[A] NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES "Adjusted earnings before provision for taxes on income," "adjusted net earnings," "adjusted net earnings per share (diluted)," and "adjusted effective tax rate" are non-GAAP financial measures and should not be considered replacements for GAAP results. The Company provides earnings before provision for taxes on income, net earnings, net earnings per share (diluted), and effective tax rate on an adjusted basis because management believes that these measures provide useful information to investors. Among other things, these measures may assist investors in evaluating the Company's results of operations period over period. In various periods, these measures may exclude such items as intangible asset amortization expense, significant gains from divestitures, significant costs associated with acquisitions, restructuring, litigation, and changes in applicable laws and regulations (including significant accounting or tax matters). Special items may be highly variable, difficult to predict, and of a size that sometimes has substantial impact on the Company's reported results of operations for a period. Management uses these measures internally for planning, forecasting and evaluating the performances of the Company's businesses, including allocating resources and evaluating results relative to employee performance compensation targets. Unlike earnings before provision for taxes on income, net earnings, net earnings per share (diluted), and effective tax rate prepared in accordance with GAAP, adjusted earnings before provision for taxes on income, adjusted net earnings, adjusted net earnings per share (diluted), and adjusted effective tax rate may not be comparable with the calculation of similar measures for other companies. The limitations of using these non-GAAP financial measures as performance measures are that they provide a view of the Company's results of operations without including all events during a period, such as intangible asset amortization expense, significant gains from divestitures, the effects of an acquisition, restructuring, litigation, and changes in applicable laws and regulations (including significant accounting or tax matters) and do not provide a comparable view of the Company's performance to other companies in the health care industry. Investors should consider non-GAAP financial measures in addition to, and not as replacements for, or superior to, measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with GAAP.

Notes:

[1] In fiscal 2023, the company completed a prioritization of its research and development (R&D) investment within the Innovative Medicine segment to focus on the most promising medicines with the greatest benefit to patients. This resulted in the exit of certain programs within therapeutic areas. The R&D program exits are primarily in infectious diseases and vaccines including the discontinuation of its respiratory syncytial virus (RSV) adult vaccine program, hepatitis and HIV development. The restructuring expenses of $144 million in the fiscal first quarter of 2024 include the termination of partnered and non-partnered program costs and asset impairments. This program was completed in Q4 2024.

In fiscal 2023, the company initiated a restructuring program of its Orthopaedics franchise within the MedTech segment to streamline operations by exiting certain markets, product lines and distribution network arrangements. The restructuring expenses of $55 million in the fiscal first quarter of 2025 and $27 million in the fiscal first quarter of 2024 primarily includes costs related to market and product exits.

[2] The tax impact related to special item adjustments reflects the current and deferred income taxes associated with the above pre-tax special items in arriving at adjusted earnings.

[A] NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURE "Adjusted operational sales growth" excludes acquisitions, divestitures and translational currency and is a non-GAAP financial measure. Investors should consider non-GAAP financial measures in addition to, and not as replacements for, or superior to, measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with GAAP. Due to the variable nature of acquisitions and divestitures, and the impact they may have on the analysis of underlying business performance and trends, management believes that providing this measure enhances an investor's understanding of the Company's performance and may assist in the evaluation of ongoing business operations period over period. This non-GAAP financial measure is presented to permit investors to more fully understand how management assesses the performance of the Company, including for internal evaluation of the performance of the Company's businesses and planning and forecasting for future periods. The use of this non-GAAP financial measure as a performance measure is limited in that it provides a view of the Company's results of operations without including all events during a period and may not provide a comparable view of the Company's performance to that of other companies in the health care industry.

Overview

For three decades as a pioneer in RNA-targeted medicines, we have focused on bringing better futures to people with serious diseases. Today, we continue to drive innovation in RNA therapies. A deep understanding of disease biology and an industry-leading drug discovery technology propels our work, coupled with a passion and urgency to deliver better futures for patients.

We currently have five marketed medicines to treat serious diseases: SPINRAZA (nusinersen), QALSODY (tofersen), WAINUA (eplontersen), TEGSEDI (inotersen) and WAYLIVRA (volanesorsen). We also have a rich innovative late- and mid-stage pipeline in neurology, cardiology and other areas of high patient need. We currently have nine medicines in Phase 3 development and multiple additional medicines in early and mid-stage development.

Over the past year, we made important progress executing on our vision to bring next-level value to patients and all stakeholders. We achieved this progress by focusing on a clear vision to prioritize and expand the Ionis wholly owned pipeline, deliver Ionis medicines directly to patients and enhance our technology leadership, all underscored by continued financial strength and responsibility. The United States, or U.S., Food and Drug Administration, or FDA, approved two Ionis-discovered medicines, QALSODY and WAINUA. We delivered positive Phase 3 data readouts for WAINUA, olezarsen and donidalorsen. Our Phase 3 pipeline expanded with study starts for bepirovirsen, IONIS-FB-L_{Rx} and zilganersen and we reported five additional positive data readouts from our mid- and late-stage pipeline. Our recent achievements position us to continue to deliver a steady cadence of potentially transformational medicines to patients in need in the near and mid-term. We also advanced our go-to-market plans for our near-term commercial opportunities, WAINUA, olezarsen and donidalorsen. And we expanded and diversified our technology when we advanced our first cardiac myocyte targeting medicine and medicines using our mesyl phosphoramidate, or MsPA, backbone into preclinical development.

We accomplished all of this while earning revenues of $788 million for 2023 and ending the year with a cash and short-term investment balance of $2.3 billion. Our multiple sources of revenue and capital structure enable us to continue investing in our commercial readiness efforts for multiple late-stage programs, our innovative pipeline and our technology. By continuing to focus on these priorities, we believe we are well positioned to drive future growth and to bring next-level value to patients and shareholders.

Marketed Medicines

SPINRAZA is the global market leader for the treatment of patients with spinal muscular atrophy, or SMA, a progressive, debilitating and often fatal genetic disease. Our partner, Biogen, is responsible for commercializing SPINRAZA worldwide. From inception through December 31, 2023, we have earned more than $2.1 billion in revenues from our SPINRAZA collaboration, including more than $1.6 billion in royalties on sales of SPINRAZA.

QALSODY is an antisense medicine that received accelerated approval in April 2023 from the FDA for the treatment of adult patients with superoxide dismutase 1 amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, or SOD1-ALS, a rare, neurodegenerative disorder that causes progressive loss of motor neurons leading to death. Our partner, Biogen, is responsible for commercializing QALSODY worldwide. The European Medicines Agency, or EMA, is currently reviewing QALSODY for approval in the European Union, or EU.

WAINUA is a once monthly, self-administered subcutaneous LIgand-Conjugated Antisense, or LICA, medicine that received FDA approval in December 2023 for the treatment of adults with polyneuropathy of hereditary transthyretin-mediated amyloidosis, or ATTRv-PN, a debilitating, progressive, and fatal disease. WAINUA is the only approved medicine for the treatment of ATTRv-PN that can be self-administered via an auto-injector. We and AstraZeneca are commercializing WAINUA in the U.S. with the launch having commenced in January 2024. We and AstraZeneca are seeking regulatory approval for WAINUA in Europe and other parts of the world. AstraZeneca has exclusive rights to commercialize WAINUA outside of the U.S.

TEGSEDI is a once weekly, self-administered subcutaneous medicine approved in the U.S., Europe, Canada and Brazil for the treatment of patients with ATTRv-PN. We sell TEGSEDI in the U.S. and Canada (collectively, North America) and Europe through our distribution agreement with Swedish Orphan Biovitrum AB, or Sobi. In October 2023, our agreement for TEGSEDI in North America was terminated. As a result, Sobi is transitioning responsibilities to us. In February 2024, we began the process to withdraw the TEGSEDI New Drug Application, or NDA. In Latin America, PTC Therapeutics International Limited, or PTC, is commercializing TEGSEDI in Brazil and is pursuing access in additional Latin American countries through its exclusive license agreement with us.

WAYLIVRA is a once weekly, self-administered, subcutaneous medicine approved in Europe and Brazil as an adjunct to diet in adult patients with genetically confirmed familial chylomicronemia syndrome, or FCS, and at high risk for pancreatitis. We sell WAYLIVRA in Europe through our distribution agreement with Sobi. In Latin America, PTC is commercializing WAYLIVRA in Brazil for two indications, FCS and familial partial lipodystrophy, or FPL, and is pursuing access in additional Latin American countries through its exclusive license agreement with us.

Medicines in Registration and Phase 3 Studies

We currently have nine medicines in registration or Phase 3 studies for eleven indications, which are:

WAINUA (eplontersen) is our medicine to treat patients with transthyretin amyloidosis, or ATTR, that is approved in the U.S. for the treatment of adults with ATTRv-PN, under regulatory review in other countries for ATTRv-PN and in development for ATTR cardiomyopathy, or ATTR-CM. In September 2023, The Journal of the American Medical Association, or JAMA, published positive results from the Phase 3 NEURO-TTRansform study in patients with ATTRv-PN showing WAINUA halted disease progression and continuously improved quality of life at 35-, 66- and 85-week analyses. In July 2023, we completed enrollment of the Phase 3 CARDIO-TTRansform study of WAINUA in patients with ATTR-CM with data planned for as early as 2025. In February 2024, the FDA granted Fast Track designation to WAINUA for the treatment of patients with ATTR-CM. Additionally, in January 2022 and October 2023, the FDA and EMA, respectively, granted orphan drug designation to WAINUA for the treatment of ATTR.

Olezarsen is our medicine in development for FCS, an ultra-rare indication and severe hypertriglyceridemia, or SHTG, a much broader indication. In September 2023, we reported positive results from the Phase 3 Balance study in patients with FCS showing statistically significant triglyceride lowering and a substantial reduction in acute pancreatitis events in addition to a favorable safety and tolerability profile. Based on our positive Phase 3 results in FCS patients we are preparing regulatory submissions to the FDA and EMA. In January 2023, the FDA granted fast track designation to olezarsen for the treatment of patients with FCS. Additionally, we are currently conducting a broad Phase 3 development program for olezarsen for the treatment of SHTG including three Phase 3 studies supporting development (CORE, CORE2 and ESSENCE). In February 2024, the FDA granted Breakthrough Therapy designation and orphan drug designation to olezarsen for the treatment of FCS. Additionally, in January 2023, the FDA granted olezarsen Fast Track designation for the treatment of patients with FCS.

Donidalorsen is our medicine in development for hereditary angioedema, or HAE. In January 2024, we reported positive data from the Phase 3 OASIS-HAE study in patients treated every four weeks or patients treated every eight weeks. We are currently conducting OASIS-Plus, our open-label study in patients who were either previously treated with other prophylactic therapies or who have completed OASIS-HAE. Throughout 2022 and 2023, we reported positive data from the Phase 2 study and Phase 2 open-label extension, or OLE, study, including two-year OLE data. In December 2023, we licensed European commercialization rights of donidalorsen to Otsuka Pharmaceutical Co., Ltd., or Otsuka. We are preparing to submit an NDA to the FDA. Otsuka is preparing to submit a Marketing Authorization Application, or MAA, to the EMA. In September 2023 and February 2024, the FDA and EMA, respectively, granted orphan drug designation to donidalorsen.

Zilganersen is our medicine in development for Alexander disease, or AxD. In September 2023, we advanced zilganersen into the Phase 3 portion of its ongoing study for patients with AxD. In September 2020 and October 2019, the FDA and EMA, respectively, granted orphan drug designation to zilganersen. Additionally in August 2020, the FDA granted rare pediatric designation to zilganersen.

Ulefnersen is our medicine in development for amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, or ALS, with mutations in the fused in sarcoma gene, or FUS. We are currently conducting a Phase 3 study of ulefnersen in juvenile and adult patients with FUS-ALS. In August 2023 and September 2023, the FDA and EMA, respectively, granted orphan drug designation to ulefnersen.

QALSODY (tofersen) is our medicine to treat patients with SOD1-ALS. In April 2023, the FDA granted Biogen accelerated approval of QALSODY for patients with SOD1-ALS. QALSODY is currently under regulatory review in the EU. Additionally, Biogen is developing QALSODY to treat presymptomatic SOD1-ALS patients in the ongoing ATLAS study. In September 2016 and August 2016, the FDA and EMA, respectively, granted orphan drug designation to QALSODY.

Pelacarsen is our medicine in development to treat patients with elevated lipoprotein(a), or Lp(a)-driven cardiovascular disease, or CVD. Novartis is developing pelacarsen, including conducting the ongoing Lp(a) HORIZON Phase 3 cardiovascular outcome study in patients with elevated Lp(a)-driven CVD, which achieved full enrollment in July 2022 with more than 8,000 patients. In April 2020, the FDA granted Fast Track designation to pelacarsen.

Bepirovirsen is our medicine in development for chronic hepatitis B virus, or HBV. GSK is developing bepirovirsen, including conducting the ongoing B-Well Phase 3 program in patients with HBV. GSK reported positive results from Phase 2 studies in 2023, including durable response data from the Phase 2 B-Sure long-term follow-up study of bepirovirsen in complete responder patients from the Phase 2b B-Clear study of patients with HBV. In February 2024, the FDA granted Fast Track designation to bepirovirsen.

IONIS-FB-L_{Rx} is our medicine in development for immunoglobulin A, or IgA, nephropathy, or IgAN, and geographic atrophy, or GA. In the second quarter of 2023, Roche advanced IONIS-FB-L_{Rx} into Phase 3 development in patients with IgAN. In October 2023, we reported positive interim data from the ongoing Phase 2 study of IONIS-FB-L_{Rx} in patients with IgAN. Additionally, IONIS-FB-L_{Rx} is in an ongoing Phase 2 study in patients with GA, refer to the IONIS-FB-L_{Rx} description below for further details.

Our Marketed Medicines –Bringing Value to Patients Today

SPINRAZA – SPINRAZA (nusinersen) injection for intrathecal use is a survival motor neuron-2, or SMN2, directed antisense medicine indicated for the treatment of SMA in pediatric and adult patients.

SPINRAZA is the global market leader for the treatment of patients with SMA, a progressive, debilitating and often fatal genetic disease. Our partner, Biogen, is responsible for commercializing SPINRAZA worldwide.

SMA is characterized by loss of motor neurons in the spinal cord and lower brain stem. People with SMA have a deletion or defect in their SMN1 gene and rely on their SMN2 gene to produce functional SMN protein, which motor neurons need to maintain motor function and muscle strength. However, in untreated people the SMN2 gene can only produce approximately 10% of the SMN protein critical for motor neurons, resulting in severe and progressive loss of motor function and strength.

The rate and severity of degeneration varies depending on the amount of functional SMN protein a patient can produce. Type 1, or infantile-onset, SMA is the most severe form of the disease. Type 1 SMA patients produce very little SMN protein and often progress to death or permanent ventilation by the age of 2. Patients with Type 2 or Type 3, or later-onset, SMA produce more SMN protein, but also suffer from a progressive loss of muscle strength and function and a reduced life expectancy.

Biogen continues to expand the body of evidence supporting SPINRAZA's durable efficacy and well-established safety profile to address the remaining needs of SMA patients of all ages. This includes the following ongoing studies:

- DEVOTE: In the Phase 2/3 DEVOTE study, Biogen is evaluating the safety and potential to achieve increased efficacy with a higher dose of SPINRAZA compared to the currently approved dose. In 2022, Biogen reported final data from Part A of the ongoing, three-part DEVOTE study. Results from Part A, an open-label safety evaluation period in children and teens with later-onset SMA, suggest that the higher dosing regimen of SPINRAZA leads to higher levels of the drug in the cerebrospinal fluid, or CSF, supporting further development of a higher dose of SPINRAZA. Additionally, the results indicated that SPINRAZA was generally well-tolerated.
- RESPOND: In the Phase 4 RESPOND study, Biogen is evaluating the benefit of SPINRAZA in infants and children with a suboptimal clinical response to the gene therapy, onasemnogene abeparvovec. In 2023, Biogen presented interim results from the RESPOND study that showed improved motor function in most participants treated with SPINRAZA following treatment with onasemnogene abeparvovec.
- ASCEND: In the Phase 3b ASCEND study, Biogen is evaluating the clinical outcomes and assessing the safety of a higher dose of SPINRAZA in children, teens and adults with later-onset SMA following treatment with risdiplam.

Additionally, Biogen continues to conduct the Phase 2 NURTURE study, an open-label study investigating the benefit of SPINRAZA when administered before symptom onset in patients genetically diagnosed with SMA, and likely to develop Type 1 or Type 2 SMA. NURTURE was the first study to investigate the potential to slow or stop SMA disease progression in presymptomatic SMA patients. In 2022, Biogen reported new NURTURE study data, showing that early and sustained treatment with SPINRAZA helped participants to maintain and/or make progressive gains in motor function. These data showed that after 11 months of additional follow-up since the 2020 interim analysis, all children who were able to walk alone maintained this ability and one child gained the ability to walk alone, increasing the total percentage of study participants able to walk from 92% to 96%. Further, most children achieved motor milestones within age-appropriate timelines and no major motor milestones were lost. The safety of SPINRAZA over this extended follow-up period was consistent with previously reported findings.

