Values

Integrity	Accountability	People	Performance
We do what's right.	We do what we say.	We grow talent.	We deliver.

Stryker was incorporated in Michigan in 1946 as the successor company to a business founded in 1941 by Dr. Homer H. Stryker, a prominent orthopaedic surgeon and inventor of several medical products. Our products are sold in approximately 75 countries through company-owned subsidiaries and branches as well as third-party dealers and distributors, and include surgical equipment and surgical navigation systems; endoscopic and communications systems; patient handling, emergency medical equipment and intensive care disposable products; clinical communication and artificial intelligence-assisted virtual care platform technology; neurosurgical and neurovascular devices; implants used in joint replacement and trauma surgeries; Mako Robotic-Arm Assisted technology; spinal devices; as well as other products used in a variety of medical specialties. Most of our products are marketed directly to doctors, hospitals and other healthcare facilities.

As used herein, and except where the context otherwise requires, "Stryker," "we," "us," and "our" refer to Stryker Corporation and its consolidated subsidiaries.

Business Segments and Geographic Information

We segregate our operations into two reportable business segments: (i) MedSurg and Neurotechnology and (ii) Orthopaedics. Financial information regarding our reportable business segments and certain geographic information is included under "Consolidated Results of Operations" in Item 7 of this report and Note 14 to our Consolidated Financial Statements.

In the fourth quarter 2024 we reorganized our Spine business to align with certain updates to our internal reporting structure. The spine enabling technologies portfolio (Enabling Technologies) was reclassified to Other Orthopaedics and Spine, the Interventional Spine (IVS) portfolio was reclassified to Neuro Cranial and the remaining Spine business was renamed to Spinal Implants. In addition, we changed the name of our "Orthopaedics and Spine" operating segment to "Orthopaedics."

In 2024 Instruments launched SurgiCount+ powered by Triton, which combines our existing sponge counting technology with artificial intelligence and quantifying blood loss software. We also launched CoPilot, which combines with our Spine Q guidance system to help surgeons plan and perform certain spinal procedures, including supporting bone resection, pedicle preparation and screw delivery.

In addition we completed the acquisition of Vertos Medical, Inc., a leader in interventional pain management solutions for chronic lower back pain caused by lumbar spinal stenosis. The acquisition of Vertos is complementary to our Interventional Spine business as we continue to focus on advanced pain procedures.

Endoscopy continued to deliver its 4K 1788 Camera platform to the market. Our 1788 Camera platform features several enhancements for a broader range of clinical applications and specialties, including urology, neurology and ear, nose and throat and can be used to visualize indocyanine green and Cytalux.

Medical launched the LIFEPAK 35 monitor/defibrillator, our next generation platform designed to optimize care with new clinical features such as the new Glasgow 30.4 algorithm, cprINSIGHT, 15-lead monitoring capabilities, and STJ insight and mapping. LIFEPAK 35 combines a modern intuitive touch screen display and increased processing power with Bluetooth and WiFi data connectivity.

Medical also completed the acquisition of care.ai, a virtual care and ambient intelligence solutions platform. care.ai adds complementary technology that is expected to integrate seamlessly with the Vocera platform (Vocera) and Stryker's devices, providing customers with an enterprise-wide ecosystem that is intended to deliver dynamic clinical workflows and further the development of smart care facilities.

Neurovascular initiated a targeted launch of the Surpass Elite Flow Diverting Stent (FDS) in the U.S. and South Korea. Surpass Elite FDS is designed to reduce thrombin generation when compared to unmodified stents. Additionally, Neurovascular launched Surpass Evolve FDS in Japan. The Stryker FDS platform is designed to effectively treat aneurysms by redirecting blood flow away from the aneurysm to promote healing.

Orthopaedics

Orthopaedics products primarily include implants used in total joint replacements, such as hip, knee and shoulder, and trauma and extremities surgeries. We bring patients and physicians advanced implant designs and specialized instrumentation that make orthopaedic surgery and recovery simpler, faster and more effective. We support surgeons with the technologies, products and services they need to support each patient's clinical challenge.

We are one of four leading global competitors for joint replacement and trauma and extremities products and robotics; the other three being Zimmer, Johnson & Johnson MedTech and Smith & Nephew.

In 2024 we continued the full commercial launch of our Triathlon Hinge revision knee system. Triathlon Hinge received approval in August of 2023 and is now released in the U.S., Canada and New Zealand. We also continued delivering growth in total hip arthroplasty, particularly in the primary segment where Direct Anterior Reconstructive Technology and Mako Total Hip can help to reduce, if not eliminate, a surgeon's use of intraoperative fluoroscopy during direct anterior hip procedures. With the acquisition of SERF SAS, we strengthened distribution in key European markets and continue to scale differentiated solutions such as the Novae monolithic dual mobility cup engineered to deliver greater hip stability and reduce dislocation risk.

We continued to expand our global footprint of Mako SmartRobotics™ in 2024 which is now sold in more than 45 countries. To date more than one million robotic Mako Total Knees and 1.5 million robotic procedures across Total Hips, Total Knees and Partial Knees have been performed globally. Stryker's Joint Replacement division also launched the "Scan. Plan. Mako Can." direct to patient campaign, accelerating awareness of Mako technology in the U.S.

Our spine enabling technologies portfolio includes best in class imaging solutions, image-guided surgical technology, patient specific implants and digital health solutions supporting surgeons and their patients throughout the continuum of care.

In December 2024 we performed our first Mako Shoulder procedure using robotic-arm assistance to remove bone, prepare the glenoid surface and enable positioning and placement of the Perform Reversed Glenoid implant.

