions, at 1. However, Respondent's argument neglects to mention that remediation is irrelevant without continued trust. Respondent wants credit for "commission[ing] former top DEA officials to design their

may be a way to provide enforceable assurances of the respondent's future compliance, the parties have not reached such a settlement here. Accordingly, and although the Agency has considered alternative sanctions as Respondent has requested, it has decided that revocation currently is the most appropriate sanction as explained herein.

[93] DEA decisions have demonstrated concern that giving weight to last minute remedial measures would show the regulated community that a registrant "can unlawfully distribute controlled substances until [it] gets caught, and as long as [it] then acknowledges wrongdoing and puts on evidence that [it] has reformed, [it] will get a slap on the wrist." David Ruben, M.D., 78 Fed. Reg. 38,363, 38,387 (2013); see also Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. 36,487, 36,504 (2007) ("A precedent which ignores how irresponsibly a registrant has acted and allows it to maintain its registration based on its claim of having reformed its business practices, could well prompt other registrants to ignore their obligations under the Act and sell massive quantities of controlled substances to diverters.").

[94] Respondent argues that its "current conduct is the best evidence that its continued registration is consistent with the public interest." Resp Exceptions, at 7. However, remediation is notably not an enumerated public interest factor under 21 U.S.C. § 823(b). Remediation is a factor that the Administrator considers in reviewing the extent to which sanctions are appropriate and only after the Government has made a prima facie case demonstrating that the allegations support a finding that Respondent's continued registration is not in the public interest. See, e.g., Samuel S. Jackson, D.D.S., 72 Fed. Reg. at 23,853.

ideal anti-diversion system," id., because it believes that as long as it has invested the money now, it will prevent DEA from enforcing against it. There are several considerations other than remediation that the Agency uses in determining sanction as explained herein. The fact is that, under these circumstances and on this record, Respondent has not adequately convinced the Agency that it can be entrusted with a registration—its acceptance of responsibility did not prove that it or its principals understand the full extent of their wrongdoing, the effect that it had on the Agency and the American public, and the potential harm that it caused.[95] It was Respondent's burden to prove that it could be entrusted to protect the public interest in maintaining a DEA registration—and it has failed to do so.

Having reviewed the record in its entirety, the Agency finds that Respondent cannot be entrusted with a DEA registration and orders that its registration be revoked. The Agency addresses collateral matters and additional issues raised in Respondent's Exceptions before issuing a final Order.

VI. Motion to Reopen

On January 5, 2022, Respondent filed a Motion to Reopen the Administrative Record. Respondent seeks to introduce evidence of post-hearing conduct that it argues demonstrates acceptance of responsibility and successful remediation.[96] Although not specifically contemplated in the CSA or regulations, DEA decisions have repeatedly held that the Administrator may, in her discretion, order that the administrative record be reopened. The party moving to reopen, however, bears a heavy burden. See INS v. Abudu, 485 U.S. 94, 110 (1988); see also Cities of Campbell v. FERC, 770 F.2d 1180, 1191 (D.C. Cir. 1985) ("Reopening an evidentiary hearing is a matter of agency discretion and is reserved for extraordinary circumstances." (citations omitted)); Nance v. EPA, 645 F.2d 701, 717 (9th Cir. 1981).

[95] Respondent attached to its Exceptions the Department of Justice Office of the Inspector General (OIG) September 2019 Review of the Drug Enforcement Administration's Regulatory and Enforcement Efforts to Control the Diversion of Opioids—claiming that the report is DEA's motivation for pursuing "the harshest sanction" against Respondent. The report is dated September 2019—a month after the ALJ's issuance of the RD. Furthermore, DEA subpoenaed Respondent as early as February 1, 2018; therefore, temporally, the OIG's findings could not have motivated the Agency's investigation into Respondent. Such allegations are a distraction from the issue at hand—Respondent failed to comply with its regulatory obligations and neither the Agency nor the country could possibly have the ability to know what might have happened had those suspicious orders been reported to DEA and to what extent diversion and abuse might have been prevented. What the Agency does know is that Respondent's failures were monumental, and Respondent clearly misses the point in arguing that "had the Respondent more consistently reported suspicious orders with the DEA, it has been established that the reports would have been ignored." Resp Exceptions, at 5.

The Agency finds that Respondent has not met its burden to reopen the record. In all DEA administrative proceedings, there is inevitably at least some delay between the hearing and the final decision of the Administrator.[97] Allowing parties to reopen the record to introduce evidence of acceptance of responsibility and remedial measures taken during that delay would create a recursive loop further delaying the conclusion of proceedings to the detriment of the public interest. See, e.g., Abudu, 485 U.S. at 107; Qoku v. Gonzales, 156 F. App'x. 703, 705 (5th Cir. 2005). As the Supreme Court observed in Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Corp. v. NRDC, "[a]dministrative consideration of evidence . . . always creates a gap between the time the record is closed and the time the administrative decision is promulgated . . . . If upon the coming down of the order litigants might demand rehearings as a matter of law because some new circumstance has arisen, some new trend has been observed, or some new fact discovered, there would be little hope that the administrative process could ever be consummated in an order that would not be subject to reopening." 435 U.S. 519, 554-55 (1978) (quoting ICC v. Jersey City, 322 U.S. 503, 514 (1944) (citing Northern Lines Merger Cases, 396 U.S. 491, 521 (1970)).

[96] Respondent also requests to reopen the record to introduce evidence of the impact revoking its registration would have on the community. Motion to Reopen, at 20-22. The Agency has consistently found that community impact is not a relevant consideration under the public interest factors. E.g., Stephen E. Owusu, D.P.M., 87 Fed. Reg. 3343, 3351 n.21 (2022); George Pursley, M.D., 85 Fed. Reg. 80,162, 80,188 n. 82 (2020); Frank Joseph Stirlacci, M.D., 85 Fed. Reg. 45,229, 45,239 (2020). Accordingly, Respondent's community impact evidence is not grounds to reopen the record. Further, Respondent made arguments that it should be allowed to introduce evidence that it concedes is not an independent basis to reopen the record but argues is properly admitted if the record is reopened. Reply ISO Motion to Reopen, at 12. Nonetheless, the Agency is not reaching a finding on the admissibility of this evidence because it is not granting Respondent's Motion to Reopen.

[97] The delay between the hearing and the issuance of the final decision in this matter was longer than is typical for the Agency, but the proceedings were delayed partially at Respondent's request. On March 9, 2020, Respondent wrote a letter to the then-Acting Administrator asking that the Agency postpone issuing a Final Order "to allow the COVID-19 crisis to abate or the parties to reach a final settlement . . . ." See Letter from Respondent. Respondent then requested yet another delay in its Motion to Reopen asking that the Administrator delay the issuance of a final order "until after [Respondent's] new counsel has had an opportunity to resolve the matter with DEA's Chief Counsel." Motion to Reopen, at 4, n.4. Respondent cannot request to delay the proceedings and then claim that a failure to reopen the record is somehow prejudicial to Respondent because of its requested delay.

Respondent had the opportunity to, and did, introduce evidence related to its acceptance of responsibility and remedial measures at the hearing. That evidence was entered into the record and considered in the ALJ's Recommended Decision and this Final Order.

VII. Lucia

The Agency has carefully considered Respondent's Exceptions to the Recommended Decision, has addressed them throughout the record, and addresses the remaining herein.

In its Exceptions, Respondent notes that "as [it] has repeatedly and consistently objected, including at the hearing, this entire proceeding was unconstitutional." (citing Tr. 20:23-22:17). Respondent contends that "[t]he presiding ALJ in this matter was unconstitutionally appointed when these proceedings began and unconstitutionally continued to preside over these proceedings after the Attorney General purportedly ratified his appointment." (citing Lucia v. Securities and Exchange Comm'n, 138 S. Ct. 2044, 2055 (2018) (hereinafter, Lucia)). The Agency will note the factual sequence of events surrounding Respondent's Lucia claims.

Respondent's Prehearing Statement, filed on August 3, 2018, averred, "Respondent may file a motion before this Tribunal related to the constitutionality of the DEA's administrative process given the U.S. Supreme Court's recent decision in [Lucia]." ALJX 8, at 37. During the Prehearing Conference, Respondent's attorney stated, "with regards to the Lucia case, this is obviously no disrespect intended to the Court but we do think that it's a significant issue that should we proceed to hearing, we do want to address and I would like to file a motion about it." The ALJ replied, "Well, if you're going to file a motion about it, I obviously would need to take a look at it . . . . Apparently, if you file a motion, there's a good chance you'll wind up with a different Judge . . . . I'm just putting you on notice that that's what's likely to happen." Prehearing, Tr. 36. The ALJ ordered that "[y]ou obviously can file motions tomorrow if you want to but any motions I'm going to need to rule on I would like to have no later than October 23rd. . . ." Tr. 42-43.

On October 26, 2018, Respondent submitted a letter on the record alerting the Tribunal that it had commenced an action in the United States District Court for the Western District of Louisiana seeking an "injunction enjoining DEA and DOJ from requiring Morris & Dickson to appear in any administrative proceeding, including the upcoming hearing scheduled for November 13, 2018, unless and until a constitutionally valid administrative system has been established." ALJX 26, at 1. On October 31, 2018, Respondent filed another letter with the Tribunal explaining that it did not file a motion with the ALJ because the Agency "has no authority to entertain a facial constitutional challenge" and that "[t]he Louisiana Court will resolve that question. Morris & Dickson simply provides this Tribunal notice of that filing and requests sufficient time to allow the Louisiana Court (and, if necessary, the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals) to make its ruling." ALJX 34, at 1-2.

On December 31, 2018, Respondent submitted a letter notifying the Tribunal that "[o]n December 28, 2018, the District Court in the Western District of Louisiana dismissed Respondent's complaint without prejudice, finding that it did not have jurisdiction to hear Morris & Dickson's claims" and attaching the decision. ALJX 47, at 1. The Decision stated that, although Respondent's argument was "somewhat close," "in light of the policy problem created by crafting a 'constitutional claim' exception to Congress's ability to channel initial review through agencies, the Court finds that Morris & Dickson's separation-of-powers claims are not 'wholly collateral' to the proceeding before Judge Dorman because they were raised in an attempt to delay or defeat administrative enforcement of the CSA." Id. at 30.

On January 15, 2019, the ALJ issued an Order Lifting the Stay and Third Prehearing Ruling. ALJX 51. The Order stated that Respondent indicated during a telephonic conference on the previous day that it "w[ould] not seek to maintain the stay in this case pending its appeal to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit"[98] and that "it w[ould] not file a motion seeking to recuse [the ALJ] from this case based on the Supreme Court's decision in Lucia . . . ." Id. at 1.

The next time Respondent raised the Lucia issue was at the beginning of the hearing on May 13, 2019. Respondent's lawyer made a self-described "statement of the record, simply," Tr. 23, that "we respectfully renew for the record our objection to the hearing and proceeding." Tr. 22. However, Respondent's lawyer also agreed that Respondent was ready to go to hearing that day and made no further motions or requests for a new ALJ. Tr. 24.

On October 25, 2018, the Attorney General ratified the prior appointment of the DEA ALJs, including ALJ Dorman, and "approved their appointments as his own under the Constitution." See Office of the Attorney General, Order No. 4.315-2018.[99] It is noted that, at the time that the hearing took place in this matter, ALJ Dorman's appointment as an Administrative Law Judge had been ratified. Respondent never formally requested reassignment nor availed itself of the opportunity to request interlocutory review to the Administrator on any ruling of the ALJ or any Lucia-related issue pursuant to 21 C.F.R. § 1316.62. Had Respondent contested the matter formally with the Agency, the Agency would have assigned another ALJ, see Prehearing, Tr. 36, and saved significant Agency resources. The Agency further finds that ALJ Dorman's appointment was ratified before the hearing. Due to Respondent's calculated choice to preserve the matter for the record, Tr. 23, but not raise it in any way that the Agency might have had the capacity to address and remedy itself, the Agency considers the argument waived for purposes of finalizing this adjudication.

[98] Respondent's appeal to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit was dismissed by its own motion. See Morris and Dickson v. William Barr, et. al., No. 19-30043, 2019 WL 3230978 (5th Cir. Apr. 1, 2019).
[99] Although not considered material to this Decision, a copy of this Order will be included in the administrative record for future reference.

Having found that Respondent cannot be entrusted with a DEA registration, the Agency issues the following Order revoking Respondent's DEA registrations.

ORDER

Pursuant to 28 C.F.R. § 0.100(b) and the authority vested in me by 21 U.S.C. § 824(a)(4) and 21 U.S.C. § 823(b), (e), I hereby revoke DEA Certificates of Registration Nos. RM0314790 and RM0335732 issued to Morris & Dickson, Co., LLC. Further, pursuant to 28 C.F.R. § 0.100(b) and the authority vested in me by 21 U.S.C. § 824(a)(4) and 21 U.S.C. § 823(b), (e), I hereby deny any pending application of Morris & Dickson, Co., LLC to renew or modify these registrations, as well as any other pending application of Morris & Dickson, Co., LLC. UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
DRUG ENFORCEMENT ADMINISTRATION

Docket No. 18-31
MORRIS & DICKSON CO., LLC
ORDER

On May 19, 2023, I issued and served on the parties a Decision and Order (the Decision and Order) revoking, effective 30 days from the date of publication in the Federal Register, Certificate of Registration Nos. RM0314790 and RM0335732 issued to Morris & Dickson, Co., LLC (Respondent). By motion dated May 20, 2023, Respondent requested a stay of the Decision and Order. On May 21, I issued an order soliciting additional information from Respondent and asking the Government to respond to Respondent's Motion for Stay. On May 22, both parties responded. Respondent clarified that it was requesting a stay of at least 90-to-120 days so that it can renew settlement negotiations with the Government. Respondent's May 22, 2023 Letter re Motion for Stay, at 1. Respondent also stated that a stay was necessary to mitigate the impact on its "customers, employees, and other stakeholders," including pharmacies, hospitals, and patients. Id. at 4-5. The Government indicated that it opposed any stay request, but stated that it was "open to settlement offers" and suggested it was willing to engage in settlement negotiations with Respondent. Government's Opposition to Motion to Stay, at 3.

Upon consideration of the entire record before me, the public interest—in particular, the potential need for Respondent's customers and their patients to find new suppliers given the revocation of Respondent's registrations—and the possibility for renewed settlement negotiations, I hereby order that the May 19, 2023 Decision and Order will be effective on [insert Date Ninety Days From the Date of Publication of the May 19, 2023 Decision and Order in the Federal Register]—ninety days from the date of the Decision and Order's publication in the Federal Register. This change is reflected in the published Decision and Order.

It is so ordered.

CIVIL SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

This Civil Settlement Agreement ("Civil Settlement Agreement") is entered by and between the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Louisiana ("USAO"), acting on behalf of the United States Department of Justice and the United States Drug Enforcement Administration ("DEA") (collectively referred to as the "United States") and Morris & Dickson Company, LLC ("Morris & Dickson") (each a "Party" and collectively the "Parties").

RECITALS

A. Morris & Dickson owns and operates (or has previously owned and operated) two (2) distribution centers that are or were registered with DEA as distributors of Schedule II – V controlled substances under the provisions of the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970, 21 U.S.C. §801 et seq. (Controlled Substances Act or "CSA") (each a "Distribution Center" and collectively the "Distribution Centers").

B. In determining whether to register an applicant to distribute Schedule II – V controlled substances, the Attorney General, acting through the DEA, must consider the applicant's maintenance of effective controls against diversion of particular controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific and industrial channels. 21 U.S.C. §823(b)(1) and (e)(1).

C. Section 1301.74(b) of Title 21 of the Code of Federal Regulations requires registrants to operate a system to identify suspicious orders of controlled substances and inform the DEA of suspicious orders when discovered.

D. Morris & Dickson acknowledges that its DEA-registered distribution centers were and are required to comply with the CSA and the regulations promulgated thereunder, including the requirement described in Paragraph C.

E. The DEA, by its Administrator, has pending an Order to Show Cause for Morris & Dickson to appear and show cause why the DEA registration of Morris & Dickson should not be revoked. See In the Matter of Morris & Dickson Co., LLC, DEA Administrative Court Docket No. 18-31.

F. In parallel to the DEA Administrative Proceeding set forth in Paragraph E, the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Louisiana conducted a civil investigation with the assistance of the DEA's New Orleans Field Division into alleged failures by Morris & Dickson to inform the DEA of suspicious orders of controlled substances as required by 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b).

G. The United States contends that Morris & Dickson failed to inform the DEA of suspicious orders as required by 21 C.F.R. §1301.74(b). The United States further contends that these violations subject Morris & Dickson to civil penalties under 21 U.S.C. §§842(a)(5) and (c)(1), as well as injunctive relief under 21 U.S.C. §843(f).

H. This Settlement Agreement is neither an admission of liability by Morris & Dickson nor a concession by the United States that its claims are not well founded.

I. To avoid the delay, expense, inconvenience, and uncertainty of litigating the above-referenced claims, and in consideration of the mutual promises and obligations of this Agreement, the Parties agree and covenant as follows:

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Paragraphs A-I set forth above are fully adopted herein.

2. For purposes of this Agreement, "Covered Conduct" shall mean the followings:

   i. Failure, between January 1, 2014 and March 8, 2019, by Morris & Dickson to timely identify suspicious orders of controlled substances and inform the DEA of those orders, as required by 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b); and

ii. Failure, between January 1, 2014 and March 8, 2019, by Morris & Dickson to maintain effective controls against diversion of particular controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific, and industrial channels, as required by 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74, including the failure to make records and reports required by the CSA and DEA's regulations for which a penalty may be imposed under 21 U.S.C. § 842(a)(5).

3. Morris & Dickson shall pay to the United States the total sum of TWENTY-TWO MILLION U.S. DOLLARS ($22,000,000.00) (the "Settlement Amount"), within ten (10) business days after the Effective Date of this Agreement by electronic funds transfer pursuant to the written instructions provided to Morris & Dickson by the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Louisiana. Failure of Morris & Dickson to pay the Settlement Amount as set forth herein will void this Agreement and, in such an event, the United States may pursue any and all available remedies against Morris & Dickson for any of the Covered Conduct herein.

4. In consideration of the undertakings by Morris & Dickson contained herein, and subject to the exceptions in Paragraph 5 below (concerning excluded claims), and conditioned upon Morris & Dickson's full payment of the Settlement Amount within the requisite time frame, the United States agrees to:

(i) Fully and finally release Morris & Dickson from any and all civil penalty claims under 21 U.S.C. § 842, as well as any and all claims for injunctive relief under 21 U.S.C. § 843, that the United States could have asserted, or may assert in the future, against Morris & Dickson related to the Covered Conduct; and

(ii) Refrain from filing any action for civil penalties under 21 U.S.C. §842 or any action for injunctive relief under 21 U.S.C. §843 against Morris & Dickson or any of its subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors, parent companies, and assigns of each, based on, arising from, or related to the Covered Conduct.

5. Notwithstanding the release given in Paragraph 4 of this Agreement, the United States specifically reserves and does not release:

i. Any administrative action by the DEA based on or related to the Covered Conduct, but which does not solicit or impose civil penalties;

ii. Any federal criminal liability;

iii. Any criminal, civil or administrative claim arising under Title 26, United States Code (Internal Revenue Code);

iv. Any liability under the False Claims Act, 31 U.S.C. §3729 or the Program Fraud Civil Remedies Act, 31 U.S.C. § 3801-3812;

v. Any liability to the United States (or its agencies) for any conduct other than the Covered Conduct; and/or

vi. Any liability based on obligations created by this Agreement.

6. In consideration of the undertakings of the United States contained herein, Morris & Dickson fully and finally releases the United States, its agencies, officers, employees, servants, and agents from any claims (including attorney's fees, costs and expenses of every kind and however denominated) that Morris & Dickson has asserted, could have asserted, or may assert in the future against the United States, its agencies, officers, employees, servants, and agents related to the investigation, prosecution, and settlement of the Covered Conduct, provided, however, that Morris & Dickson reserves and does not release any liability based on obligations created by this Agreement. Morris & Dickson also reserves and does not release any liability based on the appointment and removal of administrative law judges under the CSA and the regulations promulgated thereunder, unless and until such action becomes moot by the termination of the DEA Administrative Proceeding (18-31).

7. Nothing in the Agreement constitutes an agreement by the United States concerning the characterization of the Settlement Amount for purposes of the Internal Revenue law, Title 26 of the United States Code.

8. This Agreement binds and is intended to benefit only the Parties. This Agreement is not intended to be, and shall not be interpreted to constitute, a release of any person or entity not identified or referred to herein.

9. Each Party shall bear its own legal or other costs incurred in connection with this matter, including the preparation, execution and performance of this Agreement.

10. Each Party and signatory to this Agreement represents that he, she or it freely and voluntarily enters into this Agreement without any degree of duress or compulsion.

11. This Agreement is governed by the laws of the United States. Each Party may seek judicial enforcement of this Agreement upon a material breach by the other Party. The Parties agree that the jurisdiction and venue for any dispute arising between and among the Parties will be the United States District Court for the Western District of Louisiana, Shreveport Division.

12. For the purposes of construing this Agreement, the Agreement shall be deemed to have been drafted by all Parties to this Agreement and shall not be construed against any Party for that reason in any subsequent dispute.

13. This Agreement constitutes the complete agreement between the Parties. All material representations, understandings, and promises of the Parties are contained in this Agreement. Each of the Parties expressly agrees and acknowledges that, in entering this Agreement, it is relying on only the statements and promises expressly set forth in this written Agreement. This Agreement cannot be amended, nor any provisions waived, except in writing and when signed by all Parties to this Agreement.

14. The undersigned individuals represent and warrant that they are fully authorized to execute this Agreement on behalf of the Parties listed below.

15. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, including by facsimile, pdf, or other electronic form or signature, each of which constitutes an original and all of which constitute one and the same Agreement.

16. This Agreement is binding on Morris & Dickson and its successors, transferees, heirs, and assigns.

17. The Parties may disclose the existence of and information about this Agreement to the public without restriction.

18. This Agreement shall be effective (final and binding) on the date of signature by the last signatory to the Agreement (the "Effective Date" of this Agreement).

RE: LETTER OF CONCERN, 18-0364

Dear Permit Holder:

At its January 19, 2022, meeting, the Board of Pharmacy's Case Review Panel, comprised of three board members, considered a grievance alleging that you entered a Settlement Agreement with the United States government to pay civil penalty claims and to invest in significant upgrades to your compliance program for allegedly violating the Controlled Substances Act by failing to report suspicious orders of hydrocodone and oxycodone by pharmacies. From the period of January 2014 through April 2018, there were eleven suspicious orders by three Kentucky pharmacies. The Panel reviewed the case report, Settlement Agreement, policies and procedures prior to the Settlement Agreement, and policies and procedures after the Settlement Agreement.

Having considered all the information available and being sufficiently advised, the Panel found that there is insufficient evidence of a violation to warrant the issuance of a Complaint, but that there is evidence of a practice or activity that requires modification. The Panel expressed concern regarding the Settlement Agreement and its relation to the suspicious orders of hydrocodone and oxycodone to three Kentucky pharmacies, which would qualify as a violation of KRS 315.121 (1)(c)2. The Panel determined that this letter of concern be issued.

Sincerely,

Peter P. Cohron
President
Kentucky Board of Pharmacy

Dear Licensing Authority,

This letter provides information supplementing the above pending applications submitted by M&D Specialty Distribution, L.L.C. ("MDSD"), a pharmaceutical wholesaler located in Shreveport, Louisiana.

MDSD is not a distributor of controlled substances. MDSD is contractually affiliated and has overlapping ownership with Morris & Dickson Co., LLC ("M&D Co."), which also is a pharmaceutical wholesaler located in Shreveport, Louisiana. M&D Co.'s business includes the distribution of controlled substances. M&D Co. has settled an administrative proceeding with the United States Drug Enforcement Administration concerning events between 2014 and 2018 (the "2018 Proceeding"), pursuant to a Settlement and Administrative Memorandum of Agreement (the "MOA"). M&D Co. has provided a copy of the MOA to the Board. The MOA does not pertain to MDSD.

RE: Morris & Dickson Co., L.L.C., Pending Initial Wholesale Drug Distributor Application

Dear Licensing Authority,

This letter provides information supplementing the above pending applications submitted by Morris & Dickson Co., L.L.C. ("M&D Co."), a pharmaceutical wholesaler located in Shreveport, Louisiana. M&D Co. has settled an administrative proceeding with the United States Drug Enforcement Administration concerning events between 2014 and 2018 (the "2018 Proceeding"), pursuant to a Settlement and Administrative Memorandum of Agreement (the "MOA"). A copy of the MOA is attached to this letter. The 2018 Proceeding has been the subject of prior reporting to the Board. It is requested that the MOA remain confidential with the Board.

The MOA permits the full continuation of M&D Co.'s business in all respects. Terms of the MOA include a payment to the DEA and M&D's maintenance of its existing compliance policies and procedures. M&D Co. distributes controlled substances from its Shreveport, Louisiana facility pursuant to that facility's DEA registration (the "M&D Co. DEA Registration"). Pursuant to the MOA, M&D Co. maintains the M&D Co. DEA Registration.[1]

Should your agency require any additional information, please direct any inquiries regarding this matter to:

Thank you for your assistance in this matter,

[1] The company is surrendering a separate DEA registration for a facility in Jefferson, Louisiana, which, for in excess of the past 10 years, has been operated by M&D Co. dba Spark Drug (the "Spark Facility"), solely for the purpose of distributing non-controlled drugs to certain customers within Louisiana. Thus, the Jefferson, Louisiana DEA registration has not been used by M&D Co. for over 10 years. The surrender of the Jefferson, Louisiana DEA registration will have no effect on M&D Co.'s business. The Spark Facility is not the subject of the above-referenced pending license application(s).

January 12, 2024 Settlement and Administrative Memorandum of Agreement

SETTLEMENT AND ADMINISTRATIVE MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT

This Settlement and Administrative Memorandum of Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into by and between the United States Department of Justice, Drug Enforcement Administration ("DEA") and Morris & Dickson Co., LLC ("M&D") (each a "Party" and collectively the "Parties").

This Agreement shall be applicable to M&D and any facility owned or operated by M&D that is registered, or that may become registered, with DEA to distribute or otherwise handle controlled substances.

I. RECITALS

1. In order to avoid the uncertainty and expense of continued litigation, and in furtherance of the Parties' belief that a settlement is in the public interest, the Parties desire to settle and resolve, and hereby do settle and resolve, the administrative matters within DEA's enforcement authority as those matters relate to the conduct described further below, including without limitation M&D's appeal pending in the Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit. The Parties further believe that the terms and conditions of this Agreement as set forth below represent a complete resolution of this matter.

2. M&D owns and operates (or has previously owned and operated) two (2) distribution centers that are or were registered with DEA as distributors of Schedule II-V controlled substances, Registration Nos. RM0314790 and RM0335732 (together the "COR") under the provisions of the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970, 21 U.S.C. § 801 et seq. ("CSA") (each a "Distribution Center" and collectively the "Distribution Center").

3. The DEA is the Department of Justice component agency primarily responsible for administering the CSA and the regulations promulgated thereunder, and is vested with the responsibility of investigating CSA violations.

4. The regulations promulgated under the CSA require registrants to design and operate a system to detect and report "suspicious orders" for controlled substances, as defined in the regulations. See 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b).

5. On or about May 2, 2018, DEA served M&D with an Order to Show Cause ("OTSC") and Immediate Suspension of Registration ("ISO"), immediately suspending M&D's COR, pursuant to 21 U.S.C. § 824(d), and proposing to revoke its COR and deny any pending

applications for renewal or modification, pursuant to 21 U.S.C. §§ 824(a)(4) & 823(b).

6. On or about May 5, 2018, M&D obtained a temporary restraining order prohibiting DEA from enforcing the ISO (the "TRO").

7. On or about May 18, 2018, Acting Administrator Robert W. Patterson rescinded the ISO, but left the Order to Show Cause in place.

8. On May 13-16, 2019, DEA held an administrative hearing on the Order to Show Cause before Administrative Law Judge ("ALJ") Charles W. Dorman (the "ALJ Hearing").

9. On or about August 29, 2019, ALJ Dorman issued a Recommended Rulings, Findings of Facts, Conclusions of Law, and Decision ("R&R"). In the R&R, he recommended that both of M&D's CORs be revoked.

10. On or about May 19, 2023, Administrator Anne Milgram issued a Decision and Order ("Final Order") revoking both of M&D's CORs, effective thirty days from the Final Order's publication in the Federal Register.

11. On May 23, 2023, the Administrator modified her decision to allow M&D ninety days to attempt to reach a settlement with the Agency.

12. On or about May 30, 2023, the Final Order was published in the Federal Register.

13. On or about June 2, 2023, M&D petitioned the Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit for a stay of the effective date of the Final Order.

14. On or about June 16, 2023, the Fifth Circuit granted M&D's request for a full stay of the effective date of the Final Order pending a decision on the merits.

II. TERM OF AGREEMENT

15. The obligations contained in this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect for a period of five (5) years from the effective date of this Agreement unless DEA agrees in writing to an earlier termination.

III. ACCEPTANCE OF RESPONSIBILITY

16. M&D acknowledges and unconditionally accepts responsibility for every CSA violation found by the Administrator in the Agency's Final Order (the "Covered Conduct"). See Final Order attached as Appendix A.

IV. COMPLIANCE ADDENDUM

17. Simultaneous with the execution of this Agreement, M&D and DEA have entered into a Compliance Addendum, which is attached as Appendix B.

V. REGISTRATION CONSEQUENCES

18. M&D agrees to immediately surrender for cause its DEA Certificate of Registration No. RM0335732.

19. Following the surrender for cause of DEA Certificate of Registration No. RM0335732, M&D shall respond in the affirmative to any and all questions on Federal or State application and registration application concerning whether M&D has been subject to liability.

20. As to DEA Certificate of Registration RM0314790, M&D and DEA stipulate that:

a. Revocation of DEA Certificate of Registration RM0314790 was the proper remedy for the Covered Conduct;

b. In the period between DEA's ISO and OTSC and the Final Order, M&D expended substantial resources to remediate its compliance program.

c. DEA Certificate of Registration RM0314790 was suspended during the period between the ISO and the TRO. This suspension, together with M&D's surrender of DEA Certificate of Registration No. RM0335732, is a sufficient registration consequence considering:

i. The extended passage of time between the issuance of the ISO and the Final Order;

ii. The substantial resources M&D spent to remediate its compliance program with respect to suspicious orders and due diligence;

iii. M&D's agreement to enter a five-year Compliance Addendum;

iv. M&D's good faith anti-diversion efforts in the pre-ISO period, including its destruction (rather than sale) of $2.5 million of short-dated opioids; and

v. M&D's agreement to the payment terms set forth in this Agreement.

VI. TERMS AND CONDITIONS

21. In consideration of the mutual promises, covenants, and obligations set forth herein, DEA and M&D agree as follows:

a. M&D shall pay a total of Thirty-three Million Dollars ($33,000,000.00), which includes:

i. Fourteen Million Dollars ($14,000,000.00) of costs M&D incurred to enhance its compliance system between the date of the ISO and the present, which DEA agrees is hereby credited to the amount in paragraph

ii. M&D shall pay an additional Nineteen Million Dollars ($19,000,000.00) to DEA/Department of Justice consistent with the terms set forth below:

a) DEA will initiate administrative forfeiture proceedings against the $19 million based on the probable cause established in the May 19, 2023, Final Order executed by DEA Administrator Anne Milgram. This amount will be paid in five equal annual installments, beginning in 2025. For clarity, and as agreed by the parties, these payments totaling $19,000,000.00 are paid by M&D as remediation for M&D's alleged violations of the law resulting in alleged damage or harm.

b) Upon completion of the forfeiture proceedings, all forfeited proceeds will be disposed of according to the applicable Federal law.

c) Morris & Dickson Co., LLC waives any right to administrative or judicial notice of the forfeiture proceedings regarding the five annual payments, totaling $19 million, and further agrees to abandon and forfeit any interest they may have in each payment when made in the entirety of the $19 million once all payments are complete.

d) Each annual payment shall be made by cashier's check at the DEA New Orleans Field Division on the first business day after January 1, beginning in 2025.

c. Any material breach by M&D of this Agreement or the Compliance Addendum may be a basis upon which DEA takes administrative action against M&D. However, nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed a waiver of M&D's due process rights. Further, DEA hereby agrees to provide M&D a thirty (30) day safe harbor period to allow M&D the opportunity to cure any alleged breach before it initiates any administrative action.

d. In consideration of the fulfillment of the obligations of M&D under this Agreement, DEA agrees to:

i. Fully and finally release M&D, together with its parent and subsidiary entities, facilities, registrants, officers, directors, employees, successors, attorneys, assigns (collectively, the "Released Parties") from any and all administrative claims within DEA's enforcement authority under 21 U.S.C. §§ 823 & 824 related to the Covered Conduct through December 31, 2021, which the DEA asserted, or could have asserted based upon information that was or could have been discovered by DEA through the exercise of due diligence through the examination of open investigations and inspections in existence as of the effective date of this Agreement, and the review of the reports and records of M&D submitted to DEA prior to the effective date of this Agreement; and

ii. Refrain from filing or taking any administrative actions against the Released Parties within DEA's enforcement authority under 21 U.S.C. §§ 823 & 824, based on the Covered Conduct, provided that such conduct was or could have been discovered by DEA through the exercise of due diligence through the examination of open investigations and inspections in existence as of the effective date of this Agreement, and the review of the reports and records of M&D submitted to DEA prior to the effective date of this Agreement. This Release applies only to administrative actions brought before or by DEA with respect to the Covered Conduct.

e. M&D fully and finally releases DEA from any claims (including attorney's fees, costs, and expenses of every kind and however denominated) which M&D has asserted, could have asserted, or may assert in the future against DEA related to the Covered Conduct and DEA's investigation and prosecution thereof, including without limitations M&D's appeal pending before the Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit and its action pending against DEA in U.S. District Court for the Western District of Louisiana.

22. Except as expressly set forth herein, there are no additional promises, understandings, or agreements between M&D and DEA concerning any other administrative proceeding relating to any other federal, state, or local charges that may now be pending or hereafter be brought against M&D. Nor may any additional agreement, understanding, or condition relating to the Covered Conduct be entered into by M&D and DEA unless in writing and signed by both. However, the Parties acknowledge and agree that nothing herein conflicts with or modifies a separate nonprosecution agreement anticipated between M&D and the Department of Justice.

VII. MISCELLANEOUS

23. Binding on Successors. This Agreement is binding on M&D, and its respective successors, heirs, transferees, and assigns.

24. Costs. Each Party to this Agreement shall bear its own legal and other costs incurred in connection with this matter, including the preparation and performance of this Agreement.

25. No Additional Releases. This Agreement is intended to be for the benefit of the Parties and the Released Parties only, and by this instrument the Parties do not release any claims against any other person or entity other than the Released Parties.

26. Effect of Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the complete agreement between the Parties. All material representations, understandings, and promises of the Parties are contained in this Agreement, and each of the Parties expressly agrees and acknowledges that, other than those statements expressly set forth in this Agreement, it is not relying on any statement, whether oral or written, of any person or entity with respect to its entry into this Agreement or to the consummation of the transaction contemplated by this Agreement. M&D represents that this Agreement is entered into with advice of counsel and knowledge of the events described herein. M&D further represents that this Agreement is voluntarily entered into in order to avoid litigation, without any degree of duress or compulsion.

27. Execution of Agreement. This Agreement shall become effective (i.e., final and binding) on the date of signing by the last signatory (the "Effective Date"). DEA agrees to notify M&D immediately when the final signatory has executed this Agreement.

28. Notices. All communications and notices pursuant to this Agreement shall be made in writing to the following individuals, which notice information may be altered from time to time by either Party by written notification:

M&D and DEA agree that all reports submitted to DEA contain information that is commercial or financial and privileged or confidential, and therefore exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA"), 5 U.S.C. § 552. Such information may be exempt from disclosure under FOIA and any other state or federal law or regulation protecting such information from public disclosure and, upon receipt of a request to release such, DEA agrees to provide M&D reasonable opportunity to respond to any such requests.

WLDT No. 2, L.L.C.

This narrative is submitted by WLDT No. 2, L.L.C. in connection with its response to Section 8, Questions 5 and 6 on its Personal History Application (the "Application") submitted to the Nevada State Board of Pharmacy.

The owners of M&D Specialty Distribution, L.L.C. ("MDSD") are individuals, partnerships, and L.L.C.s (collectively (the "MDSD Owners"). MDSD, a pharmaceutical wholesaler, has never distributed controlled substances. Some of the MDSD Owners also indirectly are owners of Morris & Dickson Co., L.L.C. ("M&D Co."). M&D Co. is also a pharmaceutical wholesaler, and its business includes the distribution of controlled substances.

Three limited liability companies, WLDT No. 2, L.L.C., WGDT No. 2, L.L.C. MADT No. 2, L.L.C. (together, the "L.L.C.s"), each have an approximate 3.6% indirect interest in M&D through the holding company Morris & Dickson Holding Co., L.L.C. ("Holdco"), which owns M&D Co., and an approximately 11.11% interest in MDSD. Therefore, on the Personal History Application for the L.L.C.s and Holdco, events relating to both MDSD and M&D responsive to Questions 5 and 6 of Section 8 of the Application are set forth below.

Events Concerning M&D Specialty Distribution, L.L.C.

Kansas 2022-12-06 Summary Order, $1,320.00 Civil Fine

In October 2022, MDSD applied to the Kansas State Board of Pharmacy ("KSBOP") for registration as a wholesale distributor. MDSD's license application was granted on December 6, 2022 (a copy of the December 6, 2022 Order is submitted with this Narrative as MDSD Exh. 1). As part of MDSD's license application, it informed KSBOP that between October 2021 and April 2022, prior to MDSD being licensed in Kansas, it had inadvertently shipped a quantity of Rabavert, a rabies vaccine, to an entity in the state. This occurred because Morris & Dickson Co., L.L.C. ("M&D Co."), which was and is licensed in Kansas and has overlapping ownership with and is contractually affiliated with MDSD, had supplied Rabavert to the customer previously. When M&D Co. discontinued the product, the product continued to be available through MDSD, and the Kansas entity ordered the product from MDSD. MDSD then mistakenly shipped the product to Kansas due to an error in software, which should have prevented the shipment to Kansas by MDSD. When MDSD discovered the error, it immediately ceased shipments to the Kansas entity and measures were implemented to prevent a recurrence in that and in all situations. In granting MDSD a wholesaler license in Kansas, KSBOP assessed a civil fine of $1,320.00 for the inadvertent shipments.

Events Concerning Morris & Dickson Co., L.L.C.

The below information pertains to M&D Co., and not to MDSD.

DEA Proceeding and New Suspicious Order Monitoring and Reporting protocols

Background

On May 2, 2018, approximately five years ago, the DEA commenced an administrative proceeding concerning M&D Co.'s controlled substance registrations (the "2018 Proceeding") by issuing an Order to Show Cause/Immediate Suspension (the "OTSC/ISO") against M&D Co.'s two registrations to distribute controlled substances (the "DEA Registrations"). Six days later, on May 8, 2018, a federal district court judge issued a temporary restraining order against the DEA, ordering that M&D Co. may resume distributing controlled substances. Shortly thereafter, on May 18, 2018, the DEA ordered that the ISO was rescinded. M&D Co. has been fully operational and its DEA Registrations in place since that time.