The approval of SPINRAZA was based on efficacy and safety data from multiple clinical studies, including two randomized, placebo-controlled Phase 3 studies, ENDEAR, in patients with infantile-onset SMA, and CHERISH, in patients with later-onset SMA as well as from SHINE, an OLE study for patients with SMA who participated in prior SPINRAZA studies.

QALSODY – QALSODY (tofersen) is an antisense medicine used to treat ALS in adults who have a mutation in the superoxide dismutase 1, or SOD1, gene, or SOD1-ALS. The FDA granted QALSODY accelerated approval based on reduction in plasma neurofilament light chain, or Nfl., observed in patients treated with QALSODY. Continued approval for this indication may be contingent upon verification of clinical benefit in confirmatory trial(s).

SOD1-ALS is a rare, fatal, neurodegenerative disorder caused by a mutation in the SOD1 gene leading to a progressive loss of motor neurons. As a result, people with SOD1-ALS experience increasing muscle weakness, loss of movement, difficulty breathing and swallowing and eventually succumb to the disease. Current treatment options for people with SOD1-ALS are extremely limited. It is estimated that there are approximately 1,400 patients with SOD1-ALS in the G7 countries (comprised of Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the United Kingdom and the U.S.).

Biogen is also evaluating QALSODY for treatment of presymptomatic individuals who have a SOD1 genetic mutation. See the "Tofersen" description under "Our Phase 3 Pipeline" section below for further information on the development program for presymptomatic individuals. Tofersen is one of three medicines we have in development to treat ALS.

QALSODY received accelerated approval from the U.S. FDA in April 2023 and is currently under regulatory review in the EU. The QALSODY NDA and MAA included results from a Phase 1 study in healthy volunteers, a Phase 1/2 study evaluating ascending dose levels, the Phase 3 VALOR study, and the Phase 3 OLE study, as well as 12-month integrated results from the Phase 3 VALOR study and the Phase 3 OLE study. The 12-month integrated data show that earlier initiation of QALSODY, compared to delayed initiation, slowed declines in clinical function, respiratory function, muscle strength and quality of life and build on the results previously observed in the initial readout. The 12-month data compare patients with early initiation of QALSODY (at the start of VALOR) to those who had a delayed initiation of QALSODY (six months later, in the OLE).

At the time of the 12-month analysis, because the majority of participants survived without permanent ventilation, the median time to death or permanent ventilation, could not be estimated. However, early survival data suggest a lower risk of death or permanent ventilation with earlier initiation of QALSODY. Additionally, the latest 12-month results showed that reductions in total SOD1 protein (a marker of target engagement) and neurofilament (a marker of axonal injury and neurodegeneration) were sustained over time. QALSODY reduced total CSF SOD1 protein and plasma neurofilament levels in both early- and delayed-start groups as follows:

- 33% and 21% reduction in SOD1 protein, the intended target for QALSODY, respectively
- 51% and 41% reduction in plasma neurofilament, a marker of neuron injury, respectively

QALSODY had a favorable safety and tolerability profile.

The FDA and EMA granted QALSODY orphan drug designation for the treatment of ALS in September 2016 and August 2016, respectively.

In December 2018, Biogen exercised its option to license QALSODY. As a result, Biogen is responsible for global development, regulatory and commercialization activities, and costs for QALSODY.

WAINUA – WAINUA (eplontersen) injection is a LICA medicine indicated for the treatment of adults with ATTRv-PN. WAINUA prevents the production of TTR protein, reducing the amount of amyloid buildup that damages organs and tissues. WAINUA was approved by the FDA in December 2023.

ATTR amyloidosis is a systemic, progressive and fatal disease in which patients experience multiple overlapping clinical manifestations caused by the inappropriate formation and aggregation of TTR amyloid deposits in various tissues and organs, including peripheral nerves, heart, intestinal tract, eyes, kidneys, central nervous system, thyroid and bone marrow. The progressive accumulation of TTR amyloid deposits in these tissues and organs leads to organ failure and eventually death.

ATTRv-PN is caused by the accumulation of misfolded mutated TTR protein in the peripheral nerves. Patients with ATTRv-PN experience ongoing debilitating nerve damage throughout their body resulting in the progressive loss of motor functions, such as walking. These patients also accumulate TTR in other major organs, which progressively compromises their function and eventually leads to death within five to fifteen years of disease onset. There are an estimated 40,000 addressable patients, which includes those with ATTRv-PN and those with ATTRv- mixed phenotype worldwide.

Often, patients with ATTRv-PN will have TTR build up in the heart and experience cardiomyopathy symptoms. Similarly, patients with ATTR-CM may often have TTR build up in their peripheral nerves and experience nerve damage and a variety of symptoms, including progressive difficulty with motor functions. As a result, we are developing WAINUA to treat all types of ATTR. See the "WAINUA" description under "Our Phase 3 Pipeline" section below for further information on our development program for ATTR-CM.

FDA approval was based on the interim analysis of the Phase 3 NEURO-TTRansform study in patients with ATTRv-PN. NEURO-TTRansform was a global, multi-center, randomized, open-label study designed to evaluate the efficacy, safety and tolerability of WAINUA. The study compared WAINUA to the historical placebo arm from the TEGSEDI (inotersen) NEURO-TTR Phase 3 study. In the interim analysis, WAINUA demonstrated a statistically significant and clinically meaningful change from baseline for the co-primary and secondary endpoints at 35 weeks compared to the external placebo group. In the study, WAINUA achieved an 81% ($p<0.0001$) least squares, or LS, mean reduction in the co-primary endpoint of serum TTR concentration compared to baseline, demonstrating reduced TTR protein production. WAINUA also demonstrated a significant treatment effect on the co-primary endpoint of modified Neuropathy Impairment Score +7, or mNIS+7, a measure of neuropathic disease progression, with a statistically significant difference in mean change from baseline versus the external placebo group ($p<0.0001$). The study also met its key secondary endpoint of change from baseline in the Norfolk Quality of Life Questionnaire-Diabetic Neuropathy, or Norfolk QoL-DN, showing that treatment with WAINUA significantly improved patient-reported quality of life compared to the external placebo group ($p<0.0001$). In September 2023, The Journal of American Medical Association, or JAMA, published the Phase 3 NEURO-TTRansform study results.

Additionally, in April 2023, we presented positive data that WAINUA met all co-primary and secondary endpoints in the NEURO-TTRansform study at the final analysis at week 66. At week 66:

- WAINUA achieved a LS mean reduction of 82% in serum TTR concentration from baseline, compared to an 11% reduction from baseline in the external placebo group ($p<0.0001$).
- WAINUA stopped disease progression as measured by mNIS+7 resulting in a 0.28 point LS mean increase compared to a 25.06 point increase for the external placebo group from baseline (24.8 point LS mean improvement; $p<0.0001$).
- WAINUA improved quality of life demonstrating a 5.5 point LS mean decrease (improvement) on the Norfolk QoL-DN, compared to a 14.2 point increase (worsening) in the external placebo group (19.7 point LS mean improvement; $p<0.0001$).

And in July 2023, we reported that WAINUA continued to halt neuropathy disease progression and improve quality of life in patients with ATTRv-PN through the end of treatment analysis at week 85.

WAINUA is currently under regulatory review in the EU and other countries for the treatment of patients with ATTRv-PN.

In January 2022 and October 2023, the FDA and EMA, respectively, granted orphan drug designation to WAINUA for the treatment of ATTR.

In December 2021, we entered into an agreement with AstraZeneca to jointly develop and commercialize WAINUA in the U.S. We initially granted AstraZeneca exclusive rights to commercialize WAINUA outside the U.S., except for certain Latin American countries. In July 2023, we expanded those rights to include Latin America.

TEGSEDI – TEGSEDI (inotersen) injection is an antisense medicine indicated for the treatment of ATTRv-PN in adults. TEGSEDI prevents the production of TTR protein, reducing the amount of amyloid buildup that damages organs and tissues.

TEGSEDI is commercially available in numerous countries, including the U.S., many European countries, Canada, and Latin America. We launched TEGSEDI in the U.S. and EU in late 2018. In 2021, we began selling TEGSEDI in the U.S., Canada and Europe through our distribution agreement with Sobi. Refer to the section titled, Overview, for further details on our distribution agreement with Sobi. In Latin America, PTC is commercializing TEGSEDI in Brazil and is pursuing access in additional Latin American countries through its exclusive license agreement with us.

The approvals of TEGSEDI were based on efficacy and safety data from the Phase 3 NEURO-TTR study in patients with ATTRv-PN.

WAYLIVRA – WAYLIVRA (volanesorsen) is an antisense medicine indicated as an adjunct to diet in adult patients with genetically confirmed FCS and at high risk for acute, potentially fatal pancreatitis, in whom response to diet and triglyceride lowering therapy has been inadequate. WAYLIVRA reduces triglyceride levels by inhibiting the production of apolipoprotein C-III, or apoC-III, a protein that is a key regulator of triglyceride levels.

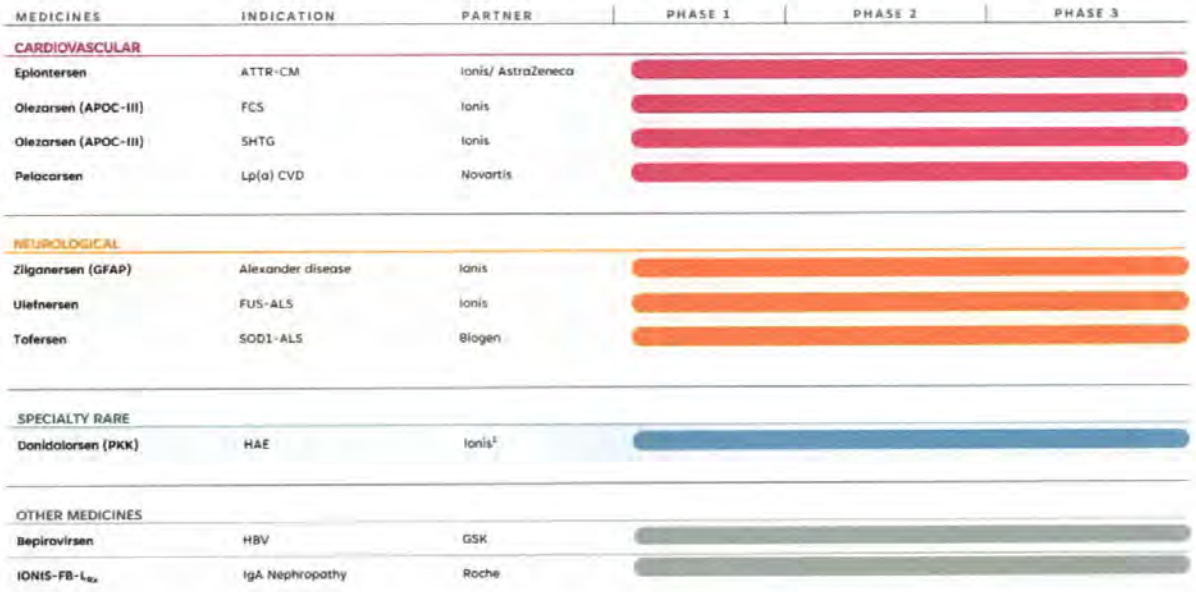
FCS is a rare, genetic disease estimated to affect one to two individuals per million and characterized by extremely elevated triglyceride levels, typically greater than 1,000 mg/dl. FCS can lead to many chronic health issues including severe, recurrent abdominal pain, fatigue, high risk of life-threatening pancreatitis and abnormal enlargement of the liver or spleen. In addition, people with FCS are often unable to work, adding to their disease burden. In severe cases, patients can have bleeding into the pancreas, serious tissue damage, infection, and cyst formation, as well as damage to other vital organs such as the heart, lungs, and kidneys.

WAYLIVRA received conditional marketing authorization in May 2019 from the European Commission, or EC. WAYLIVRA is commercially available in multiple European countries and in Latin America. We launched WAYLIVRA in the EU in the third quarter of 2019. In 2021, we began selling WAYLIVRA in Europe through our distribution agreement with Sobi. In Latin America, WAYLIVRA is approved for two indications, FCS and FPL. PTC is commercializing WAYLIVRA in Brazil and is pursuing access in additional Latin American countries through its exclusive license agreement with us. In the fourth quarter of 2022, WAYLIVRA was approved in Brazil for a second indication, FPL.

WAYLIVRA's conditional marketing authorization in the EU for FCS and approval in Brazil for FCS were based on efficacy and safety data from the Phase 3 APPROACH study and supported by results from the Phase 3 COMPASS study. WAYLIVRA's approval in Brazil for FPL was based on efficacy and safety data from the Phase 3 BROADEN study in patients with FPL.

Our Innovative Pipeline of Investigational Medicines

As a pioneer in RNA-targeted therapeutics, we continue to drive innovation with a leading pipeline in neurology, cardiology and other areas of high patient need.



The table below lists the medicines in our clinical pipeline and includes the disease indication, the partner (if the medicine is partnered), and the development status of each medicine. We categorize first-in-patient studies to establish a medicine's safety profile as Phase 1/2 and in the table below these are listed in the Phase 2 column. Studies in patients that are designed to establish an investigational medicine's proof of concept and additional safety profile are also listed in Phase 2. Pivotal studies designed to enable registrational filing for marketing authorization are listed in Phase 3. We have included descriptions for each of our medicines in Phase 2 and Phase 3 development below.

1 Granted Otsuka exclusive rights to commercialize donidalorsen in Europe.

Our Phase 3 Pipeline

We currently have nine medicines in our Phase 3 pipeline:

1 Granted Otsuka exclusive rights to commercialize donidalorsen in Europe.

Eplontersen (TTR) – Eplontersen (TTR) – Eplontersen (formerly IONIS-TTR-L_{Rx}) is an investigational LICA medicine we designed to inhibit the production of TTR protein. As discussed above under "WAINUA" in our "Marketed Medicines" section, we are developing eplontersen as a monthly self-administered subcutaneous injection to treat all types of ATTR, including ATTR-CM.

ATTR-CM is caused by the accumulation of misfolded TTR protein in the cardiac muscle. Patients experience ongoing debilitating heart damage resulting in progressive heart failure, which results in death within three to five years from disease onset. ATTR-CM includes both the genetic and wild-type form of the disease. There are an estimated 300,000 to 500,000 patients with ATTR-CM worldwide.

Often, patients with ATTRv-PN will have TTR build up in the heart and experience cardiomyopathy symptoms. Similarly, patients with ATTR-CM may often have TTR build up in their peripheral nerves and experience nerve damage and a variety of symptoms, including progressive difficulty with motor functions.

In January 2020, we initiated the CARDIO-TTRansform Phase 3 cardiovascular outcome study of eplontersen in patients with ATTR-CM. CARDIO-TTRansform is a global, multi-center, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled study in approximately 1,400 patients with ATTR-CM. We designed the study to evaluate the efficacy, safety and tolerability of eplontersen in patients with ATTR-CM. The primary endpoint in the CARDIO-TTRansform study is a composite outcome of cardiovascular mortality and recurrent cardiovascular clinical events up to Week 140. In July 2023, we announced that the CARDIO-TTRansform study had completed enrollment.

In January 2022 and October 2023, the FDA and EMA, respectively, granted orphan drug designation to WAINUA for the treatment of ATTR.

Olezarsen (ApoC-III) – Olezarsen (formerly IONIS-APOCIII-L_{Rx}) is an investigational LICA medicine we designed to inhibit the production of apoC-III for patients who are at risk of disease due to elevated triglyceride levels. ApoC-III is a protein produced in the liver that regulates triglyceride metabolism in the blood. People with severely elevated triglycerides, such as people with FCS, are at high risk for acute pancreatitis and an increased risk of cardiovascular disease, or CVD. It is estimated that FCS affects one to two individuals per million worldwide and more than three million patients have SHTG in the U.S.

We are currently conducting a broad development program for olezarsen that includes the Phase 3 Balance study in patients with FCS and three Phase 3 studies supporting development for the treatment of SHTG: CORE, CORE2 and ESSENCE.