In 2024 Trauma launched Pangea, a comprehensive variable angle plating portfolio designed to optimize plate fit to bone utilizing simple, intuitive instrumentation that enhances ease of use and reproducibility. These combined solutions empower Stryker to deliver a complete portfolio across all trauma segments.

Raw Materials and Inventory

Raw materials essential to our business are generally readily available from multiple sources; however, certain of our raw materials are currently sourced from single suppliers. Substantially all products we manufacture are stocked in inventory, while certain MedSurg products are assembled to order.

Patents and Trademarks

Patents and trademarks are significant to our business to the extent that a product or an attribute of a product represents a unique design or process. Patent protection of such products restricts competitors from duplicating these unique designs and features. We seek to obtain patent protection on our products whenever appropriate for protecting our competitive advantage. On December 31, 2024 we owned approximately 5,600 United States patents and approximately 8,600 patents in other countries.

Seasonality

Our business is generally not seasonal in nature; however, the number of orthopaedic implant surgeries is typically lower in the summer months, and sales of capital equipment are generally higher in the fourth quarter.

Competition

In each of our product lines we compete with local and global companies. The development of innovative products is important to our success in all areas of our business. Competition in research involving the development and improvement of new and existing products and processes is particularly significant. The competitive environment requires substantial investments in continuing research and maintaining sales forces.

We believe our commitment to innovation, quality and service and our reputation differentiates us in the highly competitive product categories in which we operate and enables us to compete effectively. We believe that our competitive position in the future will depend to a large degree on our ability to develop new products and make improvements to existing products.

Regulation

Our businesses are subject to varying degrees of governmental regulation in the countries in which we operate, and the general trend is toward increasingly stringent regulation. We are required to comply with the unique regulatory requirements of each country in which we market and sell our products.

In the United States the Medical Device Amendments of 1976 to the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act and its subsequent amendments and the regulations issued and proposed thereunder provide for federal regulation by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) of the design, manufacture and marketing of medical devices, including most of our products. In addition, state licensing requirements often apply to certain of our business operations and products. On the federal level, many of our new products fall into FDA classifications that require notification submitted as a 510(k) and review by the FDA before we begin marketing them. Certain of our products require extensive clinical testing, consisting of safety and efficacy studies, followed by pre-market approval applications for specific surgical indications. Certain of our products also fall under other FDA classifications, such as drugs and Human Cells, Tissues, and Cellular and Tissue-Based Products.

The FDA's Quality System regulations set forth standards for our product design and manufacturing processes, require the maintenance of certain records and provide for inspections of our facilities by the FDA. There are also certain requirements of state, local and foreign governments that must be complied with in the manufacture and marketing of our products.

The European Union enacted the European Union Medical Device Regulation in May 2017 with an original effective date of May 2022, which imposes stricter requirements for the marketing and sale of medical devices, including in the areas of clinical evaluation requirements, quality systems, labeling and post-market surveillance. Extended transition timelines were published in 2023 which range from May 2026 through December 2028 depending on the type of device and our implementation is on track to meet these timelines.

Initiatives to limit the growth of general healthcare expenses and hospital costs are ongoing in the markets we do business. These initiatives are sponsored by government agencies, legislative bodies and the private sector and include price regulation and competitive pricing. It is not possible to predict at this time the long-term impact of such cost containment measures on our future business. In addition, business practices in the healthcare industry are scrutinized, particularly in the United States, by federal and state government agencies. Any resulting investigations and prosecutions potentially carry the risk of significant civil and criminal penalties.

Environment

We are subject to various rules and regulation in the United States and internationally related to the protection of human health and the environment. Our operations involve the use of substances regulated under environmental laws, primarily in manufacturing and sterilization processes. We believe our policies, practices and procedures are properly designed to comply, in all material respects, with applicable environmental laws and regulations. We do not expect compliance with these requirements to have a material effect on purchases of property, plant and equipment, cash flows, net earnings or competitive position.

Employees

On December 31, 2024 we had approximately 53,000 employees globally, with approximately 27,000 employees in the United States. Our talented employees are an integral reason for our standing as a global leader in medical technologies where, together with our customers, we are driven to make healthcare better. Our company values of integrity, accountability, people and performance are a key component of that mission. Our people, as one of our core values, continue to be a key focus.

Our success depends on our ability to attract the best talent. To do so, we continue to focus on creating and maintaining a great workplace. We believe in attracting the right people, maintaining and building employee engagement and developing our employees. We believe when people are able to do what they do best, they will look forward to coming to work and, in turn, will deliver great business results.

Our leadership team and Board of Directors receive regular updates on our people and culture strategy and provide feedback on our strategy and goals, including alignment to our mission and values, peer benchmarking and stakeholder feedback.

Employee Development

Our employee development is extensive and exists at all levels of the organization, including company-wide training on our Code of Conduct, job-related technical training and management and leadership training. Our development programs include on-the-job learning, coaching and mentoring, management and leadership development courses, team building and collaboration training and immersive experiences with expert partners.

We encourage all employees to establish development objectives, in partnership with their manager, to help employees gain the needed development experience to grow their careers.

Employee Engagement

An engaged workplace culture that drives performance and business outcomes is central to our mission. Listening to and learning from our employees forms the foundation of an engaging culture. More than 90% of our employees participate in our annual engagement survey, which provides a valued platform for listening and allows us to take action based on the feedback collected.

We supplement our annual engagement survey with targeted pulse surveys to gather feedback on topics relevant to the current climate.

We also provide tools and resources that enable managers and teams to act on the insights we gain from our surveys and to drive employee engagement and strong business outcomes.