The 2018 Proceeding concerned M&D Co.'s suspicious-order monitoring ("SOM") procedures between 2014 and 2018. Following the OTSC/ISO, M&D Co.'s SOM procedures were comprehensively restructured, a state-of-the-art system was implemented, and M&D Co. has operated in complete compliance with federal and state regulations in the half-decade following the OTSC/ISO. It has continued to do so to the present date.

Between May 13-17, 2019, an administrative hearing was conducted before a DEA Administrative Law Judge ("ALJ"). Following the 2019 hearing, and for the past approximately four years, negotiations were ongoing between M&D Co. and the DEA to resolve the 2018 Proceeding and, until May 19, 2023, four years after the hearing, as described below, the DEA Administrator did not issue a final order following the ALJ's 2019 confidential recommendation. During this five year period following the OTSC/ISO, M&D Co. continued to report to the DEA regarding its restructured SOM procedures, which the DEA has described as "impressive." This restructuring is summarized below, followed by a description of the DEA's May 19, 2023 order, which subsequently was amended by a further order from the DEA Administrator, dated May 23, 2023 (the May 19, 2023 order together with the May 23, 2023 order will be referred to below as the "May 19/23 Order").

2018 Restructuring of M&D Co.'s SOM Procedures

The primary basis for the DEA's OTSC/ISO was its view that prior to 2018 M&D Co. had failed to report suspicious orders and to conduct due diligence on certain identified customers. M&D Co. took the DEA's allegations and conclusions very seriously and immediately, in 2018, undertook a restructuring of its SOM procedures. At that time M&D Co. hired the Analysis Group ("AGI"), an experienced data analytics firm with expertise in controlled substance order monitoring to develop a statistical methodology for identifying orders of unusual size, frequency, or pattern. An interim version of the AGI model was put in place on May 24, 2018, less than a month following the OTSC/ISO, and the permanent model was implemented for all retail pharmacy customers on October 1, 2018, alternate care customers in January of 2019 and hospitals in May of 2019. Since the implementation of the interim AGI order monitoring system in 2018-2019, M&D Co. has reported on a daily basis all of the orders flagged by the system to the DEA's complete satisfaction.

In addition, in May 2018, the same month as the OTSC/ISO, M&D Co. hired Guidepost Solutions and its then-Senior Managing Director, Louis Milione to assist M&D Co. in the enhancement of its policies, procedures, and processes related to controlled substance monitoring. The Guidepost personnel were all former DEA Diversion Investigators, former Senior Attorneys, former DEA Special Agents and former state and local law enforcement officials and have been involved in overseeing M&D Co.'s compliance processes since May 2018. Guidepost and members of the M&D Co. Compliance Team have conducted enhanced due diligence, including site visits, on the entirety of M&D Co.'s customer base, which totals over 1,000 customers, with most being the subject of more than one site visit. Since the site visit project began, M&D Co. has terminated the supply of controlled substances to approximately 44 customers and declined to onboard 52 accounts. In August 2021, Mr. Milione left his position at Guidepost to rejoin the DEA as the Principal Deputy Administrator. Presently, Guidepost Senior Managing Director Krista Tongring is M&D Co.'s Interim Chief Compliance Officer.

Further, M&D Co. created an official regulatory affairs group under the leadership of a senior company executive and increased the full-time staff from 1 to its current 11 employees, in addition to Guidepost personnel. In connection with the new regulatory affairs group, M&D Co.'s IT department years ago implemented numerous enhancements to the electronic customer due diligence files from which the regulatory affairs team makes its order review and other due diligence decisions. Training has been conducted for the new personnel regularly since 2018. All regulatory affairs personnel have been trained on DEA policies and procedures, and several of the team have attended DEA training for wholesale distributor registrants. A written manual of M&D Co.'s Standard Operating Procedures ("SOP") relating to customer due diligence and order review went into effect in May 2019 and was updated in July 2020; SOPs for M&D Co.'s hospital customers went into effect at that time as well.

The DEA Administrator's May 19, 2023 Order and May 23, 2023 Amended Order

In the 2018 Proceeding, on May 19, 2023 the DEA issued a Final Order and then an amended order dated May 23, 2023 revoking the controlled substance registrations of M&D Co. (the "May 19/23 Order," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 1(A)(the May 19, 2023 Order) and M&D Exh. 1(B)(the May 23, 2023 Order) respectively). The May 19/23 Order by its terms did not go into effect until 90 days following the filing of the May 19/23 Order in the Federal Register, which occurred on May 30, 2023. A purpose of the 90-day period prior to the May19/23 Order's effectiveness was to permit the DEA and M&D Co. to negotiate a settlement of the 2018 Proceeding.

The May 19/23 Order was issued five years after the commencement of the 2018 Proceeding, four years after the administrative hearing on the same, and was based solely on events prior to 2018. Furthermore, in the May 19/23 Order, the DEA Administrator determined that since 2018, M&D Co.'s controlled substance policies and procedures were "impressive." Notwithstanding that M&D Co. has been in regulatory compliance since 2018, and will continue to be in regulatory compliance, the May 19/23 Order concluded that M&D Co.'s registrations should be revoked for pre-2018 events.

Fifth Circuit Appeal

On May 30, 2023, before the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit (the "Fifth Circuit"), M&D Co. filed a Petition challenging the May 19/23 Order as unjustified and improper. On June 2, 2023, M&D Co. sought a stay of the effectiveness of the Order from the Fifth Circuit for the entire duration of M&D Co.'s appeal (the "Stay Motion").

The Fifth Circuit granted the Stay Motion by Order dated June 16, 2023, (the "June 16, 2023 Stay Order," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 1(C)). The June 16, 2023 Stay Order's effect is to maintain M&D Co.'s DEA Registrations in force during the entirety of M&D Co.'s challenge to the May 19/23 Order. The June 16, 2023 Stay Order was premised upon the Fifth Circuit's determination that M&D Co. was likely to succeed in challenging the May 19/23 Order.

On November 3, 2023, a joint motion was made by the Department of Justice ("DOJ")/DEA and M&D Co. to suspend the litigation of the 2018 DEA Proceeding in the Fifth Circuit (the "Joint Motion to Suspend Litigation") because "the parties are in advanced stages of settlement negotiations and believe that they may be able to resolve the underlying dispute between them." In response to the Joint Motion to Suspend Litigation, on November 8, 2023, the Fifth Circuit issued an Order holding the entire proceeding before the Court in abeyance for a 90 day period "to facilitate settlement discussions" (the "November 8, 2023 Abeyance Order," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 1(D)). If the matter is not settled at the end of the 90 day period, proceedings before the Fifth Circuit would continue. During the entire period and until the end of the litigation, the June 16, 2023 Stay Order also will remain in place.

WDLA Settlement

Additionally, on May 24, 2019, M&D Co. agreed to pay a civil fine of $22 million to the Department of Justice in a settlement reached through the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Louisiana ("WDLA Settlement," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 2). The WDLA settlement, which was not an admission of liability, was finalized and paid in full on May 24, 2019.

Alabama Proceeding

On March 29, 2021, the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy ("AL BOP") issued an Order to Show Cause requiring that M&D Co. show cause why its Alabama state license is relevant to and consistent with public health and safety of Alabama (the Alabama Order to Show Cause is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 3). The AL BOP attached the WDLA Settlement from 2018 as its only allegation against M&D Co.. M&D Co. opened a dialogue with then-current counsel for the AL BOP and voluntarily provided a litigation history and summary of its compliance program to the AL BOP. M&D Co. explained through written discourse that the WDLA Settlement contained no admissions of wrongdoing by M&D Co. and was simply a "pay for peace" type settlement. M&D Co. requested that the matter be favorably resolved prior to a hearing in light of M&D Co.'s submissions and willingness to be open and forthcoming with the AL BOP. Following the aforementioned dialogue, the AL BOP continued the matter for two years. Recently, new counsel at AL BOP has scheduled a hearing for February 20 2024, wherein, if the matter is not resolved prior to the hearing, M&D Co. will continue to assert that there is not now, nor has there ever been any basis for revocation. Since receiving notice from the AL BOP of the proceeding, in March 2021, M&D Co. has at all times remained a licensed pharmaceutical distributor in the state of Alabama and continues to hold that license to date.

Kentucky BOP Letter of Concern

On February 7, 2022, the Kentucky Board of Pharmacy ("KBOP") sent a letter to M&D Co., stating that it had reviewed the WDLA Settlement and the policies and procedures of M&D Co. both before and after the Settlement, and concluded that the issuance of a complaint was not appropriate (the Kentucky BoP Letter of Concern is submitted with this Narrative as Exh. M&D 4). The letter further stated that the KBOP "expressed concern" regarding the WDLA Settlement, but had determined that no other action was appropriate. M&D Co. believes that the February 7, 2022 letter concludes the review of the WDLA Settlement and M&D Co.'s policies and procedures by the KBOP. M&D Co. has at all times remained a licensed pharmaceutical distributor in the state of Kentucky and continues to hold that license to date.

Multi-District Litigation

M&D Co. has been named as a "distributor defendant" in approximately 225 cases which have been, or will be consolidated in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio under Multi District Litigation No. 2804, the National Prescription Opiate Litigation. Though the cases are many, the allegations in these cases are materially the same, alleging that the manufacturers of prescription opioids grossly misrepresented the risks of long term use of those drugs for persons with chronic pain, and distributors failed to properly monitor suspicious orders of those prescription drugs, all of which contributed to the current national opioid epidemic. M&D Co. has been placed in a small distributors defendants class for purposes of negotiation or litigation, and to date all litigation has been stayed for M&D Co., and for the small distributors defendant class as a whole until resolution of the bellwether trials with the larger defendants has been reached. The complaints do not allege any specific allegations against M&D Co., but rather sweep the entire industry into a set the set of general allegations described above. If and when litigation begins for M&D Co., M&D Co. will deny the allegations alleged in each complaint. M&D Co. believes that the vast majority of this litigation will ultimately be resolved through settlement.

Events Concerning Morris & Dickson Co., L.L.C.

Three of the owners of MDSD are individuals, partnerships, and L.L.C.s (collectively (the "MDSD Owners"). MDSD, a pharmaceutical wholesaler, has never distributed controlled substances. Some of the MDSD Owners also indirectly are owners of Morris & Dickson Co., L.L.C. ("M&D Co."). M&D Co. is also a pharmaceutical wholesaler, and its business includes the distribution of controlled substances.

The below information pertains to M&D Co., and not to MDSD. It is provided as part of this MDSD Application, because M&D Co. and MDSD have overlapping beneficial ownership and are contractually affiliated. Specifically, the limited liability companies WLDT No. 2, L.L.C., WGDT No. 2, L.L.C. MADT No. 2, L.L.C., each have an approximate 3.6% indirect interest in M&D through a holding company, and an approximately 11.11% interest in MDSD.

On May 2, 2018, approximately five years ago, the DEA commenced an administrative proceeding concerning M&D Co.'s controlled substance registrations (the "2018 Proceeding") by issuing an Order to Show Cause/Immediate Suspension (the "OTSC/ISO") against M&D Co.'s two registrations to distribute controlled substances (the "DEA Registrations"). The DEA Administrator's May 19, 2023 Order and May 23, 2023 Amended Order

In the 2018 Proceeding, on May 19, 2023 the DEA issued a Final Order and then an amended order dated May 23, 2023 revoking the controlled substance registrations of M&D Co. (the "May 19/23 Order," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 1(A)(the May 19, 2023 Order) and M&D Exh. 1(B)(the May 23, 2023 Order) respectively). The May 19/23 Order by its terms did not go into effect until 90 days following the filing of the May 19/23 Order in the Federal Register, which occurred on May 30, 2023. A purpose of the 90-day period prior to the May19/23 Order's effectiveness was to permit the DEA and M&D Co. to negotiate a settlement of the 2018 Proceeding.

Fifth Circuit Appeal

On May 30, 2023, before the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit (the "Fifth Circuit"), M&D Co. filed a Petition challenging the May 19/23 Order as unjustified and improper. On June 2, 2023, M&D Co. sought a stay of the effectiveness of the Order from the Fifth Circuit for the entire duration of M&D Co.'s appeal (the "Stay Motion").

The Fifth Circuit granted the Stay Motion by Order dated June 16, 2023, (the "June 16, 2023 Stay Order," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 1(C)). The June 16, 2023 Stay Order's effect is to maintain M&D Co.'s DEA Registrations in force during the entirety of M&D Co.'s challenge to the May 19/23 Order. The June 16, 2023 Stay Order was premised upon the Fifth Circuit's determination that M&D Co. was likely to succeed in challenging the May 19/23 Order.

On November 3, 2023, a joint motion was made by the Department of Justice ("DOJ")/DEA and M&D Co. to suspend the litigation of the 2018 DEA Proceeding in the Fifth Circuit (the "Joint Motion to Suspend Litigation") because "the parties are in advanced stages of settlement negotiations and believe that they may be able to resolve the underlying dispute between them." In response to the Joint Motion to Suspend Litigation, on November 8, 2023, the Fifth Circuit issued an Order holding the entire proceeding before the Court in abeyance for a 90 day period "to facilitate settlement discussions" (the "November 8, 2023 Abeyance Order," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 1(D)). If the matter is not settled at the end of the 90 day period, proceedings before the Fifth Circuit would continue. During the entire period and until the end of the litigation, the June 16, 2023 Stay Order also will remain in place.

WDLA Settlement

Additionally, on May 24, 2019, M&D Co. agreed to pay a civil fine of $22 million to the Department of Justice in a settlement reached through the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Louisiana ("WDLA Settlement," which is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 2). The WDLA settlement, which was not an admission of liability, was finalized and paid in full on May 24, 2019.

Alabama Proceeding

On March 29, 2021, the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy ("AL BOP") issued an Order to Show Cause requiring that M&D Co. show cause why its Alabama state license is relevant to and consistent with public health and safety of Alabama (the Alabama Order to Show Cause is submitted with this Narrative as M&D Exh. 3). The AL BOP attached the WDLA Settlement from 2018 as its only allegation against M&D Co.. M&D Co. opened a dialogue with then-current counsel for the AL BOP and voluntarily provided a litigation history and summary of its compliance program to the AL BOP. M&D Co. explained through written discourse that the WDLA Settlement contained no admissions of wrongdoing by M&D Co. and was simply a "pay for peace" type settlement. M&D Co. requested that the matter be favorably resolved prior to a hearing in light of M&D Co.'s submissions and willingness to be open and forthcoming with the AL BOP. Following the aforementioned dialogue, the AL BOP continued the matter for two years. Recently, new counsel at AL BOP has scheduled a hearing for February 20 2024, wherein, if the matter is not resolved prior to the hearing, M&D Co. will continue to assert that there is not now, nor has there ever been any basis for revocation. Since receiving notice from the AL BOP of the proceeding, in March 2021, M&D Co. has at all times remained a licensed pharmaceutical distributor in the state of Alabama and continues to hold that license to date.

Kentucky BOP Letter of Concern

On February 7, 2022, the Kentucky Board of Pharmacy ("KBOP") sent a letter to M&D Co., stating that it had reviewed the WDLA Settlement and the policies and procedures of M&D Co. both before and after the Settlement, and concluded that the issuance of a complaint was not appropriate (the Kentucky BoP Letter of Concern is submitted with this Narrative as Exh. M&D 4). The letter further stated that the KBOP "expressed concern" regarding the WDLA Settlement, but had determined that no other action was appropriate. M&D Co. believes that the February 7, 2022 letter concludes the review of the WDLA Settlement and M&D Co.'s policies and procedures by the KBOP. M&D Co. has at all times remained a licensed pharmaceutical distributor in the state of Kentucky and continues to hold that license to date.

SUMMARY ORDER

NOW, on this 6th day of December, 2022, comes before the Kansas Board of Pharmacy (the "Board"), through its Executive Secretary, the matter of M & D Specialty Distribution, LLC. ("Applicant"), for application for registration as a wholesale distributor in the state of Kansas.

Pursuant to the authority granted to the Board by the Kansas Pharmacy Act, K.S.A. 65-1625, et seq., and in accordance with the provisions of the Kansas Administrative Procedure Act, K.S.A. 77-501, et seq., the Board enters this Summary Order in the above-captioned matter. After reviewing the application materials and being otherwise duly advised in the premises, the Board makes the following findings, conclusions, and order:

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. On October 21, 2022, the Board received Applicant's application for registration as a wholesale distributor in the State of Kansas ("Applicant's Application").

2. On Applicant's Non-Resident Supplemental S-350 form, Applicant answered "Yes" to the following question: "Has the facility listed on the application shipped drugs and/or devices into Kansas in the previous 12 months." The form directs that if the applicant answered "yes," the applicant should provide the specific drugs and/or devices sent in, the dates of shipment, and the locations they were sent in Kansas."

3. In conjunction with Applicant's Application, Applicant provided requested copies of shipping records for products shipped into Kansas. Applicant reported shipping into Kansas on 16 unique days during the previous the time period of October 2021 to April 2022.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. Pursuant to K.S.A. 65-1658, the Board may assess a civil fine not to exceed $5,000, after notice and an opportunity to be heard, to any registrant for violation of the pharmacy act of the state of Kansas or any other rules or regulations of the state board of pharmacy.

2. Pursuant to K.S.A. 65-1627(f), the Board may take action against the application of any wholesale distributor upon a finding that the applicant has violated the pharmacy act of the state of Kansas or any regulation adopted by the Board.

3. Pursuant to K.S.A. 65-1643(c), it shall be unlawful for any person to distribute at wholesale any drugs or devices without first obtaining a registration from the Board.

4. Applicant's act of shipping into Kansas prior to being registered as a wholesale distributor is a violation of K.S.A. 65-1643(c) and is a basis to take action against Applicant's Application pursuant to K.S.A. 65-1627(f).

ORDER

Based upon the foregoing findings of fact and conclusions of law, Applicant's Application is hereby GRANTED but Applicant is ordered to pay a fine to the Board in the amount of $1,320. Applicant has 30 days from the date of this order to pay the fine and the registration shall be issued upon receipt.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
DRUG ENFORCEMENT ADMINISTRATION

MAY 19 2023

Docket No. 18-31
MORRIS & DICKSON CO., LLC
DECISION AND ORDER

On May 2, 2018, the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA or Government), issued an Order to Show Cause (OSC) and Immediate Suspension of Registration (ISO) to Morris & Dickson Co., LLC (Respondent), of Louisiana. Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) Exhibit (ALJX) 1, at 1. The OSC informed Respondent of the immediate suspension of its Certificates of Registration Nos. RM0314790 and RM0335732 (registrations)[1] and proposed their revocation pursuant to 21 U.S.C. §§ 824(a)(4) and 823(b) because it alleged that Respondent's continued registrations were inconsistent with the public interest. Id.

Respondent requested a hearing before a DEA ALJ, which was conducted from May 13 to May 16, 2019. On August 29, 2019, the ALJ issued a Recommended Decision (RD), which was transmitted to the Agency along with the administrative record on November 26, 2019.[2] The Agency has incorporated portions of the ALJ's RD herein.

The Government presented a prima facie case. Respondent ultimately admitted to and accepted some responsibility for its failures in effectively applying its customer due diligence in assessing orders of controlled substances, its failures to implement a suspicious order monitoring

[1] Respondent sought and obtained a temporary restraining order against enforcement of the ISO. See ALJX 89, at 7. On May 18, 2018, the DEA Acting Administrator rescinded the ISO issued on May 2, 2018. Tr. 12; see Stip. 26.
[2] On October 8, 2019, Respondent filed Exceptions to the Recommended Decision (Resp Exceptions) and on November 7, 2019, the Government filed a response to Respondent's Exceptions. On January 5, 2022, Respondent filed a Motion to Reopen the Administrative Record. On January 14, 2022, the Government filed an opposition to this motion and on January 21, 2022, Respondent filed a Reply Memorandum in Support of its Motion to Reopen the Administrative Record. The Agency addresses the Exceptions throughout and the Motion to Reopen at the end of this Decision.

system "consistent with best practices for compliance," and its failures to adequately resolve red flags on orders that it shipped. See infra section V. Respondent also admitted that its three suspicious order reports to DEA during the relevant time period were insufficient. Id. Nonetheless, Respondent presented testimony and evidence aimed at rebutting the Government's case with regard to the scope of its regulatory noncompliance during the relevant time period.

After thoroughly reviewing the entire record, the Agency finds substantial record evidence that Respondent's continued registration is inconsistent with the public interest in light of the long-term, egregious failures of Respondent in its responsibility as a distributor to maintain effective controls against diversion of controlled substances. Furthermore, the Agency finds that Respondent has failed to demonstrate that the Agency should continue to entrust it with its controlled substance registrations.

I. SUMMARY OF THE ALLEGATIONS

1. The OSC primarily alleged that Respondent failed to maintain effective controls against diversion when it failed to report to DEA thousands of unusually large orders for hydrocodone and oxycodone, which constituted potential suspicious orders, and when it shipped orders to customers without resolving red flags of diversion or reporting the orders to DEA in violation of 21 U.S.C. §§ 823(b)(1) and (e)(1) as well as 21 C.F.R. §§ 1301.71(a) and 1301.74(b). OSC, at 2. Further, the OSC alleged that Respondent failed to adequately design and operate a system to alert Respondent to suspicious orders of controlled substances and failed to report the suspicious orders to DEA in violation of 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). Id.

2. The allegations included that, from January 2014 until April 2018, Respondent shipped approximately 7,000 unusually large orders of oxycodone and almost 5,000 unusually large orders of hydrocodone. OSC, at 5; Govt Prehearing, at 8. During this time, Respondent filed a total of only three suspicious order reports with DEA.

3. Furthermore, the OSC alleged that, from approximately January 2014 to April 2018,[3] Respondent failed to carry out its due diligence and suspicious order monitoring policies and failed to conduct or failed to document the resolution of meaningful due diligence into orders placed by the following pharmacies: Wallace Drug Company, Inc.; Bordelon's Super-Save Pharmacy; Folse Pharmacy; Pharmacy Specialties Group, Inc.; Dave's Pharmacy; the Wellness Pharmacy, Inc.; Wilkinson Family Pharmacy; and Hephzibah Pharmacy, L.L.C. (hereinafter, the exemplar pharmacies).

II. THE WITNESSES

A. The Government's Witnesses

The Government presented its case through the testimony of six witnesses and the introduction of 70 exhibits. The Government's first witness was the Acting Section Chief of the Pharmaceutical Investigation Section of the DEA (the Section Chief), who testified generally regarding the regulatory requirements for distributors. Tr. 47-87. The Government also presented testimony from two Diversion Investigators (DI 1 and DI 2) regarding the history of the investigation and the identification of Government exhibits.[4] See RD, at 11-12 (citing Tr. 94-101; 144-177). Next, the Government presented testimony from the Chief of the Statistical Services Section of DEA, G.R., who was qualified without objection as an expert in "developing and implementing statistical models and methods of analyzing large and complex data sets." RD, at 13 (citing Tr. 192). G.R. testified to the methodology he employed in analyzing the statistical data that was used by DEA in its determination that Respondent had failed to report suspicious orders.[5] RD, at 12-15 (citing Tr. 187-245). The Government also presented testimony from the Group Supervisor of the New Orleans Field Division (the GS), who was accepted as an expert in "the identification of common red flags suggestive of an illicit pharmaceutical operation and as well [as] with respect to the requirements imposed on DEA registrants to identify and investigate such red flags when they become aware of them." RD, at 16 (citing Tr. 282).[6]

[3] The allegations for three of the exemplar pharmacies only spanned a subset of this timeframe: Wellness Pharmacy, January 2014-December 2017; Wilkinson Family Pharmacy, January 2014-April 2017; Hephzibah Pharmacy, April 2017-May 2017. Govt Prehearing, at 3.

[4] The Government presented testimony from a third Diversion Investigator (DI 3) to rebut the testimony of Respondent's witness, however, the Agency agrees with the RD that the testimony of DI 3 was not essential to the case and is therefore not including it herein. RD, at 20.

B. Respondent's Witnesses

Respondent presented its case through the testimony of three witnesses and the introduction of ten exhibits. Respondent's first witness was Kenneth A. Weinstein, Tr. 501-689, who was the Vice President of the consulting firm Analysis Group, Inc. (AGI), and was accepted without objection as an expert in statistical analysis related to controlled substance distribution and in pharmacy ordering and inventory management. RD, at 22 (citing Tr. 513-14; 520-21). Weinstein authenticated Respondent Exhibit (RX) 14, pages 15-19, and RX 28 and 29. Tr. 506, 562-68. Weinstein testified generally regarding the use of the Tukey analytical model in developing Suspicious Order Monitoring systems and testified specifically regarding what he found to be deficiencies in G.R.'s statistical analysis in this case. Weinstein also testified regarding AGI's compliance work for Respondent after DEA had issued the OSC.

[5] G.R. testified that he had corrected DEA's admitted error in the calculations in the OSC, which applied a Three Interquartile Range (IQR) to the median of the data set, or the 50th percentile, instead of the 75th percentile, and as a result, produced a larger group of outliers. Tr. 204, 208-09. G.R. further acknowledged that the error was identified by Respondent's expert. Tr. 218.

[6] The Agency adopts the ALJ's credibility findings regarding the Section Chief, the DIs, G.R., and the GS. RD, at 11-12, 15, 19.

Respondent's second witness was Scott Irelan, Tr. 693-840, who had worked for Respondent for 31 years before becoming the Director of Corporate Compliance and Security in May 2018 after the OSC was issued. Irelan testified regarding his current role at Respondent, the remedial measures that Respondent had put in place since the issuance of the OSC, Respondent's preexisting compliance measures during the relevant time period, and Respondent's acceptance of responsibility.

Respondent's final witness was Louis Milione,[7] Tr. 841-1057, who was, at the time, the Senior Managing Director of Guidepost Solutions. Respondent hired Guidepost Solutions to enhance Respondent's compliance system. Tr. 878-79. Milione was previously the Assistant Administrator of the Diversion Control Division at DEA and was offered and accepted without objection as an expert "in diversion." Tr. 851. He testified regarding his factual interactions with Respondent during his tenure at DEA[8] and regarding the work Guidepost performed for Respondent to improve its compliance with DEA requirements.[9]

III. FINDINGS OF FACT

[7] Milione is currently the Principal Deputy Administrator of DEA. Despite his return to the Agency, it is noted that Milione has not had any contacts with the Administrator nor anyone participating in the decisionmaking in this matter about and due to his prior involvement with this case.

[8] Respondent presented evidence, including testimony from Milione, about a meeting with Respondent at Respondent's invitation that occurred in August 2016 when Milione was in the role of Assistant Administrator of the Diversion Control Division at DEA. Tr. 856-861; RX 21; RX 11 (PowerPoint slide deck). Milione testified that, at that meeting, he believed that Paul Dickson, Sr., was committed to his regulatory obligations and sincere. Tr. 873. The powerpoint slides from that meeting, which Respondent submitted into evidence, generally support Respondent's statements regarding the workings of its previous SOM at a high level and its termination of customers pursuant to its due diligence efforts. RX 11; see infra n.61 regarding termination of Respondent's customers, and infra n.89 regarding evidence of the sincerity of Paul Dickson, Sr.

[9] The testimonies of Weinstein, Milione, and Irelan are afforded full credibility in this Decision on all points that are within their expertise and relevant to the final decision as further found herein. This Decision has found all major points of conflict between the Government's and Respondent's witnesses to be largely irrelevant to the Agency's adjudication of the allegations. The Agency analyzes the evidentiary weight of portions of the testimony of these witnesses in balance with other evidence on the record where relevant. It is noted that, although Irelan's testimony regarding acceptance of responsibility is analyzed in the Sanction Section infra, it is afforded full credibility.

The Parties agree to 47 stipulations (Stips.), which are accepted as facts in these proceedings. The Agency incorporates all of these into the record—the most relevant of which are summarized here. See RD, at 33-38. Between January 2014 and May 2018, Respondent submitted a total of three suspicious order reports to DEA. Stip. 7. In this same approximate timeframe, Respondent supplied controlled substances, including oxycodone and hydrocodone, to Wallace, Bordelon's, Folse, Pharmacy Specialties, and Dave's pharmacies. Respondent also supplied Hephzibah with controlled substances, including oxycodone and hydrocodone, between April and May 2017, Wellness Pharmacy between January 2014 and December 2017, and Wilkinson[10] between January and April 2017. See Stips. 11-20. The timeframe of the allegations in the OSC are hereinafter referred to as "the relevant timeframe."

A. DEA's Investigation

In 2017, while investigating pharmacies in Louisiana selling high volumes of oxycodone and hydrocodone, the DEA New Orleans Division discovered that some of those pharmacies were supplied by Respondent. Tr. 92. During a subsequent audit, Respondent told DEA that it used Pro Compliance Reports and its employees to identify suspicious orders. Tr. 93.

DEA served Respondent with three separate subpoenas and several requests for clarification between February 1, 2018, and April 2018.[11] RD, at 44-50. The subpoenas related to Respondent's identification of suspicious orders, due diligence, internal investigations, and internal policies and practices, and also identified specific pharmacies. Government Exhibits (GX) 7, 8, 10, 12, 15. Respondent responded via letters and produced some documentation. For example, GX 9 contains an undated letter from Jacob Dickson, stating that Respondent submitted only two suspicious order reports to DEA because it "utilizes a pro-active approach to avoid diversion of controlled drugs, including: screening new pharmacy customers; aggressively monitoring orders for controlled drugs; and eliminating pharmacy customers who fill orders for controlled drugs in excess of acceptable ratios, accept cash payments, fill prescriptions for the 'Holy Trinity' and/or other unacceptable practices." GX 9, at 1; Tr. 319. The undated letter also states that "DEA and applicable regulations do not require that a wholesale distributor maintain records of each and every internal investigation conducted on possible suspicious orders." GX 9, at 1-2 (emphasis in original); Tr. 319-20. The letter further explained that once Respondent has cleared a possible suspicious order, "no record is maintained." GX 9, at 2. The undated letter explained that Respondent used a "four-fold approach to monitor all prescription drug orders and detect unusual ordering patterns, amounts, and cash payments to identify potentially suspicious orders." GX 9, at 2; Tr. 321. The four-fold approach included: use of Pro Compliance Reports; preparing a Market Basket Report of each customer on a monthly basis; since April 2017, use of software that identifies orders that are more than 10 times the "average dosage units ordered on a given drug on a certain day with the last 90 days of ordering patterns of the same drug"; the experience of the employees who fill the orders for controlled substances; and the input of delivery drivers and salesmen. GX 9, at 3-4.

[10] Wilkinson Family Pharmacy voluntarily surrendered its DEA Certificate of Registration for Cause. Stip. 20.
[11] The Agency adopts the findings of fact in the RD related to these subpoenas and Respondent's response and summarizes herein. RD, at 44-50.

Government Exhibit 11 is Respondent's (signed by Paul Dickson) supplemental undated response to DEA following up on subpoenas issued to Respondent. Tr. 144-45, 324; GX 11, at 2. This response states that "[b]ecause formal records are not kept in the regular course of business on the investigation of orders which do not result in the finding of a 'suspicious order' per 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74, the email communications produced herewith represent the most responsive records maintained." GX 11, at 2; Tr. 324.

At the same time, Respondent produced an external hard drive containing documents in response to the February subpoenas. Tr. 146. Again, DEA emailed Respondent to ensure a complete response, which Respondent generally affirmed and also then provided a phone log[12] with the earliest entry dated January 5, 2016. GX 12-14. In response to the subpoena for policies and trainings, Respondent informed DEA that its training of employees on suspicious order monitoring "does not necessitate or result in the production of documents." GX 16, at 1. Respondent's reply included two policy and procedure documents, which Respondent described as containing "some limited direction as to suspicious order monitoring." Id.; Tr. 174-76; GX 17, 18.

B. General Regulatory Obligations

21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b) requires distributors to

> . . . design and operate a system to disclose to the registrant suspicious orders of controlled substances. The registrant shall inform the Field Division Office of the Administration in his area of suspicious orders when discovered by the registrant. Suspicious orders include orders of unusual size, orders deviating substantially from a normal pattern, and orders of unusual frequency.

Id.

Respondent received a copy of a letter sent on September 27, 2006, by DEA to distributors of controlled substances. Tr. 62-63; GX 3, at 1. The letter emphasized that "[d]istributors are, of course, one of the key components of the distribution chain. If the closed system is to function properly as Congress envisioned, distributors must be vigilant in deciding whether a prospective customer can be trusted to deliver controlled substances only for lawful purposes." GX 3, at 1. The letter therefore, reminded distributors of their "responsibilities . . . in view of the prescription drug abuse problem our nation currently faces." Id. Further, the letter reminded distributors of their duty under the regulation to "design and operate a system to disclose to the registrant suspicious orders of controlled substances," and their duty to report suspicious orders to DEA upon discovering the suspicious order. Id. at 2. In addition, the letter reminded distributors of their duty to exercise due diligence to avoid filling suspicious orders. Id. Finally, the letter provided distributors with 14 examples derived from DEA investigations of a customer's behavior that might be indicative of diversion. Id. at 3. The letter states that these examples are not all-inclusive and that "[d]istributors should consider the totality of the circumstances when evaluating an order for controlled substances, just as DEA will do when determining whether the filling of an order is consistent with the public interest within the meaning of 21 U.S.C. § 823(e)." Id. DEA sent the same letter a second time on February 7, 2007. Tr. 64-65; GX 69.

Government Exhibit 4 is a December 20, 2007 letter that the DEA sent to every distributor of controlled substances. Tr. 63-64; GX 4, at 1. The stated purpose of this letter was to again remind distributors of the requirement to inform DEA of suspicious orders. GX 4, at 1. The letter reminded distributors that in addition to "maintain[ing] effective controls against diversion," they are also required to "report suspicious orders of controlled substances." Id. The letter reminded registrants that the regulation requires that these orders be reported "when discovered by the registrant." Id. (emphasis in original). The letter also reminded distributors "that their responsibility does not end merely with the filing of a suspicious order report.

Registrants must conduct an independent analysis of suspicious orders prior to completing a sale to determine whether the controlled substances are likely to be diverted from legitimate channels" in accordance with their requirements to maintain effective controls against diversion in 21 U.S.C. § 823(e). Id. The letter also informed registrants that DEA interpreted the list of types of suspicious orders to be "disjunctive and [] not all inclusive." 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b).

DEA maintains an Automation of Reports and Consolidated Orders System (ARCOS). Tr. 69-70. Distributors are required to report to ARCOS all shipments of controlled substances in schedules I and II and all narcotic controlled substances in schedule III. Stip. 9; Tr. 70. In April 2008, DEA met with Respondent's President Paul Dickson, Sr., and discussed Respondent's legal obligations and requirements as a distributor, including suspicious order requirements, the need to know its customers, and the need to conduct due diligence. Tr. 67-68. At the time, DEA reviewed its ARCOS data with Respondent to show customers who had anomalies and to demonstrate "things that [Respondent] should be looking at and questioning [its] customers [about]." Tr. 68-69. In 2013 and 2015, DEA conducted distributor conferences and Jacob Dickson, Respondent's compliance officer,[13] attended both conferences. Tr. 66-67. Both sides also presented evidence about a meeting with Jacob Dickson, Paul Dickson Sr., C.G. (a former compliance officer at Respondent) and officials from DEA, including Milione, in which Respondent presented its Suspicious Order Monitoring (SOM) system to DEA. See RX 11 (powerpoint); see supra n.8.

Respondent filed three suspicious order reports during the relevant time period. Stip. 7. The first, dated April 7, 2014, states that "[a]t this time, and pending further review by you or [13] The GS testified that "one time [Jacob Dickson] was marked as president and then in the other time it was compliance officer." Tr. 67. In a letter to DEA in response to subpoenas, Jacob Dickson's title was listed as Vice President, SOM Manager. GX 9, at 4.

M&D, M&D has stopped selling schedule II through schedule V drugs to the captioned pharmacy." GX 6, at 1. The next report is dated April 26, 2017, and states that the pharmacy in question "purchased a quantity of 60 cartons of prefilled 10 mg morphine sulphate syringes . . . This was a substantial increase over a total sales of one carton in the prior four months." GX 6, at 35. The letter states that the order was investigated but does not discuss the resolution of this investigation, nor whether the order was filled. Id. The final report was filed on the same day, April 26, 2017, and gives no facts related to what order was deemed suspicious nor any information about an investigation or whether the order was shipped. GX 6, at 36.

Distributors are required to design and operate a suspicious order monitoring system that identifies suspicious orders. 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). Suspicious orders include, but are not limited to, three stated criteria: orders of unusual size, orders deviating substantially from a normal pattern, and orders of unusual frequency. Id.

Additionally, a distributor's general duty to prevent diversion includes the duty to perform due diligence on its customers. Southwood Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. 36,487, 36,500 (2007); see also Masters Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. 55,418, 55,476 (2015), pet. for review denied, Masters Pharmaceuticals, Inc. v. Drug Enf't Admin., 861 F.3d 206 (D.C. Cir. 2017). The GS testified that if the required due diligence at the customer level identifies red flags indicative of diversion, Tr. 328, those red flags render an individual order suspicious and trigger the investigation or reporting requirement, even if the regulatory criteria in 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b) are not present, e.g., the order size is not unusual. Tr. 477-478; see also Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,477 (stating that "an order is not only suspicious by virtue of its internal properties—i.e., being of unusual size, pattern, or frequency—but by virtue of the suspicious nature of the pharmacy which placed [the order]").

The Agency's decision in Masters sets forth that a distributor must either investigate suspicious circumstances on an order and resolve all indicia of diversion or decline to fill the order and report it to DEA. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,478.

C. Red Flags—Customer Due Diligence

The record evidence establishes that customer red flags indicative of potential diversion include a pharmacy customer that: dispenses a high volume of narcotics; dispenses the trinity drug cocktail;[14] dispenses disproportionally more controlled substances than non-controlled substances;[15] fills prescriptions for customers who live far away from the pharmacy; fills prescriptions for a high volume of patients who pay for prescriptions in cash;[16] fills prescriptions

[14] The trinity drug cocktail consists of an opioid, such as hydrocodone, a benzodiazepine, such as alprazolam, and a muscle relaxer, such as Soma, and the combination of substances is still a red flag even if each element is prescribed by different prescribers. Tr. 55, 300, 344.

[15] The record contains varying evidence as to the threshold percentage of a pharmacy customer's controlled substance fills relative to its non-controlled substance fills that would trigger a red flag for the distributor. See Tr. 351, 461 (The GS testifying that if the percentage of controlled substance prescriptions filled exceeds 15 percent of total prescriptions, it is a red flag); Tr. 1030 (Milione testifying that if a pharmacy is filling controlled substance prescriptions at a percentage exceeding the national average, then the distributor can resolve the red flag without reporting a suspicious order); Tr. 867 (Irelan testifying that the previous SOM system involved monitoring "for customers that were getting a little closer to 20 percent of that ratio"); RD, at n.5 (noting that the Masters decision found the threshold to be around 20 percent for controlled versus 80 to 90 percent for non-controlled, Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,480, but finding that the GS presented the most credible evidence at 15 percent).

The Agency finds the exact percentage threshold to be largely irrelevant to determine in this case, because in every instance of the Government's allegations, this particular red flag was flagged by the Pro Compliance Reports that were created for Respondent. Furthermore, all of the pharmacy customers in the allegations were dispensing controlled substances at 20 percent or more of their total dispensing—with one customer at one point dispensing as high as 69 percent controlled substances, see GX 26, at 11 (Wellness). The only exception was Bordelon's dispensing at 17 percent controlled substances, but which Pro Compliance reported as being "slightly higher than national average." GX 21, at 6. Furthermore, seven of the eight exemplar pharmacies demonstrated multiple red flags in addition to this one. It is indisputable that Respondent was aware of this red flag for each of these customers at a customer level due to the Pro Compliance Reports in its possession.