In September 2023, we reported positive topline data from the Phase 3 Balance study in patients with FCS. The study met its primary efficacy endpoint with a statistically significant reduction in triglyceride (TG) levels with the olezarsen 80 mg monthly dose at six months compared to placebo (p=0.0009); triglyceride lowering continued to improve at 12 months. In addition, olezarsen 80 mg showed a substantial reduction in acute pancreatitis events compared to placebo, a key secondary endpoint. Treatment with olezarsen 80 mg resulted in a >75% reduction in apoC-III, a protein produced in the liver that regulates TG metabolism in the blood. In addition to the 80 mg monthly dose, the study also evaluated a 50 mg monthly dose. Olezarsen demonstrated a dose-dependent effect, with both study doses showing a substantial reduction in acute pancreatitis compared to placebo. The 50 mg dose did not reach statistical significance at six months on the primary endpoint of triglyceride lowering (p=0.0775). Olezarsen demonstrated a favorable safety and tolerability profile in the study. Based on the positive results, we plan to file a New Drug Application, or NDA, in 2024 with the U.S. FDA in addition to EU regulatory filings for patients with FCS.

We are also conducting ongoing Phase 3 studies for the expanded SHTG patient population. CORE and CORE2 are global, multi-center, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled studies enrolling approximately 540 and 390 patients, respectively, designed to assess the efficacy, safety and tolerability of olezarsen in patients with SHTG. The CORE and CORE2 studies compare olezarsen to placebo in patients with triglyceride levels equal to or greater than 500 mg/dL who are on currently available therapies for elevated triglycerides. The primary endpoint of the studies is the percent change in fasting triglycerides from baseline at month six. Additionally, in November 2022, we initiated ESSENCE, a global, multi-center, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled study enrolling approximately 1,300 patients to provide a robust safety database. The primary endpoint of the study is the percent change in fasting triglycerides from baseline at month six.

In January 2020, we reported positive results from a Phase 2 clinical study in patients with hypertriglyceridemia and at high risk of or with established CVD. Olezarsen achieved statistically significant, dose-dependent reductions in fasting triglycerides compared to placebo at all dose levels. Olezarsen also achieved statistical significance in numerous key secondary endpoints, including significant reductions in apoC-III. Olezarsen had a favorable safety and tolerability profile supportive of continued development.

In February 2024, the FDA granted Breakthrough Therapy designation and orphan drug designation to olezarsen for the treatment of FCS. Additionally, in January 2023, the FDA granted olezarsen Fast Track designation for the treatment of patients with FCS.

Donidalorsen (PKK) – Donidalorsen (formerly IONIS-PKK-L_{Rx}) is an investigational LICA medicine we designed to inhibit the production of prekallikrein, or PKK. HAE is a rare genetic disease that is characterized by severe and potentially fatal swelling of the arms, legs, face and throat. PKK plays an important role in the activation of inflammatory mediators associated with acute attacks of HAE. By inhibiting the production of PKK, donidalorsen could be an effective prophylactic approach to preventing HAE attacks. It is estimated that there are more than 20,000 patients with HAE in the U.S. and Europe.

In January 2024, we reported positive topline data from the Phase 3 OASIS-HAE study in patients with HAE. The study met its primary efficacy endpoint with a statistically significant reduction in the rate of HAE attacks in patients treated with 80 mg of donidalorsen via subcutaneous injection dosed every four weeks, or Q4W, (p<0.001) or every eight weeks, or Q8W, (p=0.004) compared to placebo. In addition, the trial showed donidalorsen achieved statistical significance on all secondary endpoints in the Q4W group and key secondary endpoints in the Q8W group. Donidalorsen demonstrated a favorable safety and tolerability profile in the study. Based on the positive results, we plan to file a NDA in 2024 with the U.S. FDA. Otsuka, which has exclusive rights to commercialize donidalorsen in Europe, is preparing to submit a Marketing Authorization Application to the European Medicines Agency, or EMA.

In May 2022, we initiated OASIS-Plus, a multi-center, open-label, global study in approximately 110 patients who were either previously treated with other prophylactic therapies or who have completed OASIS-HAE.

In 2021 and 2022 we reported positive results from the Phase 2 clinical study of donidalorsen in patients with HAE. And in 2022 and 2023, we presented positive results from the Phase 2 OLE study of donidalorsen in patients with HAE. Following the 13-week blinded, placebo-controlled Phase 2 study with a fixed 13-week dosing period where they received donidalorsen 80 mg every four weeks, patients were eligible for enrollment in the OLE study. Of the 20 Phase 2 study participants, 17 entered the OLE study and were on a fixed 13-week dosing period where they received 80 mg every four weeks. From week 17 through two years, patients entered a flexible dosing period where they either received donidalorsen 80 mg every four weeks, 80 mg every eight weeks, or 100 mg every four weeks. Over the two years, patients treated with donidalorsen via subcutaneous injection showed an overall sustained mean reduction in HAE attack rates of 96% from baseline, from 2.70 to 0.06 attacks per month, across all dosing groups. Furthermore, all patients treated with donidalorsen reported a clinically meaningful improvement in quality of life as measured by the Angioedema Quality of Life Questionnaire (AE-QoL) over two years. Donidalorsen had a favorable safety and tolerability profile in the study.

In September 2023 and February 2024, the FDA and EMA granted orphan drug designation to donidalorsen.

In December 2023, we granted Otsuka exclusive rights to commercialize donidalorsen in Europe.

Pelacarsen (Apo(a)) (TQJ230) – Pelacarsen (formerly IONIS-APO(a)-L_{Rx}) is an investigational LICA antisense medicine we designed to inhibit the production of apolipoprotein(a), or Apo(a), in the liver to offer a direct approach for reducing Lp(a). Elevated Lp(a) is recognized as an independent, genetic cause of CVD. Lp(a) levels are determined at birth and lifestyle modification, including diet and exercise, do not impact Lp(a) levels. Inhibiting the production of Apo(a) in the liver reduces the level of Lp(a) in blood, potentially slowing down or reversing CVD in people with hyperlipoproteinemia(a), a condition in which individuals have levels of Lp(a) greater than 50 mg/dL, the recognized threshold for risk of CVD. We believe antisense technology is well suited to address hyperlipoproteinemia(a) because it specifically targets the RNA that codes for all forms of the Apo(a) molecule. It is estimated that there are more than eight million people living with CVD and elevated levels of Lp(a).

In December 2019, Novartis initiated the Phase 3 study of pelacarsen, Lp(a) HORIZON, in patients with elevated Lp(a) levels and a prior cardiovascular event. Lp(a) HORIZON is a global, multi-center, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled cardiovascular outcomes study in more than 8,000 patients designed to assess the efficacy, safety and tolerability of pelacarsen. Patients are treated with 80 mg of pelacarsen administered monthly by subcutaneous injection. The primary endpoint in Lp(a) HORIZON is the time to occurrence of first major adverse cardiovascular event, or MACE. In July 2022, we announced that the Lp(a) HORIZON study had completed enrollment.

In November 2018, at the American Heart Association, or AHA, annual meeting, we reported results of the Phase 2 study of pelacarsen in patients with hyperlipoproteinemia(a). In the Phase 2 study, we observed statistically significant and dose dependent reductions from baseline in Lp(a) levels. Approximately 98% of patients who received the highest dose in the study demonstrated a reduction in Lp(a) levels to below the recommended threshold for CVD events (<50 mg/dL). Pelacarsen had a favorable safety and tolerability profile supportive of continued development.

In February 2019, Novartis exercised its option to license pelacarsen. As a result, Novartis is responsible for global development, regulatory and commercialization activities, and costs for pelacarsen.

In April 2020, the FDA granted pelacarsen Fast Track designation for the treatment of patients with elevated Lp(a) and CVD. In December 2020, the Center for Drug Evaluation, or CDE, of China National Medical Products Administration granted breakthrough therapy designation to pelacarsen.

Zilganersen – Zilganersen (formerly ION373) is an investigational antisense medicine we designed to inhibit the production of glial fibrillary acidic protein, or GFAP. We are developing zilganersen as a potential therapy for AxD, a rare, progressive and fatal neurological disease that affects the myelin sheath which protects nerve fibers. AxD is caused by a gain-of-function mutation in the GFAP gene and is characterized by progressive deterioration, including loss of skills and independence, generally leading to death in childhood or early adulthood.

Two major types of AxD have been defined. Type I onset typically occurs before four years of age and patients can experience head enlargement, seizures, limb stiffness, delayed or declining cognition, and lack of growth. Type II onset typically occurs after the age of four and symptoms can include difficulty speaking, swallowing, and making coordinated movements. AxD is most often fatal. There are treatments that can relieve symptoms, but there is no disease modifying therapy yet available to patients.

In April 2021, we initiated a pivotal study of zilganersen in patients with AxD and in September 2023, we advanced zilganersen into the Phase 3 portion of the pivotal study. The pivotal study of zilganersen is a multi-center, double-blind, placebo-controlled, multiple-ascending dose study in approximately 55 patients with AxD designed to assess the efficacy, safety and tolerability of zilganersen. Patients will receive zilganersen or placebo for a 60-week period, after which all patients in the study will receive zilganersen for a 60-week open-label treatment period. The primary endpoint is the change from baseline in the 10-Meter Walk Test, or 10MWT.

In September 2020 and October 2019, the FDA and EMA, respectively, granted orphan drug designation to zilganersen. Additionally in August 2020, the FDA granted rare pediatric designation to zilganersen.

Ulefnersen (FUS) – Ulefnersen (formerly ION363) is an investigational antisense medicine we designed to reduce the production of the FUS protein to treat people with ALS caused by mutations in the FUS gene. Because antisense-mediated reduction of mutant FUS protein in a FUS-ALS mouse model demonstrated the ability to prevent motor neuron loss, it is hypothesized that reduction of FUS protein will reverse or prevent disease progression in FUS-ALS patients. It is estimated that there are approximately 350 patients with FUS-ALS in G7 countries.

In April 2021, we initiated a Phase 3 study of ulefnersen in patients with FUS-ALS. The Phase 3 trial of ulefnersen is a global, multi-center, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled study in approximately 75 patients designed to assess the efficacy, safety and tolerability of ulefnersen. Part 1 of the trial consists of patients randomized to receive a loading regimen of ulefnersen or placebo for days one, 28 and 85 after which patients are dosed quarterly for a total of 61 weeks, followed by a 12 week follow up for participants entering Part 2 or 40 week follow up for participants not entering Part 2. Part 2 is an open-label period in which all patients in the trial will receive ulefnersen or placebo loading regimen at week four followed by one dose every 12 weeks for 85 weeks. The primary endpoint is the change from baseline as measured by joint rank analysis of the combined assessment of the Revised Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis Functional Rating Scale, or ALSFRS-R, Total Score, time of rescue or discontinuation from Part 1 and entering Part 2 due to a deterioration in function, and Ventilation Assistance-free survival, or VAFS.

In August 2023 and September 2023, the FDA and EMA, respectively, granted orphan drug designation to ulefnersen.

Tofersen (SOD1) (BIIB067) – Tofersen (formerly IONIS-SOD1$_{Rx}$) is an investigational antisense medicine we designed to inhibit the production of SOD1 protein, which is a well understood genetic cause of ALS. As discussed above under the "QALSODY" section in our "Marketed Medicines" section, Biogen is also evaluating tofersen for treatment of presymptomatic individuals who have a SOD1 genetic mutation.

In April 2021, Biogen initiated a Phase 3 study of tofersen, called ATLAS, in presymptomatic individuals with a SOD1 genetic mutation. ATLAS is a multi-center, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled study enrolling approximately 150 subjects designed to assess the efficacy, safety and tolerability of tofersen. Patients are only given tofersen if they meet a defined biomarker threshold or progress to develop clinically manifest SOD1-ALS.

In September 2016 and August 2016, the FDA and EMA, respectively, granted orphan drug designation to tofersen.

In December 2018, Biogen exercised its option to license tofersen. As a result, Biogen is responsible for global development, regulatory and commercialization activities, and costs for tofersen.

Bepirovirsen (HBV) (GSK3228836) – Bepirovirsen (formerly IONIS-HBV$_{Rx}$) is an investigational antisense medicine we designed to inhibit the production of viral proteins associated with HBV. These include proteins associated with infection and replication, including the hepatitis B surface antigen, or HBsAg, which is present in both acute and chronic infections and is associated with a poor prognosis in people with chronic HBV infection.

HBV infection is a serious health problem that can lead to significant and potentially fatal health conditions, including cirrhosis, liver failure and liver cancer. Chronic HBV infection is one of the most common persistent viral infections in the world, affecting nearly 300 million people and resulting in approximately 900,000 deaths annually. Currently available therapies, although effective in reducing circulating HBV in the blood, do not effectively inhibit HBV antigen production and secretion, which are associated with poor prognosis and increased risk of liver cancer.

In January 2023, GSK initiated the Phase 3 program of bepirovirsen, B-Well, in patients with chronic HBV. B-Well 1 and B-Well 2 are global, multi-center, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled studies enrolling more than 500 patients each. GSK designed these studies to assess the efficacy, safety and tolerability of bepirovirsen. The arms will be stratified based on HBsAg levels at screening. The primary endpoint is the number of patients achieving functional cure with baseline HBsAg ≤ 1,000 IU/mL. Functional cure is defined as a sustained suppression (24 weeks or longer) of HBV DNA (< Lower Limit of Quantification, or LLOQ) while off all HBV treatments with HBsAg loss (<0.05 IU/mL) with or without HBsAg after a finite duration of therapy.

In June 2022, GSK presented positive results from the Phase 2b B-CLEAR study of bepirovirsen in patients with chronic HBV infection. The end of study results showed that treatment with bepirovirsen in some patients resulted in sustained clearance of HBsAg and HBV DNA for 24 weeks after end of bepirovirsen treatment in people with chronic HBV infection. Treatment with bepirovirsen that was administered weekly at a dose of 300 mg per week for 24 weeks, with loading doses administered on day four and 11 (treatment arm 1), resulted in 9% of patients on NA treatment and 10% of patients not on NA treatment both achieving the primary outcome of HBsAg levels and HBV DNA levels below the LLOQ. This is defined as a sustained response and was observed for 24 weeks post last dose. Patients with low baseline HBsAg levels responded best to treatment with bepirovirsen with 16% and 25% of patients achieving the primary outcome in treatment arm one of the on NA and not on NA cohorts, respectively. Additionally in June 2023, GSK presented durable response data from the Phase 2 B-Sure long-term follow-up study of bepirovirsen in complete responder patients from the Phase 2b B-Clear study of patients with HBV. Bepirovirsen had a favorable safety and tolerability profile supportive of continued development.

In October 2023, GSK reported data from the B-Together Phase 2b study of bepirovirsen in patients with chronic HBV infection at the AASLD Liver Meeting. The data showed that between 9-15% of patients attained the primary outcome of HBsAg and HBV DNA below the LLOQ for 24 weeks after planned end of sequential treatment with pegylated interferon, in the absence of newly initiated antiviral therapy. Additionally, all patients who achieved the primary endpoint had a baseline HBsAg ≤3000 IU/mL. Bepirovirsen had a favorable safety and tolerability profile supportive of continued development.

In August 2019, GSK exercised its option to license our HBV program following the positive results of the Phase 2a study of bepirovirsen in patients with chronic HBV infection. As a result, GSK is responsible for global development, regulatory and commercialization activities, and costs for the HBV program.

In February 2024, the FDA granted bepirovirsen Fast Track designation for the treatment of patients with chronic HBV infection.

IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$ (IgAN) (RG6299) – IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$ is an investigational LICA medicine we designed to inhibit the production of complement factor B, or FB, and the alternative complement pathway. Genetic association studies have shown that overaction of the alternative complement pathway has been associated with the development of several complement-mediated diseases, including IgAN. As discussed below under the "IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$" section in our "Other Medicines in Development" section, we are also developing IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$ for GA, secondary to age-related macular degeneration, or AMD.

IgAN is one of the most common causes of inflammation that impairs the filtering ability of kidneys and is an important cause of chronic kidney disease and kidney failure. Also known as Berger's disease, IgAN is characterized by deposits of IgA in the kidneys, resulting in inflammation and tissue damage.

In April 2023, Roche initiated a Phase 3 study of IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$, called IMAGINATION, in patients with IgAN. IMAGINATION is a multi-center, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled study enrolling approximately 430 patients designed to assess the efficacy, safety and tolerability of IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$. The primary endpoint is the change from baseline in the urine protein-to-creatinine ratio, or UPCR, at week 37.

In November 2022, we presented positive results from the Phase 2 open-label study of IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$ in patients with IgAN at the American Society of Nephrology's, or ASN, Kidney Week. In the Phase 2 study, which included results from the first 10 patients treated with IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$, IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$ met its primary endpoint of change in 24-hour urinary protein, demonstrating a 44% mean reduction in proteinuria from baseline to week 29. Kidney function, as measured by estimated glomerular filtration rate, or eGFR, was maintained in all patients in the study. The results from the Phase 2 study provided proof-of-concept for the potential of IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$ to treat patients with IgAN by inhibiting complement FB and the alternative complement pathway. Additionally, in November 2023 at ASN Kidney Week, we presented new positive interim results from the ongoing Phase 2 study, which included results from 13 patients. The results showed that IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$ effectively and selectively reduced circulating FB, Alternate Pathway Activity, or AH50 and urinary complement Ba. Additionally, IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$ reduced established proteinuria in patients with IgAN after six-months of treatment. The Phase 2 open-label study remains ongoing and will evaluate IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$ in approximately 25 patients with IgAN. IONIS-FB-L$_{Rx}$ had a favorable safety and tolerability profile supportive of continued development.