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DE&I)

An essential part of our culture is respecting each individual's strengths and values. Building on this foundation, we are focused on maintaining an inclusive, engaging work environment in keeping with our values of integrity and people. Our DE&I strategy is centered around these three commitments:

- Strengthen the diversity of our workforce
- Advance a culture of inclusion, engagement and belonging
- Maximize the power of inclusion to drive innovation and growth

We are advancing our commitments through the following actions, among others:

- Increasing access to talent through strategic partnerships and campaigns
- Growing and engaging talent with a range of opportunities to learn and develop
- Aligning our employee resource groups, which are open to all employees, to focus on creating community and belonging

Attracting and Hiring

We understand that every employee drives our success. We focus on attracting, identifying and selecting strong candidates who will be successful at Stryker and ensuring that each person we hire brings the talent, expertise and passion we need to continue to be successful.

Health and Safety

Ensuring our employees' safety is a top priority. It is a responsibility that we share throughout the company and one that has evolved to meet the needs of our workforce. Employees' safety risks vary depending on the roles they perform, so we tailor our safety efforts accordingly.

Competitive Pay and Benefits

Our compensation and benefits programs are designed to attract and retain top talent and to incentivize performance and alignment to our mission and values.

We offer market-competitive base pay and benefits to our employees in countries around the world. We regularly evaluate our compensation and benefit offerings and levels, using recognized outside consulting firms to ensure internal fairness and competitiveness in our offerings.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS.

This report contains statements that are not historical facts and are considered "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements are based on current projections about operations, industry conditions, financial condition and liquidity. Words that identify forward-looking statements include, without limitation, words such as "may," "could," "will," "should," "possible," "plan," "predict," "forecast," "potential," "anticipate," "estimate," "expect," "project," "intend," "believe," "may impact," "on track," "goal," "strategy" and words and terms of similar substance used in connection with any discussion of future operating or financial performance, an acquisition or our businesses. In addition, any statements that refer to expectations, projections or other characterizations of future events or circumstances, including any underlying assumptions, are forward-looking statements. Those statements are not guarantees and are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict. Therefore, actual results could differ materially and adversely from these forward-looking statements, historical experience or our present expectations. Some important factors that could cause our actual results to differ from our expectations in any forward-looking statements include:

- weakening of economic conditions, or the anticipation thereof, that could adversely affect the level of demand for our or Inari Medical, Inc.'s ("Inari") products;
- geopolitical risks, including from international conflicts, which could, among other things, lead to increased market volatility;

- pricing pressures generally, including cost-containment measures that have adversely affected and could in the future adversely affect the price of or demand for our or Inari's products;
- changes in foreign currency exchange markets;
- legislative and regulatory actions;
- unanticipated issues arising in connection with clinical studies and otherwise that affect approval of new products, including Inari products, by the FDA and foreign regulatory agencies;
- inflationary pressures;
- increased interest rates or interest rate volatility;
- supply chain disruptions;
- changes in labor markets;
- changes in coverage and reimbursement levels from third-party payors;
- changes in the competitive environment;
- breaches, failures or other disruptions of our or our vendors' or customers' information technology systems or products, including by cyber-attack, data leakage, unauthorized access or theft;
- a significant increase in product liability claims;
- the ultimate total cost with respect to recall-related and other regulatory and quality matters;
- the impact of investigative and legal proceedings and compliance risks;
- resolution of tax audits;
- changes in tax laws and regulations;
- the impact of legislation to reform the healthcare system in the United States or other countries;
- costs to comply with medical device regulations;
- changes in financial markets;
- changes in our credit ratings;
- our ability to integrate and realize the anticipated benefits of acquisitions in full or at all or within the expected timeframes, including our acquisition of Inari;
- our ability to realize any anticipated cost savings;
- potential negative impacts resulting from climate change or other environmental, social and governance and sustainability related matters;
- the impact on our operations and financial results of any public health emergency and any related policies and actions by governments or other third parties;
- uncertainties as to the timing of the tender offer for shares of Inari common stock and the subsequent merger with Inari;
- uncertainties as to how many of Inari's stockholders will tender their shares in the tender offer;
- the failure to satisfy any of the closing conditions to the acquisition of Inari, including the expiration or termination of the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act waiting period (and the risk that such governmental approval may result in the imposition of conditions that could adversely affect the expected benefits of the transaction);
- delays in consummating the acquisition of Inari or the risk that the transaction may not close at all;
- unexpected liabilities, costs, charges or expenses in connection with the acquisition of Inari;
- the effects of the proposed Inari transaction (or the announcement thereof) on the parties' relationships with employees, customers, other business partners or governmental entities; and
- other risks detailed in our filings with the SEC.

While we believe that the assumptions underlying such forward-looking statements are reasonable, there can be no assurance that future events or developments will not cause such statements to be inaccurate. All forward-looking statements contained in this report are qualified in their entirety by this cautionary statement. We expressly disclaim any intention or obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statement to reflect any change in our expectations or in events, conditions or circumstances on which those expectations may be based, or that affect the likelihood that actual results will differ from those contained in the forward-looking statements.

Our operations and financial results are subject to various risks and uncertainties discussed below that could materially and adversely affect our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to us or that we currently deem not to be material or that could apply to any company may also materially and adversely affect our business, cash flows, financial condition or results of operations. If any of the risks discussed below or other risks actually occur or continue to occur, our business, financial condition, operating results or cash flows could be materially adversely affected. Accordingly, you should carefully consider the following risk factors, as well as other information contained in or incorporated by reference in this report.