[16] The record contains varying evidence as to the threshold percentage of cash payments for controlled substance prescription fills at a pharmacy customer that would trigger a red flag for the distributor. See Tr. 328 (The GS testifying that any pharmacy customer exceeding 9 percent cash payments from customers should raise red flags); see also 1036-37 (Milione testifying that a high percentage of cash in controlled versus non controlled prescriptions is a red flag, but can be resolved with due diligence, the records of which must be maintained); Tr. 681 (Weinstein testifying that if a pharmacy has "a substantially higher percentage of cash payments for controlled substances than it did for a non-controlled substances, that would be a [potential] red flag of diversion," but that he does not have "a particular definition of substantial or significant," because it was more of a "relative comparison"); but see Tr. 649 (Weinstein answered that it was "fair" to say that when a distributor becomes aware of factors, such as cash payments, "they're significant red flags of diversion.").

for practitioners whose DEA registrations cannot be verified;[17] fills a disproportionate volume of controlled substance prescriptions written by only a few prescribers; and/or orders excessive quantities of a limited variety of controlled substances. Tr. 297, 299-301, 335, 411, 427, 489-90, 648-49, 681, 1037; see also Pro Compliance Reports GX 20-56. Weinstein noted that red flags are visible in a pharmacy's dispensing data and not its ordering data.[18] Tr. 679. Irelan admitted that, during the relevant time period, due diligence was not being applied at the ordering level.[19] Tr. 722-23.

Again, the Agency finds the exact percentage threshold for cash payments to be largely irrelevant to determine in this case, because in every instance of the Government's allegations, this particular red flag was flagged by the Pro Compliance Reports that were created for Respondent. As detailed herein, the percentages of cash paid by Respondent's customers at issue were also particularly high, see, e.g., 41 percent, GX 22, at 12 (Folse). It is indisputable that Respondent was aware of this red flag for each of these customers at a customer-level based on the Pro Compliance Reports in its possession.

[17] The Pro Compliance Reports additionally contain reports of prescribers whose DEA controlled substance registrations "could not be verified through DEA-Verify.com" and whose controlled substance prescriptions were filled by Respondent's customers. See, e.g., GX 22, at 17; Tr. 336 (June 2017 Report showing that Folse filled controlled substances prescribed by 23 practitioners whose registrations could not be verified). Both Irelan and Milione testified that the portion of the Pro Compliance Reports concerning the verification of prescriber DEA numbers is unreliable. Tr. 765-66, 797, 901. Milione also testified that a distributor needs to hold and report a suspicious order if it is aware that a customer is filling prescriptions for a practitioner with no DEA registration. Tr. 1025. Although the Agency agrees with the RD, at n.14, that during the relevant timeframe, there is no evidence in the record that Respondent resolved the red flags presented by these reports demonstrating unverified registrations, even if they were unreliable, the Agency also finds that there is more than enough evidence on the record that Respondent did not resolve the other clearly established red flags of diversion and therefore finds it unnecessary to address these additional red flags in this Decision.

[18] The fact that the red flags applied to the customer generally and not to each individual order, see ALJX 89, at 99, is irrelevant to this adjudication, because under the relevant legal requirements, Respondent cannot ignore red flags that demonstrate that its customers are potentially diverting controlled substances and continue to fill those individual orders without resolving each of those red flags. See Tr. 477-478. At a minimum, Respondent must either have stopped the shipments and reported orders to DEA or resolved and documented each of the red flags. See Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 222-23.

[19] It is noted that Respondent attempted to introduce and the ALJ rejected, Exhibit 32C, based on lack of identification. Tr. 447. Respondent's stated purpose was to impeach the Government's witness in demonstrating that Respondent's due diligence files did include photographs as described in its policy, Tr. 447, contrary to the GS's testimony that he did not "recall any" photographs, Tr. 322; RX 32C. The GS testified credibly that he did not recall seeing the file with the photograph "at all." Tr. 447. The Agency has reviewed the document and notes that it did include a photograph; however, the Agency is not finding that Respondent's compliance with its policy on this issue is relevant to this decision and, therefore, the exhibit marked for identification as RX 32C plays no role in the adjudication of this matter. Further, if this exhibit had been included in the record, standing alone, it bodes poorly for Respondent concerning its failure to report suspicious orders for terminated customers. See infra n.61.

The GS testified that when Respondent received the Pro Compliance Reports in GX 20-56 that demonstrated red flags of diversion, it was obligated to resolve the red flags and document their resolution. Tr. 474-76. Based on the record testimony of the experts, and the Masters decision, the Agency finds that when a distributor is aware of red flags indicating diversion of controlled substances from a customer, at a minimum, it is obligated to investigate further and resolve the red flags, or, if it chooses not to investigate and resolve, it must report the order as suspicious to DEA and not ship the controlled substances. See infra, section IV.A.4.

D. Pro Compliance and Market Basket Reports

In conducting customer due diligence, Respondent used, at least up to and including during the hearing, Pro Compliance Reports,[20] which provide analysis of a pharmacy's dispensing data to include key indicators of red flags of diversion, such as the percentage of a customer's business that represents controlled substance dispensing, the volume of cash payments, and the amount of trinity drug cocktails filled. Tr. 464-65, 716-17. In this case, the reports in Respondent's possession for the exemplar pharmacies demonstrated numerous red flags of diversion, and the Agency finds substantial record evidence that Respondent did not adequately document the resolution of those red flags or report the orders to DEA as suspicious.[21] Additionally, the reports in evidence for the exemplar pharmacies appear to demonstrate violations of Respondent's purported policy of "eliminating pharmacy customers who fill orders for controlled drugs in excess of acceptable ratios, accept cash payments, [20] Each Pro Compliance Report contains a statement regarding the Controlled Substances Act (CSA) requirement on manufacturers and distributors to design and operate a system that will disclose suspicious orders of controlled substances. See, e.g., GX 23, at 11; Tr. 355.

[21] Respondent argues that "the Government offered no evidence to demonstrate that Respondent failed to dispel suspicion." ALJX 89, at 100. The Agency finds this argument to be circular. Respondent did not maintain adequate documentation of its resolution of red flags or suspicious orders, so there is no evidence to demonstrate whether it did or did not conduct the due diligence necessary to resolve the red flags. See infra n.80. As described herein, the Agency requires documentation of Respondent's due diligence for many reasons.

prescribe the 'Holy Trinity' and/or other unacceptable practices." GX 9, at 1. According to Respondent, Market Basket Reports[22] were prepared for each customer on a monthly basis as part of its due diligence. GX 9, at 3-4. The reports identified percentages of controlled substances in total dispensing. Id.; see, e.g., GX 59. Respondent no longer uses Market Basket reports but continues to use Pro Compliance Reports. Tr. 716.

The GS testified that he did not find evidence that Respondent ever rejected a controlled substance order from any of the exemplar pharmacies, nor did he find documentation that Respondent dispelled all of the red flags in these reports. Tr. 385-86, 316,[23] 413.

1. Folse Pharmacy

The record evidence demonstrates that the Pro Compliance Initial Risk Evaluation Report provided to Respondent for Folse Pharmacy designated the pharmacy as "high risk." GX 22, at 5; Tr. 328. Further, Pro Compliance Reports for Folse Pharmacy in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Folse Pharmacy's dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including: high percentages[24] of controlled substance prescriptions, high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash,[25] an

[22] Respondent points out that the GS's testimony regarding the Market Basket reports was possibly based on a misinterpretation of the numbers. ALJX 89, at 30 (citing Tr. 409, 423-425). In adjudicating the allegations, this Decision focuses on the Pro Compliance Reports in which there is more than enough information to support the Agency's finding that the alleged customers presented red flags of diversion, the resolution of which was not adequately documented, yet Respondent continued to ship. The Market Basket Reports are only considered to demonstrate that Respondent was conducting some due diligence.

[23] Respondent points to Irelan's testimony to contest the notion that Respondent was not stopping shipments based on reports; however, the citations to his testimony support that Respondent was generally conducting some due diligence as it had described in its letters to DEA in response to the subpoena, not that the red flags at issue for the exemplar pharmacies were resolved. ALJX 89, at 16; see also, e.g., RX 31.001 (notes on pharmacies other than exemplar).

[24] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, percentages of controlled substances during the relevant time period ranged from approximately 30 to 36 percent of Folse's total dispensing. GX 22, at 12-17.

[25] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, percentages of controlled substance dispensing paid for in cash ranged from approximately 18 to 41 percent. GX 22, at 12-14, 17.

increase[26] in the number of oxycodone dosage units dispensed, and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[27] See RD, at 51-53. Furthermore, in June 2017, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Folse's owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices . . . ." GX 22, at 17. The record does not include evidence of an investigation into or resolution of the red flags identified. Further, the record is clear that Respondent did not report any orders from this customer to DEA as suspicious and there is no record evidence that Respondent stopped shipping to this customer as a result of these reports. Tr. 340; Stip. 13.

2. Bordelon's

Pro Compliance Reports for Bordelon's Super Save Pharmacy in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Bordelon's dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including: high percentages[28] of controlled substance prescriptions, higher than average oxycodone and hydrocodone units, and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[29] See RD, at 53-54. In March 2017, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Bordelon's owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices . . . ." GX 21, at 6. The record is clear that Respondent did not report any orders from this customer to DEA as suspicious and there is no record evidence that Respondent stopped shipping to this customer as a result of these reports. Tr. 347-48; Stip. 12.

3. Wallace Drug Company

[26] Between September 2013 and November 2014, the number of oxycodone dosage units dispensed increased from 40,812 to 52,571. GX 22, at 12; Tr. 330-31 (The GS describing this increase as "a very big red flag"); see also Tr. 471-74.

[27] In June 2017, Folse dispensed nine trinity drug cocktails and in September 2016, Folse dispensed twenty-two trinity drug cocktails. GX 22, at 17, 14; Tr. 300, 335-36.

[28] In March 2017, the percentage of controlled substances dispensed represented 17 percent of Bordelon's total dispensing, which Pro Compliance reported to be "slightly higher than national averages." GX 21, at 5-6.

[29] In March 2017, Bordelon's dispensed four trinity drug cocktails. GX 20, at 5-6.

Pro Compliance Reports for Wallace in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Wallace's dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including, but not limited to: high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash,[30] higher than average dosages of oxycodone and hydrocodone, and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[31] See RD, at 54-55. In August 2017, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Wallace's owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices." GX 20, at 6. Respondent produced phone log entries on January 9, 2018, for Wallace. See GX 14, at 31 (note stating that the pharmacy salesman had been contacted and Respondent recommended that he return the order, noting "might need to check on this guy" and "looks like he is hitting this stuff hard!"). Another note on the same date states that the customer was contacted and the customer explained the large order. According to the note, Respondent's employee recommended the return of the hydrocodone and the customer returned it. This note did not occur until five months after the Pro Compliance Report for Wallace, which demonstrated multiple additional red flags of diversion for which there is no documented resolution. Therefore, it is unclear whether the employee flagging this particular order knew that there might be further reason to suspect that this pharmacy was engaging in diversion in order to be able to adequately resolve the suspicious circumstances surrounding the order. Even if this note arguably provided a documented resolution of an unusually large order, the other red flags for this customer are unresolved and unaccounted for. There is also no record evidence that Respondent reported the unusually large order or any orders from this customer to DEA and there is no record evidence that Respondent stopped shipping to this customer as a result of these reports or notes. Tr. 353; Stip. 11.

[30] In August 2017, 31 percent of controlled substance prescriptions filled by Wallace were paid for in cash. GX 20, at 5.

[31] In August 2017, Wallace dispensed three trinity drug cocktails. GX 20, at 5-6; Tr. 349-50.

4. Pharmacy Specialties Group

Pro Compliance Reports for Pharmacy Specialties in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Pharmacy Specialties' dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including: high percentages[32] of controlled substance prescriptions, high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash,[33] an increase[34] in the number of hydrocodone, oxycodone, and benzodiazepine dosage units dispensed, and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[35] See RD, at 55-57. In February 2016, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Pharmacy Specialties' owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices." GX 23, at 6. Respondent's phone logs demonstrate that an employee raised a concern on March 7, 2016, regarding Pharmacy Specialties Group; however, there is no record documentation of how the concern was resolved and Respondent continued to distribute. See GX 14, at 4 ("[C]heck out this guys usage for item [] compared to his overall warehouse purchasing, this seems quite elevated to me.....????"). This note identifies a suspicious order; however, according to the record evidence, Respondent did not report the order to DEA. Further, there is no documented investigation or resolution of the concern raised by the employee in the record. On December 13, 2017, another note reads, "Henry will give the customer a warning about his Oxy purchases.

[32] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, the percentages of controlled substances ranged from approximately 24 to 30 percent of Pharmacy Specialties' total dispensing. GX 23, at 5, 18; Tr. 353-54.
[33] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, the percentages of controlled substances dispensing paid for in cash ranged from approximately 28 percent to 31 percent. GX 23, at 5-6, 16, 18, 18.
[34] From February 2016 to October 2016, the number of hydrocodone dosage units dispensed increased by 25 percent, while from October 2016 to September 2017, the number of dosage units of oxycodone, hydrocodone, and benzodiazepines dispensed increased by 148, 89, and 106 percent respectively. GX 23, at 16, 18; Tr. 358-59.
[35] In February 2016, October 2016, and September 2017, Pharmacy Specialties dispensed trinity drug cocktails. GX 23, at 6, 16; Tr. 355, 358-59.

Too much cash, too much growth. Will re-run and if no improvement will either restrict or cut off completely." Id. at 31. Although this note seems to set forth a plan for compliance, it does not include any indication of an investigation into or resolution of the red flags identified. Further, the record evidence is clear that Respondent did not report this order or any orders from this customer to DEA and there is no record evidence that Respondent stopped shipping to this customer as a result of these reports. Tr. 362; Stip. 14.

5. Dave's Pharmacy

Pro Compliance Reports for Dave's Pharmacy in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Dave's dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including: high percentages[36] of controlled substance prescriptions, high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash,[37] increases[38] in the number of oxycodone dosage units dispensed, and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[39] See RD, at 57-59. In March 2014, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Dave's owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices. . . ."[40] GX 24, at 6. It also states that this pharmacy "represents a relatively high risk to [Respondent]." Id. (emphasis in original). A year later, on February 16, 2017, Respondent's phone logs contain the following

[36] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, percentages of controlled substances during the relevant time period ranged from approximately 20 to 22 percent of Dave's total dispensing. GX 24, at 5, 18-21, 24, 30; Tr. 362-67.

[37] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, percentages of controlled substance dispensing paid for in cash ranged from approximately 17 to 35 percent. GX 24, at 18-21, 23, 24, 30; Tr. 364-67.

[38] For example, from March 2014 to January 2015, the number of oxycodone dosage units dispensed increased from 17,889 to 29,994, and from May 2014 compared to December 2015, the number of dosage units of oxycodone increased by 205 percent. GX 24, at 18, 19, 21; Tr. 364; see also RD, at 57-59.

[39] Between March 2014 and January 2015, Dave's dispensed 57 trinity drug cocktails. GX 24, at 18; Tr. 364. Between May 2014 and December 2015, Dave's dispensed 27 trinity drug cocktails, and between December 2015 and June 2016, Dave's dispensed 33 trinity drug cocktails. GX 24, at 19-20. Tr. 365-66. Further, between June and November 2016, Dave's dispensed 37 trinity drug cocktails and in June 2017, Dave's dispensed 14. GX 24, at 21, 24.

[40] This Pro Compliance Report identifies Dave's second highest prescriber as having eighty-five incidents of prescribing trinity drug cocktails.

note about Dave's: "Talked to [D.J.] about the issues at his store. He will let the doctors know that he will no longer be filling these scripts." GX 14, at 23. According to the record evidence, Respondent did not elicit or document an explanation for the red flags and the record is clear that Respondent never reported this order or any orders from this customer to DEA. Further, there is no record evidence that Respondent stopped shipping to this customer as a result of these reports. Tr. 384-85; Stip. 15.

6. Hephzibah Pharmacy

A Pro Compliance Report for Hephzibah Pharmacy in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Hephzibah's dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including: high percentages[41] of controlled substance prescriptions, high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash,[42] and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[43] See RD, at 59-60. In February 2017, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Hephzibah's owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices. . . ." GX 25, at 6.

Jacob Dickson sent an email to a DI stating that Respondent had ceased business with Hephzibah because Respondent did not support the customers who "wished to change their business model;" however, Respondent "did not find these accounts to exhibit suspicious activity or excessive orders." GX 72, at 1. Respondent's phone logs state on March 17, 2017, that "they must work on clearing up issues that Pro Compliance found, high cash, trinity & high quantities on Hydrocodone and Oxycodone. Will re-run in 90 days." GX 14, at 23. On March 21, 2017, [41] In February 2017, controlled substance prescriptions constituted 27 percent of Hephzibah's total dispensing. GX 25, at 6; Tr. 370-71.

[43] In February 2017, Hephzibah dispensed nine trinity drug cocktails. GX 25, at 5-6; Tr. 371.

there is a follow up entry that states, "After a couple of months, they decided they would rather change wholesalers than cooperate with our compliance program." Id. at 26. Although the notes demonstrate that Respondent was conducting some due diligence, this statement contradicts Jacob Dickson's email asserting that Respondent terminated the business relationship and also that Respondent did not find the accounts to exhibit suspicious activity when it clearly had identified red flags through Pro Compliance Reports. See GX 72, at 1 (listing Hephzibah Pharmacy as an account that Respondent "chose to close").[44]

7. The Wellness Pharmacy

Pro Compliance Reports for the Wellness Pharmacy in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Wellness's dispensing practices raised red flags of very high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions and high numbers of dosage units of hydrocodone and oxycodone. See RD, at 60-61. Although Pro Compliance's initial risk assessment evaluated Wellness as "low risk," it also revealed that between April and June 2013, 67 percent of all prescriptions dispensed by Wellness were for controlled substances. Further Pro Compliance Reports during the relevant time period demonstrated that Wellness's percentage of controlled substance prescriptions continued to range from approximately 64 to 69 percent. GX 26, at 10-12, 14, 21; Tr. 374. There is no record evidence that Respondent reported these orders to DEA or any orders from this pharmacy, documented the resolution of the red flags, or stopped shipping to this customer as a result of the red flags that these reports identified. Tr. 384-85; Stip. 17.

8. Wilkinson Family Pharmacy

[44] The Agency agrees with the ALJ's finding that the phone log note deserves more weight as to what occurred with this pharmacy than Jacob Dickson's email. RD, at 136 n.60.

Pro Compliance Reports for Wilkinson Family Pharmacy in Respondent's possession demonstrated that during the time period of the allegations, Wilkinson's dispensing practices raised numerous red flags, including: high percentages[45] of controlled substance prescriptions, increases in oxycodone, high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash,[46] higher than average dosages of oxycodone and hydrocodone, and dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions.[47] See RD, at 61-63. In January 2017, a Pro Compliance Report recommended that Respondent engage with Wilkinson's owner to "gain a better understanding of [its] dispensing practices." GX 27, at 26.[48] There is no record evidence that Respondent reported these orders or any orders from this customer to DEA, or stopped shipping to this customer as a result of these reports. Tr. 384-85; Stip. 19.

The Government has presented substantial record evidence that Respondent distributed controlled substances to the exemplar pharmacies during the relevant time period in the face of

[45]According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, percentages of controlled substances during the relevant time period ranged from approximately 9 to 42 percent of Wilkinson's total dispensing. GX 27, at 20-23. 25-26; Tr. 367, 378-380.

[46] According to the Pro Compliance Reports in evidence, percentages of controlled substance dispensing paid for in cash ranged from approximately 17 to 38 percent and cash paid for non-controlled substance prescriptions was significantly lower. GX 27, at 20-23; Tr. 378-380.

[47] Between March 2014 and January 2015, Wilkinson dispensed twenty-six trinity drug cocktails. GX 27, at 21; Tr. 378. Between January 2015 and January 2016, Wilkinson dispensed twenty-one trinity drug cocktails, and between December January 2016, and August 2016, Wilkinson dispensed twenty trinity drug cocktails. GX 27, at 22-23. Tr. 379. Further, in January 2017, Wilkinson dispensed fourteen trinity drug cocktails, and in June 2017, Wilkinson dispensed 14. GX 27, at 26, 32.

[48] Respondent produced an email from March 4, 2014, from Wilkinson, which appeared to be in response to a Pro Compliance Report that Respondent had sent to Wilkinson. Wilkinson's explanation primarily focuses on cash payments. RX 05.001. The GS testified that this showed "some" due diligence. Tr. 452. There was extensive dispute about the introduction of this exhibit during the hearing. Tr. 453-458. It appeared that Respondent did try to offer the exhibit into evidence, Tr. 453, and then offered it subject to connection. Tr. 455. The ALJ ultimately determined to send it to the Agency as part of the administrative record. RD, at 104 n.41. The Agency has considered this exhibit because the contested nature of the hearing at this point has made it difficult to determine whether this exhibit was offered. The exhibit demonstrates that Respondent conducted "some" due diligence on Wilkinson. However, it is noted that the document does not demonstrate the resolution of each of the red flags of diversion, nor does it reflect any independent analysis of Respondent's statements regarding the cash red flag. Ultimately, the Agency accepts that Respondent conducted "some" due diligence for Wilkinson. Further, even if Respondent had adequately resolved the red flags for this pharmacy, there is more than enough evidence of Respondent's failures to conduct due diligence to support the Agency's finding that Respondent's registrations are inconsistent with the public interest.

red flags of diversion, including high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions, high percentages of controlled substance prescriptions paid for in cash, dispensing of trinity cocktail prescriptions, and increases and higher than average dosages of particular schedule II controlled substances. All of these red flags were specifically identified by Pro Compliance Reports in Respondent's possession. Although some of the notations provided by Respondent demonstrated that employees had suspicions about certain orders and had made some contacts, none of the notations adequately resolved the red flags and none of the orders were reported to DEA as suspicious. In the documents Respondent produced to DEA, the GS did not find any indication that the Compliance officer stopped shipment of any order of controlled substances identified as suspicious. Tr. 315-16, 385. It is noted that most of these customers displayed not just one red flag, but multiple red flags of diversion—most of them well over any arguable threshold that would require investigation, see supra notes 15-16—and there is insufficient record evidence that Respondent conducted or documented due diligence to resolve these numerous red flags of diversion presented by its customers.

E. Suspicious Orders under 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b)

The Government alleged that Respondent failed to design and operate an effective system to disclose to Respondent suspicious orders and to report those orders to DEA. OSC, at 8. DEA used statistical analysis of orders placed by Respondent's customers for oxycodone and hydrocodone to "identify extremely large individual pharmacy transactions and extremely large monthly volume totals," in order to demonstrate the failures of Respondent's SOM system and reporting. Id. The GS explained that the reporting of suspicious orders is particularly important for DEA to be able to "conduct an investigation" and identify potential diversion. Tr. 284-86.

G.R. testified regarding the statistical analysis that he performed for the investigation, including his use of a statistical methodology called the Tukey method to identify outlier transactions that represented possible suspicious orders. Tr. 225; 236-37. G.R. testified that Tukey uses an interquartile range, which is the difference between the first and third quartiles, and then is multiplied by a factor of one-and-a-half to six (IQR multiplier). Tr. 202. Although there is no single multiplier to use, Tr. 523, the higher the IQR multiplier, the fewer outliers will be identified. Tr. 523-24. G.R. used an IQR multiplier of 3 to calculate a smaller group of outliers to identify "what are called far out or extreme outliers." Tr. 203, 233, 242. G.R. testified that the transactions that he identified using three IQR above the 75th percentile represented unusually large transactions, which would normally occur less than one percent of the time. Tr. 238-39.

G.R. testified that he analyzed Respondent's sales of oxycodone and hydrocodone from January 1, 2014, to April 30, 2018, and compared every transaction the pharmacy made from January 1, 2014, to April 30, 2018, against every other transaction made during the same time period to the same pharmacy, which he called a "fixed-frame analysis." Tr. 197-98; 226-27. He credibly testified that he used the fixed-frame analysis because he was looking for "a ballpark estimate of scale, size of outlier population," as opposed to the exact number of outliers. Tr. 227, 234.

Government Exhibits 65 and 66 contain all of the transactions concerning oxycodone shipments that Respondent reported to DEA between January 1, 2014, and April 30, 2018, as well as the results of G.R.'s corrected analysis using the above-described methodology. Tr. 71-72. GX 65, 66; Tr. 71-72, 211-12. G.R.'s corrected analysis identified the following amounts of Respondent's oxycodone and hydrocodone sales as outliers, i.e., unusually large, from January 1, 2014, to April 30, 2018.

Tr. 212-13; GX 65-66, at Summary tab; Government Demonstrative Exhibit (GDX), at 10.

G.R.'s corrected analysis also identified approximately 450 potential outliers for Respondent's oxycodone and hydrocodone sales for seven[50] of the exemplar pharmacies from January 1, 2014, to April 30, 2018. Tr. 213-14, 216-17, 243; GDX, at 11.[51] See RD, at 68 for table. The Agency is considering the review of the exemplar pharmacies' unusually large orders for oxycodone and hydrocodone only to further demonstrate the general failure of Respondent to identify, investigate and report suspicious orders.[52]

In response to criticism from Respondent's expert, G.R. also conducted a "look-back analysis," which, according to G.R., produced results "consistent with what [he] found using the"[53] fixed-frame analysis method. Tr. 228, 235. In his look-back analysis, G.R. looked at "the entire population" and not only the seven exemplar pharmacies in the OSC showing unusually

[49] January 1, 2018, to April 30, 2018. Tr. 212, 226.
[50] G.R.'s corrected analysis did not identify any unusually large transactions of oxycodone or hydrocodone that Respondent shipped to Hephzibah Pharmacy. ALJX 14, at 4; Tr. 230. However, the Pro Compliance Report for Hephzibah Pharmacy demonstrated multiple red flags of diversion. Supra section III.D.6.
[51] The tables reflect transaction size, not frequency. Tr. 244.
[52] It is noted that Weinstein conducted a "look-back" analysis of G.R.'s data; Tr. 537-38, 550-51, 693, RDX-4; see also RD, at 73 (table analyzing these amounts). The Agency acknowledges that Respondent demonstrated Weinstein's analysis produced significantly lower results; "nearly half of the outlier transactions he identified in 2017 and 2018 would not have been identified as outliers." ALJX 89, at 38 (citing Tr. 529-30, 568; RX 28 and 29)).
[53] Respondent argued in its Exceptions that G.R.'s look-back analysis could not be characterized as "substantially similar" to the fixed-frame analysis because although the numerical size of outliers was similar, each analysis found substantially different outliers. Resp Exceptions, at 41-42. Respondent's point is noted; however, both analyses identified numerous outliers and, ultimately, the number of outliers that could have represented suspicious orders under both analyses far exceeded the three that Respondent reported to DEA during the relevant timeframe. Further, Respondent did not demonstrate adequate documentation of its resolution of suspicious orders nor is there information on the record that Respondent stopped shipping.

large transactions. Tr. 230. G.R. testified that statistical analysis is "one piece of the analysis that is necessary to comply with DEA's regulations governing distributors." Tr. 223-24, 1084-90. See GX 73 and 74 (analysis using the look-back methodology that Weinstein recommended). The look-back analysis for oxycodone transactions revealed 6,816 outlier transactions, a 6 percent reduction when compared to the fixed-frame analysis of 7,252 that the Government previously found. Tr. 1091; GX 73, at Summary tab. The look-back analysis for hydrocodone transactions revealed 5,222 outlier transactions, a 5.5 percent increase when compared to the fixed-frame analysis of 4,948 that the Government previously found. Tr. 1092; GX 74, at Summary tab.[54]

Respondent presented the testimony of its own expert, Weinstein, who opined that G.R.'s analysis failed to reliably identify unusually large or suspicious orders. Tr. 558. Weinstein based his criticism of G.R.'s analysis on four factors: 1) the use of a four-year fixed-frame as opposed to the look-back method; 2) the failure to consider the schedule change of hydrocodone in late 2014 from schedule III to schedule II; 3) the failure to consider package size and formulation; and 4) the use of the line item approach as opposed to a cumulative approach. RD, at 70; Tr. 525-28, 541-46, 558.

Weinstein credibly explained his criticisms of G.R.'s analysis in detail, opining that the factors he identified both over-estimated, see, e.g., Tr. 552, and under-estimated, see, e.g., Tr. 552-53, the number of outliers that could have potentially constituted suspicious orders.

[54] Respondent contests the Government's introduction of this rebuttal evidence in its Exceptions. Resp Exceptions, at 40-41. As further explained herein, the Agency credits Weinstein's criticism of G.R.'s analysis. The exact number of unreported suspicious orders is unnecessary for the Government to prove or the Agency to conclude in finding a violation because Respondent was responsible for creating and maintaining an adequate SOM system and identifying and reporting suspicious orders. Here, it is clear from the evidence that Respondent's SOM system during the relevant timeframe was inadequate.

Weinstein notably "did not conduct an original analysis to determine, retrospectively, which of Respondent's orders from 2014 through 2018 should have been identified as suspicious." Resp Exceptions, at 40; see also RD, at 25, 75. Respondent argues that it is not Respondent's burden to do so. Resp Exceptions, at 40 (citing Steadman v. Securities and Exchange Comm'n, 450 U.S. 91, 100-03 (1981); Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473; 21 C.F.R. § 130.44(e)).

Even if the Agency fully credits Weinstein's criticism of G.R.'s analysis, the Government has clearly demonstrated its prima facie case that Respondent failed to design and operate a system to identify suspicious orders and report them to DEA and Respondent admits as much. See, e.g., Tr. 666 (Weinstein testifying that the numbers run in early 2018 would have identified suspicious orders in similar quantities to what Respondent is currently reporting); Tr. 813 (Irelan testifying that he accepts responsibility for the Government's allegations in the OSC, paragraph 10, regarding the failure to design and operate an adequate SOM system). The G.R. analysis, according to G.R.'s credible testimony, offered a ballpark estimate of the scale of suspicious orders that Respondent neglected to identify and report to DEA. RD, at 12, and 136; accord Tr. 404 (The GS testifying that he asked G.R. to conduct an analysis "to get a sense of just mathematically quantifying how many suspicious orders could theoretically have been missed by Morris & Dickson"[55]). Respondent argued that the Government's case was founded[56] on [55] It is noted that Respondent uses a different quote from the GS that stated that the intent of the analysis was "to quantify, you know, just how many orders are we talking about that fell outside of just a normal pattern or set amount" and that "the analysis showed that there were roughly, 14,000 orders that should have been reported as suspicious based on the quantity that was ordered." Respondent's Exceptions, at 45 (quoting Tr. 293). Given the several contextual parameters that the GS used in these statements, like "just a normal pattern or set amount" and "based on the quantity that was ordered," the Agency does not find this statement to be inconsistent with the GS's statement at Tr. 404, regarding the purpose of G.R.'s analysis.

[56] The Government's Prehearing Statement states that G.R. "will testify that a standard statistical outlier analysis is a reasonable method to identify unusual transactions in the context of pharmaceutical distribution." ALJX 7, at 6. The description of G.R.'s testimony in both the Government's Prehearing Statement and Third Supplemental Prehearing establishing specific outliers that Respondent failed report to DEA as suspicious orders. Resp Exceptions, at 43 (citing e.g., OSC, at 37, 46, 54, 65, 74, 84, 93); see also ALJX 52, at 20. However, the Agency does not find it necessary to count and identify the exact number of specific outliers, and the reason why is simple. Respondent is charged with violating a non-prescriptive regulation, which clearly places the burden on the distributor to design and operate a system to disclose to the distributor suspicious orders of controlled substances under Agency guidelines.[57] The DEA regulations notably do not prescribe exactly what SOM system to use or what constitutes a suspicious order—what constitutes an order of unusual size, an order deviating substantially from a normal pattern, etc. Respondent, in its defense, did not attempt to demonstrate that the system that it had in place during the relevant time period adequately identified suspicious orders—in fact, Irelan took responsibility for Respondent's SOM system failures and failure to adequately report suspicious orders to DEA. Tr. 731, 733. Based on the evidence in the record and Respondent's admitted failures, the Agency finds that Respondent clearly violated 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b) in failing to design and operate its system and in failing to investigate or report suspicious orders to DEA. Respondent's attempts to distract the Agency from the notion that it did not adequately meet the regulatory obligation by picking apart DEA's ballpark estimate demonstrating the potential magnitude of Respondent's violations are unavailing. The Agency notes that Respondent contests the quantity of suspicious orders that G.R. identified as unreported to DEA; but G.R.'s analysis, which he notably calibrated to only

Statement discusses the manner in which G.R. arrived at his calculations and established reasonable thresholds. Id. at 6-8; ALJX 52, at 20 ("G.R. will testify that his analysis identified the following unusually large transactions for the exemplar pharmacies."). The Agency additionally agrees with the rationale of the ALJ that G.R.'s testimony regarding the intent of his statistical analysis did not give rise to a new allegation. See RD, at 96 n.33.

[57] The December 20, 2007 letter that DEA sent to manufacturers and distributors stated that "[t]he regulation clearly indicates that it is the sole responsibility of the registrant to design and operate such a system. Accordingly, DEA does not approve or otherwise endorse any specific system for reporting suspicious orders." GX 4, at 1.

identify extreme outliers, Tr. 203, shows that the number of unreported suspicious orders for these two controlled substances during the relevant timeframe could have potentially been in the thousands.[58]

F. Respondent's Policies and Procedures During the Relevant Timeframe

Respondent produced a Policies and Procedure Manual and a Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) Manual in response to DEA's investigation. GX 17 and 18. The Policies and Procedure Manual states, "Where a Compliance Officer sees a ratio of controlled drugs ordered out of the normal range, or the overall quantity is too high compared with the volume of the account, the Compliance Officer has a duty to investigate by calling the account. The Compliance Officer may stop shipment on any order if he or she finds the order to be unusually suspicious." GX 17, at 12. The Policies and Procedures Manual notably does not indicate an obligation to report suspicious orders to DEA. The GS testified that in his review of Respondent's records, he did not see documentation of stopped suspicious orders. Tr. 315-16. The SOP Manual[59] states that Respondent "keeps a system in operation which is designed to discover those purchasing patterns of controlled substances which exceed the norm and could possibly be related to diversion activities." GX 18, at 19. The GS testified that this statement does not adequately reflect the obligations in 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). Tr. 307. Further, although the SOP Manual describes various analytical reports regarding drug sales and drug volumes, the GS testified that he did not see any references to these reports in Respondent's relevant records. Tr. 308-09, 491. The SOP Manual does clearly state that "[w]hen a suspicious pattern or purchase is identified by any of the above methods the customer is contacted in some but not all cases and asked for a written explanation for the unusual order. In all cases,[60] a letter is sent to the DEA indicating a possible suspicious order." GX 18, at 20.

[58] Respondent further made arguments related to what it determined as inconsistent analysis in the RD related to G.R.'s outlier numbers. Resp Exceptions, at 44-46. The Agency finds that G.R.'s analysis provides a ballpark of the egregiousness of Respondent's failures to design and operate the required system. See Tr. 227, 224.
[59] The SOP Manual states that the details of Respondent's suspicious order monitoring program "are confidential and therefore are not made a part of this manual." Tr. 306; GX 18, at 17.

G. Respondent's Former SOM System

Irelan testified that Respondent's SOM system during the time period comprising the allegations (former SOM System) was "not as robust as what we have today." Tr. 738-40 (citing e.g., GX 19, at 3); see also RX 31.001 and 31.002 (notes that were part of Respondent's former SOM System). The former SOM system included: know your customer efforts; an electronic customer profile (ECP); a market basket system; reports from Pro Compliance; direct contact with and soliciting of information from customers; and reliance on Respondent's sales force and those who actually filled orders for controlled substances. Tr. 866-70; GX 9, at 2-3; GX 17, at 12; GX 18, at 19-20.

Irelan testified that Respondent's former SOM system would send an email or text message to the compliance officer, C.G., when an order was flagged as suspicious and the order would ship if C.G. did not take action to stop it. Tr. 728, 778.

Irelan testified that Respondent's former SOM system was "not consistent with best practices . . . . because it didn't hold the order. It didn't give an opportunity to resolve red flags before shipping." Tr. 729. Additionally, Irelan testified that "the calculation that the system was using [to identify potentially suspicious orders] was only using ten times a 90-day average," which made it "inadequate." Tr. 729; see also Tr. 321-22 (The GS testimony that 8 times the average could still be a suspicious order); Tr. 652 (Weinstein testifying that this calculation was not sufficient based on DEA guidance). Regarding the former SOM system, Milione testified that his "understanding is they accepted that there were things wrong with it, that the reporting to DEA was insufficient." Tr. 989. Further, he stated, "it was clear that there was an issue" and that after reviewing the system, his company told Respondent that "there are certain things that should be enhanced knowing what DEA expected." Tr. 990-91. For example, "one of the big things was a way to flag orders [in] real time and in an appropriate way with some kind of an algorithm and then report those flagged orders to DEA." Tr. 991.

[60] The GS testified that customers should be contacted in all cases. Tr. 484. Masters may provide some room for nuance if Respondent stops shipment of the orders and reports to DEA; however, none of this nuance is represented in the SOP Manual. Additionally, the policy states that "in all cases," DEA is required to be notified, when in fact, DEA was only notified three times during the relevant time period and the record evidence established that Respondent neither reported to DEA nor adequately documented the resolution of red flags for the exemplar pharmacies or generally for suspicious orders during the relevant time period. See supra III.D.