Item 5.02. Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

On August 28, 2024, the Compensation and Human Capital Management Committee (the "Compensation Committee") of the Board of Directors of Precigen, Inc. (the "Company") approved the grant of performance stock units ("PSUs") under the Company's 2023 Omnibus Incentive Plan, as amended (the "Plan"), to certain key employees of the Company, including the Company's named executive officers set forth in the table below. The Compensation Committee believes that the incorporation of the PSUs as a component of long-term equity incentive compensation provided to the executive officers will enhance the alignment of executive compensation with long-term shareholder value creation, because the vesting of the PSUs is conditioned upon the Company's achievement of certain key operational milestones important to its growth and success.

The PSUs will vest in two equal 50% installments based upon the achievement of two specified operational milestones relating to (i) the Company's good faith submission to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (the "FDA") of a complete Biologics License Application ("BLA") for the Company's PRGN-2012 investigational product and (ii) the approval of the BLA by the FDA, in each case during the period from the grant date through December 31, 2026 (the "Performance Period"). The performance milestones may be achieved (and the PSUs earned) at any time during the Performance Period, and the PSUs will vest and be settled in shares of the Company's common stock at such time as the Compensation Committee certifies that an applicable performance milestone has been achieved, subject to the executive's continued employment through the applicable achievement date (except as described below). Any PSUs for which a performance milestone has not been achieved by the end of the Performance Period will be cancelled and forfeited.

Upon an executive's termination of employment by the Company without "cause", by the executive for "good reason" or due to the executive's death and disability (each as defined in the applicable award agreement), the PSUs will remain outstanding and eligible to vest upon the earlier of the achievement of a milestone or a "change in control" (as defined in the Plan), provided, that, if the termination is by the Company without "cause" or by the executive for "good reason", then the PSUs would only vest pro-rata based on the executive's service with the Company from March 1, 2024 through the termination date. In the event of a change in control in which the PSUs are not assumed or continued by the successor or surviving entity, the PSUs will vest in full at target levels, subject to the executive's continued employment through the date of the change in control (except as described in the preceding sentence). Upon a termination of employment for any reason other than as described above, any portion of the PSUs that is unvested and unearned as of the termination date will be forfeited.

The following table sets forth the target PSUs granted to the Company's named executive officers:

Name	Target PSUs (#)
Dr. Helen Sabzevari	1,650,000
Harry Thomasian	250,000
Rutul Shah	250,000
Donald Lehr	108,000

The foregoing description of the PSUs is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the form of Performance Stock Unit Agreement, a copy of which will be filed as an exhibit to the Company's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2024.

PART I

Item 1. Business

I. Overview

We are a late-stage biopharmaceutical company focused on the discovery, development and delivery of innovative medicines for the treatment of serious diseases in which signaling by protein growth factors plays a fundamental role. As a global leader in transforming growth factor beta ("TGFβ") superfamily biology, our novel understanding of the molecular mechanisms of growth factor activation enabled us to develop a proprietary platform for the discovery and development of monoclonal antibodies that locally and selectively target the precursor, or latent, forms of growth factors. By targeting the signaling proteins at the cellular level and acting in the disease microenvironment, we believe we may avoid the historical dose-limiting safety challenges associated with inhibiting growth factors for therapeutic effect. We believe our focus on biologically validated growth factors may facilitate a more efficient development path.

Based on this proprietary and scalable technology platform, we are building a growing portfolio of novel product candidates with the aim of transforming the lives of patients suffering from a wide range of serious diseases, including neuromuscular disorders, cardiometabolic disorders, cancer, fibrosis and iron-restricted anemia. We have discovered and progressed the development of:

- Apitegromab, an investigational, fully human monoclonal antibody that inhibits myostatin activation by selectively binding the pro- and latent forms of myostatin in skeletal muscle and is being developed for the treatment of spinal muscular atrophy ("SMA"). We also believe apitegromab could have potential in the treatment of other neuromuscular disorders where the inhibition of myostatin may be beneficial.

- SRK-439, a novel, preclinical, investigational myostatin inhibitor that has high invitro affinity for pro- and latent myostatin and maintains myostatin specificity and is being developed for the treatment of cardiometabolic disorders.

- SRK-181, an inhibitor of the activation of latent transforming growth factor beta-1 ("TGFβ1"), that is being developed for the treatment of cancers that are resistant to anti-PD-(L)1 antibody therapies.

- Potent and selective inhibitors of the activation of TGFβ for the treatment of fibrotic diseases. We are advancing multiple antibody profiles toward product candidate selection including antibodies that selectively inhibit the activation of latent TGFβ1 in the context of fibrotic extracellular matrix and that avoid perturbing TGFβ1 presented by cells of the immune system.

- Additional discovery and early preclinical programs related to the selective modulation of growth factor signaling including bone morphogenetic protein 6 ("BMP6") and other growth factors.

Our first product candidate, apitegromab, is a highly selective, fully human, monoclonal antibody, with a unique mechanism of action that results in inhibition of the activation of the growth factor, myostatin, in skeletal muscle. Apitegromab is being developed as a potential first muscle-targeted therapy for the treatment of SMA. We are conducting SAPPHIRE, a pivotal Phase 3 clinical trial to evaluate the efficacy and safety of apitegromab in patients with nonambulatory Type 2 and Type 3 SMA (which is estimated to represent the majority of the current prevalent SMA patient population in the U.S. and Europe). We completed enrollment of SAPPHIRE in 2023, with the top-line data readout expected in the fourth quarter of 2024. If successful and if apitegromab is approved, we expect to initiate a commercial product launch in 2025.

Apitegromab was evaluated in our Phase 2 TOPAZ proof-of-concept clinical trial for the treatment of patients with Type 2 and Type 3 SMA. Positive 12-month top-line results were initially announced in April 2021. We have subsequently presented data from the TOPAZ trial over 24-months (June 2022) and 36-months (July 2023), which showed that continued treatment with apitegromab over the extended period was associated with substantial and sustained improvement in motor function and patient-reported outcomes (via caregiver proxy)in patients with nonambulatory

Table of Contents

Types 2 and 3 SMA receiving an SMN therapy (see "Phase 2 TOPAZ Trial Analysis" below). Additionally, we have a long-term extension study, ONYX, for patients from both the TOPAZ and SAPPHIRE studies, who are receiving apitegromab in conjunction with an approved SMN therapy. The FDA granted fast track designation, rare pediatric disease designation and orphan drug designation to apitegromab for the treatment of SMA in May 2021, August 2020 and March 2018, respectively. The European Medicines Agency ("EMA") granted Priority Medicines ("PRIME") designation in March 2021 and the EC granted orphan medicinal product designation in December 2018 to apitegromab for the treatment of SMA.

In October 2023, we announced an expansion of our therapeutic focus into cardiometabolic disorders by advancing our anti-myostatin program with SRK-439, a novel, fully human anti-myostatin monoclonal antibody, for evaluation in cardiometabolic disorders, including obesity. We are developing SRK-439 towards a potential investigational new drug application ("IND") submission in 2025. To inform the development of SRK-439, we plan to initiate a Phase 2 proof-of-concept trial of apitegromab in combination with GLP-1 receptor agonist (GLP-1 RA) in 2024 with data expected in mid-2025.

Our second product candidate, SRK-181, a highly selective inhibitor of the activation of latent TGFβ, is being developed for the treatment of cancers that are resistant to checkpoint inhibitor therapies ("CPI therapies"), such as anti-PD-1 or anti-PD-L1 antibody therapies (referred to together as anti-PD-(L)1 antibody therapies). SRK-181 was evaluated in our Phase 1 DRAGON proof-of-concept clinical trial in patients with locally advanced or metastatic solid tumors that exhibit resistance to anti-PD-(L)1 antibody therapies. We completed enrollment of the DRAGON trial in December 2023. This two-part clinical trial consists of a dose escalation portion (Part A) and a dose expansion portion evaluating SRK-181 in combination with an approved anti-PD-(L)1 antibody therapy (Part B). Part B commenced in 2021 and includes the following active cohorts: urothelial carcinoma, cutaneous melanoma, non-small cell lung cancer, clear cell renal cell carcinoma ("ccRCC") and head and neck squamous cell carcinoma ("HNSCC"). Safety, efficacy and biomarker data were presented in November 2023 at the Society for Immunotherapy of Cancer ("SITC") 38th Annual Meeting. We believe that the DRAGON trial achieved its study objectives by showing objective, durable clinical responses in patients with ccRCC resistant to PD-1 therapy above what is expected from continuing PD-1 alone. We expect to present emerging data from the DRAGON trial at medical meetings in the future.

Beyond these programs, we continue to discover and develop highly specific monoclonal antibodies to selectively modulate growth factor signaling. Growth factors are naturally occurring proteins that typically act as signaling molecules between cells and play a fundamental role in regulating a variety of normal cellular processes, including cell growth and differentiation. Current therapeutic approaches to treating diseases in which growth factors play a fundamental role involve directly targeting the active form of the growth factor or its receptor systemically throughout the body. These approaches have suffered from a variety of shortcomings, including lack of pathway selectivity, lack of target selectivity, and non-localized target inhibition.

Our innovative approach is rooted in our structural biology insights into the mechanism by which certain growth factors are activated in close proximity to the cell surface. We integrate these insights with sophisticated protein expression, monoclonal antibody discovery capabilities, and assay development to test the characteristics of our monoclonal antibodies. We believe our proprietary platform can address the challenges of treating diseases in which growth factors play a fundamental role by:

- targeting the natural activation mechanism to prevent activation of the growth factor rather than attempting to inhibit the growth factor after activation;
- achieving heightened specificity for the targeted growth factor while minimizing interactions with structurally similar and related growth factors, thereby potentially reducing the risk of unintended systemic adverse events; and
- targeting the disease microenvironment, where we believe we can interfere with the disease process while minimizing the effects on the normal physiological processes mediated by the same growth factors.

Table of Contents

Our structural insights and unique antibody discovery capabilities can be applied to other protein classes beyond growth factors, with an aim of generating differentiated candidates targeting cell surface receptors such as immune cell receptors or G-protein coupled receptors, where selectivity remains challenging.

II. Our Approach and Proprietary Platform

Our innovative approach is rooted in our novel understanding of the molecular mechanisms of growth factor activation and signaling and is designed to discover and develop monoclonal antibody product candidates that can inhibit the activation of a growth factor with an unprecedented degree of selectivity. Our proprietary platform is designed to generate product candidates that target the growth factor's latent precursor form prior to its activation within the disease microenvironment, or tissue where it is localized.

Growth factors are naturally occurring proteins that typically act as signaling molecules between cells and play a fundamental role in regulating a variety of normal cellular processes. Members of the TGFβ superfamily of growth factors, for example, can mediate diverse biological functions, including cell growth and differentiation, tissue homeostasis, immune modulation and extracellular matrix remodeling. Growth factors have also been shown to play a fundamental role in a variety of disease processes. Because of the importance of growth factors in multiple diseases, the pharmaceutical industry has made many attempts to inhibit growth factors in a variety of therapeutic settings. However, products utilizing conventional approaches have seen only limited success. Current therapeutic approaches to treating diseases in which growth factors play a fundamental role involve directly targeting an activated growth factor or its receptor systemically throughout the body and have suffered from a variety of shortcomings:

- Lack of pathway selectivity—multiple growth factors often signal through the same or overlapping sets of related receptors, making it difficult to specifically modulate one pathway over another;
- Lack of target selectivity—members of the same growth factor superfamily share considerable structural similarities, making it difficult to achieve specific inhibition of the targeted growth factor; this can result in broad systemic inhibition that can cause undesirable, and in many cases toxic, side effects; and
- Lack of disease microenvironment localization—systemic and non-selective inhibition of a growth factor can block the growth factor's role in the disease process, but can also simultaneously interfere with its other normal physiological roles.

Our approach to the discovery and development of growth factor targeted drugs is new and different from traditional approaches. Our approach of targeting the precursor, or latent forms of growth factors is based on the breakthrough discovery by the laboratory of our cofounder, Timothy A. Springer, Ph.D. of Harvard Medical School and Boston Children's Hospital.

Unlike many other proteins that are produced and secreted by cells in a mature, or active, form, many growth factors are expressed by cells in a latent form. For example, TGFβ1 is produced by cells as a single protein which is then enzymatically processed by the cells into two distinct and physically separated domains — the mature growth factor and the remaining portion of the original protein, referred to as the prodomain — which remain associated as part of a complex. This secreted complex is latent, or inactive, and must first be activated to carry out its normal function in a highly localized tissue or disease microenvironment. In a seminal peer-reviewed publication in 2011, Dr. Springer elucidated a new understanding of the mechanism of activation of the latent growth factor complex among members of the TGFβ superfamily by solving a high-resolution x-ray crystal structure of this latent form of TGFβ1 (as illustrated in the graphic below).

Table of Contents

Graphic

Structural representation of the latent form of TGFβ1 wherein the prodomain wraps around the active growth factor

This research explained at a molecular level why the secreted form of TGFβ1 is inactive. The prodomain, though physically separated from the mature growth factor domain, forms a "cage" around the active form of TGFβ1, blocking the growth factor from signaling through its receptor. Only when the cage is "unlocked" by a precursor activation event can the growth factor be released and mediate its effects in the local microenvironment. Dr. Springer further hypothesized that this phenomenon likely holds true for most members of the TGFβ superfamily, though the exact nature of the activation event, such as integrin binding or enzymatic cleavage, may differ among members of the superfamily. Importantly, while many growth factors are structurally very similar, their cages are structurally diverse, and this provides the basis for our approach to improved selectivity.

We believe that there are several important advantages to our approach of targeting the precursor, or latent, forms of growth factors over conventional therapeutic approaches, which inhibit mature growth factors or their receptors systemically throughout the body:

- targeting the latent precursor allows intervention at the site of action, within the microenvironment of the diseased tissue. Because our antibodies specifically bind the latent forms of the growth factors, we can prevent the activation of the growth factors. Given that many growth factors act primarily within the microenvironment where they are activated, as opposed to exerting their effects systemically, we believe that prevention of activation is a preferred mode of action for achieving improved outcomes. In contrast, traditional approaches to targeting growth factor signaling are focused on inhibiting the growth factor after it has been activated and released systemically;

- targeting the latent precursor allows heightened selectivity among structurally related growth factors, which we believe could limit off target effects. For example, two members of the TGFβ superfamily, myostatin and GDF11, are 90% identical in their growth factor domains. Therefore, many of the traditional inhibitors that target myostatin also inadvertently inhibit GDF11. Similarly, most of the known inhibitors of TGFβ are paninhibitors, meaning that they do not distinguish among the three isoforms of TGFβ, namely, TGFβ1, TGFβ 2 and TGFβ3. Despite the sequence similarities of the active forms of these growth factors, their cages are structurally diverse. We have been able to harness this diversity to generate antibodies that specifically bind the inactive growth factor precursors and inhibit activation of a particular growth factor of interest, but not others that are closely related; and

- targeting these precursor forms in the disease microenvironment, we believe we can interfere with the disease process while minimizing the effects on the normal physiological processes mediated by growth factors.

To enable our novel approach, we have built a proprietary platform that is rooted in our structural biology insights into activation of latent growth factor precursors. We integrate these insights with sophisticated protein expression, monoclonal antibody discovery capabilities, and assay development to test the characteristics of our monoclonal antibodies. In addition to this know-how, our proprietary platform is covered by patents projected to expire well into the 2030s, excluding any patent term adjustments or extensions. The key elements of our proprietary platform include the following:

- focusing on growth factor targets with a high degree of evidence implicating them in a disease process or processes;

- utilizing structural biology insights to generate recombinant versions of the latent forms of targeted growth factors, as well as versions of closely related growth factors utilizing proprietary technology and in-house expertise;

- developing proprietary assays in which we are able to recapitulate the natural activation mechanism that these growth factors undergo in the human body;

- designing sophisticated selection strategies utilizing recombinant antibody libraries such as phage and yeast display that allow us to identify monoclonal antibodies, a well-established therapeutic modality, that can modulate the activation of these growth factors without having an effect on the activation of other closely related growth factors; and

- optimizing the output of such selections to ensure that our product candidates have the appropriate characteristics for manufacturability and further development.

Using our innovative approach and proprietary platform, we are creating a pipeline of novel product candidates that selectively modulate the activation of growth factors implicated in a variety of serious diseases. Our structural insights and unique antibody discovery capabilities can also be applied to other protein classes beyond growth factors, with an aim of generating differentiated candidates targeting cell surface receptors such as immune cell receptors or G-protein coupled receptors, where selectivity remains challenging.