BUSINESS AND OPERATIONAL RISKS

We use a variety of raw materials, components, devices and third-party services in our global supply chains, production and distribution processes; significant shortages, price increases or unavailability of third-party services have in the past increased, and could in the future increase, our operating costs and could require significant capital expenditures or adversely impact the competitive position of our products: Our reliance on certain suppliers to secure raw materials, components and finished devices, and on certain third-party service providers, such as sterilization service providers, exposes us to the risk of product shortages and unanticipated increases in prices, whether due to inflationary pressure, regulatory changes, litigation exposure, geopolitical tensions or otherwise. For example, in the past we experienced limited product availability due to an electronic components shortage in certain product lines. If a similar shortage occurs in the future with respect to any raw materials or components, we may not be able to obtain them from our suppliers on a timely basis, or at all, or identify alternative suppliers. In addition, several raw materials, components, finished devices and services are procured from a sole source due to, among other things, the quality considerations, unique intellectual property considerations or constraints associated with regulatory requirements. If sole-source suppliers or service providers are unable or unwilling to deliver these materials or services as a result of financial difficulties, business disruptions, acquisition by a third party, natural disasters or otherwise, we may not be able to manufacture or have available one or more products during such period of unavailability and our business could suffer, possibly materially. In certain cases, we may not be able to establish additional or replacement suppliers for such materials or service providers for such services in a timely or cost-effective manner, often as a result of FDA and other regulations that require, among other things, validation of materials, components and services prior to their use in or with our products. In certain instances we have been unable to meet demand due to supply chain challenges, which has led to loss of sales. Although the impacts have not been material to date, an inability to meet demand due to supply chain challenges in the future could materially adversely impact our reputation, the competitive position of our products and our business. Any of the foregoing risks could have a material adverse impact on our profitability and results of operations.

In addition, in recent years, the market has experienced inflationary pressures in part due to global supply chain disruptions, labor shortages and other impacts following the COVID-19 pandemic. Inflation in the United States and in many of the countries where we conduct business has resulted in, and may in the future result in, high interest rates and increased capital, energy, shipping and labor costs, weakening or strengthening exchange rates against the United States Dollar and other similar effects. We have experienced, and may in the future experience, inflationary increases in manufacturing costs and operating expenses, as well as negative impacts from weakening or strengthening exchange rates against the United States Dollar. Although we have been able to pass certain cost increases on to our customers, we have not been able to pass along all cost increases and we cannot guarantee that we will be able to do so in the future. Inflation, high interest rates or interest rate volatility may also cause our customers to reduce or delay orders for our products and services. Any of the foregoing could have a material adverse impact on our sales, profitability and results of operations.

We are subject to pricing pressures as a result of cost containment measures in the United States and other countries and other factors, including changes in reimbursement practices and coverage policies and third-party payor cost containment measures: Initiatives to limit the growth of general healthcare expenses and hospital costs are ongoing in the markets in which we do business. These initiatives are sponsored by government agencies, legislative bodies and the private sector and include price regulation and competitive pricing. For example, China has implemented a volume-based procurement process designed to decrease prices for medical devices and other products. Pricing pressure has also increased due to continued consolidation among healthcare providers, trends toward managed care, the shift toward governments becoming the primary payers of healthcare expenses, reduction in coverage or reimbursement levels and medical procedure volumes and government laws and regulations relating to sales and promotion, reimbursement and pricing generally. Coverage policies and reimbursement levels can vary across the payer community globally, regionally, and locally, and may affect which products customers purchase, the market acceptance rate for new technologies and the prices customers are willing to pay for those products in a particular jurisdiction. Furthermore, any changes to the coverage or reimbursement landscape, or adverse decisions relating to our products by administrators of these systems could significantly reduce reimbursement for procedures using our products or result in denial of reimbursement for those products, which could adversely affect customer demand, or the price customers are willing to pay for such products. Public and private payers have challenged, and are expected to continue to challenge, prices charged for medical products and services. Such downward pricing pressures from any or all of these payers may result in an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. We have also reduced prices for certain products due to increased competition and if we further reduce prices, we could become less profitable. In addition, due to healthcare industry consolidation in recent years, competition to provide goods and services to industry participants has become, and may continue to become, more intense, and this consolidation has produced, and may continue to produce, larger enterprises with more bargaining power. Pricing pressures related to any of the foregoing or other factors have impacted and could in the future impact our results of operations and profitability.

We operate in a highly competitive industry in which competition and the regulatory burden in the development and improvement of new and existing products is significant: The markets in which we compete are highly competitive, and a significant element of our strategy is to increase revenue growth by focusing on innovation, new product development and improvement of existing products. New business models, products and surgical procedures, as well as improvements to existing products, are introduced on an ongoing basis and our present or future products could be rendered obsolete or uneconomical by internal or external technological advances, including by our existing competitors and new market entrants, which could adversely impact demand for certain of our existing products. The success of our products and services depends on, among other things, our ability to properly identify customer needs and predict future needs; innovate and develop new technologies, services and applications at an accelerated pace; and appropriately allocate our research and development spending to products and services with higher growth. Our existing competitors and new market entrants may respond more quickly to or integrate new or emerging technologies such as robotics, artificial intelligence and machine learning in their product offerings, undertake more extensive marketing campaigns, have greater access to clinical information to support ongoing product position in the market, have greater financial, marketing and other resources or be more successful in attracting potential customers, employees and strategic partners. There can be no assurance that any products now in development, or that we may seek to develop in the future, will achieve technological feasibility, obtain regulatory approval or gain market acceptance. If we are unable to develop and launch new products, our ability to maintain or expand our market position in the markets in which we participate may be negatively impacted.