Respondent also argues that as a result of its former SOM system, it had ceased supplying controlled substances to 42 pharmacies from 2014 to 2016. RX 11, at 14 (powerpoint slide); Tr. 871. Respondent's expert acknowledged that if those customers had been terminated based on Respondent's SOM program, it should have filed suspicious order reports with DEA. Tr. 1015-16; see also Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,477 (holding that a distributor discovering a suspicious order must either stop shipping and report to DEA or investigate and resolve the red flags). If Respondent stopped shipping and terminated a customer as a result of discovering a suspicious order, that order should have been reported to DEA. There is no evidence that the 42 customers from 2014 to 2016 were reported to DEA—in fact, the evidence establishes that there was only one suspicious order report filed during this timeframe on April 7, 2014. See GX 6, at 1.[61]

[61] It is also noted that Jacob Dickson's letter stated that Respondent had ceased supplying 142 retail pharmacies "due to questions and concerns that the pharmacies were overdispensing controlled substances. After ceasing doing business with these 'bad accounts' [Respondent] has seen very few examples which would justify the reporting of a suspicious order." GX 9, at 5. Milione testified that Mr. Dickson "specifically took pride in being able to say, look, this—every year there has been this—this many customers that they focused on and identified. And I think—I don't know the exact math. It was 125, 135 customers from 2008 to 2016 that were terminated or suspended . . . based upon their compliance suspicious order monitoring program." Tr. 870-71. Respondent provided transcribed testimony from Mr. Dickson in a separate hearing stating that Respondent eliminated 142 customers "because in

Respondent requested confidentiality related to its current SOM system and policies; therefore, this Decision incorporates by reference the findings of the RD related to Respondent's system and summarizes herein at as high a level as possible while appropriately adjudicating the facts.[62] See RD, at 75-82. Guidepost[63] undertook seven corrective measures on Respondent's behalf. Tr. 882. Those measures included: (1) establishing an anti-diversion compliance regulatory affairs team; (2) enhancing Respondent's SOM system; (3) redeveloping Respondent's ECP; (4) enhancing Respondent's "know your customer protocols"; (5) enhancing Respondent's due diligence investigative protocols; (6) conducting employee training; and (7) documenting everything and reporting to DEA. Tr. 882-900. The Analysis Group, Inc., (AGI) was also brought in to develop a live real-time order monitoring system that would identify suspicious orders. Tr. 885. Between May 14, 2018, and July 29, 2018, Respondent submitted 58 suspicious order reports to the DEA. RX 20. In those 58 reports, Respondent informed the DEA some form or fashion they might have been suspicious and diverting." RX 1, at 61. It is unclear how many of these customers were terminated during the relevant timeframe—other than the 42 customers that were terminated during 2014 to 2016. Without the benefit of evidence or testimony regarding the circumstances of the terminations during the relevant timeframe, it is difficult for the Agency to determine what weight to give these terminations, see RD, at n.32; however, the language on the record describing these orders as "suspicious and diverting" or "overdispensing" or "bad accounts" certainly brings into question whether they could constitute additional violations of the suspicious order reporting requirement. See also RD, at 136. In sum, without further evidence explaining the circumstances of the terminations or the reasons why they were unreported to DEA, the Agency cannot give Respondent's terminations during the relevant timeframe the weight that Respondent requests to demonstrate its compliance. These terminations are not being considered as further violations of DEA regulations, but they are also not given weight for Respondent in the public interest inquiry. Finally, the Agency notes that whether Respondent's SOM System was adequate prior to the relevant timeframe is not a matter currently before the Agency.

[62] See, e.g., Tr. 15 (Respondent requesting confidentiality based on "proprietary trade secrets of the Analysis Group regarding the customized suspicious order monitoring system that they have developed for the Respondent, as well as all of the different functionality of the Respondent's suspicious order monitoring system."); ALJX 82. The Agency has provided a high-level summary of these improvements to demonstrate consideration of the scope of Respondent's remedial measures. The numbers of suspicious orders have been included because the Agency finds this information to be relevant to the adjudication of this matter.

of approximately 3,915 suspicious orders. Id. Applying Respondent's new SOM program to its orders from early 2018, Weinstein identified a similar number of suspicious orders.[64] Tr. 666, 676, 682-83. Respondent's current SOM system holds customer's orders as "potentially suspicious" and prevents the orders from being shipped until the Compliance team has reviewed. Tr. 668-69, 672; 582. Furthermore, Respondent currently documents its due diligence regarding suspicious orders in the Enhanced Customer Profiles in a readily-retrievable format. Tr. 737, 716; RD, at 79.

IV. ANALYSIS

A distributor's registration may be suspended or revoked upon a finding that the distributor "has committed such acts as would render [its] registration under section 823 of this title inconsistent with the public interest as determined under such section . . . ." 21 U.S.C. § 824(a)(4). With regard to distributors of schedule II controlled substances, Congress has set forth five factors to consider when determining whether the distributor's registration would be in the public interest. The factors to be considered are:

> (1) maintenance of effective control against diversion of particular controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific, and industrial channels;
> (2) compliance with applicable State and local law;
> (3) prior conviction record of applicant under Federal or State laws relating to the manufacture, distribution, or dispensing of such substances;
> (4) past experience in the distribution of controlled substances; and

[64] Although Respondent did not run its new system on the old data during the time period covered by the OSC, Tr. 682, 686, Weinstein did testify that Respondent applied its current SOM system to the orders Respondent received in early 2018 (covering some of the allegations in the OSC) and Weinstein testified that using the current SOM system "[c]ertainly there were some that would have been identified in those months. And in a similar number to what's being identified currently." Tr. 666; see also Tr. 676 (data from April 2018 (in the relevant timeframe) produced a roughly similar volume of flagged orders, which "tends to be in the hundreds each month that are identified by the thresholds"). It is noted that these numbers reflect the quantity of orders that would have been flagged for suspicion and does not "take into account any due diligence" etc. Tr. 677. This testimony is not included in this Decision to prove the number of suspicious orders that DEA should have received in early 2018, but, instead, is included to further support the Agency's finding that Respondent's suspicious order monitoring and reporting during the relevant timeframe was insufficient to meet the regulatory requirements.

The Agency considers these public interest factors in the disjunctive and may rely on any one or a combination of factors and give each factor the weight the Agency deems appropriate in determining whether to revoke a registration or to deny a pending application for renewal of a registration. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,472 (applying DEA decisions on the public interest factors in 21 U.S.C. § 823(f) to the public interest factors for distributors in 21 U.S.C. § 823(b) and (e)); see also Southwood Pharm, Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,497-98. Any one factor, or combination of factors, may be decisive. David H. Gillis, M.D., 58 Fed. Reg. 37,507, 37,508 (1993). There is no need to enter findings on each of the factors.[66] Hoxie v. Drug Enf't Admin., 419 F.3d 477, 482 (6th Cir. 2005); Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473.

The Government bears the initial burden of proof and must justify revocation by a preponderance of the evidence. Steadman, 450 U.S. at 100-03; Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473; 21 C.F.R. § 1301.44(e). If the Government makes a prima facie case for revocation, then the burden of proof shifts to the registrant to show why its continued registration

[65] 21 U.S.C. § 823(e) also applies to distributors of controlled substances. The section sets forth the identical factors to be considered regarding a registration to distribute controlled substances in schedules III, IV, and V, as are contained in 21 U.S.C. § 823(b) concerning schedules I and II. The Government's allegations are focused primarily on Respondent's distribution of schedule II controlled substances, but in 2014, during the time period of the allegations, hydrocodone was changed from a schedule III to a schedule II controlled substance. Tr. 539. Additionally, Respondent is a registered distributor of controlled substances in schedules II-V; therefore, the Agency, even when referring only to (b), considers the identical public interest factors under both sections 823(b) and (e) in this section.

[66] Respondent argues that "an independent consideration of each of these [five] factors [at 21 U.S.C. § 823(b)(1–5)] weigh[s] against a finding that Respondent's continued registration is inconsistent with the public interest." ALJX 89, para. 291. In other words, although the Government only submitted evidence relevant to Factor One and Factor Four, Respondent urges the Agency to find evidence relevant to all five Factors. The Agency declines to adjudicate, at Respondent's request, arguments that the Government did not make, yet notes that if it were to do as Respondent requests, the ensuing analysis of all five Factors would continue to point to the revocation of Respondent's registration.

would not be inconsistent with the public interest. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473; see also Med. Shoppe—Jonesborough, 73 Fed. Reg. 364, 387 (2008).

In this case, the Government contends that Respondent's continued registrations are inconsistent with the public interest based on Factors One and Four. ALJ-90, at 27-29.

A. Respondent's Failure to Maintain Effective Controls Against Diversion and its Experience with Controlled Substances (Factors One and Four) [67]

With respect to Factor One, concerning the maintenance of effective controls against diversion, DEA has promulgated regulations to guide the regulated community. Specifically,

> All applicants and registrants shall provide effective controls and procedures to guard against theft and diversion of controlled substances. In order to determine whether a registrant has provided effective controls against diversion, the Administrator shall use the security requirements set forth in [21 C.F.R.] §§ 1301.72-1301.76 as standards for the physical security controls and operating procedures necessary to prevent diversion.

21 C.F.R. § 1301.71(a).

DEA's security regulations further provide that:

> The registrant shall design and operate a system to disclose to the registrant suspicious orders of controlled substances. The registrant shall inform the Field Division Office of the Administration in his area of suspicious orders when discovered by the registrant. Suspicious orders include orders of unusual size, orders deviating substantially from a normal pattern, and orders of unusual frequency.

21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b).

The OSC alleges that Respondent failed to maintain "effective controls against diversion of particular controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific, and industrial channels," in violation of 21 U.S.C. § 823(b)(1) and 21 C.F.R. § 1301.71(a). ALJX 1, at 3, [67] While listing the five public interest factors of 21 U.S.C. § 823(b), the Government specifically notes that it does not rely on Factors Three or Five and makes no argument concerning Factor Two. ALJ-90, at 27-29 & n.12. Further, the Government combines its analysis of Factors One and Four. Id. at 28-44. The Government notes that where it has not made allegations with respect to Factors Three and Five, the factors do not weigh for or against revocation. See ALJX 90, at n.12. As such, although the Agency has considered all five factors, its analysis focuses on Factors One and Four.

paras. 7, 10. Second, the OSC alleges that Respondent failed to adequately "design and operate a system to disclose to the registrant suspicious orders of controlled substances" and report them to DEA, in violation of 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). ALJX 1, at 3, paras. 8, 10.

Factor Four involves a registrant's past experience in the distribution of controlled substances, which the Government has argued is appropriately considered along with its maintenance of effective controls against diversion. See, e.g., Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473. In this case, Respondent argues that its experience in the distribution of controlled substances "is extensive," as it was "founded in 1841 and distributes more than 33,000 products," and that its history of compliance weighs against a finding that Respondent's registration is inconsistent with the public interest. ALJX 89, at 115-116 (citing RX 1, at 13:16, 15:10). Although Respondent's arguments have been considered, Respondent's misconduct as described further herein precludes a finding that Respondent's experience establishes a "history of compliance." See Novelty Distributors, Inc., 73 Fed. Reg. 52,689, 52,702 (2008) (analyzing the identical factor for distributors under 21 U.S.C. § 823(h)).

1. A Suspicious Order

To begin, the regulations require distributors to "design and operate a system to disclose to the registrant suspicious orders of controlled substances." 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). The regulations provide that, at minimum, a suspicious order includes "orders of unusual size, orders deviating substantially from a normal pattern, and orders of unusual frequency." Id.; see section IV.A.3. These three criteria are non-exclusive and registrants may encounter other considerations beyond those spelled out in the regulation that could qualify an order as suspicious. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473-74; Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 221 (noting the regulatory criteria for suspicion are "exemplary rather than exhaustive"). For example, a distributor might find a pharmacy's orders for controlled substances to be suspicious not only based on their exhibiting the characteristics set forth in the regulation, but also based upon the "pharmacy's business model, dispensing patterns, or other characteristics." Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,473-74; see also id. at 55,477 (stating that "an order is not only suspicious by virtue of its internal properties—i.e., being of unusual size, pattern, or frequency—but by virtue of the suspicious nature of the pharmacy which placed [the order]"). The identification of a suspicious order that is based on the nature of the pharmacy's business takes place at the customer-level. See infra section IV.A.4.

In order to conclude that an order for controlled substances is suspicious, a "distributor is not required to establish, to a statistical certainty, that a pharmacy was likely diverting controlled substances." Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,480. In fact, suspicion is a low standard, defined as merely one's "'apprehension or imagination of the existence of something wrong based only on inconclusive or slight evidence, or possibly no evidence.'" Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,478 (quoting Black's Law Dictionary 1585 (9th ed. 2009)). Thus, if a distributor is aware of any indication of "the existence of something wrong" concerning the size, frequency, or pattern of an order, then the distributor is obligated to report it to the DEA. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,478. Because suspicion is a low standard, a distributor's obligation to report suspicious orders is triggered long before the distributor would have probable cause to believe that a customer is engaged in diversion. Id. As Masters explains, suspicion is not contingent on evidence that the order will be diverted or that the customer is engaged in diversion. Id. With regard to the reporting requirement, the Agency's emphasis is on suspicion and not conclusive proof of diversion. Id. at 55,420 (explaining that tying suspicion to evidence of diversion "imposes a higher standard than that of the plain language of the regulation, which requires only that the order be suspicious").

2. Respondent's Failure to Adequately Design and Operate a Suspicious Order Monitoring System.

When a distributor's suspicious order monitoring (SOM) system places a hold on a customer's order for controlled substances because the order is of unusual size, pattern, or frequency, the order meets the specific criteria of being suspicious. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,479; Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 216-17 (affirming the Acting Administrator's ruling that "orders held by the [distributor's SOM systems] met the regulatory definition of 'suspicious orders'"). DEA has made clear that it does not endorse any particular system for identifying suspicious orders. GX 4, at 1; Tr. 59-60, 76, 210, 497, 646.

In this case, Respondent's SOM system during the relevant time period did not have the capability to hold an order that was flagged as "potentially suspicious." Tr. 728, 778. Therefore, the system could not comply with the DEA legal requirements. Tr. 729 (Irelan testifying that the SOM system was "not consistent with best practices" because "[i]t didn't give an opportunity to resolve red flags before shipping.")

Additionally, the witnesses were in agreement that Respondent's SOM system during the relevant time period was inadequate to identify orders of unusual size in that it only flagged orders that were "ten times a 90-day average," Tr. 729-30, 321, 652.[68]

Further, while Respondent had written policies and procedures, those policies and procedures only identified three suspicious orders over a period of four years and four months that were reported to the DEA. Respondent admits that its previous policies were inadequate.

[68] DEA sent a letter in December 20, 2007, warning distributors that a SOM system "rely[ing] on rigid formulas to define whether an order is suspicious may be failing to detect suspicious orders." GX 4, at 2.

Tr. 720-21. Respondent had a policy of producing monthly and daily reports, yet none is apparent in the Administrative Record, and although Respondent maintained a proprietary database, RX 11, at 5, there is no record evidence from this database.

Finally, although Respondent argues that the record supports that it was conducting due diligence into its customers, Respondent admits that it did not adequately document that due diligence, nor did it apply that due diligence at an order level. See infra section IV.A.4. Respondent's policy of not documenting its due diligence, GX 9, was also inconsistent with the Masters decision. See id.

In sum, the Agency finds substantial record evidence that Respondent failed to design and operate an adequate SOM system in violation of 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b).

3. Respondent's Failure to Report Suspicious Orders under the Listed Criteria in 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b)

As explained above, DEA regulations obligate distributors of controlled substances to not only design and operate a system to identify suspicious orders, but to also report all suspicious orders to DEA. 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). In other words, DEA regulations require distributors like Respondent "to alert DEA when their retail-pharmacy customers attempt to obtain unusual amounts of a controlled substance, because such attempts are powerful evidence that the pharmacies are operating illegally." Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 217-18 (emphasis in original).[69] Moreover, the Agency has previously held that filing ARCOS reports does not satisfy a distributor's obligation to notify DEA of suspicious orders, Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,501, nor does filing reports on a routine or periodic schedule. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,478.

[69]Suspicious orders meeting the definition in 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b) must be reported to DEA, and Respondent did not argue otherwise. See, e.g., Tr. 732, 1024; RX 20.001, at 1. There is additionally no record evidence that Respondent investigated these suspicious orders and resolved them at any time.

The purpose of the DEA's reporting requirement is "to provide investigators in the field with information regarding potential illegal activity in an expeditious manner." Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,483 n.169 (quoting Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,501). As such, when a distributor obtains "information that an order is suspicious but then chooses to ignore that information and fails to report the order," the distributor violates its regulatory obligation. Id. at 55,478.

Here, DEA presented evidence using the Tukey statistical model to determine a ballpark number of suspicious orders that an adequate SOM system might have identified during the time period in the allegations both for the eight exemplar pharmacies and for Respondent's customer base at large for two frequently abused controlled substances: oxycodone and hydrocodone. The ballpark estimate found numerous potential suspicious orders for seven out of the eight exemplar pharmacies, and for the overall customers, it found that 7,252 sales of oxycodone and 4,948 sales of hydrocodone during this time period should have possibly been reported as suspicious to DEA.[70]

The ballpark numbers constitute substantial evidence that there were far more suspicious orders that should have been identified, investigated, or reported than the mere three that Respondent reported during the time period. Even taking into consideration all of the criticism levied on DEA's modeling by Respondent's expert, he himself admitted that the data run during the beginning of 2018 produced similar results to the quantity that Respondent was reporting under the new system, which, in a little over a year, amounted to 3,915 suspicious orders. As such, the Agency agrees with the ALJ that the three suspicious order reports filed during the relevant timeframe "barely scratched the surface," RD, at 140, and finds it clear that the Government has proven by substantial evidence that Respondent failed to investigate or report potentially thousands of suspicious orders of oxycodone and hydrocodone to DEA. Supra section III.E.

Furthermore, the Southwood decision explained that even after a suspicious order is reported to DEA, a distributor must conduct some due diligence and only ship the order "if it is able to determine that the order is not likely to be diverted into illegal channels." Masters Pharmaceuticals, 861 F.3d 206 (2017) (citing Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,500). Here, it is undisputed that Respondent submitted three suspicious order reports to DEA during the relevant time period. The GS testified that Respondent shipped these orders without documenting any resolution of the suspicious circumstances that caused Respondent to report them to DEA. Tr. 294. Thus, the Agency finds substantial record evidence that Respondent's lack of documentation of its investigation into and resolution of these red flags, coupled with its shipping of the suspicious orders, demonstrates additional violations of Respondent's regulatory obligations to provide effective controls and procedures to guard against diversion of controlled substances.

4. Customer Due Diligence and Red Flags

It is inherent in the obligation under 21 C.F.R. § 1301.71(a) to maintain "effective controls" against diversion that "a registrant has an affirmative duty to protect against diversion by knowing its customers and the nature of [their controlled substances] sales." Holloway Distributing, 72 Fed. Reg. 42,118, 42,124 (2007).[71] Therefore, a distributor is required to act on

"'information which raise[s] serious doubt as to the legality of [the customer's] business practices,'" also referred to as red flags,[72] indicative of diversion. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,477 (alteration in original) (quoting Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,498). A distributor must also "conduct a reasonable investigation to determine the nature of a potential customer's business before it sells to the customer." Id. Furthermore, a distributor has a continuing obligation to perform due diligence of a customer throughout the distributor's relationship with that customer. Id. at 55,477. Masters clarified that "although a distributor's investigation of the order (coupled with its previous due diligence efforts) may properly lead it to conclude that the order is not suspicious, the investigation must dispel all red flags indicating that a customer is engaged in diversion to render the order non-suspicious and exempt it from the requirement that the distributor 'inform' the Agency about the order." Id. at 55,478.

The record evidence and testimony from multiple experts in this case, the Pro Compliance Reports themselves, and prior DEA decisions have all clearly demonstrated that such suspicious circumstances, or red flags, include a pharmacy that: dispenses a high volume of narcotics;[73] dispenses the trinity drug cocktail;[74] dispenses disproportionally more controlled

[72] It is noted that Agency Adjudications have used the term "red flag" as early as 1998 and federal courts have used the term as early as 1986. Jones Total Health Care Pharmacy, L.L.C., & SND Health Care, L.L.C., 81 Fed. Reg. 79,188, 79,195 n.23 (2016), pet. for rev. denied, 881 F.3d 823 (11th Cir. 2018). In general, a red flag is any "circumstance that does or should raise a reasonable suspicion as to the validity of a prescription [or order]." Pharmacy Doctors Enters. d/b/a Zion Clinic Pharmacy, 83 Fed. Reg. at 10,896 n.31 (quoting Hills Pharmacy, L.L.C., 81 Fed. Reg. at 49,839). [79] Respondent introduced testimony regarding whether Respondent could continue to ship during a due diligence investigation into customer-level red flags of diversion—arguing that there is a certain amount of discretion involved and that stopping shipments would disrupt the supply chain. See, e.g., Tr. 1049, 1050, 1042; 649. The record does not support a finding that Respondent did, in fact, adequately dispel all of the red flags on these customers at any time (before or after distributing), or that Respondent adequately documented purported resolutions of the red flags. The Masters decision cannot be read to intend to create a loophole in which a distributor could avoid reporting requirements and continue to ship orders of controlled substances while conducting lengthy investigations into red flags. Such an interpretation would not meet the requirement that a distributor maintain effective controls against diversion. To the extent that, as Respondent argues, there may be some discretion in the

has an obligation to guard against diversion, and as such, must resolve red flags of diversion presented by its customers or decline to ship the controlled substance. 21 U.S.C. §§ 823(b), (e); 21 C.F.R. § 1301.71(a).

When a customer demonstrates red flags of diversion, the distributor must report a suspicious order to DEA unless the distributor conducts a due diligence investigation, which "must dispel all red flags indicative that a customer is engaged in diversion." Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,478. "Put another way, if, even after investigating the order, there is any remaining basis to suspect that a customer is engaged in diversion, the order must be deemed suspicious and the [DEA] must be informed." Id.; see also id. at 55,479 n.164 (same).

In upholding DEA's interpretation of the due diligence requirement in the Masters decision, the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals stated:

> As we have emphasized throughout this opinion, it is not necessary for a distributor of controlled substances to investigate suspicious orders if it reports them to DEA and declines to fill them. But if a distributor chooses to shoulder the burden of dispelling suspicion in the hopes of shipping any it finds to be non-suspicious, and the distributor uses something like the SOMS Protocol to guide its efforts, then the distributor must actually undertake the investigation. For example, when an employee uses the SOMS Protocol to confirm or dispel suspicion based on the amount of controlled medication the pharmacy is selling, the employee must request a 'UR,' i.e., a document showing the pharmacy's 'actual dispensing[s] . . . of each drug.' [Masters Pharm., Inc.,] 80 Fed. Reg. [55,418,] 55,420 [(2015)]. Moreover, the investigating employee must 'document' customers' explanations for suspicious orders, so that he or she can verify those explanations and make sure they are consistent over time. Id. at 55,428 n.21. Additionally, if a customer's explanation for its order is 'inconsistent with other information the investigator has obtained about or from decision of when to ship, it is abundantly clear that a distributor cannot ship if it cannot determine that the "proposed transaction is for legitimate purposes," Novelty Distributors 73 Fed. Reg. at 52,699, or without resolving "'information which raise[s] serious doubt as to the legality of [a potential or existing customer's] business practices.'" Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,477 (alteration in original) (quoting Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,498). Further, Respondent's supply chain argument is weakened by the fact that Respondent had a duty to and was purportedly running reports on prospective customers; therefore, it knew about many of the red flags in the eight exemplar pharmacies before engaging in business with them. See, e.g., GX 25, at 4 (Initial Risk Evaluation Report for Hephzibah Pharmacy LLC); RX 11, at 15 (powerpoint demonstrating turned down prospective accounts based on Pro Compliance Reports).

> the customer, . . . the [investigator] must conduct 'additional investigation to determine whether [its customer is] filling legitimate prescriptions.' Id. at 55,477. Finally, the investigation must dispel all of the 'red flags' that gave rise to the suspicion that the customer was diverting controlled substances. Id. at 55,478. The Administrator recognized that, if investigating employees fail to take such basic steps, the SOMS (or similar protocol) does not function as an effective tool for dispelling suspicion.

Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 222-23. The D.C. Circuit made clear that all red flags must be resolved or the order must be reported to DEA as suspicious.

In this case, Respondent received numerous Pro Compliance Reports that raised multiple red flags for each of the relevant customers during the relevant time period. See GX 20-56; supra section III.D. The Pro Compliance Reports themselves clearly identify specific red flags in Respondent's customers' data and frequently recommend further discussions and onsite visits to resolve them. See, e.g., GX 21, at 6; supra III.E. Although Respondent produced some minimal evidence consisting of phone logs for some of the exemplar pharmacies in the OSC, see supra n.12 and section III.D., which indicated a few instances over the several year timeframe where Respondent had engaged with these customers regarding red flags and/or suspicious orders, there is not adequate documentation as to how Respondent resolved the red flags, even as Respondent continued to fill these orders without reporting them to DEA. Moreover, the GS credibly testified that documentation was an essential component of due diligence. Tr. 298-99 ("[I]f you don't document it how are you going to remember it, how are you going to be able to prove it happened"). The Masters decision further pointed out that documentation is essential in maintaining effective controls against diversion to ensure that customers are consistent in their explanations regarding red flags. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,428 n.21. The D.C. Circuit also affirmed the Agency's position that if a distributor undertakes an investigation into its customer's potential diversion, then it must document and "dispel all of the 'red flags' that gave rise to the suspicion that the customer was diverting controlled substances" to avoid the requirement to report the suspicious order to DEA. Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 222-23.

Here, Respondent acknowledged the paucity of documentation in its records that might show that it had resolved red flags. See, e.g., Tr. 720; GX 9, at 1-2. Contrary to Respondent's argument (ALJ-89, at 101-03, paras. 272-75), the absence of documentation of resolving red flags does indeed constitute evidence that the red flags were never resolved. See Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d at 218.[80] While Respondent did conduct some due diligence, such as by obtaining Pro Compliance Reports and by preparing its own monthly Market Basket Reports of its customers, ordering the reports without taking appropriate action based on the content of those reports does not come close to satisfying the regulatory obligation to conduct due diligence. These Pro Compliance Reports identify multiple red flags from Respondent's pharmacy customers—demonstrating that Respondent was aware of these red flags—while the records it produced do not resolve them in any substantive way to demonstrate effective controls against diversion. See, e.g., GX 20-56 (the Pro Compliance Reports for the exemplar pharmacies). Respondent's employees even noted occasions where information in the Pro Compliance Reports was specifically concerning to them or where they were aware of additional indicia of diversion or suspicious orders, yet these orders were neither reported to DEA nor is there record evidence to support a finding that Respondent resolved all of the red flags that gave rise to the suspicion. See, e.g., Respondent's employee's comments, at GX 14, at 4 ("[T]his seems quite elevated to me.....????") and 31 ("Henry will give the customer a warning about his Oxy purchases. Too much cash, too much growth. Will re-run and if no improvement will either restrict or cut off completely."). The note documenting this interaction not only fails to offer any resolution of the suspicious circumstances or indicate any reporting to DEA, but also indicates that Respondent knew of the existence of a suspicious order and that the customer was given a warning—providing it with a chance to amend its behavior and further avoid detection from DEA. The regulations require resolution or reporting, not implementation of a "second chance" or "three strikes you're out" program.

[80] To permit Respondent to escape any liability for its lack of adequate controls to protect against diversion merely because Respondent created a policy that did not require documentation of how those controls were exercised would nullify the purpose of the statutory and regulatory requirements. Further, the Agency agrees with the ALJ that Respondent's intentional strategy of not presenting the testimony of any witness who was actually involved in Respondent's purported resolution of red flags further undermines its argument that the red flags were actually resolved. Id. Finally, Agency decisions have frequently described the importance of documentation to meet DEA regulatory requirements in other contexts. See Kaniz F. Khan-Jaffery, M.D., 85 Fed. Reg. 45,667, 45,686 (2020) ("DEA's ability to assess whether controlled substances registrations are consistent with the public interest is predicated upon the ability to consider the evidence and rationale of the practitioner at the time that she prescribed a controlled substance—adequate documentation is critical to that assessment." (citing Cynthia M. Cadet, M.D., 76 Fed. Reg. 19,450, 19,464 (2011))). In particular, the Masters decision affirmatively stated the requirement for distributors to document their resolutions of red flags and gave a rational basis for that requirement—ensuring that the information is memorialized for the resolution of future indicia of diversion. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,428 n.21. This basis is very apparent here where Respondent's customer base is large and the shipments are numerous. As such, the Agency finds that Respondent's failure to maintain adequate documentation indicates a violation of the requirements to maintain effective controls against diversion.

A distributor fails to conduct meaningful due diligence that satisfies its regulatory duties where it merely "accept[s] at face value whatever superficial explanation" the pharmacy offers and then fails to independently verify it. Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,457. Further, conducting due diligence but then failing to act on the findings is also inadequate. See Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,500 (finding the distributor's due diligence efforts to be inadequate where the distributor possessed information that customers were diverting controlled substances yet the distributor continued to provide them with controlled substances). Thus, as the GS credibly testified as an expert witness, the Agency finds that even though Respondent produced some due diligence files to DEA, Respondent seemed to "conduct due diligence and ignore the red flags that are in [its] face and continue to ship" without documenting the resolution of red flags or reporting to DEA, in violation of DEA regulations. Tr. 463; see also Tr. 80 (testimony of the Section Chief: "[Y]ou can ask for all these things, but you have to do something with it."). As the evidence shows, Respondent continued to distribute controlled substances despite the red flags raised in its due diligence files and without either adequately documenting an investigation or resolution of the red flags or refusing to ship and reporting the orders to DEA. As such, Respondent's due diligence was clearly insufficient to meet DEA's legal requirements. See also RD, at 120-128 (finding that Respondent did not either dispel all red flags for Folse, Bordelon's, Wallace, Pharmacy Specialties, Dave's Pharmacy, Hephzibah, Wellness, and Wilkinson or report the customers to DEA and refuse to ship).

5. Summary of Public Interest Factors

There is substantial record evidence that Respondent failed to adequately design a suspicious order monitoring system and failed to report suspicious orders to DEA. Further, Respondent failed to report controlled substance orders from customers displaying red flags of diversion and in such cases failed to either cease shipment, or, alternatively, to investigate, resolve, and document the resolution of the red flags. Thus, the Agency finds that Respondent failed to maintain effective controls against diversion of controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific, and industrial channels in violation of 21 C.F.R. § 1301.71(a). The Agency also finds that Respondent failed to adequately design and operate a system to disclose to the registrant suspicious orders of controlled substances and report those orders to DEA in violation of 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b). See also RD, at 138. These violations constitute failures to maintain effective controls against diversion under 21 U.S.C. § 823(b)(1) and demonstrate negative experience in distribution under 21 U.S.C. § 823(b)(4) and weigh strongly in favor of revoking Respondent's Certificates of Registration.

B. Respondent's Integrated Enterprise

DEA has requested revocation of both Respondent's registration at its distribution center in Shreveport, Louisiana, and Respondent's second registration in New Orleans (Jefferson Parish). Respondent argues that DEA has not "alleged any misconduct to have occurred at Respondent's Jefferson location or adduced any evidence or testimony at the hearing regarding Respondent's Jefferson registration." Resp Exceptions, at 49.

The Agency has frequently "treat[ed] two separately organized business entities as one integrated enterprise . . . based on the overlap of ownership, management, and operations of the two entities." Jones Total Health Care Pharmacy, L.L.C., and SND Health Care, L.L.C., 81 Fed. Reg. 79,188, 79,222 (2016) (citing MB Wholesale, Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. 71,956, 71,958 (2007)). "[W]here misconduct has previously been proved with respect to the owners, officers, or key employees of a pharmacy, the Agency can deny an application or revoke a registration of a second or subsequent pharmacy where the Government shows that such individuals have influence over the management or control of the second pharmacy." Superior Pharmacy I and Superior Pharmacy II, 81 Fed. Reg. 31,310, 31,341, n.71 (2016). Further, the Agency may revoke a registration without misconduct attributable to that particular registration if the Agency finds that the registrant committed egregious misconduct under a second registration. Roberto Zayas, M.D., 82 Fed. Reg. 21,410, 21,430 (2017) (revoking physician's DEA registration in Florida due to conduct attributed to a Texas registration that had expired).

When a practitioner registrant acts in a manner inconsistent with the public interest, in determining whether to revoke, DEA looks to whether the practitioner can be entrusted with a registration. See, e.g. Arvinder Singh, M.D., 81 Fed. Reg. 8247, 8248 (2016). If a practitioner holding multiple registrations cannot be entrusted with one, then it would be difficult to justify entrusting the same practitioner with another in a separate location. Similarly, when a corporate entity is owned and operated by individuals who have acted inconsistently with the public interest and have misused one of their registrations, the Agency cannot ignore this fact when considering whether to entrust those same individuals with another registration. Furthermore, even if Respondent has not used the Jefferson registration for distribution, this fact does not prevent it from using its registration for distribution in the future.[81] See Suntree Pharmacy and Suntree Medical Equipment, LLC, 85 Fed. Reg. 73,753, 73,766 (2020).

The lens through which Congress has instructed the Agency to assess each distributor registration is whether or not such registration is consistent with the public interest. 21 U.S.C. § 823(b). In this case, if Respondent was allowed to simply shift its operations to an entity with the same ownership, then the effect of the violations found herein against Respondent would be a nullity and there would be nothing to prevent Respondent's Jefferson location from continuing to act inconsistently with the public interest. It would be inconsistent with the intent of the CSA to permit such an easily implementable loophole, while it is consistent with Agency decisions to close the loophole by treating the two overlapping entities as one integrated enterprise for purposes of sanction.

Therefore, due to the uncontested commonality of ownership, management, and operations, see RD, at 154, the Agency finds that it is appropriate to treat Respondent's two registrations as one integrated enterprise.

V. SANCTION

The Government has established a prima facie case to revoke Respondent's registration; therefore, the Agency will review any evidence and argument that Respondent submitted to determine whether or not Respondent has presented "sufficient mitigating evidence to assure the

Reg. 21,931, 21,932 (1988)). "'Moreover, because "past performance is the best predictor of future performance," ALRA Labs, Inc. v. Drug Enf't Admin., 54 F.3d 450, 452 (7th Cir. 1995), [the Agency] has repeatedly held that where a registrant has committed acts inconsistent with the public interest, the registrant must accept responsibility for [the registrant's] actions and demonstrate that [registrant] will not engage in future misconduct.'" Jayam Krishna-Iyer, 74 Fed. Reg. 459, 463 (2009) (quoting Medicine Shoppe, 73 Fed. Reg. 364, 387 (2008)); see also Samuel S. Jackson, D.D.S., 72 Fed. Reg. at 23,853; John H. Kennnedy, M.D., 71 Fed. Reg. 35,705, 35,709 (2006); Prince George Daniels, D.D.S., 60 Fed. Reg. 62,884, 62,887 (1995). The issue of trust is necessarily a fact-dependent determination based on the circumstances presented by the individual respondent; therefore, the Agency looks at factors, such as the acceptance of responsibility and the credibility of that acceptance as it relates to the probability of repeat violations or behavior and the nature of the misconduct that forms the basis for sanction, while also considering the Agency's interest in deterring similar acts. See Arvinder Singh, M.D., 81 Fed. Reg. 8247, 8248 (2016).

A. Acceptance of Responsibility

1. Standing and Authority to Accept Responsibility

Respondent contends that it has unequivocally accepted responsibility for the proven misconduct and that Irelan, as its Controlled Substance Compliance Officer, was both authorized by Respondent and an appropriate person to accept responsibility on behalf of Respondent. Resp Exceptions, at 8. The Agency agrees that neither Agency regulations nor prior Agency decisions clearly preclude Irelan from accepting responsibility on behalf of Respondent and will therefore consider his acceptance of responsibility on its merits. Further, the Agency finds that the record supports that Mr. Irelan is responsible for preventing the reoccurrence of Respondent's compliance failures and accepts that Irelan obtained authority from Respondent to accept responsibility at the hearing. See Tr. 803 (Irelan is responsible for continued remedial measures), Tr. 1072-74[82]; but see Tr. 804 (decisions also go through the chain of command and to the Board).

Ultimately, as explained above, the Agency has long stated that when the Government has presented a prima facie case, the burden shifts to the respondent to demonstrate why it can still be entrusted with a registration in spite of its misconduct and the Agency has emphatically emphasized the requirement that respondent unequivocally accept responsibility to establish that trust. See, e.g., Jeffrey Stein, M.D., 84 Fed. Reg. 46,968, 46,972 (2019); see also Leo R. Miller, M.D., 53 Fed. Reg. 21,931, 21,932 (1988) (describing revocation as a remedial measure "based upon the public interest and the necessity to protect the public from those individuals who have misused controlled substances or their DEA Certificate of Registration, and who have not presented sufficient mitigating evidence to assure the Administrator that they can be trusted with the responsibility carried by such a registration"). For several reasons, Irelan's testimony has not adequately convinced the Agency that Respondent unequivocally accepts responsibility for its past misconduct.

2. Minimization and Characterization of the Misconduct

Here, Irelan accepted responsibility for Respondent failing to effectively apply its customer due diligence in assessing orders of controlled substances, Tr. 722-23, for Respondent

failing to implement and maintain a suspicious order monitoring system "consistent with best practices for compliance," Tr. 729, 731,[83] and for the fact that "[t]he reporting that was being done, there were three suspicious order reports to the DEA, and that was insufficient," Tr. 731, 733. Irelan also testified that he accepted responsibility for Respondent shipping orders of controlled substances from January 2014 to May 2018 without resolving red flags and testified that he is responsible "for preventing reoccurrence of the company's past failures with respect to application of customer due diligence." Tr. 807, 721.[84]

In discussing his acceptance of responsibility for Respondent's failure to apply its customer due diligence, Irelan specifically testified that, based on his review of Respondent's records before May 2018, Respondent conducted "a tremendous amount of due diligence" on its customers. Tr. 704-05, 710. Irelan caveated that Respondent did not keep the due diligence documentation "in such a way as to make it . . . easily accessible." Tr. 705 (referring to "notes on paper," "notes . . . kept in a database" and "limited notes in our enhanced customer profile"). Nonetheless, the Agency finds that Irelan's statements claiming a "tremendous amount of due diligence" were aimed at minimizing the extent of Respondent's misconduct, which the Agency has previously weighed against a finding of unequivocal acceptance of responsibility. See Ronald Lynch, M.D., 75 Fed. Reg. 78,745, 78,754 (2010) (finding that Respondent did not accept responsibility after noting that he "repeatedly attempted to minimize his [egregious] misconduct"; see also Michael White, M.D., 79 Fed. Reg. 62,957, 62,967 (2014)). Additionally, Irelan's insistence that Respondent was conducting this "tremendous amount" of due diligence "but it was not applied at the order level," e.g., Tr. 828, not only minimizes the violation but fails to acknowledge its scope. At the end of the day, the fact that Respondent was not applying the due diligence to the orders (investigating/stopping/reporting) is possibly the most impactful aspect of Respondent's violation. If Respondent was conducting due diligence that was not documented or could not be retrieved such that it could be applied to the actual filling of orders, then Respondent was not exercising effective controls against diversion because employees filling future orders would not know if there were customer-level red flags or whether they were resolved.

[83] Compare Tr. 731 (Respondent's counsel asked whether the SOM system "was consistent with best practices and compliance" (emphasis added)). Whether or not this distinction from the previous statement was an error of speech, the Agency finds this statement to not differ significantly from the previous statement—in both, there was clearly a purposeful avoidance of taking responsibility for the full scope of Respondent's actions and an attempt to characterize the DEA regulations as being merely best practices as opposed to affirmative legal requirements.

[84] When Government Counsel asked him whether he accepted responsibility in several specific paragraphs of the OSC, Irelan either refused or testified that he was not in a position to answer. See RD, at 86. For a few of the paragraphs, Irelan's reservations seemed to be that Respondent conducted at least some additional due diligence on some of the eight pharmacies, but Irelan admitted that the due diligence was not properly applied. See, e.g., Tr. 832-33, 828-29. Given the contested nature of this part of the hearing, the Agency does not find these failures to accept responsibility to imply that Irelan has not accepted responsibility for the misconduct. See Resp Exceptions, at 24 (arguing that these were not proven allegations). However, the Agency does find, as explained herein, that Irelan's continual insistence on referring to all of the due diligence that Respondent was conducting—while not documenting it in a retrievable manner nor applying it to the orders—was clearly intended to minimize Respondent's misconduct.

Further, Irelan's statements regarding whether Respondent's monitoring systems were "consistent with best practices" also clearly minimized the scope of Respondent's misconduct and did not demonstrate a full grasp of the breadth of the misconduct alleged—which was that Respondent had violated DEA regulations,[85] not failed to implement "best practices." Respondent's attempt to characterize the DEA regulations as being merely best practices as opposed to affirmative legal requirements both minimizes the severity of the violations and also demonstrates a failure to grasp of the significance of the requirements.