III. Our Expertise

We have assembled an experienced management team, board of directors, and scientific founders who bring extensive industry experience to our company. The members of our team have deep experience in discovering, developing and commercializing therapeutics, having worked at companies such as: Acceleron Pharma, Inc.; Alnylam Pharmaceuticals, Inc.; AMAG Pharmaceuticals, Inc.; Celgene Corporation; Foundation Medicine, Inc.; and Novartis Pharmaceuticals. We were founded by internationally respected scientists, Drs. Timothy A. Springer and Leonard I. Zon of Harvard Medical School and Boston Children's Hospital.

IV. Our Strategy

Using our proprietary platform to unlock the therapeutic potential of targeting growth factor signaling in the disease microenvironment, our goal is to deliver novel therapies to underserved patients suffering from a wide range of serious diseases, including neuromuscular disorders, cardiometabolic disorders, cancer, fibrosis and iron-restricted anemia. To achieve this goal, we plan to:

Table of Contents

- Continue advancing apitegromab in SMA to characterize its potential to offer meaningful benefit to patients. We are developing our first product candidate, apitegromab, for the treatment of patients with SMA. By targeting the latent form of myostatin and specifically inhibiting its activation in muscle, we believe apitegromab holds considerable promise in improving motor function in patients with SMA. We are conducting SAPPHIRE, a pivotal Phase 3 trial to evaluate the efficacy and safety of apitegromab in patients with nonambulatory Type 2 and Type 3 SMA being treated with survival motor neuron ("SMN") therapy (e.g., therapies that upregulate the expression of SMN, such as SMN splicing modulators).

- Identify the next indication(s) for apitegromab. Our goal is to maximize the value of apitegromab by exploring its potential across SMA types and in other myostatin-related indications. We believe that the role of apitegromab as a muscle-targeted therapy could have broad potential beyond SMA, spanning multiple muscle disorders in which fast-twitch fibers may play an important role in motor function. There is also increasing recognition of the important role of skeletal muscle in modulating metabolic physiology, highlighting a potential therapeutic opportunity for myostatin blockade. We have efforts underway to evaluate these opportunities, including preclinical and translational research, development path assessments, and commercial evaluations.

- Leverage anti-myostatin expertise to expand into cardiometabolic disorders. Muscle plays a key role in metabolic functions and energy homeostasis. Leveraging the effect of anti-myostatin on increasing muscle mass and our expertise in selectively targeting anti-myostatin, we have been developing myostatin-selective inhibitors to address cardiometabolic disorders, including obesity. Our platform has generated multiple anti-myostatin antibodies, including apitegromab, that selectively target pro- and latent forms of myostatin. SRK-439, a novel anti-myostatin antibody in preclinical development by us, has attractive properties, including high in vitro affinity for pro- and latent myostatin, maintenance of myostatin specificity (i.e., no GDF11 or Activin-A binding), and robust in vivo efficacy in preclinical models. We believe the selectivity of these product candidates enables a favorable risk-benefit profile for patients with cardiometabolic disorders.

- Advance our TGFβ1 product candidate, SRK-181, through clinical proof-of-concept. Our second antibody program is focused on the discovery and development of potent and selective inhibitors of the activation of latent TGFβ1. We believe that the selectivity of SRK-181, as observed in preclinical studies, is a significant differentiator in our efforts to address the historical dose-limiting safety challenges resulting from non-selectively inhibiting multiple isoforms that activate the TGFβ signaling pathway. We have completed enrollment of the Phase 1 proof-of-concept clinical trial of SRK-181 in patients with locally advanced or metastatic solid tumors that are experiencing resistance to anti-PD-(L)1 antibody therapy. Data from the DRAGON trial supports proof-of-concept for SRK-181 in heavily pre-treated patients with ccRCC resistant to anti-PD-(L)1 therapy. Additionally, we believe that SRK-181 has the potential to address unmet medical needs in other oncology indications, and we will endeavor to maximize the value of this product candidate.

- Continue to leverage our proprietary platform to expand our pipeline beyond current lead programs. We will continue to leverage and expand our proprietary platform to selectively target the activation of additional growth factors, both within and beyond the TGFβ superfamily. Given the established role of signaling by protein growth factors in numerous diseases, we believe that these efforts could result in new opportunities to treat diseases with unmet medical need. In order to support our pipeline expansion and intention to be the leader in the field of growth factor-targeted drug development, we are investing in the technologies supporting our proprietary platform. We have designed a proprietary, state of the art, antibody display library to more efficiently identify differentiated candidate antibodies. Furthermore, we believe that our structural insights have applicability beyond growth factor activation to include other cell signaling mechanisms.

  We believe that additional product candidates in the TGFβ portfolio have the potential to address other disorders associated with increased TGFβ signaling, including tissue and organ fibrosis. To advance the discovery and development of selected inhibitors originating from our TGFβ program that we believe have the potential to address unmet medical needs in non-oncology indications, we entered into a three-year fibrosis-focused collaboration with Gilead Sciences, Inc. ("Gilead") in 2018. At the conclusion of the agreement in January 2022, the rights to the respective antibodies reverted to us. We have identified a suite of anti-fibrotic antibodies with novel selectivity profiles that were discovered over the course of the collaboration including those which may have therapeutic potential for the treatment of organ fibrosis by inhibiting TGFβ1 function in connective tissue while having no impact on the activation or signaling of TGFβ1 in the immune system. We plan to continue the advancement of these assets as part of our growing preclinical pipeline.

In addition, using our structural insight, we have identified modulators of BMP 6 (a TGFβ superfamily growth factor) by selectively inhibiting its co-receptor RGMc or hemojuvelin which is required for activation. BMP6 functions as a critical control point in iron modulation via regulation of hepcidin. Traditional approaches to inhibiting the signaling of BMP6 systemically would likely perturb the numerous different physiological processes in which BMP6 is involved. Our approach could provide the potential for tissue specific modulation of BMP signaling and iron regulation.

- Selectively seek strategic collaborations to maximize the value of our proprietary platform and pipeline. Given the potential of our proprietary platform to generate novel product candidates that could treat a wide variety of diseases, we believe that we can maintain in-house discipline with respect to our key development and commercialization efforts, while at the same time maximizing the full potential of our proprietary platform for other disease areas and indications. As a result, we may seek additional strategic collaborations around certain targets, product candidates or disease areas that we believe could benefit from the resources of either larger biopharmaceutical companies or those specialized in a particular area of relevance.

V. Our Pipeline

Using our innovative approach and proprietary platform, we are creating a differentiated pipeline of novel product candidates that selectively inhibit the activation of latent growth factors believed to be important drivers in a variety of diseases, including neuromuscular disorders, cardiometabolic disorders, cancer, fibrosis, and iron-restricted anemia. Our proprietary platform includes (i) our know-how enabling expression and purification of latent protein growth factor complexes in quantity and quality sufficient to enable antibody discovery; (ii) strategies to identify rare antibodies that selectively bind targeted latent protein growth factor complexes; and (iii) assays developed by us to test the highly selective antibodies' ability to modulate the activation of specific latent growth factors. We have worldwide rights to our proprietary platform and all of our product candidates.

The following summarizes our pipeline programs:

Table of Contents

VI. Our Product Candidates

a. Latent Myostatin

Utilizing our proprietary platform, we targeted the precursor form of myostatin and generated two novel antibodies, each with a design tailored for specific patient populations: apitegromab for SMA and SRK-439 for obesity. Both antibodies are novel, highly selective inhibitors of the activation of myostatin from its inactive precursor in skeletal muscle, where myostatin resides and signals upon activation. While mature myostatin is 90% identical in the growth factor domain to its most closely related TGFβ superfamily member, GDF11, the prodomain that cages mature myostatin and keeps it in its latent precursor form is only 52% identical to the GDF11 prodomain.

In preclinical studies, we have shown that apitegromab selectively avoids interaction with other closely related growth factors that play distinct physiological roles. We observed multi-fold increases in serum latent myostatin levels in mouse models of both early and late SMN restoration and that apitegromab promoted increased strength (as measured by torque generation) in SMN-deficient mice. In a Phase 1 clinical trial designed to evaluate the safety, tolerability, and pharmacokinetic ("PK") /pharmacodynamic ("PD") profile of apitegromab in adult healthy volunteers, there were no dose-limiting toxicities and we observed robust and sustained target engagement following administration of apitegromab.

SRK-439 has also shown robust preclinical efficacy, as detailed in "Cardiometabolic Disorders – SRK-439 (inhibitor of latent myostatin)" section below. We believe that these results, from two diet-induced obesity ("DIO") mice models provide the scientific rationale and support the hypothesis that inhibition of myostatin in combination with GLP-1 receptor agonist ("RA")-driven weight loss may lead to retention of lean muscle.

i. Role of Myostatin

Myostatin, also known as growth differentiation factor 8 ("GDF8"), is a member of the TGFβ superfamily and is produced by skeletal muscle cells. As with other tissues and organs in the human body, healthy muscle homeostasis is maintained by a proper balance of growth signals, or anabolic stimuli, and breakdown signals, or catabolic stimuli. The Board is unable to provide legal advice. General information about facility licenses issued by the Board is available on the Board's website at https://www.pharmacy.ca.gov/applicants/apply_facility.shtml as well as the Pharmacy Law Book.
Provided below are the statutes and regulations that most likely pertain to the questions you are asking along with the link to the Pharmacy Law book.

A Wholesaler License is required before any firm or organization may distribute, broker or transact the sale or return of dangerous drugs or dangerous devices in California. Wholesalers sell and distribute dangerous drugs and dangerous devices (also called "legend" items or prescription-required drugs and devices) to other business entities who are authorized by law to purchase the items or to licensed health care providers who are authorized by law to possess the dangerous drugs and dangerous devices. Wholesalers are not authorized to sell or distribute these items directly to patients unless the wholesaler is delivering dialysis drugs and devices to home dialysis patients in case(s) or full shelf package lots (see section 4054 of the California Business & Professions Code).

A Wholesaler License is also required of customs brokers who sell for resale or negotiate for distribution any dangerous drug or device included in section 4022 of the Business and Professions Code. A wholesaler permit is also required for reverse distributors who arrange for the destruction of outdated or damaged dangerous drugs or devices.

Additionally, Per BPC *4160 (h) A drug manufacturer premises licensed by the Food and Drug Administration or licensed pursuant to Section 111615 of the Health and Safety Code that only distributes dangerous drugs and dangerous devices of its own manufacture is exempt from this section and Section 4161.

WARNING - This email originated from outside the State of Nevada. Exercise caution when opening attachments or clicking links, especially from unknown senders.

Good day,

Please find the below email regarding the attached request for proof of exemption from licensure in California for Cepheid's distribution facility. Cepheid is manufacturing its own products at their Lodi, CA location, which holds the appropriate CA Manufacturing permit required (previously supplied copy of the Lodi, CA license); their products are then distributed from their Fremont, CA location. Since Cepheid is manufacturing its own products, as the owner of those products and both facilities related to the manufacture and distribution of those products, no license is required by CA for the distribution facility in Fremont, CA according to the exemption highlighted in the email communication below. Please let us know if this is satisfactory for proof of exemption for Cepheid.

Subject: RE: California Resident Medical Device Private Label Distributor Licensure

[External]

Hello,

Good day,

I am reaching out today on behalf of Cepheid, a California-based Private Label Distributor located in Fremont, CA. Cepheid's products, medical devices with no drugs or drug components, are manufactured in Lodi, CA at their second location which currently holds a CA DOH Manufacturer Permit as required. Cepheid's devices are transferred from their Lodi, CA facility to their Fremont, CA facility for warehousing and distribution. No actual manufacture occurs onsite at Cepheid's Fremont, CA location and all products are products owned and labeled by Cepheid. These products are distributed to hospital pharmacies for use in laboratories.

Given this information, can you confirm if a license is required for Cepheid's Fremont, CA location?

Thank you for your time.

Respectfully,

Nichole Frame

RESIDENT STATE EXEMPTION

4155. Corporate Form Not Required

Nothing in this article shall be construed as requiring the applicant or holder of a pharmacy permit pursuant to Section 4110 to be a pharmacy corporation.

4156. Unprofessional Conduct by Corporation

A pharmacy corporation shall not do, or fail to do, any act where doing or failing to do the act would constitute unprofessional conduct under any statute or regulation. In the conduct of its practice, a pharmacy corporation shall observe and be bound by the laws and regulations that apply to a person licensed under this chapter.

Article 11. Wholesalers, Third-Party Logistics Providers and Manufacturers

4160. Wholesaler or Third-Party Logistics Provider: License Required

(a) A person shall not act as a wholesaler or third-party logistics provider of any dangerous drug or dangerous device unless he or she has obtained a license from the board.

(b) Upon approval by the board and the payment of the required fee, the board shall issue a license to the applicant.

(c) (1) A separate license shall be required for each place of business owned or operated by a wholesaler or third-party logistics provider. Each place of business may only be issued a single license by the board, except as provided in paragraph (2). Each license shall be renewed annually and shall not be transferable. At all times during which a place of business is open for business, at least one designated representative, in the case of a wholesaler, or designated representative-3PL in the case of a third-party logistics provider, shall be present. A wholesaler that only acts as a reverse distributor may use either a designated representative or a designated representative-reverse distributor to fulfill this requirement.

(2) A wholesaler and a third-party logistics provider under common ownership may be licensed at the same place of business provided that all of the following requirements are satisfied:

(A) The wholesaler and the third-party logistics provider each separately maintain the records required under Section 4081.

(B) Dangerous drugs and dangerous devices owned by the wholesaler are not commingled with the dangerous drugs and dangerous devices handled by the third-party logistics provider.

(C) Any individual acting as a designated representative for the wholesaler is not concurrently acting as a designated representative-3PL on behalf of the third-party logistics provider. Nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed to prohibit an individual from concurrently holding a license to act as a designated representative and to act as a designated representative-3PL.

(D) The wholesaler has its own designated representative-in-charge responsible for the operations of the wholesaler and the third-party logistics provider has its own responsible manager responsible for the operations of the third-party logistics provider. The same individual shall not concurrently serve as the responsible manager and the designated representative-in-charge for a wholesaler and a third-party logistics provider licensed at the same place of business.

(E) The third-party logistics provider does not handle the prescription drugs or prescription devices owned by a prescriber.

(F) The third-party logistics provider is not a reverse third-party logistics provider.

(G) The wholesaler is not acting as a reverse distributor.

(d) Every wholesaler shall be supervised or managed by a designated representative-in-charge. The designated representative-in-charge shall be responsible for the wholesaler's compliance with state and federal laws governing wholesalers. As part of its initial application for a license, and for each renewal, each wholesaler shall, on a form designed by the board, provide identifying information and the California license number for a designated representative or pharmacist proposed to serve as the designated representative-in-charge. The proposed designated representative-in-charge shall be subject to approval by the board. The board shall not issue or renew a wholesaler license without identification of an approved designated representative-in-charge for the wholesaler. The designated representative-in-charge shall maintain an active license as a designated representative with the board at all times during which he or she is designated as the designated representative-in-charge. A wholesaler that only acts as a reverse distributor may identify and allow a designated representative-reverse distributor to perform in this capacity. That individual shall maintain an active license as a designated representative-reverse distributor.

(e) Each place of business of a third-party logistics provider shall be supervised and managed by a responsible manager. The responsible manager shall be responsible for the compliance of the place of business with state and federal laws governing third-party logistics providers and with the third-party logistics provider's customer specifications, except where the customer's specifications conflict with state or federal laws. As part of its initial application for a license, and for each renewal, each third-party logistics provider shall, on a form designated by the board, provide identifying information and the California license number for a designated representative-3PL proposed to serve as the responsible manager. The proposed responsible manager shall be subject to approval by the board. The board shall not issue or renew a third-party logistics provider license without identification of an approved responsible manager for the third-party logistics provider. The responsible manager shall maintain an active license as a designated representative-3PL with the board at all times during which he or she is designated as the responsible manager.

(f) A wholesaler shall notify the board in writing, on a form designed by the board, within 30 days of the date when a designated representative-in-charge ceases to act as the designated representative-in-charge, and shall on the same form propose another authorized licensee to take over as the designated representative-in-charge. The proposed replacement designated representative-in-charge shall be subject to approval by the board. If disapproved, the wholesaler shall propose another replacement within 15 days of the date of disapproval, and shall continue to name proposed replacements until a designated representative-in-charge is approved by the board.

(g) A third-party logistics provider shall notify the board in writing, on a form designed by the board, within 30 days of the date when a responsible manager ceases to act as the responsible manager, and shall on the same form propose another designated representative-3PL to take over as the responsible manager. The proposed replacement responsible manager shall be subject to approval by the board. If disapproved, the third-party logistics provider shall propose another replacement within 15 days of the date of disapproval, and shall continue to name proposed replacements until a responsible manager is approved by the board.