We may be unable to maintain adequate working relationships with healthcare professionals: We work with healthcare professionals in a transparent and responsible manner and seek to maintain these relationships with respected physicians and medical personnel in healthcare organizations, such as hospitals and universities, who assist in product research and development. We rely on these professionals to assist us in the development and improvement of proprietary products. If we are unable to maintain these relationships due to regulatory restrictions, hospital access restrictions for non-patients or for other reasons, our ability to develop, market and sell new and improved products could be adversely affected.

We rely on indirect distribution channels and major distributors that are independent of Stryker: In many markets we rely on indirect distribution channels to market, distribute and sell our products. These indirect channels often are the main point of contact for the healthcare professionals and healthcare organization customers who buy and use our products. Our ability to continue to market, distribute and sell our products may be at risk if the indirect channels become insolvent, choose to sell competitive products, choose to stop selling medical technology, fail to adhere to Stryker requirements or are subject to new or additional government regulation.

We are subject to risks associated with our extensive global operations: We develop, manufacture and distribute our products globally. Our global operations are subject to risks and costs related to, among other things, changes in coverage or reimbursement levels from third-party payors in the United States and other countries; changes in regulatory requirements (such as the staggered phase-in period for manufacturers to comply with the European Union Medical Device Regulation (MDR) through December 2028); differing local product preferences and product requirements; diminished protection of intellectual property in some countries; tariffs and other trade protection measures, as well as increasing localization and protectionism policies in certain jurisdictions; international trade disputes and import or export requirements; difficulty in staffing and managing foreign operations; introduction of new internal business structures and programs; political and economic instability and uncertainty; current or potential geopolitical conflicts, such as the tensions between China and Taiwan and the wars in Ukraine and the Middle East, and related sanctions and other developments; disruptions of transportation, including port closures, increased border controls or border closures or reduced transportation availability, due to military conflicts, a global pandemic of contagious diseases like COVID-19 or otherwise; increased energy or transportation costs; fluctuations in currency exchange rates and financial markets; and increased security threats to our supply chain. Many of these risks are rapidly evolving and subject to an accelerating pace of change. Our business could be adversely impacted if we are unable to successfully manage these and other risks of global operations in an increasingly volatile environment. In addition, in many countries, the laws and regulations applicable to us or our industry are evolving, and we have in certain cases become subject to divergent and conflicting laws and regulations across our operations, which has increased the risks we are subject to.

We may be unable to capitalize on previous or future acquisitions: In addition to internally developed products, we invest in new products and technologies through acquisitions. Such investments are inherently risky, and we cannot guarantee that any acquisition will be successful or will not have a material unfavorable impact on us. The risks include the activities required and resources allocated to integrate new businesses, diversion of management time that could adversely affect management's ability to focus on other projects, the inability to realize the expected benefits, savings or synergies from the acquisition, the loss of key personnel, litigation resulting from the acquisition and exposure to unexpected liabilities of acquired companies. Certain acquisitions are subject to antitrust and competition laws, and antitrust scrutiny by regulatory agencies and changes to the regulatory approval process in the United States and foreign jurisdictions may cause approvals to take longer than anticipated to obtain, not be obtained at all, or contain burdensome conditions, which may jeopardize, delay or reduce the anticipated benefits of acquisitions to us and could impede the execution of our business strategy. In addition, we cannot be certain that the businesses we acquire will become or remain profitable.

We, our business partners or our third-party vendors could experience a material failure or breach of a key information technology system, network, process or site: We rely extensively on information technology (IT) systems to conduct business. In addition, we rely on networks and services, including internet sites, cloud and software-as-a-service solutions, data hosting and processing facilities and tools and other hardware, software (including open-source software) and technical applications and platforms, some of which are managed, hosted, provided and/or used by third parties or their vendors, to assist in conducting our business. Furthermore, numerous and evolving cybersecurity threats have posed, and will continue to pose, risks to the security of our IT systems, networks and product offerings, as well as the confidentiality, availability and integrity of our data. Emerging technologies such as generative artificial intelligence (AI) may be used by malicious actors to create more targeted phishing narratives, spread disinformation about us or our products or otherwise strengthen social engineering capabilities. Some of our products, services, and information technology systems contain or use open-source software which poses particular risks, including potential security vulnerabilities, licensing compliance issues and quality issues. We, our customers and third-party hosting services have experienced, and expect to continue to experience, security breaches of, unauthorized access to, and disruptions of, products or systems. While such breaches, unauthorized access and disruptions have not had a material effect on us to date, we cannot guarantee that any future breach or unauthorized access will not be material and any breach or unauthorized access could impact the use of such products and systems and the security of information stored therein. Although we have made investments and expect to continue to make investments seeking to address these threats, including monitoring of networks and systems, use of artificial intelligence, hiring of experts, employee training and security policies for employees and third-party providers, the techniques used in these attacks change frequently and may be difficult to detect for periods of time and we may face difficulties in anticipating and implementing adequate preventative measures.