3. Scope of the Misconduct

The requisite acceptance of responsibility hinges on the respondent demonstrating an understanding both of the past misconduct and its extent. See Jones, 881 F.3d at 833. Here, the [85] Even if Respondent chose its language to avoid drawing legal conclusions, the use of the term "best practices" was not sufficient to accurately describe the violations found herein and was clearly aimed at minimizing them. See supra n.83.

ALJ found that Irelan did not "acknowledge the scope of the Respondent's misconduct," and therefore, his acceptance was equivocal. RD, at 151 (citing Arvinder Singh, M.D., 81 Fed. Reg. at 8250-51).

As Respondent stated in its Exceptions:

> Multiple United States Courts of Appeal have upheld DEA's acceptance of responsibility requirement as rational on the grounds that if a respondent "does not understand the extent of the past misconduct or its current responsibilities under the law, the DEA rationally could doubt that the [respondent] would faithfully comply in the future with its obligations under the CSA." Jones Total Health Care Pharmacy, LLC v. [Drug Enf't Admin.], 881 F.3d 823, 833 (11th Cir. 2018); accord MacKay v. [Drug Enf't Admin.], 664 F.3d 808, 820 (10th Cir. 2011) (admittance of fault is relevant to Administrator's consideration of whether a respondent will change its future behavior). As Respondent's current Compliance Director, Mr. Irelan has assessed Respondent's past controlled substance compliance failures and is responsible for preventing their reoccurrence.

Resp Exceptions, at 13.

In contrast to Respondent's final statement above, there were a few times where Irelan's limited involvement and knowledge of the misconduct indisputably impeded his ability to accept full responsibility, such as when, regarding Wellness Pharmacy, he was unable to state what due diligence "specifically was performed for that account." Tr. 831. The Agency finds that Irelan's admission that he had not familiarized himself with the specific due diligence performed by Respondent for the exemplar pharmacies demonstrates that he did not actually have the knowledge required to accept unequivocal responsibility on behalf of Respondent for the full extent of the violations found. Irelan's assertion that Respondent did conduct a "tremendous amount" of due diligence is also inconsistent with his stated lack of knowledge regarding the amount of due diligence conducted for the limited number of customers included in the OSC's allegations. It seems logical that in cultivating an understanding of Respondent's violations in order to adequately accept responsibility, Irelan would have focused his review on the customers most relevant to the allegations. Therefore, Irelan does not seem to have been equipped to meet Respondent's burden in accepting responsibility.

4. Trust in Respondent

Although the Agency does not challenge Irelan's authority to act on behalf of Respondent in accepting responsibility, the burden is on Respondent to credibly and candidly demonstrate that it can be entrusted with a registration. Respondent chose to meet that burden by presenting Irelan's testimony in lieu of a principal or an individual who had knowledge of the full scope of the violations. Although the Agency does not contest that Respondent could choose Irelan to accept responsibility on its behalf, that finding does not mean that Irelan was equipped to do so unequivocally.

It is noted that the Agency has long held that the misconduct of an entity's principal is properly considered in determining whether to revoke the entity's registration. Chip RX, L.L.C., d/b/a City Ctr. Pharmacy, 82 Fed. Reg. 51,433, 51,438 (2017) (citing G & O Pharmacy of Paducah, 68 Fed. Reg. 43,752, 43,753 (2003)). An essential element of Respondent's showing of trust is that the registrant and its principals accept responsibility for their misconduct by acknowledging their wrongdoing. Sun & Lake Pharmacy, 76 Fed. Reg. 24,533 (citing Medicine Shoppe, 73 Fed. Reg. at 387; Jackson, 72 Fed. Reg. at 23,853; Kennedy, 71 Fed. Reg. at 35,709). In this case, at least one of Respondent's principals, Paul Dickson, Sr., bears at least some responsibility for the misconduct, and Irelan bears none. See Tr. 723.

Irelan opined that C.G. and Jacob Dickson, who were in charge of compliance during the relevant time period, were responsible for Respondent's misconduct, but was not sure enough of the "dynamics" or "reporting process" to opine about whether Paul Dickson, Sr., carried any responsibility. Tr. 808-09. The extent of the misconduct is an important factor in the Agency's ability to determine whether to entrust Respondent with a registration and Irelan's inability to testify to the level of involvement and knowledge of Respondent's principals in the misconduct demonstrates another reason why the Agency cannot deem his acceptance of responsibility to be adequate such that the Agency can entrust Respondent with a registration. In fact, Respondent's submitted evidence includes testimony from the Hearing on the Motion for Temporary Restraining Order[86] in which Paul Dickson, Respondent's president, testified that he was primarily responsible for development of Respondent's SOM program and that he designed the system. RX 1, at 33. Paul Dickson further told the Court that in designing the system, he knew that he "didn't do a perfect job," but that "it was the best that [he] could do. And [he] think[s] it's dang good. And [he doesn't] think a single person has gotten hurt by [their] drugs. [He] sure do[esn't] know of one . . . . So [he] think[s] it works." RX 1, at 57. These statements from the president of a family-owned and -operated company so strongly miss the point of the requirements of a DEA registrant that they further undercut the Agency's ability to entrust Respondent with a registration. To equate a registrant's compliance with an agency's closed regulatory system with the consequence of knowing whether anyone was hurt "by [their] drugs" exhibits a stark misunderstanding of the regulatory requirement.

The Agency finds that Irelan's inability to describe Paul Dickson's involvement in the proven misconduct further demonstrates the inadequacy of Respondent's acceptance of responsibility in this proceeding. In all, Irelan's lack of understanding and recognition of the full scope of the misconduct and attempts to minimize the misconduct lead the Agency to conclude that Respondent's acceptance of responsibility was equivocal and insufficient to ensure that Respondent can be entrusted with a registration.

[86] It is noted that the ALJ excluded pages 147 to 216 of this transcript as irrelevant, but allowed pages 1 through 146 because Respondent offered it as remedial, mitigation, or community impact evidence. ALJX 59, at 6 (citing ALJX 29, at 2, 4.) Although it is also noted that the hearing in which these statements were made was related to the public interest in the context of the ISO, the ALJ found, and the Agency agrees, that this evidence bears some relevance to the current inquiry. Id. Furthermore, Respondent argues in its Exceptions that "[t]his testimony is relevant evidence of Respondent's credibility and good faith intent in working with DEA to stop diversion." Resp Exceptions, at 31. For the reasons stated above, the Agency finds that, if anything, Paul Dickson's remarks seem indignant that DEA is pursuing enforcement, seem aimed at minimizing the misconduct, and display a lack of understanding and respect for the regulatory requirements.

B. Remedial Measures

When a registrant fails to make the threshold showing of acceptance of responsibility, the Agency has stated that it need not address the registrant's remedial measures. Daniel A. Glick, D.D.S., 80 Fed. Reg. 74,800, 74,810 (2015); see also Ajay S. Ahuja, M.D., 84 Fed. Reg. at 5498 n.33; Jones Total Health Care Pharmacy, L.L.C., & SND Health Care, L.L.C., 81 Fed. Reg. at 79,202; The Medicine Shoppe, 79 Fed. Reg. 59,504, 59,510 (2014). A registrant does not unequivocally accept responsibility for its actions simply by taking remedial measures. Holiday CVS, L.L.C., d/b/a CVS/Pharmacy Nos. 219 & 5195, 77 Fed. Reg. 62,316, 62,346 (2012). Refusal to acknowledge the full scope of misconduct, even with remedial measures, is a risk to the public interest. Arvinder Singh, M.D., 81 Fed. Reg. 8247, 8250-51 (2016) (emphasis added).

The ALJ characterized Respondent's remedial measures as "impressive." RD, at 152. The Agency similarly credits the efforts that the record reflects Respondent undertook to improve its compliance with DEA's requirements after being served with the OSC. As the ALJ appropriately stated, the Agency has also made it abundantly clear that remediation alone is not adequate to avoid a sanction and that limited-to-no-weight is given to remedial measures when the effort is not made until after enforcement begins. See Mireille Lalanne, M.D., 78 Fed. Reg. 47,750, 47,777 (2013) (quoting Liddy's Pharmacy, L.L.C., 76 Fed. Reg. 48,887, 48,897 (2011) ("The Agency has recognized that a cessation of illegal behavior only when 'DEA comes knocking at one's door,' can be afforded a diminished weight borne of its own opportunistic timing.")); see also Southwood Pharm. Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,503 (giving no weight to respondent's "stroke-of-midnight decision" to cease supplying suspect pharmacies with controlled substances and to employ a compliance officer).[87]

Additionally, the ALJ found that, based on prior Agency decisions, he could give no weight to Respondent's remedial measures given the lack of Respondent's unequivocal acceptance of responsibility. RD, at 152.[88, 89] As the Agency has consistently held, "past performance is the best predictor of future performance." Lesly Pompy, M.D., 84 Fed. Reg.

[87] In its Exceptions, Respondent points to the factual distinctions between cited cases in the RD and the circumstances in this case and also points to numerous other settled cases that, in Respondent's opinion, demonstrate that the sanction here is unfair. Resp Exceptions, at 25 and 33. However, "the issue of trust is necessarily a fact-dependent determination based on the circumstances presented by the individual respondent," and it is the respondent's burden to bear. See, e.g., Stein, 84 Fed. Reg. at 46,972. And contrary to Respondent's arguments, the proposed sanction is supported by similar sanctions in other recent distributor adjudications where the Agency similarly found that respondents' registrations were inconsistent with the public interest and that those respondents had not demonstrated that they could be entrusted with a registration. See Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. at 36,487 (rejecting the ALJ's sanction because it was "insufficient to protect the public interest. While [the Agency is] mindful of the corrective measures engaged in by Respondent, its sales of extraordinary quantities of controlled substances to entities which it had reason to know were diverting the drugs caused extraordinary harm to public health and safety."); see also Masters Pharm., Inc., 80 Fed. Reg. at 55,501.

[88] Respondent repeatedly asserts that these adjudications are difficult to defend due to what it claims is an unfair system—that Respondent must accept responsibility prior to knowing what misconduct has been proven. Resp Exceptions, at 7. Respondent chose litigation strategies presumably based on the longstanding structure and content of Agency decisions in these adjudications and the Agency does not fault it for those decisions. In the end, Respondent had the burden to prove that it could be entrusted with a registration and it has failed to meet that burden. See Masters Pharm., Inc., 861 F.3d 206 (D.C. Cir. 2017) (rejecting arguments that DEA's structure of requiring acceptance of responsibility is unfair, because "under longstanding DEA precedent, once DEA presents enough evidence at hearing to show that a registered vendor or distributor of controlled substances has 'committed acts inconsistent with the public interest,' the 'registrant must present[] . . . mitigating evidence' including evidence that it has 'accept[ed] responsibility for its actions and demonstrate[d] that it will not engage in future misconduct'" (quoting Medicine Shoppe-Jonesborough, 73 Fed. Reg. 364, 387 (2008)). Furthermore, the Agency's finding on this issue does not hinge on whether Irelan has accepted responsibility for each proven allegation, but instead hinges on Irelan's persistent minimization of the misconduct and further on Respondent's overall failure to demonstrate that Respondent has unequivocally accepted responsibility and can be trusted with a registration.

[89] Respondent argues that Milione's testimony regarding the August 2016 meeting with Paul Dickson, Sr., supra n.8, demonstrates Respondent's "good faith and sincerity, which flatly contradict the ALJ's intent-laden description of Respondent's compliance as 'cavalier'" and argues that this fact is relevant in considering Respondent's likelihood towards recidivism. Resp Exceptions, at 30 (citing RD, at 156). The Agency cannot give this meeting or Paul Dickson's sincerity during this moment in time the weight that Respondent requests it be afforded given that the evidence demonstrates that for approximately two years prior to this meeting and two years afterwards, Respondent was not complying with DEA regulations. Further, Respondent did not present the Agency with Paul Dickson's testimony at this hearing to be able to weigh his credibility and sincerity either in 2016, when this meeting occurred, or at the time of the hearing. The transcribed testimony that Respondent did submit from Paul Dickson demonstrated that he believed his SOM system to be "dang good"—a statement with which the Agency emphatically disagrees. See RX 1, at 57.

57,749, 57,761 (2019); see also Jones Total Health Care Pharmacy, LLC v. Drug Enf't Admin., 881 F.3d 823, 833 (11th Cir. 2018) (affirming refusal to consider remedial measures where registrant did not accept responsibility for its misconduct); Pharmacy Doctors Enterprises, Inc. v. Drug Enf't Admin., 789 F. App'x 724, 2019 WL 4565481, at *7–8 (11th Cir. Sept. 20, 2019) (same).[90]

In this case, even if the Agency gave weight to Respondent's remedial measures, the measures are outweighed by the fact that it has not adequately established that Respondent as an entity fully understands the scope of the misconduct such that it can be entrusted with regulatory compliance in the future.

C. The Extent of the Misconduct

The record demonstrates that Respondent's violations of the law were not isolated occurrences, but took place over the course of four years and involved multiple customers. See Garrett Howard Smith, M.D., 83 Fed. Reg. at 18,910 (collecting cases) ("The egregiousness and extent of [the] misconduct are significant factors in determining the appropriate sanction."). In spite of its self-described status as a privately-owned company that has been in business for 177 years,[91] Respondent maintained sparse documentation of its SOM procedures generally and maintained very little documentation of its resolution of red flags of diversion displayed by its customers or of individual suspicious orders. The record evidence demonstrates that Respondent attended two conferences, held a personal meeting with DEA, and received multiple letters in which DEA emphasized the critical importance of a distributor's role in preventing diversion given the opioid crisis in the nation and reminded distributors of their obligations under the law. A letter from DEA dated September 27, 2006, stated "[G]iven the extent of prescription drug abuse in the United States, along with the dangerous and potentially lethal consequences of such abuse, even just one distributor that uses its DEA registration to facilitate diversion can cause enormous harm." GX 3, at 2. In spite of Respondent's established knowledge regarding the criticality of its role in preventing "dangerous and potentially lethal consequences," Respondent did not adequately resolve or document investigation into the numerous red flags indicating diversion that its own Pro Compliance Reports identified on the exemplar pharmacies and failed to report a multitude of suspicious orders to DEA.

[90] See also Hills Pharmacy, LLC, 81 Fed. Reg. 49,815, 49,847 (2016) ("[T]here is no need to consider Respondent's remedial efforts as they are rendered irrelevant by its failure to acknowledge its misconduct."); Daniel A. Glick, D.D.S., 80 Fed. Reg. 74,800, 74,810 (2015) ("[S]ince the Respondent has not tendered an unequivocal acceptance of responsibility, under established Agency precedent, [it] is foreclosed from a favorable result in these proceedings and the issue of remedial actions is irrelevant.").

[91] See also RX 1, at 21 (estimating Respondent's number of retail pharmacy customers at "approximately 600 primary . . . and another 200 secondary that fluctuates") and 22-23 ("[O]nly competition are what's called 'the big three,' the global companies").

D. Deterrence

Finally, both specific and general deterrence strongly weigh in favor of revoking Respondent's registration. See Daniel A. Glick, D.D.S., 80 Fed. Reg. at 74,810. The record demonstrates that Respondent violated DEA regulations over a lengthy time period—failing to report a multitude of suspicious orders to DEA and depriving DEA of valuable information about pharmacies and practitioners who might have been engaging in diversion or violating their obligations as DEA registrants, thus contributing to the country's devastating prescription drug abuse problem. Under these circumstances and on this record, a sanction less than revocation[92]

[92] Respondent argues without support that a sanction short of revocation would serve the same deterrence goals and would prevent harm to the community that would result from closing Respondent. Resp Exceptions, at 28, 31. The Agency does not consider community impact in its decisions. See infra n.96. As Respondent notes, it is difficult to know what level of sanction would deter future non-compliance in the registrant community, but in Respondent's case, where the violations were blatant, long-term, and impactful, the Agency finds, given the record before it, that revocation offers an appropriate deterrent effect. Furthermore, again, Respondent has not adequately established trust, see supra Section V.A.4, which is crucial to demonstrate the appropriateness of a sanction less than revocation under the Agency's consideration of specific deterrence. Respondent also argues that the ALJ erred in its deterrence analysis by failing to consider the Government's purported unwillingness to engage Respondent in settlement negotiations. Resp Exceptions, at 33-35. While a settlement agreement between the Government and a respondent

would send a message to the current and prospective registrant community that compliance with DEA regulations is not a condition precedent to maintaining a DEA registration and that a distributor can spend years insufficiently reporting suspicious orders and inadequately resolving red flags presented by its customers, so long as it finally invests in the procedures it should have had in place all along after it is caught and faces potential consequences.[93]

Although Respondent has implemented remedial measures, it has not adequately demonstrated that its leadership can be entrusted to continue these measures and prevent reoccurrence of what happened prior to the issuance of the OSC, which amounted to a SOM system that was not designed or operated in a way that would adequately prevent diversion of controlled substances nor provide DEA with information critical to its mission. Respondent argues that the ALJ erred in finding that "the continued registration of a fully remediated registrant with an 'impressive' anti-diversion regime, along with evidence of good faith desire to prevent diversion, does not serve the public interest."[94] Resp Exceptions, at 1. However, Respondent's argument neglects to mention that remediation is irrelevant without continued trust. Respondent wants credit for "commission[ing] former top DEA officials to design their

may be a way to provide enforceable assurances of the respondent's future compliance, the parties have not reached such a settlement here. Accordingly, and although the Agency has considered alternative sanctions as Respondent has requested, it has decided that revocation currently is the most appropriate sanction as explained herein.

[93] DEA decisions have demonstrated concern that giving weight to last minute remedial measures would show the regulated community that a registrant "can unlawfully distribute controlled substances until [it] gets caught, and as long as [it] then acknowledges wrongdoing and puts on evidence that [it] has reformed, [it] will get a slap on the wrist." David Ruben, M.D., 78 Fed. Reg. 38,363, 38,387 (2013); see also Southwood Pharm., Inc., 72 Fed. Reg. 36,487, 36,504 (2007) ("A precedent which ignores how irresponsibly a registrant has acted and allows it to maintain its registration based on its claim of having reformed its business practices, could well prompt other registrants to ignore their obligations under the Act and sell massive quantities of controlled substances to diverters.").

[94] Respondent argues that its "current conduct is the best evidence that its continued registration is consistent with the public interest." Resp Exceptions, at 7. However, remediation is notably not an enumerated public interest factor under 21 U.S.C. § 823(b). Remediation is a factor that the Administrator considers in reviewing the extent to which sanctions are appropriate and only after the Government has made a prima facie case demonstrating that the allegations support a finding that Respondent's continued registration is not in the public interest. See, e.g., Samuel S. Jackson, D.D.S., 72 Fed. Reg. at 23,853.

ideal anti-diversion system," id., because it believes that as long as it has invested the money now, it will prevent DEA from enforcing against it. There are several considerations other than remediation that the Agency uses in determining sanction as explained herein. The fact is that, under these circumstances and on this record, Respondent has not adequately convinced the Agency that it can be entrusted with a registration—its acceptance of responsibility did not prove that it or its principals understand the full extent of their wrongdoing, the effect that it had on the Agency and the American public, and the potential harm that it caused.[95] It was Respondent's burden to prove that it could be entrusted to protect the public interest in maintaining a DEA registration—and it has failed to do so.

Having reviewed the record in its entirety, the Agency finds that Respondent cannot be entrusted with a DEA registration and orders that its registration be revoked. The Agency addresses collateral matters and additional issues raised in Respondent's Exceptions before issuing a final Order.

VI. Motion to Reopen

On January 5, 2022, Respondent filed a Motion to Reopen the Administrative Record. Respondent seeks to introduce evidence of post-hearing conduct that it argues demonstrates acceptance of responsibility and successful remediation.[96] Although not specifically contemplated in the CSA or regulations, DEA decisions have repeatedly held that the Administrator may, in her discretion, order that the administrative record be reopened. The party moving to reopen, however, bears a heavy burden. See INS v. Abudu, 485 U.S. 94, 110 (1988); s*ee also Cities of Campbell v. FERC*, 770 F.2d 1180, 1191 (D.C. Cir. 1985) ("Reopening an evidentiary hearing is a matter of agency discretion and is reserved for extraordinary circumstances." (citations omitted)); Nance v. EPA, 645 F.2d 701, 717 (9th Cir. 1981).

[95] Respondent attached to its Exceptions the Department of Justice Office of the Inspector General (OIG) September 2019 Review of the Drug Enforcement Administration's Regulatory and Enforcement Efforts to Control the Diversion of Opioids—claiming that the report is DEA's motivation for pursuing "the harshest sanction" against Respondent. The report is dated September 2019—a month after the ALJ's issuance of the RD. Furthermore, DEA subpoenaed Respondent as early as February 1, 2018; therefore, temporally, the OIG's findings could not have motivated the Agency's investigation into Respondent. Such allegations are a distraction from the issue at hand—Respondent failed to comply with its regulatory obligations and neither the Agency nor the country could possibly have the ability to know what might have happened had those suspicious orders been reported to DEA and to what extent diversion and abuse might have been prevented. What the Agency does know is that Respondent's failures were monumental, and Respondent clearly misses the point in arguing that "had the Respondent more consistently reported suspicious orders with the DEA, it has been established that the reports would have been ignored." Resp Exceptions, at 5.

The Agency finds that Respondent has not met its burden to reopen the record. In all DEA administrative proceedings, there is inevitably at least some delay between the hearing and the final decision of the Administrator.[97] Allowing parties to reopen the record to introduce evidence of acceptance of responsibility and remedial measures taken during that delay would create a recursive loop further delaying the conclusion of proceedings to the detriment of the public interest. See, e.g., Abudu, 485 U.S. at 107; Qoku v. Gonzales, 156 F. App'x. 703, 705 (5th Cir. 2005). As the Supreme Court observed in Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Corp. v. NRDC, "[a]dministrative consideration of evidence . . . always creates a gap between the time the record is closed and the time the administrative decision is promulgated . . . . If upon the coming down of the order litigants might demand rehearings as a matter of law because some new circumstance has arisen, some new trend has been observed, or some new fact discovered, there would be little hope that the administrative process could ever be consummated in an order that would not be subject to reopening." 435 U.S. 519, 554-55 (1978) (quoting ICC v. Jersey City, 322 U.S. 503, 514 (1944) (citing Northern Lines Merger Cases, 396 U.S. 491, 521 (1970)).

[96] Respondent also requests to reopen the record to introduce evidence of the impact revoking its registration would have on the community. Motion to Reopen, at 20-22. The Agency has consistently found that community impact is not a relevant consideration under the public interest factors. E.g., Stephen E. Owusu, D.P.M., 87 Fed. Reg. 3343, 3351 n.21 (2022); George Pursley, M.D., 85 Fed. Reg. 80,162, 80,188 n. 82 (2020); Frank Joseph Stirlacci, M.D., 85 Fed. Reg. 45,229, 45,239 (2020). Accordingly, Respondent's community impact evidence is not grounds to reopen the record. Further, Respondent made arguments that it should be allowed to introduce evidence that it concedes is not an independent basis to reopen the record but argues is properly admitted if the record is reopened. Reply ISO Motion to Reopen, at 12. Nonetheless, the Agency is not reaching a finding on the admissibility of this evidence because it is not granting Respondent's Motion to Reopen.

[97] The delay between the hearing and the issuance of the final decision in this matter was longer than is typical for the Agency, but the proceedings were delayed partially at Respondent's request. On March 9, 2020, Respondent wrote a letter to the then-Acting Administrator asking that the Agency postpone issuing a Final Order "to allow the COVID-19 crisis to abate or the parties to reach a final settlement . . . ." See Letter from Respondent. Respondent then requested yet another delay in its Motion to Reopen asking that the Administrator delay the issuance of a final order "until after [Respondent's] new counsel has had an opportunity to resolve the matter with DEA's Chief Counsel." Motion to Reopen, at 4, n.4. Respondent cannot request to delay the proceedings and then claim that a failure to reopen the record is somehow prejudicial to Respondent because of its requested delay.

Respondent had the opportunity to, and did, introduce evidence related to its acceptance of responsibility and remedial measures at the hearing. That evidence was entered into the record and considered in the ALJ's Recommended Decision and this Final Order.

VII. Lucia

The Agency has carefully considered Respondent's Exceptions to the Recommended Decision, has addressed them throughout the record, and addresses the remaining herein.

In its Exceptions, Respondent notes that "as [it] has repeatedly and consistently objected, including at the hearing, this entire proceeding was unconstitutional." (citing Tr. 20:23-22:17). Respondent contends that "[t]he presiding ALJ in this matter was unconstitutionally appointed when these proceedings began and unconstitutionally continued to preside over these proceedings after the Attorney General purportedly ratified his appointment." (citing Lucia v. Securities and Exchange Comm'n, 138 S. Ct. 2044, 2055 (2018) (hereinafter, Lucia)). The Agency will note the factual sequence of events surrounding Respondent's Lucia claims.

Respondent's Prehearing Statement, filed on August 3, 2018, averred, "Respondent may file a motion before this Tribunal related to the constitutionality of the DEA's administrative process given the U.S. Supreme Court's recent decision in [Lucia]." ALJX 8, at 37. During the Prehearing Conference, Respondent's attorney stated, "with regards to the Lucia case, this is obviously no disrespect intended to the Court but we do think that it's a significant issue that should we proceed to hearing, we do want to address and I would like to file a motion about it." The ALJ replied, "Well, if you're going to file a motion about it, I obviously would need to take a look at it . . . . Apparently, if you file a motion, there's a good chance you'll wind up with a different Judge . . . . I'm just putting you on notice that that's what's likely to happen." Prehearing, Tr. 36. The ALJ ordered that "[y]ou obviously can file motions tomorrow if you want to but any motions I'm going to need to rule on I would like to have no later than October 23rd. . . ." Tr. 42-43.

On October 26, 2018, Respondent submitted a letter on the record alerting the Tribunal that it had commenced an action in the United States District Court for the Western District of Louisiana seeking an "injunction enjoining DEA and DOJ from requiring Morris & Dickson to appear in any administrative proceeding, including the upcoming hearing scheduled for November 13, 2018, unless and until a constitutionally valid administrative system has been established." ALJX 26, at 1. On October 31, 2018, Respondent filed another letter with the Tribunal explaining that it did not file a motion with the ALJ because the Agency "has no authority to entertain a facial constitutional challenge" and that "[t]he Louisiana Court will resolve that question. Morris & Dickson simply provides this Tribunal notice of that filing and requests sufficient time to allow the Louisiana Court (and, if necessary, the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals) to make its ruling." ALJX 34, at 1-2.

On December 31, 2018, Respondent submitted a letter notifying the Tribunal that "[o]n December 28, 2018, the District Court in the Western District of Louisiana dismissed Respondent's complaint without prejudice, finding that it did not have jurisdiction to hear Morris & Dickson's claims" and attaching the decision. ALJX 47, at 1. The Decision stated that, although Respondent's argument was "somewhat close," "in light of the policy problem created by crafting a 'constitutional claim' exception to Congress's ability to channel initial review through agencies, the Court finds that Morris & Dickson's separation-of-powers claims are not 'wholly collateral' to the proceeding before Judge Dorman because they were raised in an attempt to delay or defeat administrative enforcement of the CSA." Id. at 30.

On January 15, 2019, the ALJ issued an Order Lifting the Stay and Third Prehearing Ruling. ALJX 51. The Order stated that Respondent indicated during a telephonic conference on the previous day that it "w[ould] not seek to maintain the stay in this case pending its appeal to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit"[98] and that "it w[ould] not file a motion seeking to recuse [the ALJ] from this case based on the Supreme Court's decision in Lucia . . . ." Id. at 1.

The next time Respondent raised the Lucia issue was at the beginning of the hearing on May 13, 2019. Respondent's lawyer made a self-described "statement of the record, simply," Tr. 23, that "we respectfully renew for the record our objection to the hearing and proceeding." Tr. 22. However, Respondent's lawyer also agreed that Respondent was ready to go to hearing that day and made no further motions or requests for a new ALJ. Tr. 24.

On October 25, 2018, the Attorney General ratified the prior appointment of the DEA ALJs, including ALJ Dorman, and "approved their appointments as his own under the Constitution." See Office of the Attorney General, Order No. 4.315-2018.[99] It is noted that, at the time that the hearing took place in this matter, ALJ Dorman's appointment as an Administrative Law Judge had been ratified. Respondent never formally requested reassignment nor availed itself of the opportunity to request interlocutory review to the Administrator on any ruling of the ALJ or any Lucia-related issue pursuant to 21 C.F.R. § 1316.62. Had Respondent contested the matter formally with the Agency, the Agency would have assigned another ALJ, see Prehearing, Tr. 36, and saved significant Agency resources. The Agency further finds that ALJ Dorman's appointment was ratified before the hearing. Due to Respondent's calculated choice to preserve the matter for the record, Tr. 23, but not raise it in any way that the Agency might have had the capacity to address and remedy itself, the Agency considers the argument waived for purposes of finalizing this adjudication.

[98] Respondent's appeal to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit was dismissed by its own motion. See Morris and Dickson v. William Barr, et. al., No. 19-30043, 2019 WL 3230978 (5th Cir. Apr. 1, 2019).
[99] Although not considered material to this Decision, a copy of this Order will be included in the administrative record for future reference.

Having found that Respondent cannot be entrusted with a DEA registration, the Agency issues the following Order revoking Respondent's DEA registrations.

ORDER

Pursuant to 28 C.F.R. § 0.100(b) and the authority vested in me by 21 U.S.C. § 824(a)(4) and 21 U.S.C. § 823(b), (e), I hereby revoke DEA Certificates of Registration Nos. RM0314790 and RM0335732 issued to Morris & Dickson, Co., LLC. Further, pursuant to 28 C.F.R. § 0.100(b) and the authority vested in me by 21 U.S.C. § 824(a)(4) and 21 U.S.C. § 823(b), (e), I hereby deny any pending application of Morris & Dickson, Co., LLC to renew or modify these registrations, as well as any other pending application of Morris & Dickson, Co., LLC. Docket No. 18-31
MORRIS & DICKSON CO., LLC
ORDER

On May 19, 2023, I issued and served on the parties a Decision and Order (the Decision and Order) revoking, effective 30 days from the date of publication in the Federal Register, Certificate of Registration Nos. RM0314790 and RM0335732 issued to Morris & Dickson, Co., LLC (Respondent). By motion dated May 20, 2023, Respondent requested a stay of the Decision and Order. On May 21, I issued an order soliciting additional information from Respondent and asking the Government to respond to Respondent's Motion for Stay. On May 22, both parties responded. Respondent clarified that it was requesting a stay of at least 90-to-120 days so that it can renew settlement negotiations with the Government. Respondent's May 22, 2023 Letter re Motion for Stay, at 1. Respondent also stated that a stay was necessary to mitigate the impact on its "customers, employees, and other stakeholders," including pharmacies, hospitals, and patients. Id. at 4-5. The Government indicated that it opposed any stay request, but stated that it was "open to settlement offers" and suggested it was willing to engage in settlement negotiations with Respondent. Government's Opposition to Motion to Stay, at 3.

Upon consideration of the entire record before me, the public interest—in particular, the potential need for Respondent's customers and their patients to find new suppliers given the revocation of Respondent's registrations—and the possibility for renewed settlement negotiations, I hereby order that the May 19, 2023 Decision and Order will be effective on [insert Date Ninety Days From the Date of Publication of the May 19, 2023 Decision and Order in the Federal Register]—ninety days from the date of the Decision and Order's publication in the Federal Register. This change is reflected in the published Decision and Order.

It is so ordered.

CIVIL SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

This Civil Settlement Agreement ("Civil Settlement Agreement") is entered by and between the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Louisiana ("USAO"), acting on behalf of the United States Department of Justice and the United States Drug Enforcement Administration ("DEA") (collectively referred to as the "United States") and Morris & Dickson Company, LLC ("Morris & Dickson") (each a "Party" and collectively the "Parties").

RECITALS

A. Morris & Dickson owns and operates (or has previously owned and operated) two (2) distribution centers that are or were registered with DEA as distributors of Schedule II – V controlled substances under the provisions of the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970, 21 U.S.C. §801 et seq. (Controlled Substances Act or "CSA") (each a "Distribution Center" and collectively the "Distribution Centers").

B. In determining whether to register an applicant to distribute Schedule II – V controlled substances, the Attorney General, acting through the DEA, must consider the applicant's maintenance of effective controls against diversion of particular controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific and industrial channels. 21 U.S.C. §823(b)(1) and (e)(1).

C. Section 1301.74(b) of Title 21 of the Code of Federal Regulations requires registrants to operate a system to identify suspicious orders of controlled substances and inform the DEA of suspicious orders when discovered.

D. Morris & Dickson acknowledges that its DEA-registered distribution centers were and are required to comply with the CSA and the regulations promulgated thereunder, including the requirement described in Paragraph C.

E. The DEA, by its Administrator, has pending an Order to Show Cause for Morris & Dickson to appear and show cause why the DEA registration of Morris & Dickson should not be revoked. See In the Matter of Morris & Dickson Co., LLC, DEA Administrative Court Docket No. 18-31.

F. In parallel to the DEA Administrative Proceeding set forth in Paragraph E, the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Louisiana conducted a civil investigation with the assistance of the DEA's New Orleans Field Division into alleged failures by Morris & Dickson to inform the DEA of suspicious orders of controlled substances as required by 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b).

G. The United States contends that Morris & Dickson failed to inform the DEA of suspicious orders as required by 21 C.F.R. §1301.74(b). The United States further contends that these violations subject Morris & Dickson to civil penalties under 21 U.S.C. §§842(a)(5) and (c)(1), as well as injunctive relief under 21 U.S.C. §843(f).

H. This Settlement Agreement is neither an admission of liability by Morris & Dickson nor a concession by the United States that its claims are not well founded.

I. To avoid the delay, expense, inconvenience, and uncertainty of litigating the above-referenced claims, and in consideration of the mutual promises and obligations of this Agreement, the Parties agree and covenant as follows:

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Paragraphs A-I set forth above are fully adopted herein.

2. For purposes of this Agreement, "Covered Conduct" shall mean the followings:

   i. Failure, between January 1, 2014 and March 8, 2019, by Morris & Dickson to timely identify suspicious orders of controlled substances and inform the DEA of those orders, as required by 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b); and

ii. Failure, between January 1, 2014 and March 8, 2019, by Morris & Dickson to maintain effective controls against diversion of particular controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific, and industrial channels, as required by 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74, including the failure to make records and reports required by the CSA and DEA's regulations for which a penalty may be imposed under 21 U.S.C. § 842(a)(5).

3. Morris & Dickson shall pay to the United States the total sum of TWENTY-TWO MILLION U.S. DOLLARS ($22,000,000.00) (the "Settlement Amount"), within ten (10) business days after the Effective Date of this Agreement by electronic funds transfer pursuant to the written instructions provided to Morris & Dickson by the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Louisiana. Failure of Morris & Dickson to pay the Settlement Amount as set forth herein will void this Agreement and, in such an event, the United States may pursue any and all available remedies against Morris & Dickson for any of the Covered Conduct herein.

4. In consideration of the undertakings by Morris & Dickson contained herein, and subject to the exceptions in Paragraph 5 below (concerning excluded claims), and conditioned upon Morris & Dickson's full payment of the Settlement Amount within the requisite time frame, the United States agrees to:

(i) Fully and finally release Morris & Dickson from any and all civil penalty claims under 21 U.S.C. § 842, as well as any and all claims for injunctive relief under 21 U.S.C. § 843, that the United States could have asserted, or may assert in the future, against Morris & Dickson related to the Covered Conduct; and

(ii) Refrain from filing any action for civil penalties under 21 U.S.C. §842 or any action for injunctive relief under 21 U.S.C. §843 against Morris & Dickson or any of its subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors, parent companies, and assigns of each, based on, arising from, or related to the Covered Conduct.

5. Notwithstanding the release given in Paragraph 4 of this Agreement, the United States specifically reserves and does not release:

i. Any administrative action by the DEA based on or related to the Covered Conduct, but which does not solicit or impose civil penalties;

ii. Any federal criminal liability;

iii. Any criminal, civil or administrative claim arising under Title 26, United States Code (Internal Revenue Code);

iv. Any liability under the False Claims Act, 31 U.S.C. §3729 or the Program Fraud Civil Remedies Act, 31 U.S.C. § 3801-3812;

v. Any liability to the United States (or its agencies) for any conduct other than the Covered Conduct; and/or

vi. Any liability based on obligations created by this Agreement.

6. In consideration of the undertakings of the United States contained herein, Morris & Dickson fully and finally releases the United States, its agencies, officers, employees, servants, and agents from any claims (including attorney's fees, costs and expenses of every kind and however denominated) that Morris & Dickson has asserted, could have asserted, or may assert in the future against the United States, its agencies, officers, employees, servants, and agents related to the investigation, prosecution, and settlement of the Covered Conduct, provided, however, that Morris & Dickson reserves and does not release any liability based on obligations created by this Agreement. Morris & Dickson also reserves and does not release any liability based on the appointment and removal of administrative law judges under the CSA and the regulations promulgated thereunder, unless and until such action becomes moot by the termination of the DEA Administrative Proceeding (18-31).

7. Nothing in the Agreement constitutes an agreement by the United States concerning the characterization of the Settlement Amount for purposes of the Internal Revenue law, Title 26 of the United States Code.

8. This Agreement binds and is intended to benefit only the Parties. This Agreement is not intended to be, and shall not be interpreted to constitute, a release of any person or entity not identified or referred to herein.

9. Each Party shall bear its own legal or other costs incurred in connection with this matter, including the preparation, execution and performance of this Agreement.

10. Each Party and signatory to this Agreement represents that he, she or it freely and voluntarily enters into this Agreement without any degree of duress or compulsion.

11. This Agreement is governed by the laws of the United States. Each Party may seek judicial enforcement of this Agreement upon a material breach by the other Party. The Parties agree that the jurisdiction and venue for any dispute arising between and among the Parties will be the United States District Court for the Western District of Louisiana, Shreveport Division.

12. For the purposes of construing this Agreement, the Agreement shall be deemed to have been drafted by all Parties to this Agreement and shall not be construed against any Party for that reason in any subsequent dispute.

13. This Agreement constitutes the complete agreement between the Parties. All material representations, understandings, and promises of the Parties are contained in this Agreement. Each of the Parties expressly agrees and acknowledges that, in entering this Agreement, it is relying on only the statements and promises expressly set forth in this written Agreement. This Agreement cannot be amended, nor any provisions waived, except in writing and when signed by all Parties to this Agreement.

14. The undersigned individuals represent and warrant that they are fully authorized to execute this Agreement on behalf of the Parties listed below.

15. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, including by facsimile, pdf, or other electronic form or signature, each of which constitutes an original and all of which constitute one and the same Agreement.

16. This Agreement is binding on Morris & Dickson and its successors, transferees, heirs, and assigns.

17. The Parties may disclose the existence of and information about this Agreement to the public without restriction.

18. This Agreement shall be effective (final and binding) on the date of signature by the last signatory to the Agreement (the "Effective Date" of this Agreement).

CIVIL SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

This Civil Settlement Agreement ("Civil Settlement Agreement") is entered by and between the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Louisiana ("USAO"), acting on behalf of the United States Department of Justice and the United States Drug Enforcement Administration ("DEA") (collectively referred to as the "United States") and Morris & Dickson Company, LLC ("Morris & Dickson") (each a "Party" and collectively the "Parties").