(h) A drug manufacturer premises licensed by the Food and Drug Administration or licensed pursuant to Section 111615 of the Health and Safety Code that only distributes dangerous drugs and dangerous devices of its own manufacture is exempt from this section and Section 4161.

(i) The board may issue a temporary license, upon conditions and for periods of time as the board determines to be in the public interest. A temporary license fee shall be required in an amount established by the board as specified in subdivision (f) of Section 4400. When needed to protect public safety, a temporary license may be issued for a period not to exceed 180 days, subject to terms and conditions that the board deems necessary. If the board determines that a temporary license was issued by mistake or denies the application for a permanent license, the temporary license shall terminate upon either personal service of the notice of termination upon the licenseholder or service by certified mail, return receipt requested, at the licenseholder's

Provide explanation below:

Fusion Orthopedics USA, LLC was winding up, and waiting on construction for its office to be finished before it could submit its permit applications to the Arizona State Board of Pharmacy, as finalized building plans and a lease are a requirement for the permits. The permit process from the time the application was submitted, to the time it was processed and permits were issued was nearly a 12 month period, on top of the length of time office construction took. Fusion Orthopedics USA, LLC was cited for selling medical devices during that time frame without the required permit. The proper permits have since been obtained, and now Fusion Orthopedics USA, LLC is submitting this application to be in compliance with Nevada statutes NRS 639.100, NRS 639.233, NAC 639.593 and NAC 639.6944, as the Arizona permits are a prerequisite to obtaining the appropriate Nevada permits.

Name of Business/Industry/Entity
Fusion Orthopedics, LLC

Provide explanation below:

The disruptive nature of Fusion's patented IntraLock Fixation System continues to infuriate its competitor Extremity Medical, LLC ("EM"). Fusion Orthopedics, LLC's IntraLock is expertly reviewed, has issued patents from the USPTO, and has a plurality of pending patent applications.

After a cursory review of the lawsuit, it appears EM has undertaken a multi-year campaign to unduly stretch the scope of their patent, which attempts to box out Fusion Orthopedics, LLC's superior IntraLock Fixation System. Fusion Orthopedics, LLC fiercely disputes the baseless singular claim set forth by EM as filed in the U.S. District Court of Arizona. The IntraLock Fixation System does not infringe the claimed EM IO Fix patent.

Fusion Orthopedics, LLC's position is that EM is inequitably attempting to weaponize their patents against companies to gain a market advantage beyond their legal right. This litigation tactic employed by EM is bad for healthcare because it attempts to strangle medical device innovation that may improve patient surgical outcomes and reduce the cost of care.

As a matter of good public policy, Fusion Orthopedics, LLC is deeply committed to combating any such legal tactics by EM and others. It is Fusion's practice to recognize and respect the intellectual property of others. Fusion Orthopedics, LLC is undeterred in their pursuit as an innovator in technology related to foot and ankle orthopedic devices. Fusion Orthopedics, LLC stands by its IntraLock Fixation System, especially when wrongfully accused of patent infringement.

Treace Medical filed the lawsuit on March 29, 2022 against Fusion Orthopedics, LLC in the United States District Court for the District of Arizona, Civil Action No. 2:22- cv-00490, alleging patent, trademark, and copyright infringement, as well as various unfair trade practices based on Fusion Orthopedics, LLC's use, sale, and promotion of the Lapilock 4D Advanced Bunion Surgery, including false advertising and unfair competition.

Fusion Orthopedics, LLC subsequently filed counterclaims against Treace Medical, requesting declaratory judgment of non- infringement and invalidity of the patents, declaratory judgment of invalidity of Treace Medical's LAPIPLASTY trademark, as well as various unfair trade practices based on Treace Medical's use, sale, and promotion of the Lapiplasty 3D Bunion Correction, including counterclaims of false descriptions and false advertising.

In March 2023, the parties entered into an agreement to settle this matter. While the terms of the settlement are confidential, Fusion Orthopedics, LLC is pleased with the outcome.

This is in response to Question # 5. Provide all the following where applicable:

Patent Infringement

Fusion Orthopedics, LLC	Lawsuit

Name of Business/Industry/Entity
Fusion Orthopedics, LLC

Provide explanation below:

The disruptive nature of Fusion's patented IntraLock Fixation System continues to infuriate its competitor Extremity Medical, LLC ("EM"). Fusion Orthopedics, LLC's IntraLock is expertly reviewed, has issued patents from the USPTO, and has a plurality of pending patent applications.

After a cursory review of the lawsuit, it appears EM has undertaken a multi-year campaign to unduly stretch the scope of their patent, which attempts to box out Fusion Orthopedics, LLC's superior IntraLock Fixation System. Fusion Orthopedics, LLC fiercely disputes the baseless singular claim set forth by EM as filed in the U.S. District Court of Arizona. The IntraLock Fixation System does not infringe the claimed EM IO Fix patent.

Fusion Orthopedics, LLC's position is that EM is inequitably attempting to weaponize their patents against companies to gain a market advantage beyond their legal right. This litigation tactic employed by EM is bad for healthcare because it attempts to strangle medical device innovation that may improve patient surgical outcomes and reduce the cost of care.

As a matter of good public policy, Fusion Orthopedics, LLC is deeply committed to combating any such legal tactics by EM and others. It is Fusion's practice to recognize and respect the intellectual property of others. Fusion Orthopedics, LLC is undeterred in their pursuit as an innovator in technology related to foot and ankle orthopedic devices. Fusion Orthopedics, LLC stands by its IntraLock Fixation System, especially when wrongfully accused of patent infringement.

This is in response to Question # 5. Provide all the following where applicable:

Date of Event/Arrest	Disposition Date	State	City	County
04/28/2022	On Going	AZ	Phoenix	Maricopa
Case #		Governing, licensing, Arresting Presiding Body/Agency/Court
2:2022cv00723		Arizona District Court
Reason/Charge
Patent Infringement
Plaintiff/Defendant/Claimant/Respondent			Lawsuit/Arbitration/Bankruptcy
Fusion Orthopedics, LLC			Lawsuit
Name of Business/Industry/Entity
Fusion Orthopedics, LLC

Provide explanation below:

The disruptive nature of Fusion's patented IntraLock Fixation System continues to infuriate its competitor Extremity Medical, LLC ("EM"). Fusion Orthopedics, LLC's IntraLock is expertly reviewed, has issued patents from the USPTO, and has a plurality of pending patent applications.

After a cursory review of the lawsuit, it appears EM has undertaken a multi-year campaign to unduly stretch the scope of their patent, which attempts to box out Fusion Orthopedics, LLC's superior IntraLock Fixation System. Fusion Orthopedics, LLC fiercely disputes the baseless singular claim set forth by EM as filed in the U.S. District Court of Arizona. The IntraLock Fixation System does not infringe the claimed EM IO Fix patent.

Fusion Orthopedics, LLC's position is that EM is inequitably attempting to weaponize their patents against companies to gain a market advantage beyond their legal right. This litigation tactic employed by EM is bad for healthcare because it attempts to strangle medical device innovation that may improve patient surgical outcomes and reduce the cost of care.

As a matter of good public policy, Fusion Orthopedics, LLC is deeply committed to combating any such legal tactics by EM and others. It is Fusion's practice to recognize and respect the intellectual property of others. Fusion Orthopedics, LLC is undeterred in their pursuit as an innovator in technology related to foot and ankle orthopedic devices. Fusion Orthopedics, LLC stands by its IntraLock Fixation System, especially when wrongfully accused of patent infringement.

Fusion Orthopedics, LLC and its executives, Adam Cundiff and Nathan Peterson, received a letter from the State Board of Pharmacy on December 19, 2022 claiming Fusion Orthopedics, LLC had engaged in the business of wholesaling and/or distributing prescription drugs/medical products or devices into the State of Nevada without a license.

Fusion Orthopedics, LLC was unaware of Nevada statutes NRS 639.100, NRS 639.233, NAC 639.593 and NAC 639.6944. Fusion Orthopedics, LLC has since ceased material operations and is in the process of winding down, but Fusion Orthopedics USA, LLC has looked into these statutes and is submitting this application to be in compliance with these statutes.

Fusion Orthopedics USA, LLC

Provide explanation below:

Fusion Orthopedics USA, LLC was winding up, and waiting on construction for its office to be finished before it could submit its permit applications to the Arizona State Board of Pharmacy, as finalized building plans and a lease are a requirement for the permits. The permit process from the time the application was submitted, to the time it was processed and permits were issued was nearly a 12 month period, on top of the length of time office construction took. Fusion Orthopedics USA, LLC was cited for selling medical devices during that time frame without the required permit. The proper permits have since been obtained, and now Fusion Orthopedics USA, LLC is submitting this application to be in compliance with Nevada statutes NRS 639.100, NRS 639,233, NAC 639.593 and NAC 639.6944, as the Arizona permits are a prerequisite to obtaining the appropriate Nevada permits.

C T CORP SYSTEM
NO ADDRESS ON RECORD

MINUTE ENTRY

The Court has considered Defendant Henry & Horne's and Flemings' Motion to Dismiss Complaint, Plaintiffs' Response, Defendants' Reply, and the oral argument of counsel. Defendants argue: (1) this Court's should not have granted Ariz.R.Civ.P. 60(c) relief and reinstated this action on December 8, 2009, thereby rendering Plaintiffs' negligence claims time barred as a matter of law, and (2) Plaintiffs' fraud claim fails to comply with Rule 9(b). Rule 60(c) provides that the court may relieve a party from a final order on the grounds of mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect. Both parties have set forth detailed facts regarding the interplay between this matter and another matter pending in Superior Court[1] (the "Tanner Matter") to support their respective arguments as to whether Plaintiffs' actions do or do not constitute excusable neglect.

By way of procedural background, the Court issued a Minute Entry in this matter on June 6, 2009, warning Plaintiffs that the matter would be dismissed on July 6, 2009 if service was not timely accomplished as required by Rule 4(i) or an order granting an extension of time to serve was not obtained. This matter was dismissed by Minute Entry Order dated August 29, 2009, more than a month and a half after the service deadline, for failure to serve the Complaint within 120 days of its filing. On December 8, 2009, this Court granted Plaintiffs' Motion seeking relief under Rule 60(c) and reinstating this action. At the time this Motion was granted, Defendants had not been served.

The Court now has before it detailed facts regarding the circumstances underlying Plaintiffs' claim of excusable neglect. The Court agrees with Defendants that the dismissal of this action was not due to excusable neglect, but rather to Plaintiffs' failure to ensure that its' claims were preserved in this action while it participated in a negotiated settlement in the Tanner Matter. These facts are analogous to Maher v. Urman, 211 Ariz. 543, 124 P.3d 770 (App. 2005), and the cases cited therein. The circumstances here do not constitute excusable neglect. In essence, Plaintiffs were relying upon a promise to file new claims, under an amended complaint, as a term of an unsigned settlement agreement in another case (the Tanner Matter) in order to perpetuate the claims being made in this case. Certainly the only way to preserve the claims pending in this case was to serve the Complaint to ensure the claims were not lost while settlement negotiations and the execution of the settlement continued. This is especially true since this action was filed just within the statute of limitations, making Plaintiffs long aware that a dismissal of this action would render the matter time barred. For these reasons, this matter should not have been reinstated and Plaintiffs' negligence claims are time barred as a matter of law pursuant to A.R.S. §12-542. The remainder of Defendants arguments are thus moot.

For the foregoing reasons,

IT IS ORDERED granting Defendant Henry & Horne's and Flemings' Motion to Dismiss Complaint, vacating this Court's December 8, 2009 Order (filed on December 9, 2009), and affirming the Judgment of Dismissal dated August 29, 2009 (filed September 2, 2009).

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED signing this minute entry as a formal order of this Court.

RULING MINUTE ENTRY

Defendants Adam Cundiff and Jane Doe Cundiff, Creekside Capital, LLC, and Binkcorp Capital, LLC (collectively "Adam Cundiff Defendants") have filed a Motion to Dismiss for failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. This motion was taken under advisement after the oral argument of November 24, 2008. For the reasons set forth below, the Motion to Dismiss is granted.

The Adam Cundiff Defendants allege that the Third Amended Complaint ("Complaint") fails to make any specific allegations against Adam and Jane Doe Cundiff, Creekside Capital, and Binkcorp Capital, and ask this Court to dismiss the Complaint with prejudice as to those Defendants. Plaintiff agrees that it has not alleged that the Adam Cundiff Defendants made affirmative misrepresentations to investors or were otherwise actively involved in the sale of Mathon securities. However, Plaintiff asserts that the Adam Cundiff Defendants are the ultimate owners of CTAC Group LLC from which they knowingly received illegal proceeds and are therefore liable under A.R.S. § 44-1991(A)(1) and (3).

After reviewing the Complaint, the Court agrees that it does not contains specific factual assertions against the Adam Cundiff Defendants to support Plaintiff's theory of liability against them. While there are many specific allegations against James Cundiff and CTAC, the Complaint does not specify the role the Adam Cundiff Defendants played in the alleged fraudulent scheme. Although Plaintiff's Response contains such allegations, reiterated by Plaintiff at oral argument, these allegations are not contained in the Complaint. However, the Court is mindful that it should be liberal in allowing amendments to a complaint when Rule 9(b) and/or A.R.S. § 44-2082(A) are violated. See Spudnuts, Inc. v. Lane, 131 Ariz. 424, 426, 641 P.2d 912, 914 (App. 1982).

IT IS ORDERED granting the Adam Cundiff Defendant's Motion to Dismiss.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED granting Plaintiff's Motion for Leave to Amend Third Amended Complaint by no later than January 10, 2009.

To Whom it may concern,

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to inform you about the 1977 resolution of a legal matter in which I was involved.

On 5/29/1977, I was unlawfully charged with possession of marijuana. After a thorough investigation and legal proceeding, I am pleased to inform you that I have been acquitted of all charges related to this incident. The acquittal was finalized on 01/12/1978 by Seaside Heights Boro Municipal Court, and the court's decision unequivocally clears me of any wrongdoing.

The case against me was based on possession of Marijuana. However, the court found that there was insufficient evidence to support the charges of possession on my person, leading to my full acquittal. This outcome reinforces my commitment to lawful conduct and my respect for the legal system.

I am providing this information to ensure complete transparency and to clarify any misunderstandings that may have arisen due to the charges. If you require any additional information or documentation regarding the case and its resolution, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thank you for your understanding and consideration.

Sincerely,

Robert Prezant

Disciplinary Actions and Corrective Actions Taken

Please note that the below disciplinary actions have been previously reported to the board.

1. State of Florida, Department of Health – March 26, 2008

MEDISCA sold/and or transferred a legend drug (coal tar) to a person that was not authorized to purchase.

A fine of $250.00 was paid by MEDISCA to settle the matter.

Corrective Action

MEDISCA now only ships to clients that are specifically authorized by MEDISCA in advance to purchase MEDISCA's products. A valid license is a requirement for purchase of the products.

2a. State of Florida, Department of Health – October 22, 2008

As a result of personnel changeover of its Certified Designated Representative, MEDISCA's Out-of-State Prescription Drug Wholesaler Permit was inoperative during the time gap in the personnel changeover. During this gap, MEDISCA shipped a prescription drug to a client in Florida. MEDISCA also inadvertently did not provide pedigree papers to the client.

The Certified Designated Representative was replaced, and the permit was renewed on March 26, 2008. A fine of $1,500.00 was paid by MEDISCA to settle the matter.

2b. New York State Education Department – October 22, 2011

In response to the disciplinary action taken by the Florida Department of Health on October 22, 2008, the New York State Education Department took disciplinary action against MEDISCA on October 22, 2011.

A fine of $1,000.00 was paid by MEDISCA to settle this matter.

Corrective Actions

MEDISCA now has backup licensed Designated Representatives at its Plattsburgh, NY and Las Vegas, NV facilities to ensure that a replacement Designated Representative is available should the current Designated Representative suddenly leave employment, or otherwise ever need to be replaced. This should eliminate the possibility of a time gap resulting from the sudden departure of a Designated Representative.

In addition, a Pedigree Procedure (QC-221) was created to ensure that pedigree papers are provided to every client in Florida.

3. US Department of Justice, Drug Enforcement Administration – December 30, 2010

An inspection conducted by the DEA at MEDISCA's Plattsburgh, NY facility in March 2007 resulted in the following observations:

1- MEDISCA failed to report the distribution of encapsulating machines to the DEA
2- MEDISCA failed to report certain instances of suspicious order activity to the DEA
3- MEDISCA failed to include controlled substance samples, controlled substance waste materials and anabolic steroid substance raw materials in its initial controlled substance inventory
4- MEDISCA's manufacturing records failed to set forth actual controlled substance repackaging yields

MEDISCA asserted defenses to the observations. After negotiations with the Agency, a fine of $350,000.00 was agreed-upon by the parties and paid by MEDISCA to settle the matter. All of MEDISCA's DEA Controlled Substance registrations remain active.