When cybersecurity or other technology related incidents occur, we follow our incident response protocols and address them in accordance with applicable governmental regulations and other legal requirements. Our response to these incidents and our investments to protect our product offerings and information technology infrastructure and data may not shield us from significant losses and potential liability or prevent any future interruption or breach of our systems. Moreover, given the increasing complexity and sophistication of the techniques used by threat actors to obtain unauthorized access or disable or degrade systems, a cyberattack could occur and persist for an extended period of time before being detected, and we may not anticipate these acts or mitigate them adequately or timely, which may compound damages before the incident is discovered or remediated. The extent of a particular cyber incident and the steps that we may need to take to investigate the incident may not be immediately clear, and it may take a significant amount of time before such investigation can be completed and full and reliable information about the incident is known. New regulations may require us to disclose information about a material cybersecurity incident before it has been resolved or fully investigated. Additionally, as threats continue to evolve and increase, and as the regulatory environment and customer requirements related to information security, data collection and use, and privacy become increasingly rigorous, we may be required to devote significant additional resources to modify and enhance our security controls and to identify and remediate any security vulnerabilities, which could adversely impact our net income. In addition, a significant number of our employees working remotely has exposed us, and may continue to expose us, to greater risks related to cybersecurity and cyber-liability.

Hardware and software failures or delays in our key information technology systems, networks, processes or sites could disrupt our operations, cause the loss of confidential information or otherwise adversely impact our business. Our systems, networks, processes and sites may be vulnerable to damage, disruptions and shutdown from a variety of sources, including malfunctions in maintenance updates or security patches, design defects, the age of the technology, network failures, modernization or other initiatives, human acts and natural disasters. For example, some of our information technology systems contain legacy third-party software components for which we depend on a layered security approach to protect against exploitation, which may not be effective. Any such damage or disruptions could also compromise the security of our information systems and networks. These issues can also arise as a result of failures by, or in the software or hardware of, third parties, including networks or service providers, with whom we do business and over whom we have limited or no control. Any disruption or failure of our systems, networks, processes or sites could have a material impact on our business and operations.

If our IT systems, networks or processes are damaged or cease to function properly for any reason, the networks, service providers, hardware or software we rely upon fail to function properly, or we or one of our third-party providers suffer a loss or disclosure of our business or stakeholder information due to any number of causes ranging from catastrophic events or power outages to improper data handling or security breaches or unauthorized access and our business continuity plans do not effectively address these failures on a timely basis, we may be exposed to reputational, competitive and business harm as well as litigation and regulatory action and fines, penalties and expenses related thereto.

An inability to successfully manage the implementation of our new commercial global enterprise resource planning (ERP) system could adversely affect our operations and operating results: We are in the process of implementing a new commercial ERP system. This system will replace many of our existing operating and financial systems. The implementation is a major undertaking, both financially and from a management and personnel perspective. Any material disruptions, delays or deficiencies in the design and implementation of our new ERP system could adversely affect our ability to process orders, ship products, provide services and customer support, send invoices and track payments, fulfill contractual obligations or otherwise operate our business.

We may be unable to attract, develop and retain executives and key employees: Our sales, technical and other key personnel play an integral role in the development, marketing and selling of new and existing products. Our future performance also depends in large part on the continued services of our senior management. If we are unable to recruit, hire, develop and retain a talented, competitive workforce in our highly competitive industry, or if we are unable to plan effective succession for the future, we may not be able to meet our strategic business objectives. Inflationary pressures, labor demand and shortages and other macroeconomic factors have increased and could further increase the cost of labor and could harm our ability to recruit, hire and retain talented employees. In addition, increased unionization could negatively impact our labor costs and ability to create an engaging, connected culture, which could adversely affect our ability to recruit, hire, develop and retain a talented, competitive workforce. Further, if we are unable to maintain competitive and equitable compensation and benefit programs, including incentive programs which reward financial and operational performance, our ability to recruit, hire, engage, motivate and retain talent could be negatively affected. Additionally, if we are unable to maintain an inclusive culture that aligns our diverse workforce with our mission and values, it could adversely impact our ability to recruit, hire, develop and retain key talent. Further, our remote and hybrid work practices, ability to provide flexible and alternative work arrangements, and our practices relating to corporate responsibility may not meet the needs or expectations of our employees, including senior management or other key employees, which could negatively impact our ability to attract and retain highly skilled employees, or may harm our culture and/or decrease employee engagement, which could adversely impact our ability to recruit, hire, develop and retain a talented, competitive workforce.

Effective succession planning is also important to our long-term success. Failure to ensure effective transfer of knowledge and smooth transitions involving executives and other key employees could hinder our strategic planning and execution. Changes in our management team may be disruptive to our business, and any failure to successfully integrate key new hires or promoted employees could adversely affect our business and results of operations. The loss of the services of any of our senior management or other key personnel, or our inability to attract highly qualified senior management and other key personnel, could harm our business. Our ability to execute our business strategy could be impaired if we are unable to replace such persons timely. In addition, recent legal and regulatory changes affect our ability to enforce post-termination obligations from certain employees with respect to non-competition, non-solicitation and protection of confidential information. This may negatively impact our ability to retain employees and protect our information and relationships with customers and other third parties.

Interruption of manufacturing operations could adversely affect our business: We and our suppliers have manufacturing and supply sites all over the world. However, the manufacturing of certain of our product lines is concentrated in one or more plants or geographic regions. We have principal manufacturing and distribution facilities in the United States in Arizona, California, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey, Puerto Rico, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia and Washington, and outside the United States in China, France, Germany, Ireland, Mexico, the Netherlands, Poland, Switzerland and Turkey. Damage to our facilities, to our suppliers' or service providers' facilities, or to our central distribution centers as a result of natural disasters, fires, explosions or otherwise, as well as issues in our manufacturing arising from a failure to follow specific internal protocols and procedures, compliance concerns relating to the quality systems regulation, equipment breakdown or malfunction, IT system failures or cybersecurity incidents, environmental hazard incidents or changes to environmental regulations or other factors, could adversely affect the availability of our products. In the event of an interruption in manufacturing, we may be unable to move quickly to alternate means of producing and distributing affected products to meet customer demand. In the event of a significant interruption, we may experience lengthy delays in resuming production or distribution of affected products due to the need for regulatory approvals, and we may experience loss of market share, additional expense and harm to our reputation.