1. Paragraphs A-I set forth above are fully adopted herein.

2. For purposes of this Agreement, "Covered Conduct" shall mean the followings:

   i. Failure, between January 1, 2014 and March 8, 2019, by Morris & Dickson to timely identify suspicious orders of controlled substances and inform the DEA of those orders, as required by 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b); and

ii. Failure, between January 1, 2014 and March 8, 2019, by Morris & Dickson to maintain effective controls against diversion of particular controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific, and industrial channels, as required by 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74, including the failure to make records and reports required by the CSA and DEA's regulations for which a penalty may be imposed under 21 U.S.C. § 842(a)(5).

3. Morris & Dickson shall pay to the United States the total sum of TWENTY-TWO MILLION U.S. DOLLARS ($22,000,000.00) (the "Settlement Amount"), within ten (10) business days after the Effective Date of this Agreement by electronic funds transfer pursuant to the written instructions provided to Morris & Dickson by the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Louisiana. Failure of Morris & Dickson to pay the Settlement Amount as set forth herein will void this Agreement and, in such an event, the United States may pursue any and all available remedies against Morris & Dickson for any of the Covered Conduct herein.

4. In consideration of the undertakings by Morris & Dickson contained herein, and subject to the exceptions in Paragraph 5 below (concerning excluded claims), and conditioned upon Morris & Dickson's full payment of the Settlement Amount within the requisite time frame, the United States agrees to:

(i) Fully and finally release Morris & Dickson from any and all civil penalty claims under 21 U.S.C. § 842, as well as any and all claims for injunctive relief under 21 U.S.C. § 843, that the United States could have asserted, or may assert in the future, against Morris & Dickson related to the Covered Conduct; and

(ii) Refrain from filing any action for civil penalties under 21 U.S.C. §842 or any action for injunctive relief under 21 U.S.C. §843 against Morris & Dickson or any of its subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, successors, parent companies, and assigns of each, based on, arising from, or related to the Covered Conduct.

5. Notwithstanding the release given in Paragraph 4 of this Agreement, the United States specifically reserves and does not release:

i. Any administrative action by the DEA based on or related to the Covered Conduct, but which does not solicit or impose civil penalties;

ii. Any federal criminal liability;

iii. Any criminal, civil or administrative claim arising under Title 26, United States Code (Internal Revenue Code);

iv. Any liability under the False Claims Act, 31 U.S.C. §3729 or the Program Fraud Civil Remedies Act, 31 U.S.C. § 3801-3812;

v. Any liability to the United States (or its agencies) for any conduct other than the Covered Conduct; and/or

vi. Any liability based on obligations created by this Agreement.

6. In consideration of the undertakings of the United States contained herein, Morris & Dickson fully and finally releases the United States, its agencies, officers, employees, servants, and agents from any claims (including attorney's fees, costs and expenses of every kind and however denominated) that Morris & Dickson has asserted, could have asserted, or may assert in the future against the United States, its agencies, officers, employees, servants, and agents related to the investigation, prosecution, and settlement of the Covered Conduct, provided, however, that Morris & Dickson reserves and does not release any liability based on obligations created by this Agreement. Morris & Dickson also reserves and does not release any liability based on the appointment and removal of administrative law judges under the CSA and the regulations promulgated thereunder, unless and until such action becomes moot by the termination of the DEA Administrative Proceeding (18-31).

7. Nothing in the Agreement constitutes an agreement by the United States concerning the characterization of the Settlement Amount for purposes of the Internal Revenue law, Title 26 of the United States Code.

8. This Agreement binds and is intended to benefit only the Parties. This Agreement is not intended to be, and shall not be interpreted to constitute, a release of any person or entity not identified or referred to herein.

9. Each Party shall bear its own legal or other costs incurred in connection with this matter, including the preparation, execution and performance of this Agreement.

10. Each Party and signatory to this Agreement represents that he, she or it freely and voluntarily enters into this Agreement without any degree of duress or compulsion.

11. This Agreement is governed by the laws of the United States. Each Party may seek judicial enforcement of this Agreement upon a material breach by the other Party. The Parties agree that the jurisdiction and venue for any dispute arising between and among the Parties will be the United States District Court for the Western District of Louisiana, Shreveport Division.

12. For the purposes of construing this Agreement, the Agreement shall be deemed to have been drafted by all Parties to this Agreement and shall not be construed against any Party for that reason in any subsequent dispute.

13. This Agreement constitutes the complete agreement between the Parties. All material representations, understandings, and promises of the Parties are contained in this Agreement. Each of the Parties expressly agrees and acknowledges that, in entering this Agreement, it is relying on only the statements and promises expressly set forth in this written Agreement. This Agreement cannot be amended, nor any provisions waived, except in writing and when signed by all Parties to this Agreement.

14. The undersigned individuals represent and warrant that they are fully authorized to execute this Agreement on behalf of the Parties listed below.

15. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, including by facsimile, pdf, or other electronic form or signature, each of which constitutes an original and all of which constitute one and the same Agreement.

16. This Agreement is binding on Morris & Dickson and its successors, transferees, heirs, and assigns.

17. The Parties may disclose the existence of and information about this Agreement to the public without restriction.

18. This Agreement shall be effective (final and binding) on the date of signature by the last signatory to the Agreement (the "Effective Date" of this Agreement).

RE: LETTER OF CONCERN, 18-0364

Dear Permit Holder:

At its January 19, 2022, meeting, the Board of Pharmacy's Case Review Panel, comprised of three board members, considered a grievance alleging that you entered a Settlement Agreement with the United States government to pay civil penalty claims and to invest in significant upgrades to your compliance program for allegedly violating the Controlled Substances Act by failing to report suspicious orders of hydrocodone and oxycodone by pharmacies. From the period of January 2014 through April 2018, there were eleven suspicious orders by three Kentucky pharmacies. The Panel reviewed the case report, Settlement Agreement, policies and procedures prior to the Settlement Agreement, and policies and procedures after the Settlement Agreement.

Having considered all the information available and being sufficiently advised, the Panel found that there is insufficient evidence of a violation to warrant the issuance of a Complaint, but that there is evidence of a practice or activity that requires modification. The Panel expressed concern regarding the Settlement Agreement and its relation to the suspicious orders of hydrocodone and oxycodone to three Kentucky pharmacies, which would qualify as a violation of KRS 315.121 (1)(c)2. The Panel determined that this letter of concern be issued.

Sincerely,

Peter P. Cohron
President
Kentucky Board of Pharmacy

Dear Licensing Authority,

This letter provides information supplementing the above pending applications submitted by M&D Specialty Distribution, L.L.C. ("MDSD"), a pharmaceutical wholesaler located in Shreveport, Louisiana.

MDSD is not a distributor of controlled substances. MDSD is contractually affiliated and has overlapping ownership with Morris & Dickson Co., LLC ("M&D Co."), which also is a pharmaceutical wholesaler located in Shreveport, Louisiana. M&D Co.'s business includes the distribution of controlled substances. M&D Co. has settled an administrative proceeding with the United States Drug Enforcement Administration concerning events between 2014 and 2018 (the "2018 Proceeding"), pursuant to a Settlement and Administrative Memorandum of Agreement (the "MOA"). M&D Co. has provided a copy of the MOA to the Board. The MOA does not pertain to MDSD.

Dear Licensing Authority,

This letter provides information supplementing the above pending applications submitted by Morris & Dickson Co., L.L.C. ("M&D Co."), a pharmaceutical wholesaler located in Shreveport, Louisiana. M&D Co. has settled an administrative proceeding with the United States Drug Enforcement Administration concerning events between 2014 and 2018 (the "2018 Proceeding"), pursuant to a Settlement and Administrative Memorandum of Agreement (the "MOA"). A copy of the MOA is attached to this letter. The 2018 Proceeding has been the subject of prior reporting to the Board. It is requested that the MOA remain confidential with the Board.

The MOA permits the full continuation of M&D Co.'s business in all respects. Terms of the MOA include a payment to the DEA and M&D's maintenance of its existing compliance policies and procedures. M&D Co. distributes controlled substances from its Shreveport, Louisiana facility pursuant to that facility's DEA registration (the "M&D Co. DEA Registration"). Pursuant to the MOA, M&D Co. maintains the M&D Co. DEA Registration.[1]

Should your agency require any additional information, please direct any inquiries regarding this matter to:

Thank you for your assistance in this matter,

[1] The company is surrendering a separate DEA registration for a facility in Jefferson, Louisiana, which, for in excess of the past 10 years, has been operated by M&D Co. dba Spark Drug (the "Spark Facility"), solely for the purpose of distributing non-controlled drugs to certain customers within Louisiana. Thus, the Jefferson, Louisiana DEA registration has not been used by M&D Co. for over 10 years. The surrender of the Jefferson, Louisiana DEA registration will have no effect on M&D Co.'s business. The Spark Facility is not the subject of the above-referenced pending license application(s).

January 12, 2024 Settlement and Administrative Memorandum of Agreement

This Settlement and Administrative Memorandum of Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into by and between the United States Department of Justice, Drug Enforcement Administration ("DEA") and Morris & Dickson Co., LLC ("M&D") (each a "Party" and collectively the "Parties").

This Agreement shall be applicable to M&D and any facility owned or operated by M&D that is registered, or that may become registered, with DEA to distribute or otherwise handle controlled substances.

I. RECITALS

1. In order to avoid the uncertainty and expense of continued litigation, and in furtherance of the Parties' belief that a settlement is in the public interest, the Parties desire to settle and resolve, and hereby do settle and resolve, the administrative matters within DEA's enforcement authority as those matters relate to the conduct described further below, including without limitation M&D's appeal pending in the Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit. The Parties further believe that the terms and conditions of this Agreement as set forth below represent a complete resolution of this matter.

2. M&D owns and operates (or has previously owned and operated) two (2) distribution centers that are or were registered with DEA as distributors of Schedule II-V controlled substances, Registration Nos. RM0314790 and RM0335732 (together the "COR") under the provisions of the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970, 21 U.S.C. § 801 et seq. ("CSA") (each a "Distribution Center" and collectively the "Distribution Center").

3. The DEA is the Department of Justice component agency primarily responsible for administering the CSA and the regulations promulgated thereunder, and is vested with the responsibility of investigating CSA violations.

4. The regulations promulgated under the CSA require registrants to design and operate a system to detect and report "suspicious orders" for controlled substances, as defined in the regulations. See 21 C.F.R. § 1301.74(b).

5. On or about May 2, 2018, DEA served M&D with an Order to Show Cause ("OTSC") and Immediate Suspension of Registration ("ISO"), immediately suspending M&D's COR, pursuant to 21 U.S.C. § 824(d), and proposing to revoke its COR and deny any pending

applications for renewal or modification, pursuant to 21 U.S.C. §§ 824(a)(4) & 823(b).

6. On or about May 5, 2018, M&D obtained a temporary restraining order prohibiting DEA from enforcing the ISO (the "TRO").

7. On or about May 18, 2018, Acting Administrator Robert W. Patterson rescinded the ISO, but left the Order to Show Cause in place.

8. On May 13-16, 2019, DEA held an administrative hearing on the Order to Show Cause before Administrative Law Judge ("ALJ") Charles W. Dorman (the "ALJ Hearing").

9. On or about August 29, 2019, ALJ Dorman issued a Recommended Rulings, Findings of Facts, Conclusions of Law, and Decision ("R&R"). In the R&R, he recommended that both of M&D's CORs be revoked.

10. On or about May 19, 2023, Administrator Anne Milgram issued a Decision and Order ("Final Order") revoking both of M&D's CORs, effective thirty days from the Final Order's publication in the Federal Register.

11. On May 23, 2023, the Administrator modified her decision to allow M&D ninety days to attempt to reach a settlement with the Agency.

12. On or about May 30, 2023, the Final Order was published in the Federal Register.

13. On or about June 2, 2023, M&D petitioned the Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit for a stay of the effective date of the Final Order.

14. On or about June 16, 2023, the Fifth Circuit granted M&D's request for a full stay of the effective date of the Final Order pending a decision on the merits.

II. TERM OF AGREEMENT

15. The obligations contained in this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect for a period of five (5) years from the effective date of this Agreement unless DEA agrees in writing to an earlier termination.

III. ACCEPTANCE OF RESPONSIBILITY

16. M&D acknowledges and unconditionally accepts responsibility for every CSA violation found by the Administrator in the Agency's Final Order (the "Covered Conduct"). See Final Order attached as Appendix A.

IV. COMPLIANCE ADDENDUM

17. Simultaneous with the execution of this Agreement, M&D and DEA have entered into a Compliance Addendum, which is attached as Appendix B.

V. REGISTRATION CONSEQUENCES

18. M&D agrees to immediately surrender for cause its DEA Certificate of Registration No. RM0335732.

19. Following the surrender for cause of DEA Certificate of Registration No. RM0335732, M&D shall respond in the affirmative to any and all questions on Federal or State application and registration application concerning whether M&D has been subject to liability.

20. As to DEA Certificate of Registration RM0314790, M&D and DEA stipulate that:

a. Revocation of DEA Certificate of Registration RM0314790 was the proper remedy for the Covered Conduct;

b. In the period between DEA's ISO and OTSC and the Final Order, M&D expended substantial resources to remediate its compliance program.

c. DEA Certificate of Registration RM0314790 was suspended during the period between the ISO and the TRO. This suspension, together with M&D's surrender of DEA Certificate of Registration No. RM0335732, is a sufficient registration consequence considering:

i. The extended passage of time between the issuance of the ISO and the Final Order;

ii. The substantial resources M&D spent to remediate its compliance program with respect to suspicious orders and due diligence;

iii. M&D's agreement to enter a five-year Compliance Addendum;

iv. M&D's good faith anti-diversion efforts in the pre-ISO period, including its destruction (rather than sale) of $2.5 million of short-dated opioids; and

v. M&D's agreement to the payment terms set forth in this Agreement.

VI. TERMS AND CONDITIONS

21. In consideration of the mutual promises, covenants, and obligations set forth herein, DEA and M&D agree as follows:

a. M&D shall pay a total of Thirty-three Million Dollars ($33,000,000.00), which includes:

i. Fourteen Million Dollars ($14,000,000.00) of costs M&D incurred to enhance its compliance system between the date of the ISO and the present, which DEA agrees is hereby credited to the amount in paragraph

ii. M&D shall pay an additional Nineteen Million Dollars ($19,000,000.00) to DEA/Department of Justice consistent with the terms set forth below:

a) DEA will initiate administrative forfeiture proceedings against the $19 million based on the probable cause established in the May 19, 2023, Final Order executed by DEA Administrator Anne Milgram. This amount will be paid in five equal annual installments, beginning in 2025. For clarity, and as agreed by the parties, these payments totaling $19,000,000.00 are paid by M&D as remediation for M&D's alleged violations of the law resulting in alleged damage or harm.

b) Upon completion of the forfeiture proceedings, all forfeited proceeds will be disposed of according to the applicable Federal law.

c) Morris & Dickson Co., LLC waives any right to administrative or judicial notice of the forfeiture proceedings regarding the five annual payments, totaling $19 million, and further agrees to abandon and forfeit any interest they may have in each payment when made in the entirety of the $19 million once all payments are complete.

d) Each annual payment shall be made by cashier's check at the DEA New Orleans Field Division on the first business day after January 1, beginning in 2025.

c. Any material breach by M&D of this Agreement or the Compliance Addendum may be a basis upon which DEA takes administrative action against M&D. However, nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed a waiver of M&D's due process rights. Further, DEA hereby agrees to provide M&D a thirty (30) day safe harbor period to allow M&D the opportunity to cure any alleged breach before it initiates any administrative action.

d. In consideration of the fulfillment of the obligations of M&D under this Agreement, DEA agrees to:

i. Fully and finally release M&D, together with its parent and subsidiary entities, facilities, registrants, officers, directors, employees, successors, attorneys, assigns (collectively, the "Released Parties") from any and all administrative claims within DEA's enforcement authority under 21 U.S.C. §§ 823 & 824 related to the Covered Conduct through December 31, 2021, which the DEA asserted, or could have asserted based upon information that was or could have been discovered by DEA through the exercise of due diligence through the examination of open investigations and inspections in existence as of the effective date of this Agreement, and the review of the reports and records of M&D submitted to DEA prior to the effective date of this Agreement; and

ii. Refrain from filing or taking any administrative actions against the Released Parties within DEA's enforcement authority under 21 U.S.C. §§ 823 & 824, based on the Covered Conduct, provided that such conduct was or could have been discovered by DEA through the exercise of due diligence through the examination of open investigations and inspections in existence as of the effective date of this Agreement, and the review of the reports and records of M&D submitted to DEA prior to the effective date of this Agreement. This Release applies only to administrative actions brought before or by DEA with respect to the Covered Conduct.

e. M&D fully and finally releases DEA from any claims (including attorney's fees, costs, and expenses of every kind and however denominated) which M&D has asserted, could have asserted, or may assert in the future against DEA related to the Covered Conduct and DEA's investigation and prosecution thereof, including without limitations M&D's appeal pending before the Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit and its action pending against DEA in U.S. District Court for the Western District of Louisiana.

22. Except as expressly set forth herein, there are no additional promises, understandings, or agreements between M&D and DEA concerning any other administrative proceeding relating to any other federal, state, or local charges that may now be pending or hereafter be brought against M&D. Nor may any additional agreement, understanding, or condition relating to the Covered Conduct be entered into by M&D and DEA unless in writing and signed by both. However, the Parties acknowledge and agree that nothing herein conflicts with or modifies a separate nonprosecution agreement anticipated between M&D and the Department of Justice.

VII. MISCELLANEOUS

23. Binding on Successors. This Agreement is binding on M&D, and its respective successors, heirs, transferees, and assigns.

24. Costs. Each Party to this Agreement shall bear its own legal and other costs incurred in connection with this matter, including the preparation and performance of this Agreement.

25. No Additional Releases. This Agreement is intended to be for the benefit of the Parties and the Released Parties only, and by this instrument the Parties do not release any claims against any other person or entity other than the Released Parties.

26. Effect of Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the complete agreement between the Parties. All material representations, understandings, and promises of the Parties are contained in this Agreement, and each of the Parties expressly agrees and acknowledges that, other than those statements expressly set forth in this Agreement, it is not relying on any statement, whether oral or written, of any person or entity with respect to its entry into this Agreement or to the consummation of the transaction contemplated by this Agreement. M&D represents that this Agreement is entered into with advice of counsel and knowledge of the events described herein. M&D further represents that this Agreement is voluntarily entered into in order to avoid litigation, without any degree of duress or compulsion.

27. Execution of Agreement. This Agreement shall become effective (i.e., final and binding) on the date of signing by the last signatory (the "Effective Date"). DEA agrees to notify M&D immediately when the final signatory has executed this Agreement.

28. Notices. All communications and notices pursuant to this Agreement shall be made in writing to the following individuals, which notice information may be altered from time to time by either Party by written notification:

29. Disclosure. M&D and DEA may each disclose the existence of this Agreement and information about this Agreement to the public except for information designated as confidential.

30. Confidentiality and Designation of Information. M&D and DEA agree that all reports submitted to DEA contain information that is commercial or financial and privileged or confidential, and therefore exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA"), 5 U.S.C. § 552. Such information may be exempt from disclosure under FOIA and any other state or federal law or regulation protecting such information from public disclosure and, upon receipt of a request to release such, DEA agrees to provide M&D reasonable opportunity to respond to any such requests.

Dear David,

I heard back from my supervisor and he advised that this would fall under one registration. The main address would be identified on the registration and then you can add any additional device listings to that registration if necessary. (Only one address can be identified on the registration).

Thank You,

Dear Amanda,

Our current registered manufacturing facility -

Delcath Systems
566 Queensbury Ave,
Queensbury
12804
New York

Addition warehouse/manufacturing facility -
Delcath Systems
95/97 Park Road,
Queensbury
12804
New York

Distance apart is 0.7 miles, we own the yellow area, but the two lots are divided by a wood area which we will eventually clear.

Both locations are under the same ownership, both are Delcath Systems.

Both locations are under the same management structure and the same quality management system is deployed in both area.

Thanks

David

Hi,

My name is David Day and I am the Senior Director of Quality with Delcath Systems. We are a medical device company that manufacture medical device kits for Export only.

Our Owner/Operator Registration is 10036454 and our Facility Registration FEI Number is 3008822486. I have attached our annual registration.

I want to add an additional warehouse/manufacturing building to our registration. This building is located behind our building but the address is a different road. How do I add this facility to our registration?

Thanks

David

Disclosure Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This Annual Report on Form 10-K for the period ended December 31, 2022 contains certain "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the "safe harbor" provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 with respect to our business, financial condition, liquidity, and results of operations. Words such as "anticipates," "expects," "intends," "plans," "predicts," "believes," "seeks," "estimates," "could," "would," "will," "may," "can," "continue," "potential," "should," and the negative of these terms or other comparable terminology often identify forward-looking statements. Statements in this Annual Report on Form 10-K for the period ending December 31, 2022 that are not historical facts are hereby identified as "forward-looking statements" for the purpose of the safe harbor provided by Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act, and Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Act. These forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and are subject to risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from the results contemplated by the forward-looking statements, including the risks discussed in this Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2022 in Item 1A under "Risk Factors" and the risks detailed from time to time in our future SEC reports. These forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements about:

- our estimates regarding sufficiency of our cash resources, anticipated capital requirements and our need for additional financing;
- actions by the FDA relating to the Company's New Drug Application resubmission;
- the ability of the Company to respond to FDA queries related to the New Drug Application resubmission;
- the Company's successful inspections by the FDA or foreign regulatory agencies;
- the commencement of future clinical trials and the results and timing of those clinical trials;
- our ability to successfully commercialize CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO, generate revenue and successfully obtain reimbursement for the procedure and system;
- the progress and results of our research and development programs;
- submission and timing of applications for regulatory approval and approval thereof;
- our ability to successfully source certain components of CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO and enter into supplier contracts;
- our ability to successfully manufacture CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO;
- our ability to successfully negotiate and enter into agreements with distribution, strategic and corporate partners, and
- our estimates of potential market opportunities and our ability to successfully realize these opportunities.

Many of the important factors that will determine these results are beyond our ability to control or predict. You are cautioned not to put undue reliance on any forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this Annual Report on Form 10-K. Except as otherwise required by law, we do not assume any obligation to publicly update or release any revisions to these forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this Annual Report on Form 10-K or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.

SUMMARY OF THE MATERIAL RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH OUR BUSINESS

- Our independent registered public accounting firm has expressed substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern. We will be unable to continue to operate for the foreseeable future without additional capital.
- We will need additional capital to maintain our operations. If we cannot raise additional capital, our potential to generate future revenues will be significantly limited since we may not be able to further commercialize CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO, complete our clinical trials or conduct future product development and clinical trials.
- Drug development is an inherently uncertain process with a high risk of failure at every stage of development. On February 12, 2013, we received a complete response letter from the FDA declining to approve our New Drug Application, or NDA, in its then current form. We resubmitted a New Drug Application with the FDA on February 14, 2023; however, there is no guarantee that the FDA will accept our resubmitted NDA, or ultimately approve it.
- The Company does not expect to generate significant revenue for the foreseeable future.
- Continuing losses may exhaust our capital resources.
- If we cannot raise additional capital, our potential to generate future revenues will be significantly limited since we may not be able to further commercialize CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO, or conduct future product development and clinical trials.
- Our failure to obtain, or delays in obtaining, regulatory approvals may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- We have obtained the right to affix the CE Mark for the CHEMOSAT Hepatic Delivery System as a medical device for the delivery of melphalan. Since we may only promote the device within this specific indication, if physicians are unwilling to obtain melphalan separately for use with CHEMOSAT, our ability to commercialize CHEMOSAT in the EU will be significantly limited.
- We are subject to significant ongoing regulatory obligations and oversight in the EU and will be subject to such obligations in any other country where we receive marketing authorization or approval.
- The development and approval process in the United States is time consuming, requires substantial resources and may never lead to the approval of HEPZATO by the FDA for use in the United States. The FDA may reject our New Drug Application resubmission or refuse to approve the New Drug Application for HEPZATO.
- If future clinical trials are unsuccessful, significantly delayed or not completed, we may not be able to market HEPZATO for other indications.
- We may not be able to obtain or maintain orphan drug designation or exclusivity for our product candidates.
- We rely on third parties to conduct certain elements of the clinical trials for CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO, and if these third parties do not perform their obligations to us, we may not be able to obtain regulatory approvals for our system.
- Purchasers of CHEMOSAT in the EU may not receive third-party reimbursement or such reimbursement may be inadequate. Without adequate reimbursement, commercialization of CHEMOSAT in the EU may not be successful. The success of any of our products may be harmed if the government, private health insurers or other third-party payers do not provide sufficient coverage or reimbursement.

- CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO may not achieve sufficient acceptance by the medical community to sustain our business.
- We may be subject, directly or indirectly, to federal and state health care fraud and abuse laws, false claims laws and health information privacy and security laws. If we are unable to comply, or have not fully complied, with such laws, we could face substantial penalties.
- Compliance with laws and regulations pertaining to the privacy and security of health information may be time consuming, difficult and costly for us, particularly in light of increased focus on privacy issues in countries around the world, including the U.S. and in the EU.
- Changes in health care law and governmental policies and initiatives with respect to health care, including government restrictions on pricing and reimbursement and other health care payor cost-containment initiatives, may have a material adverse effect on us.
- Changes in general market, economic, and political conditions, as well as uncertainty resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic, geopolitical tensions, and other macroeconomic conditions.
- Consolidation in the healthcare industry could lead to demands for price concessions.
- We may not be able to enter into or maintain acceptable arrangements for the supply of components and/or raw materials needed for the manufacture of HEPZATO and/or CHEMOSAT.
- If we cannot maintain or enter into acceptable arrangements for the production of melphalan and other chemotherapeutic agents we will be unable to successfully commercialize HEPZATO in the United States or complete any future clinical trials.
- If we cannot successfully manufacture CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO, our ability to develop and commercialize the system would be impaired.
- Even if we receive FDA or other foreign regulatory approvals, we may be unsuccessful in commercializing our product in markets outside the EU, because of inadequate infrastructure or an ineffective commercialization strategy.
- Any plan by the Company to use collaborative arrangements with third parties to help finance and to market and sell CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO may not be successful.

Company Overview

We are an interventional oncology company focused on the treatment of primary and metastatic liver cancers. Our lead product candidate, the HEPZATO® KIT (melphalan hydrochloride for injection/hepatic delivery system), or HEPZATO, is a drug/device combination product designed to administer high-dose chemotherapy to the liver while controlling systemic exposure and associated side effects. In Europe, the hepatic delivery system is a stand-alone medical device having the same device components as the HEPZATO but without the melphalan hydrochloride and is approved for sale under the trade name CHEMOSAT Hepatic Delivery System for Melphalan, or CHEMOSAT, where it has been used at major medical centers to treat a wide range of cancers of the liver. Approximately consisting primarily of metastatic ocular melanoma, or mOM. Approximately 80% of the estimated 800 patients annually with mOM will be eligible for would be candidates for HEPZATO.

In the United States, HEPZATO is considered a combination drug and device product and is regulated as a drug by the United States Food and Drug Administration, or the FDA. Primary jurisdiction for regulation of HEPZATO has been assigned to the FDA's Center for Drug Evaluation and Research. The FDA has granted Delcath six orphan drug designations (five for melphalan the treatment of patients with ocular (uveal) melanoma cutaneous melanoma, intrahepatic cholangiocarcinoma, hepatocellular carcinoma, and neuroendocrine tumor indications and one for doxorubicin in the treatment of patients with hepatocellular carcinoma). HEPZATO has not been approved for sale in the United States.

Our clinical development program for HEPZATO is comprised of the FOCUS Clinical Trial for Patients with Hepatic Dominant Ocular Melanoma (the "FOCUS Trial"), a global registration clinical trial that is investigating objective response rate in metastatic ocular melanoma, or mOM, a type of primary liver cancer. Our most advanced development program is the treatment of mOM. We are currently reviewing the incidence, unmet need, available efficacy data and development requirements for a broad set of liver cancers in order to select a portfolio of follow-on indications that will maximize the value of the HEPZATO platform. In addition to HEPZATO's use to treat mOM, we believe that HEPZATO has the potential to treat other liver dominant cancers, such as Metastatic Colorectal Cancer and Cholangiocarcinoma, and plan to begin the study of HEPZATO to treat such conditions in the near future. We believe that the disease states we are investigating and intend to investigate are unmet medical needs that represent significant market opportunities.

In December 2021, the Company announced that the FOCUS Trial for HEPZATO met its pre-specified endpoint.

On February 14, 2023, the Company completed a NDA resubmission to the FDA for the HEPZATO Kit (melphalan hydrochloride for Injection/Hepatic Delivery System) seeking approval of the HEPZATO Kit in the treatment of patients with unresectable hepatic-dominant mOM. The resubmission is in response to a September 12, 2013 Complete Response Letter, or CRL, from the FDA for the Company's NDA in December 2010 seeking approval of its first generation melphalan hydrochloride for injection/hepatic delivery system. The NDA resubmission contains comprehensive data and information on Generation Two HEPZATO Kit relating to the matters identified in the CRL. On March 20, 2023, the FDA determined the resubmission constituted a complete response and set a Prescription Drug User Fee Act target action date of August 14, 2023. We continue to have early access programs in the United States to make HEPZATO available to mOM patients. We are focused on continuing to treat these patients with mOM as regulatory approval is sought in the United States.

On February 28, 2022, CHEMOSAT received Medical Device Regulation (MDR) certification under the European Medical Devices Regulation [2017/745/EU], which may be considered by jurisdictions when evaluating reimbursement. As of March 1, 2022, we have assumed direct responsibility for sales, marketing and distribution of CHEMOSAT in Europe.

Cancers in the Liver—A Significant Unmet Need

According to the American Cancer Society's, or ACS, Cancer Facts & Figures 2023 report, cancer is the second leading cause of death in the United States, with an estimated 609,820 deaths and over 1.9 million new cases expected to be diagnosed in 2023. Cancer is one of the leading causes of death worldwide, accounting for approximately 10 million deaths and 19.3 million new cases in 2020 according to GLOBOCAN, the database of the International Association of Cancer Registries. The financial burden of cancer is enormous for patients, their families and society. The Agency for Healthcare Quality and Research estimates that the direct medical costs (total of all healthcare expenditures) for cancer in the United States in 2018 was $112.5 billion. The liver is often the life-limiting organ for cancer patients and cancer that spreads to the liver is one of the leading causes of cancer death. Cancer that begins in one area of the body often metastasizes to the liver. Patient prognosis is generally poor once cancer has spread to the liver. Consequently, cancers of the liver remain a major unmet medical need globally.

Liver Cancers—Incidence and Mortality

Cancers of the liver consist of primary liver cancer and metastatic liver cancer. Primary liver cancers (hepatocellular carcinoma, or HCC, and Intrahepatic Cholangiocarcinoma or ICC) originates in the liver or biliary tissue and is particularly prevalent in populations where the primary risk factors for the disease, such as hepatitis-B, hepatitis-C, high levels of alcohol consumption, aflatoxin, cigarette smoking and exposure to industrial pollutants, are present. Metastatic liver cancer, also called liver metastasis, or secondary liver cancer, results from the spread or "metastases" of a primary cancer into the liver. These metastases often continue to grow even after the primary cancer in another part of the body has been removed. Given the vital biological functions of the liver, including processing nutrients from food and filtering toxins from the blood, it is not uncommon for metastases to settle in the liver. In many cases patients die not as a result of their primary cancer, but from the tumors that metastasize to their liver. In the United States, metastatic liver disease is more prevalent than primary liver cancer. In Europe and the United States, there are over 200,000 primary and metastatic liver tumors per year. It is estimated the total addressable market in the United States for mOM, ICC, HCC breast cancer, neuroendocrine, pancreatic, and colorectal, is over $1.0 billion.

The liver is a difficult organ to treat for certain cancers. Current liver treatment options include surgery, systemic drugs, and minimally invasive or liver directed options. Surgery options include surgical resections, liver transplants, and isolated hepatic perfusion, or IHP. We believe that IHP results in mOM provided rational for PHP in mOM, as well as other tumor types, including colorectal cancer. Systemic options include systemic chemotherapy, immunotherapy agents including KIMMTRAK. Minimally invasive options include external beam radiation therapy and liver directed procedures. Procedures in the liver, liver directed (interventional oncology) are performed by an interventional radiologist. These procedures include trans-arterial chemoembolization (TACE, DEBTACE) and Radioembolization (SIRT, TARE, or Y90). TACE is performing approximately 50,000 to 60,000 treatments per year and Y90 is performing 10,000 to 15,000 treatment per year. We believe that CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO, if approved in the United States, represent an important advancement in regional therapy for liver directed treatment of primary liver cancer and certain other cancers metastatic to the liver and are uniquely positioned to treat the entire liver either as a standalone therapy or as a complement to other therapies. Patients at our early access programs have included first line of stand alone treatment, first line treatment for those intending to receive KIMMTRAK as second line treatment, and as a third line palliative treatment.

Ocular Melanoma

Ocular melanoma frequently metastasizes to the liver. Based on third party research that we commissioned approximately 5,000-6,200 cases of ocular melanoma are diagnosed in the United States and Europe annually, and approximately 50% of these patients will develop metastatic disease. Of metastatic cases of ocular melanoma, approximately 90% of patients develop liver involvement. According to Lane et al., JAMA Ophthalmol. 2018 Sep 1;136(9):981-98, once ocular melanoma has spread to the liver, median overall survival for these patients is up to 12 months. There is no one standard of care for patients with ocular melanoma liver metastases. Based on our research, an estimated 800 patients with ocular melanoma liver metastases in the United States, and 1,200 patients in Europe may be eligible for treatment with HEPZATO annually. Currently 55% of the patients have no approved treatment option and most of those patients are treated with multiple lines of therapy. We estimate the annual addressable market for this indication in the United States and Europe is approximately $500 million per year.

Intrahepatic Cholangiocarcinoma

Primary liver cancers include HCC and ICC. According to GLOBOCAN 2020, an estimated 68,500 new cases of primary liver cancer are diagnosed in the United States and Europe annually. According to the ACS, approximately 41,260 new cases of these cancers are expected to be diagnosed in the United States, leading to approximately 30,520 deaths.

ICC is the second most common form of primary liver cancer and according to Wang et al., 2013 J Clin Oncol 31:1188-1195 accounts for 5-30% of primary liver cancers diagnosed in the United States and Europe annually. We believe that 80% of ICC patients are not candidates for surgical resection, and that approximately 20-30% of these may be candidates for certain focal interventions. According to third party research that we commissioned, we estimate that approximately 11,000 ICC patients in the United States, the United Kingdom and the EU annually could be candidates for treatment with HEPZATO and CHEMOSAT.

Colorectal Cancer

Colorectal cancer or CRC is one of the most prevalent cancers in the United States and Europe and has a high metastatic rate to the liver. GLOBOCAN 2020 estimates 288,230 colorectal cancer diagnosis per year in the United States and Europe. According to the American Cancer Society, in the United States approximately 151,030 diagnoses leading to 52,580 deaths.

Recent advances in the treatment of primary colorectal cancer have shown encouraging increases in 5-year survival; however, the presence of metastasis is an indicator for increased mortality probability. Approximately 25% of patients will present with liver metastasis at the time of initial primary disease diagnosis. Clark et al., J Gastrointest Oncol 2014;5(5):374-387. We estimate approximately 98,000 CRC patients in the United States, the United Kingdom and the EU annually could be candidates for treatment with HEPZATO and CHEMOSAT.

Breast Cancer

Breast cancer or BC is the most diagnosed cancer in women in the United States and worldwide. The American Cancer Society estimates that 287,850 women will be diagnosed with BC in the United States annually. BC is the second leading cancer-related cause of death for women (behind lung cancer) in the United States. GLOBOCAN 2020 estimates are that there are, annually, 726,259 women diagnosed with breast cancer in the United States, Western Europe and the United Kingdom. Recent advances in primary breast cancer treatments have given patients a high 5-year survival rate. The prognosis for patients with breast cancer liver metastasis, however, remains poor.

Approximately 18% of all women diagnosed with breast cancer will also have distant metastatic disease, in which 5% of these patients will have liver only metastasis. Eventually 50% of all metastatic patients will see their disease progress to the liver in addition to their initial diagnosed metastatic site and in 20% of these patient's liver progression is the cause of mortality. Deipolyi AR, et al.J Vasc Inter Radiol. 2018;29(9):1226-1235. Treatment options for patients with multiple sites of metastatic disease vary. We estimate that approximately 6,000 breast cancer patients with hepatic only involvement in the United States and Western Europe (including the United Kingdom and Italy) could be candidates for treatment with HEPZATO and CHEMOSAT. An additional 10,000 patients could receive benefits from HEPZATO and CHEMOSAT in the palliative setting based on local treatment guidelines.

Neuroendocrine Cancer

Neuroendocrine Tumors or NETs or neuroendocrine neoplasia are a rare group of cancers that originate in neuroendocrine cells. NETs can originate anywhere in the body, the most common sites include the digestive tract, rectum, lungs, pancreas, or appendix. The American Society of Clinical Oncology estimates that there are 12,000 new diagnosis of neuroendocrine tumors each year in the United States, and a total of 21,500 in the United States and Europe.

According to Pape et al. 2008. Endocrine-Related Cancer. 15(4). 1083-1097 NETs have a metastasis rate of between 60-80% and the majority of these accrue in the liver (85%). We estimate that approximately 12,000 NETs patients in the United States, the United Kingdom and the European Union each year could be candidates for treatment with HEPZATO and CHEMOSAT.

Pancreatic Cancer

Pancreatic adenocarcinoma comes with a poor prognosis for those diagnosed with the disease. The American Cancer Society estimates that pancreatic cancer will affect 62,210 patients annually, with 49,830 annual deaths in the United States. Along with GLOBOCAN estimates for Western Europe, pancreatic cancer effects a total of 132,442 patients annually with 105,638 annual deaths.

Upon diagnosis, nearly 75% of patients will have liver metastasis and 58% of those patients will have liver only metastasis. Metastatic pancreatic cancer proves to be a fast-progressing cancer that, once metastasized, leaves the patient with limited treatment options. Oweira, et al. World J Gastroenterol. 2017;23(10):1872-1880. We estimate there are approximately 57,600 United States and Western Europe new pancreatic cancer patients each year with hepatic only involvement. Given the rapid progression of the disease it is unknown at this time the estimated number of candidates for treatment with HEPZATO and CHEMOSAT.

About CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO

Our product candidate, the HEPZATO Kit, is a drug/device combination product designed to administer concentrated regional chemotherapy to the liver while controlling systemic exposure and associated side effects. This "whole organ" therapy is performed by isolating the circulatory system of the liver, infusing the liver with a chemotherapeutic agent, and then filtering the blood prior to returning it to the patient's circulatory system. During the procedure, known as percutaneous hepatic perfusion, PHP®, or PHP therapy, three catheters are placed percutaneously through standard interventional radiology techniques. The catheters temporarily isolate the liver from the body's circulatory system, allow administration of the chemotherapeutic agent melphalan hydrochloride directly to the liver, and collect blood exiting the liver for filtration by our proprietary filters. The filters adsorb chemotherapeutic agent from the blood, before the filtered blood is returned to the patient's circulatory system thereby reducing systemic exposure to the drug and related toxic side effects.