Corrective Actions

Following the DEA's inspection, MEDISCA developed a program to monitor suspicious orders which applies a sliding scale of criteria to spot and report suspicious orders, and also to closely monitor any other activity which indicates a heightened scrutiny. Under this program, MEDISCA makes reports of any unusual activity to the DEA which it regards as suspicious. In addition, MEDISCA has voluntarily established a "Do Not Ship" list, comprised of 41 pharmacies with which MEDISCA no longer conducts business. A "Watch List" has also been voluntarily created where all controlled substance orders from pharmacies on this list are reviewed and approved by management prior to being shipped.

In order to fully know our customers and determine if they are at risk for diversion, on-site audits are also performed on behalf of MEDISCA by a 3rd party expert auditing company. The 3rd party is comprised of ex-DEA agents who are experts in targeting diversion. Self-audits are also performed on a regular basis at MEDISCA's facilities by outside consultants to ensure compliance with DEA regulations.

In addition, the following policies and procedures were implemented to meet the DEA's requirements:

1- Failure to report distribution of encapsulating machines:
Implementation of Policy "CS-022 Reporting the Purchase of Encapsulating Machines to the DEA"

2- Failure to report suspicious order activity:
Implementation of Policy "CS-003 Investigation of Controlled Substance Orders / Suspicious Order Monitoring (SOM)"

3- Failure to include in its initial controlled substance inventory controlled substance samples, controlled substance waste material, and anabolic steroid substance raw materials:

Medisca®

Implementation of Procedure "CS-005 Monthly / Biennial Controlled Substances Inventory and Daily Cycle Count Procedure"

4- Failure of its manufacturing records to set forth actual controlled substance repackaging yields: Implementation of Procedure "PROD-001 General Production Procedures"

4. Colorado State Board of Pharmacy – September 16th, 2011

The alleged violation was that MEDISCA failed to submit a Change of Designated Representative application within the 14 allotted days, as per Colorado's Regulation 15.01.14 when the Designated Representative at MEDISCA's Texas facility was suddenly terminated from employment.

It should be noted that MEDISCA's Texas facility did not conduct any business in Colorado until July 2011, once the Colorado Board confirmed that the license was in good standing.

MEDISCA Inc. agreed to pay a fine of $5,500.00 to the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy to settle the matter. The license in question remains Active.

Corrective Action

MEDISCA has tightened its procedures to ensure that should a change of Designated Representative occur at any of MEDISCA's facilities, the states will be notified in a timely fashion and the necessary forms and fees will be submitted in a timely manner.

5a. Food and Drug Administration – March 14th, 2012

Between July 2004 and February 2007, MEDISCA distributed a prescription drug product, Somatropin, to licensed pharmacies. During this time period, a few items (less than five letters) of promotional literature erroneously stating that the product was "FDA approved" or from an "FDA approved facility" were sent to certain clients. The terminology in the letters was incorrect; the documents should have stated that the product was "FDA registered" or from an "FDA registered facility".

This error had been caught and corrected during the company's own internal review process, and the product itself discontinued from sale. However, during an inspection of a pharmacy by the FDA some years later, the erroneous correspondence was found, and was construed by the FDA as a violation of the FDCA's Title 21 U.S.C §§ 331(a), 352(a), 333(a)(l) (Misbranding Drugs). To settle the matter, Mr. Antonio Dos Santos and MEDISCA Inc. pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge on October 14, 2011. The result was a $10,000 fine for MEDISCA and a $5,000 fine for Antonio Dos Santos. In addition, the company forfeited its profits from sales of the product. There was no probation or other disciplinary action imposed by the FDA.

5b. Colorado State Board of Pharmacy – March 27th, 2012

BOARD OF PHARMACY

IN RE:	)
MEDTRONIC LOGISTICS LLC	)	CONSENT AGREEMENT

PARTIES

This document is a Consent Agreement regarding the pending application of Medtronic Logistics LLC, for the renewal of its pharmaceutical wholesaler license. The parties to this Consent Agreement are: Medtronic Logistics LLC ("Medtronic"), the Maine Board of Pharmacy ("the Board"), and the Office of the Maine Attorney General ("the Attorney General"). This Consent Agreement is entered into pursuant to 10 M.R.S. § 8003(5-A).

STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. Since February 27, 2013, Medtronic has been licensed in Maine as a pharmaceutical wholesaler with a registered location of 18501 Plaza Drive, Parker, Colorado (license number WH70002083).

2. On April 3, 2018, the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy imposed discipline against Medtronic's Colorado registration (WHI 6007) pursuant to a Stipulation and Final Agency Order in Case No. 2017-3679.

3. Medtronic failed to report the Colorado discipline to the Board within 10 days as required by 10 M.R.S. § 8003-G(2)(C).

4. On December 12, 2018, the Board received Medtronic's renewal application.

5. On that application, Medtronic responded "No" to the following question: "Since your last renewal, has any jurisdiction taken disciplinary action against any professional license you hold (except this license) or have held or denied your application for licensure?"

6. The Board accordingly renewed Medtronic's pharmaceutical wholesaler license.

7. On June 19, 2019, the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy imposed discipline against Medtronic's Alabama permit (194466) pursuant to a Consent Order in Case No.19-L-0013.

8. Medtronic failed to report the Alabama discipline to the Board within 10 days as required by 10 M.R.S. § 8003-G(2)(C).

9. On July 18, 2019, Medtronic reported to the Board for the first time that the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy had disciplined its permit.

10. On February 3, 2020, Medtronic reported to the Board for the first time that the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy had disciplined its registration.

11. Pursuant to 10 M.R.S. § 8003(5-A)(A)(11) and 10 M.R.S. § 8003-G(2)(C), the Board may deny, refuse to renew, suspend, or revoke a license and impose other discipline for failing to report a license disciplinary action to the Board within 10 days of that action.

12. At its meeting on January 7, 2021, the Board reviewed the above information and voted to preliminarily deny Medtronic's application for renewal of its license to be a pharmaceutical wholesaler. In lieu of the denial, the Board also voted to offer Medtronic this Consent Agreement. Unless Medtronic either requests, in writing, a hearing regarding the appeal of the preliminary denial within thirty (30) days of receipt of the Notice of Preliminary Denial, or accepts this Consent Agreement by signing and dating it and returning it to Maine Board of Pharmacy, Compliance Division, Office of Professional and Occupational Regulation, 35 State House Station, Augusta, ME

04333-0035, by July 12, 2021, the preliminary denial of Medtronic's application for licensure as a pharmaceutical wholesaler will become final.

COVENANTS

13. Medtronic admits to the facts above and admits that such conduct constitutes grounds for denial of or refusal to renew its license and for the imposition of discipline as follows:

a. Pursuant to 10 M.R.S. § 8003(5-A)(A)(11) and 10 M.R.S. § 8003-G(2)(C) for failing to report disciplinary action taken against a license in another jurisdiction within 10 days after the action was taken; and

b. Pursuant to 10 M.R.S. § 8003(5-A)(A)(1), for making a misrepresentation to the Board on its December 12, 2018 application for renewal of licensure.

14. As discipline for the violation admitted to in paragraph 13 above, Medtronic agrees to accept the following DISCIPLINARY ACTION:

a) A REPRIMAND; and

b) A CIVIL PENALTY in the amount of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00), which penalty is comprised of $1,500.00 for misrepresentation on its application and $500.00 for failing to report discipline within 10 days, payment of which shall be made payable to the "Treasurer, State of Maine" and delivered to Maine Board of Pharmacy, Compliance Division, Office of Professional and Occupational Regulation, 35 State House Station, Augusta, Maine 04333-0035, and must be submitted with the signed Consent Agreement.

15. Upon receipt of this signed Consent Agreement with the enclosed payment of the civil penalty from Medtronic, the Board will renew Medtronic's license contingent upon it meeting all other eligibility criteria.

16. Violation of any of the terms or conditions of this Consent Agreement by Medtronic shall constitute grounds for discipline, including but not limited to modification, suspension, or revocation of licensure or the denial of licensure or re-licensure.

17. The Board and Medtronic agree that no further agency action will be initiated against its license by the Board based upon the specific violations admitted to herein, except or unless Medtronic fails to comply with the terms and conditions of this Consent Agreement. The Board may however consider the conduct described above as evidence of a pattern of misconduct if other allegations are brought against Medtronic, and this Consent Agreement will be admitted into evidence in any future adjudicatory hearing involving Medtronic. The Board may also consider the fact that discipline was imposed by this Consent Agreement in determining appropriate discipline in any further complaints against Medtronic.

18. This Consent Agreement is not appealable and is effective until modified or terminated by the parties hereto.

19. The Board and the Attorney General may communicate and cooperate regarding any matter related to this Consent Agreement.

20. This Consent Agreement is a public record within the meaning of 1 M.R.S. § 402 and will be available for inspection and copying by the public pursuant to 1 M.R.S. § 408-A.

21. Nothing in this Consent Agreement shall be construed to affect any right or interest of any person not a party hereto.

22. Medtronic acknowledges by its duly authorized representative's signature hereto that it has had an opportunity to consult with an attorney before executing this Consent Agreement, that it executes this Consent Agreement voluntarily, and that it agrees to abide by all terms and conditions set forth herein.

BOARD OF PHARMACY

IN RE:	)

PARTIES

This document is a Consent Agreement regarding the pending application of Medtronic Logistics LLC, for the renewal of its pharmaceutical wholesaler license. The parties to this Consent Agreement are: Medtronic Logistics LLC ("Medtronic"), the Maine Board of Pharmacy ("the Board"), and the Office of the Maine Attorney General ("the Attorney General"). This Consent Agreement is entered into pursuant to 10 M.R.S. § 8003(5-A).

STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. Since February 27, 2013, Medtronic has been licensed in Maine as a pharmaceutical wholesaler with a registered location of 18501 Plaza Drive, Parker, Colorado (license number WH70002083).

2. On April 3, 2018, the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy imposed discipline against Medtronic's Colorado registration (WHI 6007) pursuant to a Stipulation and Final Agency Order in Case No. 2017-3679.

3. Medtronic failed to report the Colorado discipline to the Board within 10 days as required by 10 M.R.S. § 8003-G(2)(C).

4. On December 12, 2018, the Board received Medtronic's renewal application.

5. On that application, Medtronic responded "No" to the following question: "Since your last renewal, has any jurisdiction taken disciplinary action against any professional license you hold (except this license) or have held or denied your application for licensure?"

6. The Board accordingly renewed Medtronic's pharmaceutical wholesaler license.

7. On June 19, 2019, the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy imposed discipline against Medtronic's Alabama permit (194466) pursuant to a Consent Order in Case No.19-L-0013.

8. Medtronic failed to report the Alabama discipline to the Board within 10 days as required by 10 M.R.S. § 8003-G(2)(C).

9. On July 18, 2019, Medtronic reported to the Board for the first time that the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy had disciplined its permit.

10. On February 3, 2020, Medtronic reported to the Board for the first time that the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy had disciplined its registration.

11. Pursuant to 10 M.R.S. § 8003(5-A)(A)(11) and 10 M.R.S. § 8003-G(2)(C), the Board may deny, refuse to renew, suspend, or revoke a license and impose other discipline for failing to report a license disciplinary action to the Board within 10 days of that action.

12. At its meeting on January 7, 2021, the Board reviewed the above information and voted to preliminarily deny Medtronic's application for renewal of its license to be a pharmaceutical wholesaler. In lieu of the denial, the Board also voted to offer Medtronic this Consent Agreement. Unless Medtronic either requests, in writing, a hearing regarding the appeal of the preliminary denial within thirty (30) days of receipt of the Notice of Preliminary Denial, or accepts this Consent Agreement by signing and dating it and returning it to Maine Board of Pharmacy, Compliance Division, Office of Professional and Occupational Regulation, 35 State House Station, Augusta, ME

04333-0035, by July 12, 2021, the preliminary denial of Medtronic's application for licensure as a pharmaceutical wholesaler will become final.

COVENANTS

13. Medtronic admits to the facts above and admits that such conduct constitutes grounds for denial of or refusal to renew its license and for the imposition of discipline as follows:

a. Pursuant to 10 M.R.S. § 8003(5-A)(A)(11) and 10 M.R.S. § 8003-G(2)(C) for failing to report disciplinary action taken against a license in another jurisdiction within 10 days after the action was taken; and

b. Pursuant to 10 M.R.S. § 8003(5-A)(A)(1), for making a misrepresentation to the Board on its December 12, 2018 application for renewal of licensure.

14. As discipline for the violation admitted to in paragraph 13 above, Medtronic agrees to accept the following DISCIPLINARY ACTION:

a) A REPRIMAND; and

b) A CIVIL PENALTY in the amount of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00), which penalty is comprised of $1,500.00 for misrepresentation on its application and $500.00 for failing to report discipline within 10 days, payment of which shall be made payable to the "Treasurer, State of Maine" and delivered to Maine Board of Pharmacy, Compliance Division, Office of Professional and Occupational Regulation, 35 State House Station, Augusta, Maine 04333-0035, and must be submitted with the signed Consent Agreement.

15. Upon receipt of this signed Consent Agreement with the enclosed payment of the civil penalty from Medtronic, the Board will renew Medtronic's license contingent upon it meeting all other eligibility criteria.

16. Violation of any of the terms or conditions of this Consent Agreement by Medtronic shall constitute grounds for discipline, including but not limited to modification, suspension, or revocation of licensure or the denial of licensure or re-licensure.

17. The Board and Medtronic agree that no further agency action will be initiated against its license by the Board based upon the specific violations admitted to herein, except or unless Medtronic fails to comply with the terms and conditions of this Consent Agreement. The Board may however consider the conduct described above as evidence of a pattern of misconduct if other allegations are brought against Medtronic, and this Consent Agreement will be admitted into evidence in any future adjudicatory hearing involving Medtronic. The Board may also consider the fact that discipline was imposed by this Consent Agreement in determining appropriate discipline in any further complaints against Medtronic.

18. This Consent Agreement is not appealable and is effective until modified or terminated by the parties hereto.

19. The Board and the Attorney General may communicate and cooperate regarding any matter related to this Consent Agreement.

20. This Consent Agreement is a public record within the meaning of 1 M.R.S. § 402 and will be available for inspection and copying by the public pursuant to 1 M.R.S. § 408-A.

21. Nothing in this Consent Agreement shall be construed to affect any right or interest of any person not a party hereto.

22. Medtronic acknowledges by its duly authorized representative's signature hereto that it has had an opportunity to consult with an attorney before executing this Consent Agreement, that it executes this Consent Agreement voluntarily, and that it agrees to abide by all terms and conditions set forth herein.

IN RE:	)

PARTIES

This document is a Consent Agreement regarding the pending application of Medtronic Logistics LLC. for the renewal of its pharmaceutical wholesaler license. The parties to this Consent Agreement are: Medtronic Logistics LLC ("Medtronic"), the Maine Board of Pharmacy ("the Board"), and the Office of the Maine Attorney General ("the Attorney General"). This Consent Agreement is entered into pursuant to 10 M.R.S. § 8003(5-A).

STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. Since February 27, 2013, Medtronic has been licensed in Maine as a pharmaceutical wholesaler with a registered location of 18501 Plaza Drive, Parker, Colorado (license number WH70002083).

2. On April 3, 2018, the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy imposed discipline against Medtronic's Colorado registration (WHI 6007) pursuant to a Stipulation and Final Agency Order in Case No. 2017-3679.

3. Medtronic failed to report the Colorado discipline to the Board within 10 days as required by 10 M.R.S. § 8003-G(2)(C).

4. On December 12, 2018, the Board received Medtronic's renewal application.

Nevada Parker DD pg 32

5. On that application, Medtronic responded "No" to the following question: "Since your last renewal, has any jurisdiction taken disciplinary action against any professional license you hold (except this license) or have held or denied your application for licensure?"

6. The Board accordingly renewed Medtronic's pharmaceutical wholesaler license.

7. On June 19, 2019, the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy imposed discipline against Medtronic's Alabama permit (194466) pursuant to a Consent Order in Case No.19-I.-0013.

8. Medtronic failed to report the Alabama discipline to the Board within 10 days as required by 10 M.R.S. § 8003-G(2)(C).

9. On July 18, 2019, Medtronic reported to the Board for the first time that the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy had disciplined its permit.

10. On February 3, 2020, Medtronic reported to the Board for the first time that the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy had disciplined its registration.

11. Pursuant to 10 M.R.S. § 8003(5-A)(A)(11) and 10 M.R.S. § 8003-G(2)(C), the Board may deny, refuse to renew, suspend, or revoke a license and impose other discipline for failing to report a license disciplinary action to the Board within 10 days of that action.