Our insurance program may not be adequate to cover future losses: We maintain third-party insurance to cover our exposure to certain property and casualty losses and are self-insured for claims and expenses related to other property and casualty losses, including product liability, intellectual property infringement and enforcement, environmental, and cybersecurity and data privacy losses. We manage a portion of our exposure to self-insured losses through a wholly-owned captive insurance company. Insurance coverage limits provided by third-party insurers and/or our captive insurance company may not be sufficient to fully cover certain losses we may experience.

We have experienced, and may continue to experience, a significant and unpredictable need to adjust our operations as market demand for certain of our products has shifted and continues to shift or as may be mandated by governmental authorities: Some of our products are particularly sensitive to reductions in elective medical procedures. It is not possible to predict whether elective medical procedures will be suspended or reduced in the future and, to the extent individuals and customers are required to delay or cancel elective procedures, our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations could be negatively affected. Further, our customers have experienced, and may continue to experience, staffing shortages that may result in decreased demand for our products, which could negatively affect our business and financial results.

Unpredictable increases in demand for certain of our products have exceeded in the past, and could exceed in the future, our capacity to meet such demand timely, which could adversely affect our customer relationships and result in negative publicity. In this regard, the accelerated development and production of products and services to address medical and other requirements could increase the risk of regulatory enforcement actions, product defects or related claims or reputational harm, among other things.

Our use of AI and other emerging technologies could adversely impact our business and financial results: We have begun to deploy AI and other emerging technologies in various facets of our operations and we continue to explore further use cases. The rapid advancement of these technologies presents opportunities for us in research, manufacturing, commercialization, and other business endeavors, but also entails risks, including that AI-generated content, analyses, or recommendations we utilize could be deficient, that our competitors may more quickly or effectively adopt AI capabilities, or that our use of AI or other emerging technologies increases regulatory, cybersecurity and other significant risks. In addition, any disruption or failure in the AI functionality we incorporate into our business activities, products or services could adversely impact our business or result in delays or errors in our product offerings. The legal and regulatory landscape surrounding AI technologies is rapidly evolving and uncertain, including in the areas of intellectual property, cybersecurity and privacy and data protection. Compliance with new or changing laws, regulations or industry standards relating to AI may impose significant costs on us and limit our ability to effectively develop, deploy or use AI technologies. Furthermore, if we are unable to effectively manage the use of AI technologies by our employees and service providers, our confidential information, intellectual property and reputation could be put at risk. Failure to appropriately respond to this evolving landscape may result in reputational, competitive and business harm as well as litigation and regulatory action and fines, penalties and expenses related thereto.

Pandemics and public health emergencies, and the fear thereof, have in the past materially adversely affected and could in the future materially adversely affect, our operations, supply chain, manufacturing, product distribution, customers and other business activities: In connection with prior pandemics, governmental authorities and private enterprises implemented, and may in the future implement in connection with another pandemic or public health emergency (or in response to the fear thereof), measures, such as travel bans and restrictions, quarantines, shelter-in-place orders and shutdowns. Our customers, global suppliers, distributors and manufacturing facilities have in the past been, and could in the future be, materially affected by restrictive measures implemented in response to a pandemic or public health emergency, which has in the past caused and could in the future cause them to be unable to hire and retain employees, distribute or use our products or provide required services. We have as a result experienced, and could in the future experience, delays in, or the suspension of, our manufacturing operations, sales activities, research and product development activities, regulatory work streams, clinical development programs and other important commercial functions, which may result in our inability to satisfy consumer demand for our products in a timely manner or at all and which could harm our reputation, future sales and profitability. The extent of any future pandemic or public health emergency's effect on our business and industry will depend on, among other things, the severity of the disease, the successful development, distribution and acceptance of vaccines for diseases, future resurgences and/or the spread of disease variants, all of which are uncertain and difficult to predict. The COVID-19 pandemic materially impacted us, and any future pandemic or public health emergency could materially impact us and would heighten many of the other risks described in this report.

LEGAL AND REGULATORY RISKS

Current economic and political conditions make tax rules in jurisdictions subject to significant change: Our future results of operations could be affected by changes in the effective tax rate as a result of changes in tax laws, regulations and judicial rulings. We are continuing to evaluate the impact of tax reform in the countries in which we operate as new guidance is published and new regulations are adopted. In addition, further changes in the tax laws could arise, including as a result of the base erosion and profit shifting project undertaken by the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD). The OECD, which represents a coalition of member countries, has put forth two proposed frameworks that revise the existing profit allocation and nexus rules (Pillar 1) and ensure a minimal level of taxation (Pillar 2), respectively. In 2022 the European Union member states agreed to implement the Inclusive Framework's global corporate minimum tax rate of 15%, and various countries within and outside the European Union have either enacted or proposed new tax laws implementing Pillar Two in 2024. The OECD continues to release additional guidance and we anticipate more countries will enact similar tax laws. Some of the new tax laws are effective in 2024 while others will be effective in future years. These tax law changes and any additional contemplated tax law changes, could increase tax expense in future periods.