PHP therapy is performed in an interventional radiology suite in approximately two to three hours. Patients remain in an intensive care or step-down unit overnight for observation following the procedure. Treatment with CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO is repeatable, and a new disposable system is used for each treatment. Patients treated in clinical settings are permitted up to six treatments. In commercial treatment settings, patients have received up to eight treatments. If approved, we expect that the HEPZATO Kit will be appropriate for the approved indication, regardless of HLA-A *02:01 status. In the United States, melphalan hydrochloride for injection will be included as part of the system, if approved. In Europe, the system is sold separately and used in conjunction with melphalan hydrochloride commercially available from a third party. In our clinical trials, melphalan hydrochloride for injection is provided to both European and United States clinical trial sites.

Early development of HEPZATO System—FDA Complete Response Letter

Based on clinical trials conducted using an earlier version of our HEPZATO system, in August 2012, we submitted an NDA under Section 505(b)(2) of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, or FDCA, seeking FDA approval for use of our HEPZATO system for the percutaneous intra-arterial administration of melphalan hydrochloride for use in the treatment of patients with metastatic melanoma in the liver and, subsequently, amended the NDA to include ocular melanoma metastatic to the liver.

In the Spring of 2013, an Oncologic Drug Advisory Committee, or ODAC panel, convened by the FDA voted 16 to 0, with no abstentions, that the benefits of treatment with the early version of HEPZATO did not outweigh the risks associated with the procedure. A significant portion of the FDA's presentation to the ODAC panel was focused on the FDA's assessment of treatment-related risks, including the analysis of treatment-related deaths that occurred during clinical trials. The FDA also expressed concerns about hypotension, or low blood pressure, during the procedure, length of hospital stay, as well as risks of stroke, heart attack, renal failure, and bone marrow suppression.

In September 2013, the FDA issued a CRL, relating to our NDA. The FDA issues a CRL after the review of an NDA has been completed and questions remain that preclude approval of the NDA in its current form. The deficiencies identified in the CRL included, among other items, the requirement that we conduct an adequate and well-controlled study demonstrating substantial evidence that the effectiveness of the use of this early version HEPZATO system the Company intended to market outweighed its risks. The CRL also required that we address certain clinical, clinical pharmacology, human factors and product quality elements.

In January 2016, we entered into a Special Protocol Assessment agreement, or SPA, with the FDA on the design of a new Phase 3 clinical trial of HEPZATO to treat patients with hepatic dominant ocular melanoma. This SPA represented an agreement with the FDA that a specific Phase 3 trial would adequately address objectives that, if met, would support the submission for regulatory approval of HEPZATO. The SPA's primary endpoint was overall survival, and secondary endpoints included progression-free survival, overall response rate and quality-of-life measures. However, the Company faced significant difficulties, including the fact that the BAC arm was known to have limited efficacy, enrolling patients into the study under the SPA. Therefore, in the summer of 2018, we amended the protocol for the trial to a non-randomized, single-arm study with a different primary endpoint (objective response rate), which terminated the SPA.

Clinical Development Program

The focus of our clinical development program is to generate clinical data for CHEMOSAT and HEPZATO in various disease states to demonstrate efficacy and validate the safety profile of the current version of the product and treatment procedure. We believe that the improvements we have made to CHEMOSAT, HEPZATO and the PHP therapy have addressed the adverse event profile and procedure-related risks that led to the issuance of the CRL. Our clinical development program is also designed to support clinical adoption of and reimbursement for CHEMOSAT in Europe, and to support regulatory filings and reimbursement in various jurisdictions, including the United States.

The FOCUS Trial

The FOCUS Trial evaluated the safety and efficacy of treatment with the HEPZATO Kit for patients with mOM. The primary endpoint of ORR was assessed by an Independent Review Committee per RECIST v1.1. Per protocol, patients were treated every 6 to 8 weeks for a maximum of 6 cycles. Tumor responses were assessed every 12 weeks (+/- 2 weeks) until disease progression.

Delcath powered the single arm trial to demonstrate a clinically meaningful ORR versus checkpoint inhibitors, one of the few mOM treatment categories with a significant amount of peer reviewed publications. Based on this analysis the 95% Confidence Interval for ORR for checkpoint inhibitors was calculated to be 3.6% - 8.3%. The lower bound at the 95% confidence for ORR for HEPZATO Kit needed to exceed 8.3% to demonstrate a clinically meaningful ORR. While this comparator is not an historical control, the FDA did not object to using the meta-analysis of checkpoint inhibitors to provide support for a clinically meaningful ORR.

The FOCUS Trial's intent-to-treat or ITT population was comprised of a total of 102 mOM subjects and the treated population, which the FDA defined as the primary analysis population, was comprised of 91 patients. Of the 91 patients in the treated population, 51 (56.0%) had no prior therapy for liver metastases and 40 (44.0%) had at least one line of prior therapy. An independent Review Committee assessed response status per RECISTv1.1. Treatment with HEPZATO Kit in the treated population resulted in an ORR of 36.3% [95% CI: 26.44, 47.01] including 7.7% of patients with a complete response or CR. The median duration of response was 14.00 months [95% CI: 8.31, 17.74] and the disease control rate or DCR was 73.6% [95% CI: 63.35, 82.31]. The NDA resubmission included updated estimated median overall survival or OS of 20.53 months [95% CI: 16.79, 25.26] and updated estimated OS at 1 year of 0.80 [95% CI: 0.70, 0.87]. Data was cut as of December 2, 2022 and Delcath will continue to follow patients until May 2023 (24 months after the last patient's last treatment). Since the trial started as a randomized trial, supportive analyses comparing against BAC were also conducted.

In the FOCUS Trial safety population (95 patients), 39 patients (41.1%) experienced a treatment-related serious adverse event. The most commonly reported treatment-related serious adverse events were thrombocytopenia, neutropenia and febrile neutropenia which were well-manageable. Five percent of patients experienced treatment-related serious cardiac adverse events, in all cases the events resolved with no ongoing complications. 17 (17.9%) patients withdrew due to an adverse event or a serious adverse event, while 12 (12.6%) received a reduced dose due to an adverse event or serious adverse event. There were no treatment-related deaths in the trial. This is consistent with CHEMOSAT, the HDS device component of the HEPZATO Kit, approved in Europe under a CE mark to deliver melphalan to the liver. The safety data submitted in the NDA is consistent with the CHEMOSAT safety data documented in numerous European single-center and multi-center publications.

CHOPIN Trial

The Leiden University Medical Center completed a Phase 1b trial (CHOPIN trial) on the use of the Delcath CHEMOSAT® Hepatic Delivery System with Melphalan (CHEMOSAT) in combination with the immune checkpoint inhibitors (ICI) ipilimumab and nivolumab to treat patients with metastatic uveal melanoma with liver metastases.

The goal of the CHOPIN trial is to study the safety and potential synergistic effects of systemic ICI therapy ipilimumab plus nivolumab (IPI+NIVO) when combined with Delcath's proprietary liver-targeted percutaneous hepatic perfusion treatment in metastatic uveal melanoma patients. The just released publication presented updated safety and efficacy results from the Phase 1b portion of the trial which were previously presented in June 2022 at the American Society of Clinical Oncology Annual Meeting. The Phase 1b portion of the trial enrolled seven patients each of which were treated with two courses of PHP (melphalan 3mg/kg, max 220 mg per cycle) combined with four courses IPI+NIVO escalating the dosing from 1mg/kg each IPI+NIVO (cohort 1) to IPI 1mg/kg + NIVO 3mg/kg (cohort 2). As previously reported, the Best Overall Response included 1 complete response, 5 partial responses and 1 stable disease accounting for an Objective Response Rate of 85.7% and a Disease Control Rate of 100%. At the cut-off date of November 15, 2022, the median follow-up was 29.1 months (range 8.9 – 30.2), the median PFS was 29.1 months (95% CI 11.9 – 46.3) and the median duration of response was 27.1 months (range 7.4 – 28.5). All patients are still alive and three of four patients who subsequently experienced PD continued with treatment in the form of repeated melphalan PHP (M-PHP) cycles.

The ongoing randomized phase 2 part of the CHOPIN trial comparing M-PHP alone with M-PHP plus IPI/NIVO, which will include another 76 patients (38 per arm), is approximately 50% enrolled and will provide more insight to the efficacy.

The determination of a safe and effective dose was a primary goal of the Phase 1b portion of the CHOPIN trial. Grade 1/2 adverse events were seen in all patients and 71.4% experienced grade 3/4 toxicities. In this phase 1b dose-escalation study combining M-PHP with IPI/NIVO the safe treatment dose was established at IPI 1mg/kg and NIVO 3mg/kg. The authors did observe low-grade immune-related toxicities and PHP-related hematological toxicities in the treated groups. Hematological toxicity is a common adverse event after M-PHP, affecting approximately three-quarters of patients. All 7 patients in the study experienced grade 1/2 anemia. To prevent severe leukopenia/neutropenia, G-CSF was administered within 48 hours after M-PHP in their treatment center. The phase 2 part of the CHOPIN study will provide more information on both hepatic and systemic toxicity associated with the combination therapy.

Market Access and Commercial Clinical Adoption

Europe

Since launching CHEMOSAT in Europe, there has been over 1,343 commercial treatments and CHEMOSAT is currently available in over 23 European cancer centers. Physicians in Europe have used CHEMOSAT to treat patients with a variety of cancers in the liver, primarily ocular melanoma liver metastases, and other tumor types, including cutaneous melanoma, hepatocellular carcinoma, cholangiocarcinoma, and liver metastases from colorectal cancer, breast, pancreatic and neuroendocrine.

For the period of December 2018 through February 2022, medac GmbH was the Company's exclusive distributor for CHEMOSAT in Europe and had the exclusive right to market and sell CHEMOSAT in all member states of the European Union, Norway, Liechtenstein, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom. As of March 1, 2022, we have assumed direct responsibility for sales, marketing and distribution of CHEMOSAT in Europe. UK upgraded the status from "Research" to "Special Status".

European Reimbursement

A critical driver of utilization growth for CHEMOSAT in Europe is the expansion of reimbursement mechanisms for the procedure in our priority markets. In most European countries, the government provides healthcare and controls reimbursement levels. Since the European Union has no jurisdiction over patient reimbursement or pricing matters in its member states, the methodologies for determining reimbursement rates and the actual rates may vary by country. Reimbursement is administered on a regional and national basis. A medical device is typically reimbursed under a Diagnosis Related Groups, or DRG, as part of a procedure. Prior to obtaining permanent DRG reimbursement codes, in certain jurisdictions, we are actively seeking interim reimbursement from existing mechanisms that include specific interim reimbursement schemes, new technology payment programs as well as existing DRG codes. Currently we have an interim level of reimbursement in Germany. The CE Mark has been affixed to the CHEMOSAT in 23 centers in 4 countries.

On February 28, 2022, CHEMOSAT received Medical Device Regulation certification under the European Medical Devices Regulation [2017/745/EU], which may be considered by jurisdictions when evaluating reimbursement.

The release of the clinical study report from the FOCUS Trial will create the opportunity to apply for National Level reimbursement in each European country in regard to metastatic ocular melanoma (mOM). These applications must be made by us on a country-by-country basis, with priority placed on markets where CHEMOSAT is currently used. Currently, CHEMOSAT is approved for reimbursement in Germany. The results from the Focus Trial may also support existing reimbursement mechanisms, such as existing in Germany, allowing more hospital centers to secure funding to utilize CHEMOSAT. This increased level of evidence will ultimately support securing full funding for the treatment under DRG codes.

Reimbursement applications in priority European markets are handled directly by the Company.

Government Regulation

Our products are subject to extensive and rigorous government regulation by foreign regulatory agencies and the FDA. Foreign regulatory agencies, the FDA and comparable regulatory agencies in state and local jurisdictions impose extensive requirements upon the clinical development, pre-market clearance and approval, manufacturing, labeling, marketing, advertising and promotion, pricing, storage, and distribution of pharmaceutical and medical device products. Failure to comply with applicable foreign regulatory agency or FDA requirements may result in warning letters, fines, civil or criminal penalties, suspensions, delays in clinical development, recall or seizure of products, partial or total suspension of production or withdrawal of a product from the market.

United States Regulatory Environment

In the United States, the FDA regulates drug and device products under the FDCA, and its implementing regulations. HEPZATO is subject to regulation as a combination product, which means it is composed of both a drug product and a device product. If marketed individually, each component would be subject to different regulatory pathways and reviewed by different centers within the FDA. A combination product, however, is assigned to a center within the FDA that will have primary jurisdiction over its pre-market review and regulation based on a determination of its primary mode of action, which is the single mode of action that provides the most important therapeutic action. In the case of HEPZATO, the primary mode of action is attributable to the drug component of the product, which means that the Center for Drug Evaluation and Research has primary jurisdiction over its pre-market development and review.

The process required by the FDA before drug product candidates may be marketed in the United States generally involves the following:

- submission to the FDA of an IND, which must become effective before human clinical trials may begin and must be updated periodically, but at least annually;
- completion of extensive preclinical laboratory tests and preclinical animal studies, all performed in accordance with the FDA's good laboratory practice, or GLP, regulations;
- performance of adequate and well-controlled human clinical trials to establish the safety and efficacy of the product candidate for each proposed indication;
- submission to the FDA of an NDA after completion of all pivotal clinical trials;
- a determination by the FDA within 60 days of its receipt of an NDA to file the NDA for review;
- satisfactory completion of an FDA pre-approval inspection of the manufacturing facilities at which the product is produced and tested to assess compliance with current good manufacturing practice, or cGMP, regulations; and
- FDA review and approval of an NDA prior to any commercial marketing or sale of the drug in the United States.

The development and approval process requires substantial time, effort and financial resources, and we cannot be certain that any approvals for our product will be granted on a timely basis, if at all.

The results of preclinical tests (which include laboratory evaluation as well as GLP studies to evaluate toxicity in animals) for a particular product candidate, together with related manufacturing information and analytical data, are submitted as part of an IND to the FDA. The IND automatically becomes effective 30 days after receipt by the FDA, unless the FDA, within the 30-day time period, raises concerns or questions about the conduct of the proposed clinical trial, including concerns that human research subjects will be exposed to unreasonable health risks. In such a case, the IND sponsor and the FDA must resolve any outstanding concerns before the clinical trial can begin. IND submissions may not result in FDA authorization to commence a clinical trial. A separate submission to an existing IND must also be made for each successive clinical trial conducted during product development. Further, an independent institutional review board, or IRB, for each medical center proposing to conduct the clinical trial must review and approve the plan for any clinical trial before it commences at that center, and it must monitor the study until completed. The FDA, the IRB or the sponsor may suspend a clinical trial at any time on various grounds, including a finding that the subjects or patients are being exposed to an unacceptable health risk. Clinical testing also must satisfy extensive good clinical practice regulations and regulations for informed consent and privacy of individually identifiable information. Similar requirements to the United States' IND are required in the European Union and other jurisdictions in which we may conduct clinical trials.

Clinical Trials

For purposes of NDA submission and approval, clinical trials are typically conducted in the following sequential phases, which may overlap:

- Phase 1 Clinical Trials. Studies are initially conducted in a limited population to test the product candidate for safety, dose tolerance, absorption, distribution, metabolism, and excretion, typically in healthy humans, but in some cases in patients.
- Phase 2 Clinical Trials. Studies are generally conducted in a limited patient population to identify possible adverse effects and safety risks, explore the initial efficacy of the product for specific targeted indications and to determine dose range or pharmacodynamics. Multiple Phase 2 clinical trials may be conducted by the sponsor to obtain information prior to beginning larger and more expensive Phase 3 clinical trials.
- Phase 3 Clinical Trials. These are commonly referred to as pivotal studies. When Phase 2 evaluations demonstrate that a dose range of the product is effective and has an acceptable safety profile, Phase 3 clinical trials are undertaken in large patient populations to further evaluate dosage, provide substantial evidence of clinical efficacy and further test for safety in an expanded and diverse patient population at multiple, geographically dispersed clinical trial centers.
- Phase 4 Clinical Trials. The FDA may approve an NDA for a product candidate but require that the sponsor conduct additional clinical trials to further assess the drug after NDA approval under a post-approval commitment. In addition, a sponsor may decide to conduct additional clinical trials after the FDA has approved an NDA. Post-approval trials are typically referred to as Phase 4 clinical trials.

Sponsors of clinical trials may submit proposals for the design, execution, and analysis for their pivotal trials under a Special Protocol Assessment, or SPA. A SPA is an evaluation by the FDA of a protocol with the goal of reaching an agreement that the Phase 3 trial protocol design, clinical endpoints, and statistical analyses are acceptable to support regulatory approval of the drug product candidate with respect to effectiveness for the indication studied. Under a SPA, the FDA agrees to not later alter its position with respect to adequacy of the design, execution or analyses of the clinical trial intended to form the primary basis of an effectiveness claim in an NDA, without the sponsor's agreement, unless the FDA identifies a substantial scientific issue essential to determining the safety or efficacy of the drug after testing begins.

New Drug Applications

The results of drug development, preclinical studies and clinical trials are submitted to the FDA as part of an NDA. An NDA must contain extensive chemistry, manufacturing, and control information and be accompanied by a significant user fee, which may be waived in certain circumstances. Once the submission has been accepted for filing, the FDA should review NDAs within ten months of submission or, if the NDA relates to an unmet medical need in a serious or life-threatening indication, six months from submission. The review process is often significantly extended by FDA requests for additional information or clarification. The FDA may refer the NDA to an advisory committee for review, evaluation, and recommendation as to whether the NDA should be approved. For new oncology products, the FDA will often solicit an opinion from an Oncology Drug Advisory Committee, or ODAC, which is a panel of expert authorities knowledgeable in the fields of general oncology, pediatric oncology, hematologic oncology, immunologic oncology, biostatistics, and other related professions. The ODAC panel reviews and evaluates data concerning the safety and effectiveness of marketed and investigational human drug products for use in the treatment of cancer and makes appropriate recommendations to the Commissioner of the FDA. However, the FDA is not bound by the recommendation of an advisory committee and may deny approval of an NDA by issuing a CRL, if the applicable regulatory criteria are not satisfied. A CRL may require additional clinical data and/or an additional pivotal Phase 3 clinical trial(s), and/or other significant, expensive, and time-consuming requirements related to clinical trials, preclinical studies, or manufacturing. Data from clinical trials are not always conclusive and the FDA may interpret data differently than the applicant or its collaborators interpret data. Approval may be contingent on a Risk Evaluation and Mitigation Strategy, or REMS, that limits the labeling, distribution, or promotion of a drug product. Once issued, the FDA may withdraw product approval if ongoing regulatory requirements are not met or if safety problems occur after the product reaches the market. In addition, the FDA may require testing, including Phase 4 clinical trials, and surveillance programs to monitor the safety and efficacy of approved products which have been commercialized. The FDA has the power to prevent or limit further marketing of a product based on the results of these post-marketing programs or other information.

There are three primary regulatory pathways for a NDA under Section 505 of the FDCA: Section 505 (b)(1), Section 505 (b)(2) and Section 505(j). A Section 505 (b)(1) NDA is used for approval of a new drug (for clinical use) whose active ingredients have not been previously approved. A Section 505 (b)(2) application is used for a new drug that relies on data not developed by the applicant. Section 505(b)(2) of the FDCA was enacted as part of the Drug Price Competition and Patent Term Restoration Act of 1984, also known as the Hatch-Waxman Act. This statutory provision permits the approval of an NDA where at least some of the information required for approval comes from studies not conducted by or for the applicant and for which the applicant has not obtained a right of reference. The Hatch-Waxman Act permits the applicant to rely, in part, upon the FDA's findings of safety and effectiveness for previously approved products. A Section 505(j) NDA, also known as an abbreviated NDA, is used for a generic version of a drug that has already been approved.

Orphan Drug Exclusivity

Some jurisdictions, including the United States, may designate drugs for relatively small patient populations as orphan drugs. Pursuant to the U.S. Orphan Drug Act, the FDA grants orphan drug designation to drugs intended to treat a rare disease or condition, which is generally a disease or condition that affects fewer than 200,000 individuals in the United States. The orphan designation is granted for a combination of a drug entity and an indication and, therefore, it can be granted for an existing drug with a new (orphan) indication. Applications are made to the FDA's Office of Orphan Products Development and a decision or request for more information is rendered in 60 days. NDAs for designated orphan drugs are exempt from user fees, obtain additional clinical protocol assistance, are eligible for tax credits for up to 50% of research and development costs, and are granted a seven-year period of exclusivity upon approval. The FDA cannot approve the same drug for the same condition during this period of exclusivity, except in certain circumstances where a new product demonstrates superiority to the original treatment. Exclusivity begins on the date that the marketing application is approved by the FDA for the designated orphan drug, and an orphan designation does not limit the use of that drug in other applications outside the approved designation in either a commercial or investigational setting.

We have received five orphan drug designations for melphalan in the following indications:

- the treatment of patients with cutaneous melanoma;
- the treatment of patients with ocular melanoma;
- the treatment of patients with neuroendocrine tumors;
- the treatment of patients with primary liver cancer, or HCC; and
- the treatment of cholangiocarcinoma, which includes ICC.

We have received one orphan drug designation for doxorubicin for the treatment of patients with primary liver cancer, or HCC.

The granting of orphan drug designations does not mean that the FDA has approved a new drug. Companies seeking new drug approval must still pursue the rigorous development and approval process that requires substantial time, effort, and financial resources. Accordingly, although we have received these orphan drug designations, we cannot be certain that any approvals for our product will be granted at all, or on a timely basis.

Other Regulatory Requirements

Products manufactured or distributed pursuant to FDA approvals are subject to continuing regulation by the FDA, including recordkeeping, annual product quality review and reporting requirements. Adverse event experience with the product must be reported to the FDA in a timely fashion and pharmacovigilance programs to proactively look for these adverse events are mandated by the FDA. Drug manufacturers and their subcontractors must register their establishments with the FDA and certain state agencies and are subject to periodic unannounced inspections by the FDA and certain state agencies for compliance with ongoing regulatory requirements, including cGMPs, which impose certain procedural and documentation requirements upon drug manufacturers. Following such inspections, the FDA may issue notices on Form 483 and Untitled Letters or Warning Letters that could require the drug manufacturer to modify certain activities. A Form 483 Notice, if issued at the conclusion of an FDA inspection, can list conditions the FDA investigators believe may have violated cGMP or other FDA regulations or guidelines. In addition to Form 483 Notices and Untitled Letters or Warning Letters, failure to comply with the statutory and regulatory requirements can subject a drug manufacturer to possible legal or regulatory action, such as suspension of manufacturing, seizure of product, injunctive action or possible civil penalties. We cannot be certain that we or our present or future third-party manufacturers or suppliers will be able to comply with the cGMP regulations and other ongoing FDA regulatory requirements.

If Delcath or its present or future third-party manufacturers or suppliers are not able to comply with these requirements, the FDA may require the recall of our product from distribution or may withdraw any potential approvals of an NDA for that product.

The FDA closely regulates the post-approval marketing and promotion of drugs, including standards and regulations for direct-to-consumer advertising, dissemination of off-label information, industry-sponsored scientific and educational activities and promotional activities involving the Internet. Drugs may be marketed only for the approved indications and in accordance with the provisions of the approved label. Further, any drug modifications, including changes in indications, labeling, or manufacturing processes or facilities, may require a submission to the FDA for its approval of a new or supplemental NDA, which may require the development of additional data or the conduct of additional preclinical studies and clinical trials. Failure to comply with these requirements can result in adverse publicity, warning letters, corrective advertising, and potential civil and criminal penalties.

Physicians may prescribe legally available products for uses that are not described in the product's labeling and that differ from those that have been tested by the drug manufacturer and approved by the FDA. Such off-label uses are common across medical specialties, in particular in oncology. Physicians may believe that such off-label uses are the best treatment for many patients in varied circumstances. The FDA does not regulate the behavior of physicians in their choice of treatments. The FDA does, however, impose stringent restrictions on manufacturers' communications regarding off-label use.

Coverage and Reimbursement

Our ability to commercialize any products successfully once approved will depend in part on the availability of coverage and reimbursement from third-party payors, such as government health administration authorities, private health insurers and managed care organizations. Even if we obtain coverage for a given product by a third-party payor, the third-party payor's reimbursement rates may not be adequate to make the product affordable to patients or profitable to us, or the third-party payors may require co-payments that patients find unacceptably high. Patients who are prescribed medications for the treatment of their conditions, and their prescribing physicians, generally rely on third-party payors to reimburse all or part of the costs associated with their prescription drugs. Patients are unlikely to use our products unless coverage is provided, and reimbursement is adequate to cover all or a significant portion of the cost of our products. Therefore, coverage and adequate reimbursement is critical to new product acceptance. Coverage decisions may depend upon clinical and economic standards that disfavor new drug products when more established or lower cost therapeutic alternatives are already available or subsequently become available. Additionally, reimbursement by a third-party payor may depend upon a number of factors including the third-party payor's determination that use of a product is:

- a covered benefit under its health plan;
- safe, effective and medically necessary;
- appropriate for the specific patient;
- cost-effective; and
- neither experimental nor investigational.

Obtaining and maintaining coverage and reimbursement approval for a product from a government or other third-party payor is a time-consuming and costly process that could require us to provide supporting scientific, clinical and cost effectiveness data for the use of our products to the payor. Further, no uniform policy requirement for coverage and reimbursement for drug products exists among third-party payors in the United States. Therefore, coverage and reimbursement for drug products can differ significantly from payor to payor. As a result, the coverage determination process may require us to provide scientific and clinical support for the use of our products to each payor separately, with no assurance that coverage and adequate reimbursement will be applied consistently or obtained in the first instance.

In the United States, decisions about reimbursement for new medicines under Medicare are made by CMS, as the administrator for the Medicare program. We anticipate obtaining a J-Code for HEPTAZO, once approved. J-Codes are part of the Healthcare Common Procedure Coding System, or HCPCS, code as maintained by CMS. However, there is no guarantee that these billing codes, once granted, or the payment amounts, if any, associated with such codes will not change in the future. Private third-party payors often use CMS as a model for their coverage and reimbursement decisions, but also have their own methods and approval process apart from CMS's determinations. Even if favorable coverage and reimbursement status is attained for any of our products or product candidates that receive regulatory approval, less favorable coverage policies and reimbursement rates may be implemented in the future. Government authorities and other third-party payors are developing increasingly sophisticated methods of controlling healthcare costs, such as by limiting coverage and the amount of reimbursement for particular medications. Increasingly, third-party payors are requiring that drug companies provide them with predetermined discounts from list prices as a condition of coverage, are using restrictive formularies and preferred drug lists to leverage greater discounts in competitive classes and are challenging the prices charged for medical products. Further, no uniform policy for determining coverage and reimbursement for drug products exists among third-party payors in the United States. Therefore, coverage and reimbursement for drug products can differ significantly from payor to payor. As a result, the coverage determination process is often a time-consuming and costly process that will require us to provide scientific and clinical support for the use of our products to each payor separately, with no assurance that coverage and adequate reimbursement will be applied consistently or obtained in the first instance. Moreover, third-party payors may require patients to obtain prior authorization before certain treatments, such as HEPTAZO, are provided. Therefore, we intend to contract with a third-party hub service to facilitate the pre-authorization process.

Note 1 Accounting policies

General information

The financial accounts of J.Molner AS for the first half of financial year 2023 have been prepared in accordance with the Estonian financial reporting standard. The Estonian financial reporting standard is established by the Accounting Act of the Republic of Estonia, whichis supplemented by the guidelines issued by the Accounting Standards Board.

This is a consolidated unaudited interim report of a small sized business.

The principal accounting policies adopted are set out below.

Preparation of consolidated statements

In the consolidated report, all subsidiaries are consolidated line by line. All claims and liabilities within the group, transactions between group companies and unrealized profits and losses resulting from them have been eliminated.

Separate non-consolidated main statements of the consolidating entity (parent company) are published in the appendices to the interim consolidated financial statements. The parent company's basic reports have been prepared using the same accounting principles that have been applied in the preparation of the consolidated interim report, except for investments in subsidiaries and affiliates, which are reflected in theunconsolidated report using the acquisition cost method.

A company over which the parent company has control is considered a subsidiary company. A subsidiary is considered to be under the control of the parent company if the parent company directly or indirectly owns more than 50% of the subsidiary's voting shares or parts oris otherwise able to control the subsidiary's operational and financial policy.

Financial assets

The company has the following financial asset: cash. Financial assets are initially recognized at cost, this being the fair value of the consideration given. The acquisition cost includes all expenditures directly related to the purchase of the financial asset. All regular purchasesand sales of financial assets in market value are recognized on the transaction date. Following initial recognition, financial assets are measured based on their type either at fair value, at acquisition cost or at amortized cost.

Financial assets are derecognized when the company loses the right to receive cash flows from the financial asset or it transfers the financialasset, the cash flows from the financial assets and the majority of risks and rewards to other parties.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the balance sheet and in the cash flow statement include cash in bank accounts (except overdraft).

Foreign currency transactions and assets and liabilities denominated in a foreign currency

The company's functional currency is the Euro, all other currencies are deemed foreign currencies. Transactions denominated in foreign currenciesare recorded on the basis of the foreign currency exchange rates of the European Central Bank officially valid on the transaction date.

Monetary assets and liabilities (receivables paid in cash and loans) denominated in foreign currency are translated at balance sheet date into Euros based on the official foreign exchange rates of the European Central Bank. Gains and losses on foreign currency revaluations are recognized in the income statement in the corresponding accounting period. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreigncurrencies, which are not carried at fair value (eg. prepayments, property, plant and equipment and intangible assets), are not revalued at balance sheet date, but instead are recorded with the exchange rate of the European Central Bank that was valid on the transaction date.

Shares of subsidiaries and associates

Shares or parts of subsidiaries and affiliates are recorded at acquisition cost. The acquisition cost is considered to be paid upon acquisitionthe amount of money or the fair value of the other consideration to be transferred and expenses directly related to the acquisition.

The subsidiary company has not been consolidated, because the consolidated figures, excluding transactions between themselves, are notgreater than those of a small indicator of the balance sheet volume and net turnover of the consolidation group, to which 20% is added.

Accounts receivable are receivables arising from ordinary business transactions of the company. Accounts receivables are recorded using theamortized cost method (i.e., nominal value less impairment loss).
The collectability of the accounts receivable is considered separately by each customer. Accounts receivable, which partly or fully are not expected to be collected, are expensed and reported in the income statement as "Other operating expense". Receivables, collection ofwhich is not feasible nor economically justified, are considered to be non-collectible and written-off from the balance sheet.
Receipt of doubtful receivables previously written down is recognized as a decrease in the expense of doubtful receivables.

Inventories

Inventories are initially recognized at cost which comprises costs of purchase, production costs and other costs incurred in bringing theinventories to their present location and condition.

Inventories are expensed using the FIFO method.

Inventories are measured in the balance sheet at the lower of cost or net realizeble value. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price of a product in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and those necessary to make the sale.

Plant, property and equipment and intangible assets

Property, plant and equipment are assets used in the company's own business activities with a useful life exceeding one year and the cost ofat least 1 350 Euros.

A property, plant and equipment is initially recorded at cost which comprises the purchase price and other costs directly attributable to the acquisition that are necessary for bringing the asset to its operating condition and location. Property, plant and equipment is carried in the balance sheet at acquisition cost, less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

If the major components of an item of property, plant and equipment have significantly different useful lives, these components shall be recognized initially as separate items of property, plant and equipment and separate depreciation rates shall be assigned to them dependingon their useful lives.

An intangible asset is initially recorded at a cost which comprises the purchase price and other costs directly attributable to the acquisition. An intangible asset is carried in the balance sheet at its cost, less accumulated amortization, and any accumulated impairment losses.

Pharmaceutical products in development are recorded as unfinished projects. Once products in development are approved for sale, the amounts will be allocated to product rights and will be amortized. Unfinished projects include also product acquisition costs representing productrights obtained from third parties possessing regulatory approvals in respective markets, however, production of which has not yet started. Product acquisition costs are reclassified as intangible assets in use and will be amortized once products are commercialized.

Assets group name	Useful life
Machinery and equipment	5-20
Other property, plant and equipment	2-5
Concessions, patents, licenses, trademarks	10

The company performs an impairment test at each balance sheet date on those assets where there is any indication of potential impairment.

An impairment test is performed to determine the recoverable amount of an asset, which is the higher of the two indicators – fair value of anasset (less costs to sell) and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the useof an asset and from the disposal at the end of its useful life.

When an impairment test is not feasible for an individual asset beceuse the cash flows being generated by the asset are indistinguishable fromthe cash flows of the rest of the entity, an impairment test shall be performed for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

Assets are written down to their recoverable amount if the recoverable amount of the asset is lower than its carrying amount. The impairmentloss is recognized on an accrual basis as an expense in the income statement under "Depreciation and impairment loss".

Products in development are subject to the annual impairment testing. These valuations reflect, among other things, the impact of changes to the development programs, the projected development and regulatory time frames and the current competitive environment.

Recording of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets is finished in case of disposal of the asset or in case the economic benefitsare no longer expected from use or sale of the asset.

The straight-line method is used for depreciating property, plant, and equipment. The depreciation rates are assigned to each item of property, plant and equipment or major component separately, based on the useful life of the specific item. The straight-line method is used for amortizing intangible assets. The amortization rates are assigned to each item of intangible asset, based onthe useful life of the specific item.

Leases

Lease transactions, where all material risks and rewards from the ownership of an asset are transferred to the lessee, are treated as finance lease. All other lease transactions are treated as operating leases. Operating lease payments are recorded as expenses based on straight-line method over the entire lease period.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities (trade payables, received loans, accrued expenses) are initially measured at cost, which is the fair value of considerationreceived. The initial cost of financial liabilities includes all direct transaction costs. Subsequently the financial liabilities are recorded at amortized cost.

The amortized cost of short-term liabilities, in general, is equal to their nominal value. Therefore, they are recognized in the amount required tosettle the liability. For calculating the amortized cost of long-term financial liabilities, the effective interest rate method is used. A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled, or expires.

A financial liability if classified as long-term in the balance sheet if it is due more than 12 months after the balance sheet date. All other liabilitiesare classified as short-term.

Revenue recognition

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when all significant risks related to ownership of goods are transferred to the buyer, the sales revenue and transaction costs can be reliably measured and the receipt of payment from the transaction is probable. Revenue from services is recognized in the period the services are rendered, assuming that the receipt of payment from the transaction is probable and the sales revenue and the expenses related to providing the services can be reliably measured.

Taxation

According to the Income Tax Act, Estonian companies are not subject to pay income tax on the profit. Income tax is paid on distribution of dividends, fringe benefits, gifts, donations, receptions costs, expenses not related to business activities and transfer pricing adjustments.The tax rate is 20/80 of the taxable amount.

Chief Financial Officer Appointment

On October 24, 2023, the board of directors (the "Board") of Verastem, Inc. (the "Company") appointed Daniel Calkins as Chief Financial Officer of the Company. As previously disclosed, Mr. Calkins has served as the Company's principal financial officer and principal accounting officer on an interim basis since October 31, 2022.

In connection with his appointment, the Company entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Calkins (the "Agreement"), dated as of October 24, 2023, governing the terms of Mr. Calkins's employment for an indefinite term. The Agreement replaces and supersedes any prior existing employment agreement between Mr. Calkins and the Company. Under the Agreement, Mr. Calkins will receive an initial annual base salary of $300,000 and is eligible for an annual bonus target of 35% of his base salary, which will be pro-rated for the remainder of the year ended December 31, 2023, with Mr. Calkins' 2023 annual bonus for the period prior to October 19, 2023 determined on the terms as in effect prior to October 19, 2023 and pro-rated for that portion of the year.

Pursuant to the terms of the Agreement, on October 24, 2023 (the "Grant Date"), the Company granted Mr. Calkins an option to purchase 25,000 shares of its common stock at an exercise price equal to $6.89 per share, the closing price of the Company's common stock as reported by the Nasdaq Capital Market on the Grant Date, to vest as to 25% of the shares on the one-year anniversary of the Grant Date, and as to an additional 6.25% of the shares at the end of each successive three-month period following the first anniversary of the Grant Date until the fourth anniversary of the Grant Date, subject to Mr. Calkins' continuing service with the Company on the applicable vesting date.

Under the Agreement and subject to Mr. Calkins' execution and non-revocation of an effective release of claims, if Mr. Calkins' employment is terminated by the Company without Cause (as defined in the Agreement) or by Mr. Calkins for Good Reason (as defined in the Agreement), he will be entitled to receive the following severance benefits: (i) nine months of base salary continuation, (ii) if Mr. Calkins exercises his right to continue participation in the Company's health and dental plans under the federal law known as COBRA, a monthly cash amount equal to the full premium cost of that participation for nine months (or, if earlier, until the time when Mr. Calkins becomes eligible to enroll in the health or dental plan of a new employer), and (iii) any base salary earned, but not yet paid, through the date of termination and any bonus which has been awarded, but not yet paid, on the date of termination.

If Mr. Calkins' employment is terminated by the Company without Cause or by Mr. Calkins for Good Reason, in either case within 90 days prior to or within 18 months following, a Change of Control (as defined in the Agreement), subject to Mr. Calkins' execution and non-revocation of an effective release of claims, he will instead be entitled to receive the following severance benefits: (i) a lump sum amount equal to 12 months of his base salary, (ii) if Mr. Calkins exercises his right to continue participation in the Company's health and dental plans under the federal law known as COBRA, a monthly cash amount equal to the full premium cost of that participation for 12 months (or, if earlier, until the time when Mr. Calkins becomes eligible to enroll in the health or dental plan of a new employer), (iii) a pro-rata portion of his target annual bonus amount for the year in which the termination occurs, calculated based on the number of days Mr. Calkins was employed by the Company in such year, (iv) accelerated vesting of all outstanding stock options, restricted stock and restricted stock units held by Mr. Calkins that, by their terms, vest only based on the passage of time, and (v) any bonus which has been awarded, but not yet paid on the date of termination. Questions #4

STATEMENT AS TO DISCIPLINARY AND LEGAL ACTIONS OF PAST EMPLOYERS

It is in the context of having previously been affiliated with Accredo Health Group, Inc. and Medco Health Solutions, Inc. that I respond with a 'yes' to of your questions about whether they incurred disciplinary actions or were involved in litigation.

I was previously employed by Accredo Health Group, Inc. Accredo Health Group, Inc. was acquired by Medco Health Solutions, Inc., a Fortune 50 Company. Medco had one or more subsidiaries in the Medco Health Solutions, Inc. family of companies including Accredo Health, Inc. Medco Health Solutions, Inc. itself, together with one or more subsidiaries in the Medco Health Solutions, Inc. family of companies, owned and operated over 100 licensed pharmacies, holding in the aggregate hundreds of non-resident licenses, throughout the United States. Medco has since been acquired by Express Scripts.

I recall that commencing about 2003, Accredo Health Group, Inc. and certain of its officers and directors were named as defendants in several substantially similar putative class action lawsuits filed in the United States District Court. The lawsuits alleged violations of the Securities Exchange Act. In addition, two purported derivative lawsuits were filed in the Circuit Court. The lawsuits were resolved.

Also, from time to time, Medco and Accredo were involved in lawsuits, claims, audits and investigations arising in the normal course of their business. I recall in general that from time-to time, and over time, one or more of the pharmacies in the Medco family incurred disciplinary action inclusive of imposition of fines, for deficiencies or failures to comply with applicable pharmacy law. I do not recall any of these disciplinary actions with specificity, and do not know if any action resulted in suspension, revocation, or restriction of a pharmacy or other license.