12. At its meeting on January 7, 2021, the Board reviewed the above information and voted to preliminarily deny Medtronic's application for renewal of its license to be a pharmaceutical wholesaler. In lieu of the denial, the Board also voted to offer Medtronic this Consent Agreement. Unless Medtronic either requests, in writing, a hearing regarding the appeal of the preliminary denial within thirty (30) days of receipt of the Notice of Preliminary Denial, or accepts this Consent Agreement by signing and dating it and returning it to Maine Board of Pharmacy, Compliance Division, Office of Professional and Occupational Regulation, 35 State House Station, Augusta, ME

04333-0035, by July 12, 2021, the preliminary denial of Medtronic's application for licensure as a pharmaceutical wholesaler will become final.

COVENANTS

13. Medtronic admits to the facts above and admits that such conduct constitutes grounds for denial of or refusal to renew its license and for the imposition of discipline as follows:

a. Pursuant to 10 M.R.S. § 8003(5-A)(A)(11) and 10 M.R.S. § 8003-G(2)(C) for failing to report disciplinary action taken against a license in another jurisdiction within 10 days after the action was taken; and

b. Pursuant to 10 M.R.S. § 8003(5-A)(A)(1), for making a misrepresentation to the Board on its December 12, 2018 application for renewal of licensure.

14. As discipline for the violation admitted to in paragraph 13 above, Medtronic agrees to accept the following DISCIPLINARY ACTION:

a) A REPRIMAND; and

b) A CIVIL PENALTY in the amount of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00), which penalty is comprised of $1,500.00 for misrepresentation on its application and $500.00 for failing to report discipline within 10 days, payment of which shall be made payable to the "Treasurer, State of Maine" and delivered to Maine Board of Pharmacy, Compliance Division, Office of Professional and Occupational Regulation, 35 State House Station, Augusta, Maine 04333-0035, and must be submitted with the signed Consent Agreement.

15. Upon receipt of this signed Consent Agreement with the enclosed payment of the civil penalty from Medtronic, the Board will renew Medtronic's license contingent upon it meeting all other eligibility criteria.

16. Violation of any of the terms or conditions of this Consent Agreement by Medtronic shall constitute grounds for discipline, including but not limited to modification, suspension, or revocation of licensure or the denial of licensure or re-licensure.

17. The Board and Medtronic agree that no further agency action will be initiated against its license by the Board based upon the specific violations admitted to herein, except or unless Medtronic fails to comply with the terms and conditions of this Consent Agreement. The Board may however consider the conduct described above as evidence of a pattern of misconduct if other allegations are brought against Medtronic, and this Consent Agreement will be admitted into evidence in any future adjudicatory hearing involving Medtronic. The Board may also consider the fact that discipline was imposed by this Consent Agreement in determining appropriate discipline in any further complaints against Medtronic.

18. This Consent Agreement is not appealable and is effective until modified or terminated by the parties hereto.

19. The Board and the Attorney General may communicate and cooperate regarding any matter related to this Consent Agreement.

20. This Consent Agreement is a public record within the meaning of 1 M.R.S. § 402 and will be available for inspection and copying by the public pursuant to 1 M.R.S. § 408-A.

21. Nothing in this Consent Agreement shall be construed to affect any right or interest of any person not a party hereto.

22. Medtronic acknowledges by its duly authorized representative's signature hereto that it has had an opportunity to consult with an attorney before executing this Consent Agreement, that it executes this Consent Agreement voluntarily, and that it agrees to abide by all terms and conditions set forth herein.

IN THE MATTER OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS REGARDING THE LICENSE TO PRACTICE AS A OUT-OF-STATE WHOLESALER IN THE STATE OF COLORADO OF PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATES, INC.,

Wholesaler Applicant.

IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED AND AGREED by and between the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy ("Board") and Pharmaceutical Associates, Inc. ("Wholesaler Applicant") to resolve all matters pertaining to Board Case Number 2 009-2546 as follows:

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

1. The Board has jurisdiction over Wholesaler Applicant, its application for registration as an out-of-state wholesaler and the subject matter of this Stipulation and Final Agency Order ("Final Agency Order") pursuant to the provisions of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act at Title 12, Article 22, C.R.S.

2. Wholesaler Applicant admits these findings and hereby waives any further proof in this proceeding before the Board regarding the following facts.

3. On December 1, 2008, Wholesaler Applicant distributed prescription drugs to into Colorado without having first registered as an out-of-state wholesaler in the State of Colorado.

4. Wholesaler Applicant's conduct, as set forth above, constitutes violations of the following sections of the Colorado Revised Statutes:

Colorado Revised Statutes

12-22-125. Unprofessional conduct - grounds for discipline.

(1) The board may suspend, revoke, refuse to renew, or otherwise discipline any license or registration issued by it, after a hearing held in accordance with the provisions of this section, upon proof that the licensee or registrant:

(c) Has violated:

(I) Any of the provisions of this part 1, including but not limited to any acts in section 12-22-126;

(II) The lawful rules of the board; or

(III) Any state or federal law pertaining to drugs.

12-22-125.2. Disciplinary actions. (1) The board may deny or discipline an applicant, licensee, or registrant when the board determines that such applicant, licensee, or registrant has engaged in activities that are grounds for discipline.

12-22-802. Wholesaler license requirements. (1) A wholesaler that resides in this state shall be licensed by the board. A wholesaler that does not reside in this state shall be licensed in this state prior to engaging in the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs in this state. * * *

5. On August 11, 2008, Wholesaler Applicant submitted an out-of-state wholesaler application, which application was denied by the Board.

6. The Board finds and concludes, and Wholesaler Applicant agrees, that based upon Wholesaler Applicant's above-described violations of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act and relevant rules and regulations, the following discipline is just and appropriate under the circumstances as a condition of its registration as an out-of-state wholesaler.

DISPOSITION

$5,000.00 Fine and Terms

7. Conditional Registration. Wholesaler Applicant shall be granted a registration as an out-of-state wholesaler upon execution of this Final Agency Order and satisfaction of the terms and conditions set forth herein.

    b. To respond to said formal notice of charges;
    c. To have a formal disciplinary hearing pursuant to §12-22-125, C.R.S.; and
    d. To appeal this Board order.

    Wholesaler Applicant freely waives these rights, and acknowledges that such waiver is made voluntarily in consideration for Board's limiting the action taken against it to the sanctions imposed herein.

11. Acknowledgments. The undersigned authorized agent of Wholesaler Applicant has read this Final Agency Order in its entirety and acknowledges, whether or not Wholesaler Applicant has consulted with legal counsel, that Wholesaler Applicant understands the legal consequences and agrees that none of the terms or conditions herein are unconscionable.

12. Violations. Time is of the essence to this Final Agency Order. It is the responsibility of Wholesaler Applicant to take all appropriate steps to comply fully with this Final Agency Order. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges and agrees that any violation of this Final Agency Order may be sanctioned as provided under §12-22-125.2(4), C.R.S., and may be sufficient grounds for additional discipline, including but not limited to revocation of its registration. The pendency of any suspension or disciplinary action arising out of an alleged violation of this Final Agency Order shall not affect the obligation of Wholesaler Applicant to comply with all terms and conditions of this Final Agency Order.

13. Integration and Severability. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall represent the entire and final agreement of and between the parties. In the event any provision of this Final Agency Order is deemed invalid or unenforceable by a court of law, it shall be severed and the remaining provisions of this Final Agency Order shall be given full force and effect.

14. Public Record. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall be a public record, maintained in the custody of the Board.

15. Effective Date. This Final Agency Order shall become effective upon signature of a Board member or representative.

I understand that in addition to the fine, the Court will add assessments, which will significantly increase the amount I must pay. I will also be ordered to make restitution and to pay a restitution fine of $100 to $1,000 unless the Court finds compelling and extraordinary reasons not to do so. ..... 18. [redacted] Ac

19. If applicable – I understand that if I was under the age of 21 at the time of my arrest, my driver's license will also be suspended for 1 year, and I must surrender my license to the Court. If I do not have a valid driver's license, the Court will order the DMV to delay issuing a license to me for 1 year after I become eligible to drive. ..... 19. [redacted] Ac

20. I understand that being under the influence of alcohol or drugs, or both, impairs my ability to safely operate a motor vehicle. Therefore, it is extremely dangerous to human life to drive while under the influence of alcohol or drugs, or both. If I continue to drive while under the influence of alcohol or drugs, or both, and as a result of my driving, someone is killed, I can be charged with murder. ..... 20. [redacted] Ac

21. I understand that the Court may order my vehicle impounded at my expense for up to 30 days. It may also require me to install an ignition interlock device (IID) for up to three years. Installation of this device, which prevents the vehicle from starting if I have alcohol in my body, does not authorize me to drive without a valid license. ..... 21. [redacted] Ac

INITIALS

22. I understand that if the Court determines that I would present a traffic safety or public safety risk if I am authorized to drive during the license suspension period, I will be unable to obtain a restricted driver's license from the DMV, which would allow me to drive to and from work, and to and from the alcohol/drug treatment program. ..... 22 AC

23. I understand that the DMV may suspend my driver's license under a civil procedure, which is separate from this criminal action. I understand that the DMV's action, if any, will be in addition to the Court's sentence and that I must obey it. ..... 23 AC

24. I understand that the DMV will prohibit me from operating a commercial vehicle for one year if I am convicted of a first DUI violation, or willfully refused to submit to or complete a chemical test to determine my blood-alcohol level, which occurred in any vehicle. ..... 24 AC

25. I understand that the DMV will revoke my driver's license for a period of 4 years if I have a prior felony conviction in the past 10 years of Vehicle Code § 23152 or 23153, or Penal Code § 191.5, 192(c)(1) or 192(c)(3). ..... 25 AC

26. I understand that proof of my successful completion of an alcohol/drug program must be received at DMV headquarters in order for me to have my driving privilege reinstated, even if I am not ordered to attend such a program by the court. I also understand that I must surrender my license to the court. ..... 26 AC

27. I understand that the DMV will not restore my driving privilege following a driver's license suspension unless I provide the DMV with proof of insurance for 3 years. ..... 27 AC

28. I understand that the DMV may consider any of my other convictions for DUI or reckless driving, even those that are not charged in the proceeding, and may impose a more severe driver's license suspension, or revocation as a result. ..... 28 AC

29. I understand that if I am not a citizen, a plea of guilty or no contest could result in my deportation, exclusion from admission to this country, or denial of naturalization. ..... 29 AC

30. I understand that a plea of no contest (nolo contendere) will have exactly the same effect in this case as a plea of guilty, but it cannot be used against me in a civil lawsuit. ..... 30 AC

31. I understand that any pleas entered in this case may be grounds for revoking probation or parole, which has previously been granted to me in any other case. ..... 31 AC

BEFORE THE STATE BOARD OF PHARMACY

STATE OF COLORADO

Case No. 2019-3775

STIPULATION AND FINAL AGENCY ORDER

IN THE MATTER OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS REGARDING THE NON-RESIDENT WHOLESALER REGISTRATION IN THE STATE OF COLORADO OF J. KNIPPER AND COMPANY, INC., REGISTRATION NO. WHO-7269, Respondent Outlet.

IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED AND AGREED by and between the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy ("Board") and J. Knipper and Company, Inc., ("Respondent Outlet") to resolve all matters pertaining to Board Case Number 2019-3775, as follows:

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

1. The Board has jurisdiction over Respondent Outlet, its registration as a non-resident wholesaler, and the subject matter of this Stipulation and Final Agency Order ("Final Agency Order") pursuant to the Pharmacists, Pharmacy Businesses, and Pharmaceuticals Act at Title 12, Article 42.5, C.R.S. (2018).

2. Respondent Outlet was originally registered in the State of Colorado on or about June 20, 2007, being issued registration #WHO-7269, and has been so registered at all times relevant to this disciplinary action.

3. Respondent Outlet's address of record with the Board and current location is 1550 Oak St, Lakewood, NJ 08701.

4. Respondent Outlet admits these findings and hereby waives any further proof in this proceeding before the Board regarding the following facts.

5. Respondent Outlet failed to timely submit an application to the Board detailing a change in designated representative and fee. In this case, 189 days transpired between November 13, 2018, the date the previous designated representative ceased the position, and May 21, 2019, the date the application and fee were received.

6. On or about June 3, 2019, the Board initiated a complaint against Respondent Outlet because of the delay of 189 days in submitting an application detailing a change in designated representative and fee.

7. Respondent Outlet's conduct, as set forth above, constitutes violations of the following sections of the Colorado Revised Statutes and Board Regulations:

Colorado Revised Statutes

12-42.5-123. Unprofessional conduct - grounds for discipline. (1) The board may suspend, revoke, refuse to renew, or otherwise discipline any license or registration issued by it, after a hearing held in accordance with the provisions of this section, upon proof that the licensee or registrant:

(c) Has violated:

(II) The lawful rules of the board.

Pharmacy Board Rules and Regulations

15.01.14 Change of name, location, or ownership, or designated representative.

c. Any change in the designated representative of a wholesaler shall be reported to the board on a form supplied by the board within 14 calendar days of such change. The incoming designated representative must undergo the required background check.

8. The Board finds and concludes, and Respondent Outlet agrees, that based upon Respondent Outlet's above-described violations of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act and relevant rules and regulations, the following discipline is just and appropriate under the circumstances.

TERMS OF DISCIPLINE

9. Fine with Surcharge. Pursuant to section 12-42.5-124(5)(a)(I), C.R.S., Respondent Outlet shall pay a fine of One Thousand Dollars and No Cents ($1,000.00). Respondent Outlet understands and acknowledges that, pursuant to section 24-34-108, C.R.S., the Executive Director of the Department of Regulatory Agencies may impose an additional surcharge of 15% of this fine. Respondent Outlet shall therefore pay a total amount of One Thousand One Hundred Fifty Dollars and No Cents ($1,150.00). The total amount shall be payable to the State of Colorado and shall be remitted in one lump sum to be included when Respondent Outlet submits this signed Final Agency Order to the Board.

10. Compliance. Respondent Outlet shall submit all future applications and appropriate fees to the Board detailing changes in its designated representative within the required time frame specified by Board rule or statute in effect at the time of such designated representative change.

11. Other Requirements. Respondent Outlet acknowledges and agrees that, as a condition of this Final Agency Order, Respondent Outlet shall:

    a. promptly pay all Respondent Outlet's own fees and costs associated with this Final Agency Order;

    b. comply fully with this Final Agency Order; and

    c. comply fully with the Pharmacists, Pharmacy Businesses and Pharmaceuticals Act, all Board rules and regulations, and any other state and federal laws and regulations related to pharmacists and pharmaceuticals in the State of Colorado.

12. Advisements and Waivers. Through its undersigned Authorized Representative, Respondent Outlet enters into this Final Agency Order freely and voluntarily, after having the opportunity to consult with legal counsel and/or choosing not to do so. Respondent Outlet acknowledges its understanding that it has the following rights:

    a. to have formal notice of hearing and charges served upon it;

    b. to respond to said formal notice of charges;

    c. to have a formal disciplinary hearing pursuant to sections 12-42.5-123 and 12-42.5-124, C.R.S.; and

    d. to appeal this Final Agency Order.

    Respondent Outlet freely waives these rights, and acknowledges that such waiver is made voluntarily in consideration for the Board's limiting the action taken against Respondent Outlet to the sanctions imposed herein.

13. Acknowledgments. The undersigned Authorized Representative of Respondent Outlet has read this Final Agency Order in its entirety and acknowledges, after having the opportunity to consult with legal counsel and/or choosing not to do so, that Respondent Outlet understands the legal consequences and agrees that none of the terms or conditions herein is unconscionable. Respondent Outlet is not relying on any statements, promises or representations from the Board other than as may be contained in this Final Agency Order. Respondent Outlet further acknowledges that it is not entering into this Final Agency Order under any duress.

14. Violations. Time is of the essence in this Final Agency Order. It is the responsibility of Respondent Outlet to take all appropriate steps to comply fully with this Final Agency Order. Respondent Outlet acknowledges and agrees that any violation of this Final Agency Order shall constitute a willful violation of a lawful Board order, may be sanctioned as provided under sections 12-42.5-124(4), C.R.S., and may be sufficient grounds for additional discipline, including but not limited to revocation of Respondent Outlet's registration. The pendency of any suspension or disciplinary action arising out of an alleged violation of this Final Agency Order shall not affect the obligation of Respondent Outlet to comply with all terms and conditions of this Final Agency Order.

15. Integration and Severability. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall represent the entire and final agreement of and between the parties. In the event any provision of this Final Agency Order is deemed invalid or unenforceable by a court of law, it shall be severed and the remaining provisions of this Final Agency Order shall be given full force and effect.

16. Public Record. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall be a public record, maintained in the custody of the Board.

17. Effective Date. This Final Agency Order shall become effective upon signature by a Board representative.