I also recall in general that Medco from time-to time, and over time, closed one or more pharmacies for business reasons, voluntarily surrendering the pertinent license and DEA permit. I do not recall which locations voluntarily surrendered licenses or permits. I do not recall any involuntary license surrender or any license surrender while an action or investigation was pending or any surrender to avoid a further action.

I have a general recollection of Medco Health Solutions entering into a corporate integrity agreement with the federal government and another agreement with attorneys general, but do not recall any specifics.

STATEMENT AS TO DISCIPLINARY AND LEGAL ACTIONS OF PAST EMPLOYERS

It is in the context of having previously been affiliated with Accredo Health Group, Inc. and Medco Health Solutions, Inc. that I respond with a 'yes' to of your questions about whether they incurred disciplinary actions or were involved in litigation.

I was previously employed by Accredo Health Group, Inc. Accredo Health Group, Inc. was acquired by Medco Health Solutions, Inc., a Fortune 50 Company. Medco had one or more subsidiaries in the Medco Health Solutions, Inc. family of companies including Accredo Health, Inc. Medco Health Solutions, Inc. itself, together with one or more subsidiaries in the Medco Health Solutions, Inc. family of companies, owned and operated over 100 licensed pharmacies, holding in the aggregate hundreds of non-resident licenses, throughout the United States. Medco has since been acquired by Express Scripts.

I recall that commencing about 2003, Accredo Health Group, Inc. and certain of its officers and directors were named as defendants in several substantially similar putative class action lawsuits filed in the United States District Court. The lawsuits alleged violations of the Securities Exchange Act. In addition, two purported derivative lawsuits were filed in the Circuit Court. The lawsuits were resolved.

Also, from time to time, Medco and Accredo were involved in lawsuits, claims, audits and investigations arising in the normal course of their business. I recall in general that from time-to time, and over time, one or more of the pharmacies in the Medco family incurred disciplinary action inclusive of imposition of fines, for deficiencies or failures to comply with applicable pharmacy law. I do not recall any of these disciplinary actions with specificity, and do not know if any action resulted in suspension, revocation, or restriction of a pharmacy or other license.

I also recall in general that Medco from time-to time, and over time, closed one or more pharmacies for business reasons, voluntarily surrendering the pertinent license and DEA permit. I do not recall which locations voluntarily surrendered licenses or permits. I do not recall any involuntary license surrender or any license surrender while an action or investigation was pending or any surrender to avoid a further action.

I have a general recollection of Medco Health Solutions entering into a corporate integrity agreement with the federal government and another agreement with attorneys general, but do not recall any specifics.

Inventory Quality Assurance Examination

Street Address: 61 E. Willow St.

Date: 3/8/2023
Inspector

The medications that were present for the filling of prescriptions have been examined for their compliance to the regulatory standards for quality assurance. The medications that were selected to be examined could potentially have been dispensed, and did not include any segments of the inventory that may already have been separated for future return to their respective manufacturers, or had been placed aside for proper disposal. The medications that were found to be in violation of the regulatory disciplines were segregated by the inspector, and then recorded below. The line entries are categorized by the deficiency for which the medication had been set apart, along with the appropriate regulatory cite. It is requested that you accept your option to compare each package of medication that has been separated as deficient against its collateral entry and, if you concur, place your initials in the left-hand column. The inspector will delete any deficiencies for which there are plausible explanations.

UNDEFINED Pharmacy, Warren, New Jersey
New Pharmacy Inspection
Case File #8-7233-23-812
Applicant Identification #
Supplemental Information

On September 14, 2022, I, Bureau Investigator Rachna Patel, conducted an inspection of the proposed SUBJECT pharmacy. Present at the proposed SUBJECT pharmacy was Pharmacist-In-Charge (RPIC), Daniel Worley (28RI03496300). Mr. Worley completed a "Pharmacy Personnel Identification Form" which is attached as Exhibit #8.

The proposed SUBJECT pharmacy is located in Suite #C-2 within King George Plaza. It will be a fifty (50) state mail-order pharmacy with a limited formulary. The proposed SUBJECT pharmacy will not be dispensing medications for walk-in's, or retail customers, nor will they be providing any compliance packaging, repackaging, or compounded products.

The proposed SUBJECT pharmacy will be utilizing DRX software. Par-Med will be their primary wholesaler. The proposed SUBJECT pharmacy will be ordering directly from the manufacturers depending on volume.

The proposed SUBJECT pharmacy does not intend to engage in any sterile, or non-sterile, compounding. A copy of a statement of their business model by Mr. Worley, is marked and attached as Exhibit #1.

AREA OF CONCERN:

The proposed SUBJECT pharmacy's business model (refer to Exhibit #1) appears to be under a corporation (Undefined Health, LLC), which also will have ownership in a company (Undefined Care PLLC) owned by physicians who will then contract with other physicians to provide care to patients. As stated in Exhibit #1, the SUBJECT pharmacy will have a "limited formulary of medications (Drysol (aluminum chloride hexahydrate 20%) antiperspirant and glycopyrrolate tablets initially). The formulary will expand after launch of the SUBJECT pharmacy, but will be "limited" to the disease states supported by "Undefined Health LLC".

Mr. Worley stated that Undefined Care, PLLC, is not legally formed and confirmed that the Undefined Care, owned by physicians, is a subsidiary of Undefined Health LLC, which is a web site portal.

Mr. Worley was not able to provide the name of this third-party telehealth provider and which state the business will be registered.

The proposed SUBJECT pharmacy had a monitored security system installed. The monitoring company is SimpliSafe. The SimpliSafe security system is a monthly auto-pay service which includes motion sensors, and means of communication with a battery and cellular backup. The security system was consistent with the requirements set forth in N.J.A.C. 13:39-4.15(b)1. A copy of the contract is marked and attached as Exhibit #9.

The proposed SUBJECT pharmacy had sensors and thermometers present to monitor ambient room, refrigerator, and freezer temperatures. The temperatures will be monitored by SensorPush, and in addition, will be recorded electronically. A copy of the temperature monitoring logs, and written policies and procedures pertaining to temperature monitoring and control were obtained. They are marked and attached as Exhibits #10 and #11.

The proposed SUBJECT pharmacy had an electronic scale present that had been inspected, tested, and sealed by the Somerset County Office of Weights and Measures on July 27, 2023 (refer to attached Exhibit #5).

Dispensing complements were present in the proposed SUBJECT pharmacy on the occasion of the inspection activity.

Mr. Worley relayed that patient refusals, or acceptance of offers to counsel by the pharmacist via telephone would be documented electronically, and on all signed delivery sheets. Additionally, an offer to counsel notice will be included with all delivered prescriptions.

Photographs of the interior of the proposed SUBJECT pharmacy department were taken and are marked and attached as Attachment A, pages 9 to 53.

An exit briefing was conducted with Mr. Worley at the conclusion of the inspection activity. He was also informed by this Investigator that the proposed SUBJECT pharmacy was required to open within ninety (90) days of the issuance of the permit and was also required to notify the Board of Pharmacy, in writing, when the pharmacy opened for business, pursuant to the regulations set forth in N.J.A.C. 13:39-4.1(i). Inspector Remarks:

Performing on-site Change of Ownership sterile compounding renewal inspection at I4H Pharmacy, LLC in Riverside, CA. I4H is short for "Infusion 4 Health." The parent company of I4H pharmacy will be Infusion Management, Inc.. PIC Vinson Chien is present and assisting in the inspection. Infusion Management, Inc. is going to be the new owners of this facility taking over from Brothers Pharmacy (PHY57689 and LSC101565). Current PIC Vinson Chien is seeing the change of ownership through to completion then is planning on staying with Brother's Pharmacy and pharmacist Jason Kiroyan is planning on becoming the new PIC for I4H.

I4H Pharmacy will be a closed door specialty pharmacy that is located in a business park complex in Riverside, CA. The pharmacy's primary business will be to provide specialty pharmacy services to ambulatory infusion centers owned by Infusion For Health and for patients receiving those therapies at home.

The LSC functions largely to support patients on service who also receive the specialty therapies. Services offered will include antibiotics, TPN, hydration, etc. The current pharmacy has not produced any CSP's since January 2021, almost two years ago. No hazardous compounding services are offered. There is a negative pressure room that is certified, but there is not a BSC in the room at this point. The room was built for future use. Per PIC Chien, the sterile compounding functions are not a primary focus at this time.

There is a specialty closed door pharmacy, Beeman's Redlands Pharmacy (PHY58185), directly next door in the adjacent suite that is also owned by the same owners as Brother's Pharmacy. It is a closed door pharmacy that also offers primarily outpatient retail prescription and specialty pharmacy services for the hemophilia community. Brothers pharmacy will continue to own Beeman's pharmacy which is directly adjacent to, and in the same physical building as the current Brother's Pharmacy and what will be the new I4H facility. There is no shared access between pharmacies.

LSC Inspection:

The compounding area is a four room suite. There is a prep room which has a sink, emergency eye wash station, supply carts, etc. This room leads into the ISO7 ante room. The ante room leads to two rooms, one ISO7 positive pressure buffer zone and one ISO7 negative pressure hazardous compounding room. The interlocking door system allows only one door to be open at any time. There are large windows between the prep room and ante room, between the prep room and the positive pressure buffer zone, between the ante room and the positive pressure buffer zone, and between the unclassified pharmacist work area and the negative pressure HD room. All doors in the compounding suite are made of glass which allows for visual contact throughout the area.

Compounding Area:

- Flooring: Sheet vinyl coved up the walls. Lines of demarcation are noted by different color sheet vinyl.
- Walls: Clean and washable
- Sink: In prep room
- Emergency Eye Wash Station: In prep room

Case No. 21-176-MP-N

Norco acknowledges the lack of the proper MDEG license with regards to furnishing medical oxygen at our 740 Fairgrounds Rd location in Winnemucca Nevada prior to the Notice from the Nevada State Board of Pharmacy in November of 2021. Norco has a long history of providing medical gases in the Northwest and is aware of the importance of proper licensure and quality measures with regards to medical oxygen. Regarding the missing licensure for our Winnemucca location, this was purely an oversite on Norco's part. Norco prides itself on being a responsible member of the communities we operate in and as such we intend to secure the proper licensure and abide by the Board's rules regarding medical oxygen.

Once the notice was received, Norco immediately complied with the cease-and-desist order and halted all medical oxygen sales from our Winnemucca location. Norco has applied for the required MDEG licensure to meet with Nevada State Board of Pharmacy requirements. Additionally, through this process, it was determined that Norco should apply for a Wholesale license at our Winnemucca location, in addition to the MDEG licensure noted in the cease-and-desist order. This Wholesale application is also being submitted for approval.

Norco, sincerely regrets the oversight that led to the lack of proper licensure at our Winnemucca NV location and looks forward to working with the Nevada State Board of Pharmacy to ensure compliance with licensure requirements and continue to serve the needs of the Winnemucca community and healthcare providers.

Sincerely,

Roger Hudgens

Brett Kandt, General Counsel for Petitioner the Nevada State Board of Pharmacy (Board), and Respondent Norco, Inc., License No. MP00047, HEREBY STIPULATE AND AGREE THAT:

1. The Board has jurisdiction over Respondent and this matter.

2. On or about May 11, 2022, Respondent was served with the Notice of Intended Action and Accusation (Accusation) on file in this matter together with the Statement to Respondent and Notice of Hearing.

3. On or about June 9, 2022, Respondent filed an Answer and Notice of Defense to the Accusation.

4. Respondent is fully aware of the right to seek the advice of counsel in this matter prior to entering into this Stipulation.

5. Respondent is aware of the right to a hearing on the matters alleged in the Accusation, the right to reconsideration, the right to appeal and any and all other rights which may be accorded to him pursuant to NRS Chapter 233B (Nevada Administrative Procedure Act), NRS Chapter 622A (Administrative Procedure Before Certain Regulatory Bodies), and NRS Chapter 639 (Nevada Pharmacy Act).

6. Conditioned on the acceptance of this Stipulation by the Board, and with the exception of the right to challenge any determination that Respondent has failed to comply with the provisions of this Stipulation, Respondent hereby freely and voluntarily waives the rights to a hearing, reconsideration, appeal and any and all other rights related to this action that may be accorded by NRS Chapter 233B (Nevada Administrative Procedure Act), NRS Chapter 622A (Administrative Procedure Before Certain Regulatory Bodies), and NRS Chapter 639 (Nevada Pharmacy Act).

7. Respondent does not contest the allegations in the Accusation, but acknowledges that Board staff prosecuting this case could present such evidence at an administrative hearing to establish a factual basis for the violations alleged therein, to wit, that:

A. Respondent is licensed to operate and engage in the business of furnishing medical devices in Nevada at 440 30th Street in Elko;

B. On or about November 2, 2021, Respondent was served with notice pursuant to NRS 639.2895 to cease and desist engaging in the business of furnishing medical devices in Nevada, specifically medical oxygen, from a second location at 740 Fairgrounds Road in Winnemucca without a license; and

C. By engaging in the business of furnishing medical devices in Nevada from 740 Fairgrounds Road in Winnemucca, Respondent and/or Respondent's employees violated NRS 639.233(1), NRS 639.288, NAC 639.6942(2) and/or NAC 639.6944(1), and engaged in unprofessional conduct as defined in NAC 639.6941(1)(a) and NAC 639.945(1)(i), (j) and (k).

8. Respondent timely complied with the November 2, 2021, cease and desist order and immediately applied for a medical products provider license for the location at 740 Fairgrounds Road in Winnemucca.

9. To resolve this matter without incurring any further costs or the expense associated with a hearing, the Board and Respondent stipulate to the following penalties. Respondent Norco, Inc., License No. MP00047, shall:

A. Pay a fine of Five Thousand Dollars ($5000.00) for the violations by personal, business, certified or cashier's check or money order made payable to "State of Nevada, Office of the Treasurer," to be received by the Board's Reno office located at 985 Damonte Ranch Parkway – Suite 206, Reno, Nevada 89521, within thirty (30) days of the effective date of this Order; and

B. Pay Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) to partially reimburse the Board for reasonable attorney's fees and recoverable costs incurred in investigating and prosecuting this matter, by personal, business, certified or cashier's check or money order made payable to the "Nevada State Board of Pharmacy" to be received by the Board's Reno office located at 985 Damonte Ranch Parkway – Suite 206, Reno, Nevada 89521, within thirty (30) days of entry of this Order.

10. Any failure by Respondent to comply with the terms of this Order may result in issuance by the Executive Secretary of an order to show cause pursuant to NAC 639.965 directing Respondent to appear before the Board at the next regularly scheduled meeting for a show cause hearing. If such a hearing results in a finding of a violation of this Order by Respondent, the Board may impose additional discipline upon Respondent not inconsistent with the provisions of NRS Chapter 639.

11. General Counsel will present this Stipulation to the Board for approval pursuant to NRS 622.330 at the Board's regularly scheduled public meeting on July 13, 2022. Respondent or his counsel may appear at the meeting to answer questions from the Board Members and/or Board Staff. The Board Members and Staff may discuss and deliberate regarding this Stipulation, even if Respondent is not present at the meeting.

12. The Board has discretion to accept this Stipulation, but it is not obligated to do so. If this Stipulation is approved by the Board, it shall be a public record pursuant to NRS 622.330 and shall be reported to the National Practitioner Data Bank pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1396r–2 and 45 CFR Part 60.

13. If the Board rejects any part or all of this Stipulation, and unless they reach an alternative agreement on the record during the hearing, the parties agree that a full hearing on the merits of this matter may be heard by the Board. The terms and admissions herein may not be used or referred to in a full hearing on the merits of this matter.

14. Subject to the approval of this Stipulation by the Board, the Board and Respondent agree to release each other from any and all additional claims arising from the facts set forth in the Accusation on file herein, whether known or unknown that might otherwise have existed on or before the effective date of this Order.

Respondent has fully considered the charges and allegations contained in the Notice of Intended Action and Accusation in this matter, and the terms of this Stipulation, and has freely and voluntarily agreed to the terms set forth herein, and waived certain rights, as stated herein.

Respondent.	)

WHEREAS, information has been received by the Idaho State Board of Pharmacy ("Board") that constitutes sufficient grounds for the initiation of an administrative action against Jeffrey Nielsen, Pharm D ("Respondent"); and

WHEREAS, the parties wish to expeditiously settle this matter in lieu of proceeding to an administrative hearing before the Board; now, therefore,

IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED AND AGREED between the undersigned parties that this matter shall be settled and resolved upon the following terms:

A. JURISDICTION OF THE BOARD

1. The Board regulates the practice of pharmacy in the State of Idaho in accordance with title 54, chapter 17, Idaho Code. The Board is further empowered by title 37, chapter 27, Idaho Code, to administer the regulating provisions of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act in the State of Idaho.

2. Respondent is a licensee of the Board and holds Pharmacist License No. P6098 ("License") and Controlled Substance Registration No. CS12256 ("Registration"). Respondent's License and Registration are subject to the provisions of title 54, chapter 17, Idaho Code, title 37, chapter 27, and the Board's rules promulgated at IDAPA 27.01.01, et seq.

B. STIPULATED FACTS

1. On August 20, 2012, Respondent filled a prescription for canine Patient S.F. at the Walgreens Pharmacy in Eagle, Idaho. Patient S.F.'s prescription was written for 64.8 mg Phenobarbital tablets. Respondent, however, filled Patient S.F.'s prescription with 15 mg Phenobarbital tablets, which resulted in Patient S.F. receiving approximately ¼ the dose he was supposed to receive. Respondent was responsible for overseeing and ensuring Patient S.F.'s prescription was filled correctly. As a result of the misfill, Patient S.F. suffered repeated seizures and eventually had to be sedated.

2. While Respondent's error was unintentional, Respondent acknowledges his actions constituted violations of the statutes and rules governing the practice of pharmacy in Idaho. More specifically, Respondent admits to violating the following statutes and rules:

a. Idaho Code § 54-1726(a) (a pharmacist shall not engage in unprofessional conduct as defined by Board rule);

b. IDAPA 27.01.01.500.06 (unprofessional conduct includes failing to strictly follow the instructions of the person writing, making, or ordering a prescription as to its refills, contents or labeling); and

c. Idaho Code § 54-1726(f) (being found by the board to be in violation of any of the provisions of this chapter, chapter 27, title 37, or rules adopted pursuant to either chapter.

3. Respondent, in lieu of proceeding with a formal disciplinary hearing, hereby agrees the Board may enter a final order against his license and registration as set forth in Section C below.

C. STIPULATED PENALTIES

1. It is agreed that Respondent shall pay to the Board an administrative fine in the amount of five hundred and No/100 Dollars ($500.00) within one hundred eighty (180) days of the effective date of this Order.

2. Respondent shall complete six (6) credits of continuing education pertaining to prescription or medication error. Respondent shall complete these continuing education credits, and provide proof of completion to the Board, no later than ninety (90) days after the effective date of this Order. This continuing education requirement is in addition to the annual continuing education requirements necessary to maintain a pharmacist license in the State Idaho.

3. All costs associated with Respondent's compliance with the terms of this Stipulation are the sole responsibility of Respondent.

D. COMPLIANCE WITH STIPULATION AND CONSENT ORDER

1. The Board has authority to enforce compliance with the terms and conditions of this Stipulation. By signing this Stipulation, Respondent waives his ability to challenge the Board's lack of authority to enforce compliance on appeal to a district court. If there is reason to believe Respondent has violated any of the terms or conditions of this Stipulation, the Executive Director of the Board shall file a Motion to Enforce, or other administrative complaint, setting forth the allegations of non-compliance and notifying Respondent, and his attorney, if applicable, that Respondent may request a hearing regarding the allegations of non-compliance. If Respondent does not request a hearing pursuant to the Motion to Enforce, or other administrative complaint, any allegations of non-compliance will be deemed admitted.

2. If Respondent fails to comply with this Stipulation, Respondent's license and registration may be subject to further discipline, up to and including suspension or revocation. Therefore, the Board retains jurisdiction over this proceeding until all matters are finally resolved as set forth in this Stipulation. Any action taken by the Board to enforce compliance with this Stipulation shall be in accordance with this section.

3. Any additional costs and/or attorney fees incurred by the Board in any enforcement action shall be the sole responsibility of Respondent.

E. ACKNOWLEDGMENTS AND WAIVER OF RIGHTS

I, Jeffrey Nielsen, by affixing my signature hereto, acknowledge the following:

I agree the Board has jurisdiction to proceed in this matter with my consent as indicated by my signature hereto.

2. I have read the above Stipulation fully and have had the opportunity to discuss it with legal counsel. I understand that by its terms I am waiving certain rights provided to me under Idaho law.

I hereby freely and voluntarily waive these rights, without further process, in order to enter into this Stipulation as a resolution of the allegations contained herein.

4. I understand that in signing this Stipulation I am enabling the Board to impose disciplinary terms upon my license and registration, as set forth in Section C, without further process.

5. I understand the Board may approve this Stipulation as proposed, approve it subject to specified changes, or reject it. I understand that, if approved as proposed, the Board will issue an Order on this Stipulation according to the aforementioned terms, and I hereby agree to the above Stipulation for settlement. I understand that if the Board approves this Stipulation subject to changes, and those changes are acceptable to me, the Stipulation will take effect and an order modifying the terms of the Stipulation will be issued. If the changes are unacceptable to me or the Board rejects this Stipulation, this Stipulation will be of no effect and admissions in this Stipulation and negotiations preceding the signing of this Stipulation will not be admissible at any subsequent disciplinary hearing.

6. In the event this Stipulation is rejected by the Board or any changes proposed by the Board are not accepted by me, I waive any right I may have to challenge the Board's impartiality to hear the allegations in any subsequent administrative complaint based on the fact that the Board has considered and rejected this Stipulation.

7. I understand the Board shall have the right to make full disclosure of this Stipulation and subsequent Order to any state, agency or individual requesting information subject to any applicable provisions of the Idaho Public Records Act, title 9, chapter 3, Idaho Code.

10. This Stipulation shall be presented to the Board with a recommendation for approval from the Executive Director for the Board and the Deputy Attorney General responsible for prosecution before the Board at the next regularly scheduled meeting of the Board.

11. Except for Paragraph E.6., which becomes effective when Respondent signs this Stipulation, this Stipulation shall not become effective until it has been approved by a majority of the Board and a Board member signs the attached Order.

Re: DGN Pharmacy, Inc. d/b/a Personal Rx Notice of Alabama Board of Pharmacy Fine Mail Order Pharmacy
(License # 114490)

To Whom It May Concern:

The Alabama administrative action arose from Pharmacy's purported failure to timely submit a written action plan in replacing Pharmacy's Alabama pharmacist-in-charge ("PIC"). However, notwithstanding the language in the Consent Order, we believed that Personal Rx was, in fact, compliant with Alabama law because the Pharmacy had notified the Alabama Board of Pharmacy that it had a plan to replace the PIC and that the Pharmacy had registered the replacement PIC for the appropriate licensing exam. Since Alabama has published no formal plan requirements or forms, we assumed that the Pharmacy was compliant with applicable requirements in the absence of negative feedback from the Board.

The Pharmacy agreed to pay an administrative fine in the amount of $2,000 to the Alabama Board of Pharmacy, rather than incur significant legal fees to contest the action. A copy of the Consent Order with the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy is also attached.

Accordingly, this matter was the result of a miscommunication with the Board of Pharmacy, rather than Pharmacy's negligent or intentional failure to comply with applicable regulations. Since that time, the Pharmacy has enhanced its procedures when a PIC leaves. The Pharmacy now requires proactive contact with the impacted Board of Pharmacy to confirm compliance with all related Board of Pharmacy requirements and procedures. Moreover, Pharmacy has an outstanding record of licensing compliance throughout its 13 years of operation, and would be pleased to provide any additional information that the Board may request.

Please contact me if you require any additional information.

Very truly yours,

Lawrence Margolis

RE: RICO Case No. PHA 2022-99-L, PMP-1207

To Mr. Margolis:

I am a staff attorney at the Regulated Industries Complaints Office ("RICO"), Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, State of Hawai'i and I have been assigned the above-mentioned case.

RICO has received your letter indicating that DGN Pharmacy Inc., dba Personal Rx ("Personal Rx"), has entered into a Consent Order ("Order") in Case No. 21-L-0190 before the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy ("Alabama Board"). In the Order, the Alabama Board found two violations of Alabama law for failing to maintain a designated Supervising Pharmacist and failing to notify the Alabama Board within ten (10) days with an action plan to designate another pharmacist as Supervising Pharmacist.

Under the Hawai'i Revised Statues ("HRS"), the Hawai'i Board of Pharmacy ("Hawai'i Board") may also take disciplinary action against Personal Rx. HRS §§436B-19(13), 461-21(a)(5) provide for disciplinary action where the Hawai'i Board may revoke and/or fine a permit holder for the violation of any state or federal drug, controlled substance, or poison law.

You may also recall, Personal Rx was the subject of a previous RICO investigation and Settlement Agreement, in RICO Case No. PHA 2016-3-L. The prior Settlement Agreement (see enclosures) also allows the Hawai'i Board to pursue additional disciplinary action as the Hawai'i Board deems appropriate for violations of any of the statutes or rules governing the conduct of miscellaneous permit holders (paragraph C.3.).

Enclosed please find a proposed Settlement Agreement which calls for a fine of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00). If the terms of the Settlement Agreement are acceptable, please execute where indicated and return it to me at the address listed above. The administrative fine must be paid by cashier's check or money order made payable to "DCCA - Compliance Resolution Fund" at the time the Settlement Agreement is returned to RICO. Please note, any Settlement Agreement entered into must be approved by the Hawai'i Board to be effective.

This settlement offer will expire by the close of business on Friday, February 3, 2023. If our office does not receive a response by the above deadline, I will assume that Personal Rx does not wish to settle and will proceed accordingly. Thank you for your cooperation in resolving this matter. Please contact me at (808) 586-2660 or hhopkins@dcca.hawaii.gov if you have any questions or concerns.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Respectfully,

/s/ Hailialoha Hopkins

4. Approval of the Board. Respondent agrees that, except for the representations, agreements and covenants contained in Paragraphs C.5., C.6., C.7., C.8., and C.9. below, this Settlement Agreement shall not be binding on any of the parties unless and until it is approved by the Board. 6. No Objection if Board Fails to Approve. If the Board does not approve this Settlement Agreement, does not issue an order pursuant thereto, or does not approve a lesser remedy, but instead an administrative hearing is conducted against Respondent in the Board's usual and customary fashion pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, Respondent agrees that neither Respondent, nor any attorney that Respondent may retain, will raise as an objection in any administrative proceeding or in any judicial action, to the Board's proceeding against Respondent on the basis that the Board has become disqualified to consider the case because of its review and consideration of this Settlement Agreement.

7. Any Ambiguities Shall be Construed to Protect the Consuming Public. It is agreed that any ambiguity in this Settlement Agreement is to be read in the manner that most completely protects the interests of the consuming public.

8. No Reliance on Representations by RICO. Other than the matters specifically stated in this Settlement Agreement, neither RICO nor anyone acting on its behalf has made any representation of fact, opinion, or promise to Respondent to induce entry into this Settlement Agreement, and Respondent is not relying upon any statement, representation or opinion, or promise made by RICO or any of its agents, employees, representatives, or attorneys concerning the nature, extent, or duration of exposure to legal liability arising from the subject matter of this Settlement Agreement or concerning any other matter.

9. Complete Agreement. This Settlement Agreement is intended by the parties to be an integrated writing representing the complete, final, and exclusive embodiment of their agreement. It supersedes any and all prior or contemporaneous agreements, understandings, discussions, negotiations, and commitments (written or oral). Attention: Pharmacy Board of Pharmacy

Re: Applicant: Digino's Apothecary
Explanation and Documentation of Disciplinary Action Taken Against Applicant's Pharmacy License

Dear Board of Pharmacy Members:

This letter has been submitted with the application of Digino's Apothecary for a Mail Service Pharmacy Permit. In accordance with the application, this letter explains all disciplinary action taken against the applicant's pharmacy license, and documentation of such action is attached hereto. No disciplinary action whatsoever has been taken against any license of the pharmacist-in-charge, and therefore this letter applies only to the applicant-pharmacy.

The New Jersey Board of Pharmacy disciplined Digino's Apothecary twice. The first time was in July 2012 for a violation of the requirement that the pharmacy's label include "use by" information. The required information was omitted from the label due to a computer programming issue that resulted in the information being printed on labels for new prescriptions but not printed on labels for refilled prescriptions. This computer glitch was corrected as soon as the pharmacy became aware of it. The July 2012 discipline also referenced a single misbranded medication, a pharmacist without a name tag, and the failure to display the PIC's license. Digino's Apothecary took prompt action to correct these issues. (Documentation of the July 2012 disciplinary action is attached hereto as Exhibit 1.)

The New Jersey Board of Pharmacy disciplined Digino's Apothecary a second and last time in July 2015. That discipline—a $25 fine—resulted from the filling of a prescription for ADHD medication that had not been signed by the prescriber. The prescription was for a patient for whom the physician had, for more than three years, routinely prescribed the medication for daily use. The failure to ensure that the prescription was signed was an oversight. In the wake of this incident, Digino's Apothecary has reinforced its policies and procedures for accepting, filling and checking prescriptions to ensure that this kind of error is not repeated. The July 2015 discipline also included a warning for the use of labels for generic drugs that do not print the phrase "generic for" before the name of the brand-name drug. Digino's Apothecary promptly modified its pharmacy's computer software to ensure compliance with New Jersey's prescription-labeling requirement. (Documentation of the July 2015 disciplinary action is attached hereto as Exhibit 2.)

The Hawaii Board of Pharmacy took reciprocal disciplinary action against Digino's Apothecary with respect to the July 2015 New Jersey disciplinary action, because the New Jersey discipline was not timely reported to Hawaii. Digino's Apothecary was not licensed in Hawaii at the time of the New Jersey discipline. Digino's Apothecary began filling out and substantially completed its Hawaii license application before the July 2015 discipline, but it did not submit the application until September 2015. Prior to doing do, it did not update the application to include the July 2015 discipline, and its submitted application disclosed only the July 2012 New Jersey disciplinary action. (Documentation of the Hawaii reciprocal disciplinary action is attached hereto as Exhibit 3.)

Please do not hesitate to contact me by phone or e-mail if you require additional information regarding the disciplinary actions referenced in this letter.

Sincerely

Re: Digino's Apothecary
Inspection Report No. 8-5973-12-X

Dear Director Rubinaccio:

Please be advised that I am in receipt of your letter dated July 17, 2012, enclosed herewith for your reference. That letter discusses the recent inspection of Digino's Apothecary, conducted on March 16, 2012 and the subsequent report issued by the inspector. We respectfully contest an issue identified therein. Accordingly, for the reasons set forth below, we request that the Board mitigate its findings.

The primary violation related to the pharmacy's label and the "use by" requirement. The pharmacy is aware that its label must include the "use by" date, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 13:39-7.12. In fact all of the pharmacy's new prescriptions included that component. It appears that some refill prescriptions did not, due to a error with the computer system. As demonstrated by way of the attached images, that technical glitch has been resolved.

In light of this information, and the corrective action taken by Digino's Apothecary, we do not believe any further action is required by the Board as to this issue. Therefore, we respectfully request the Board mitigate the Uniform Penalty Letter to reflect a reduction on the fine related to this violation.

Please feel free to contact me if there are any questions regarding the above.

Very truly yours,

2. Respondent's mailing address for purposes of this action is 255 Valley Boulevard, Wood-Ridge, New Jersey 07075.

The New Jersey Certification was based on alleged acceptance of an unsigned prescription. Respondent was issued a warning and a $25.00 fine was imposed.

5. RICO alleges that disciplinary action was taken against Respondent by the State of New Jersey and that Respondent failed to timely report that action.

6. The foregoing allegations, if proven at an administrative hearing before the Board, would constitute violations of the following statute(s) and/or rule(s): Hawaii Revised Statutes ("HRS") § 436B-19(13) (disciplinary action by another state) and § 436B-19(15) (failure to timely report disciplinary action).

7. The Board has jurisdiction over the subject matter herein and over the parties hereto.

B. REPRESENTATIONS BY RESPONDENT:

1. Respondent is fully aware that Respondent has the right to be represented by an attorney and voluntarily waives that right.

2. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement freely, knowingly, voluntarily, and under no coercion or duress.

3. Respondent is aware of the right to have a hearing to adjudicate the issues in the case. Pursuant to HRS § 91-9(d), Respondent freely, knowingly, and voluntarily waives the right to a hearing and agrees to dispose of this case in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Respondent being at all times relevant herein permitted as a miscellaneous permit holder by the Board acknowledges that Respondent is subject to penalties including but not limited to, revocation, suspension or limitation of the permit and administrative fines, if the foregoing allegations are proven at hearing.

5. Respondent represents Exhibit "1" is a true and correct copy of the Certification from the New Jersey Board of Pharmacy issued to Respondent following Inspection Report #5973-14-X.

6. Respondent understands that any false or untrue statement or any material misrepresentation or omission of fact by Respondent in this settlement agreement may be grounds for further disciplinary action under HRS chapters 436B and 461.

7. Respondent does not admit to violating any law or rule, but acknowledges that RICO has sufficient cause to file a Petition for Disciplinary Action against Respondent's license.

8. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement as a compromise of the claims and to conserve on the expenses of proceeding with an administrative hearing on this matter.

9. Respondent agrees that this Settlement Agreement is intended to resolve the issues raised in RICO's investigation in RICO Case No. PHA 2016-3-L.

10. Respondent understands that this Settlement Agreement may be subject to reporting requirements.

11. Respondent understands this Settlement Agreement is public record pursuant to Hawaii Revised Statutes chapter 92F.

C. TERMS OF SETTLEMENT:

1. Administrative fine. Respondent agrees to pay a fine in the amount of TWO HUNDRED AND NO/100 DOLLARS ($200.00). Payment shall be made by cashier's check or money order made payable to "DCCA - Compliance Resolution Fund" and mailed to the Regulated Industries Complaints Office, Attn: John T. Hassler, Esq., 235 S. Beretania Street, 9th Floor, Honolulu, Hawaii 96813. Payment of the fine shall be due at the time this Settlement Agreement is returned to RICO.

2. Failure to Comply with Settlement Agreement. If Respondent fails to fully and timely comply with the terms of this Settlement Agreement as set forth in paragraph(s) C.1 above, Respondent's permit shall be automatically revoked upon RICO's filing of an affidavit with the Board attesting to such failure. In case of such revocation, Respondent shall turn in all indicia of the permit to the Executive Officer of the Board within ten (10) days after receipt of notice of the revocation. In case of such revocation, Respondent understands Respondent cannot apply for a new permit until the expiration of at least five (5) years after the effective date of the revocation. Respondent understands that if Respondent desires to become permitted again, Respondent must apply to the Board for a new permit pursuant to and subject to HRS §§ 92-17, 436B-21, and all other applicable laws and rules in effect at the time.

3. Possible further sanction. The Board, at its discretion, may pursue additional disciplinary action as provided by law to include further fines and other sanctions as the Board may deem appropriate if Respondent violates any provision of the statutes or rules governing the conduct of miscellaneous permit holders in the State of Hawaii, or if Respondent fails to abide by the terms of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Approval of the Board. Respondent agrees that, except for the representations, agreements and covenants contained in Paragraphs C.5, C.6, C.7 and C.8 below, this Settlement Agreement shall not be binding on any of the parties unless and until it is approved by the Board.

5. No Objection if Board Fails to Approve. If the Board does not approve this Settlement Agreement, does not issue an order pursuant thereto, or does not approve a lesser remedy, but instead an administrative hearing is conducted against Respondent in the Board's usual and customary fashion pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, Respondent agrees that neither Respondent nor any attorney that Respondent may retain, will raise as an objection in any administrative proceeding or in any judicial action, to the Board's proceeding against Respondent on the basis that the Board has become disqualified to consider the case because of its review and consideration of this Settlement Agreement.

6. Any Ambiguities Shall be Construed to Protect the Consuming Public. It is agreed that any ambiguity in this Settlement Agreement is to be read in the manner that most completely protects the interests of the consuming public.

7. No Reliance on Representations by RICO. Other than the matters specifically stated in this Settlement Agreement, neither RICO nor anyone acting on its behalf has made any representation of fact, opinion or promise to Respondent to induce entry into this Settlement Agreement, and Respondent is not relying upon any statement, representation or opinion or promise made by RICO or any of its agents, employees, representatives or attorneys concerning the nature, extent or duration of exposure to legal liability arising from the subject matter of this Settlement Agreement or concerning any other matter.

8. Complete Agreement. This Settlement Agreement is a complete settlement of the rights, responsibilities and liabilities of the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof; contains the entire agreement of the parties; and may only be modified, changed or amended by written instrument duly executed by all parties hereto.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have signed this Settlement Agreement on the date(s) set forth below.

Inspector

Initials of Registered Pharmacist	Quantity or Commercial Package Size	The medications that were present for the filling of prescriptions have been examined for their compliance to the regulatory standards for quality assurance. The medications that were selected to be examined could potentially have been dispensed, and did not include any segments of the inventory that may already have been separated for future return to their respective manufacturers, or had been placed aside for proper disposal. The medications that were found to be in violation of the regulatory disciplines were segregated by the inspector, and then recorded below. The line entries are categorized by the deficiency for which the medication had been set apart, along with the appropriate regulatory cite. It is requested that you accept your option to compare each package of medication that has been separated as deficient against its collateral entry and, if you concur, place your initials in the left-hand column. The inspector will delete any deficiencies for which there are plausible explanations.				Deficiencies [13:39-7.18] [13:39-6.2(f)7]

Record the temperature at the time of inspection.*	Unknown	Two roof mounted HVAC systems to facility. Maintenance overseen by landlord: Irvine Company. Irvine Co sets the thermostats with a set range of 68°F-77°F 24/7. Pharmacy staff cannot adjust a thermostat. There is a small digital thermometer magnetically attached to a centrally located post inside the pharmacy with a readout for current temperature and humidity with min/max readings, however the min/max readings are never reset. This thermometer is not calibrated. Current temperature reading was 23.4°C. Temperature is not written on a log. The humidity is recorded on a written log for the min/max reading of 15%/71%. If the HVAC were to go down the landlord would notify the PIC.
39.01	Is temperature monitoring in place to detect any excursions (24/7) by continuous monitoring or retroactive detection using min/max? Temperature records are maintained. If yes, describe the process	No	No CRT temperatures maintained. The landlord would notify the pharmacy if there was an HVAC failure, or if temperatures fall outside 68°F-77°F.

How long are records maintained?*	Unknown	PIC states the refrigerators are monitored 24/7 via Dickson probes in four refrigerators. (A new fifth refrigerator, delivered in recent weeks, is awaiting a new probe and for now is used only to place a few items during the day awaiting shipment.) The Dickson probes are located on top of the refrigerators and are unable to be retrieved to see readings. The pharmacy does not have access to the electronic Dickson records, so unable to determine current temperatures and history of excursions. Per the PIC the range is set at 36°F-46°F. Temperatures are monitored by Dickson who have a phone call tree of pharmacist staff to notify for excursions. On four refrigerators there are built in thermometers with digital readouts. One refrigerator has a manual thermometer located inside. These thermometers are not calibrated. Temperatures from the refrigerators' built-in thermometers and manual thermometer are written on a log twice daily. The written logs are maintained for at least 10 years. Staff rely on phone calls from Dickson, after hours, for excursions. If no call assumed to be within range. Dickson probes are calibrated quarterly by Norm's refrigeration who are under contract to provide services. It is unknown if the electronic Dickson probe readings are maintained.