We could be negatively impacted by future changes in the allocation of income to each of the income tax jurisdictions in which we operate: We operate in multiple income tax jurisdictions both in the United States and internationally. Accordingly, our management must determine the appropriate allocation of income to each jurisdiction based on current interpretations of complex income tax regulations. Income tax authorities regularly perform audits of our income tax filings. Income tax audits associated with the allocation of income and other complex issues, including inventory transfer pricing and cost sharing, product royalty and foreign branch arrangements, may require an extended period to resolve and may result in significant income tax adjustments.

The impact of healthcare reform legislation on our business remains uncertain: Several markets where we sell our products are making efforts to expand access to healthcare or health insurance coverage while decreasing costs. These efforts may have a direct or unintended negative impact on access to medical technology and could have a significant effect on our business. Both in the U.S. and internationally, governmental authorities may make legislative or administrative reforms to existing reimbursement programs, make adverse decisions relating to our products' coverage or reimbursement, or make changes to patient access to healthcare, all of which could adversely impact the demand for and usage of our products or the prices that our customers are willing to pay for them. We cannot predict what healthcare programs and regulations could ultimately be implemented at the federal or state level or the effect that any future legislation or regulation in the United States may have on our business. Similarly, we cannot predict the impact that healthcare reform legislation in other countries where we sell our products may have on our business.

We are subject to extensive governmental regulation relating to the classification, manufacturing, sterilization, licensing, labeling, marketing and sale of our products: The classification, manufacturing, sterilization, licensing, labeling, marketing and sale of our products are subject to extensive and evolving regulations and rigorous regulatory enforcement by the FDA, state governments, European Union and other governmental authorities in the United States and internationally. These governmental authorities may impose additional requirements or limits on the methods, procedures or agents we use to manufacture and sterilize our products, which could have a negative impact on our business. For example, governmental authorities in the United States and internationally have or are considering adopting regulations on the use of per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances. In addition, the process of obtaining licenses, regulatory clearances and/or approvals to market and sell our products can be costly and time consuming and the clearances and/or approvals might not be granted timely. We have ongoing responsibilities under the laws and regulations applicable to the manufacturing of products within our facilities and those contracted by third parties that are subject to periodic inspections by the FDA, state Boards of Pharmacy and other governmental authorities to determine compliance with the quality system, medical device reporting regulations and other requirements. We may also be subject to legal obligations in some countries that require disclosure or sharing of proprietary information. We incur significant costs to comply with regulations, including the MDR. If we fail to comply with applicable regulatory requirements, we may be subject to a range of sanctions, including substantial fines, warning letters that require corrective action, product seizures, recalls, import restrictions, the suspension of product manufacturing or sales, revocation of approvals, exclusion from future participation in government healthcare programs, substantial fines and criminal prosecution.

We are subject to federal, state and foreign healthcare regulations, including anti-bribery, anti-corruption, anti-kickback and false claims laws, globally and could face substantial penalties if we fail to comply with such regulations and laws: The relationships that we, and third parties that market and/or sell our products, have with healthcare professionals, such as physicians, hospitals, healthcare organizations and others, are subject to scrutiny under various state and federal laws often referred to collectively as healthcare fraud and abuse laws. In addition, the United States and foreign government regulators have increased the enforcement of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) and other anti-bribery and anti-kickback laws. We also must comply with a variety of other laws that impose extensive tracking and reporting related to all transfers of value provided to certain healthcare professionals and others. These laws and regulations are broad in scope and are subject to evolving interpretation and we have in the past been, and in the future could be, required to incur substantial costs to investigate, audit and monitor compliance or to alter our practices. Violations or alleged violations of these laws have in the past resulted and could in the future result in investigations, litigation or government proceedings, and we have been and may in the future be subject to criminal or civil penalties and sanctions, including substantial fines, imprisonment of current or former employees and exclusion from participation in governmental healthcare programs. For example, in 2013 and 2018 we settled claims brought by the SEC related to the FCPA. Pursuant to these settlements, we paid fines and penalties and retained an independent compliance consultant. We continue to implement recommendations that resulted from the independent compliance consultant's review of our commercial practices to enhance our commercial business practices. In addition, we are currently investigating whether certain business activities in certain foreign countries violated provisions of the FCPA and have been contacted by the SEC, United States Department of Justice and certain other regulatory authorities. Although we are currently unable to predict the outcome of the investigations or the potential impact, if any, on our financial statements, the impacts could potentially be significant.

We are subject to privacy, data protection and data security regulations and laws globally, and could face substantial penalties if we fail to comply with such regulations and laws: We are subject to a variety of laws and regulations globally regarding privacy, data protection, and data security, including those related to the collection, storage, handling, use, disclosure, transfer and security of personally identifiable healthcare information. For example, in the United States, privacy and security regulations under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, including the expanded requirements under the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act of 2009, establish comprehensive standards with respect to the use and disclosure of protected health information (PHI), by covered entities, in addition to setting standards to protect the confidentiality, integrity and security of PHI. Regulators are also imposing new data privacy and security requirements, including new and greater monetary fines for privacy violations. For example, the European Union's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) established rules regarding the handling of personal data. Non-compliance with the GDPR may result in monetary penalties of up to 4% of total company revenue. Various U.S. states and other governmental authorities around the world have imposed or are considering similar types of laws and regulations, data breach reporting and penalties for non-compliance and increasing security requirements. These laws and regulations are broad in scope and are subject to evolving interpretation and enforcement and we have in the past been, and in the future could be, required to incur substantial costs to monitor compliance or to alter our practices. As new privacy-related laws and regulations are implemented, the time and resources needed for us to comply with such laws and regulations, as well as our potential liability for non-compliance and reporting obligations in the case of data breaches, have increased and may further increase.

We may be adversely affected by product liability claims, unfavorable court decisions or legal settlements: We are exposed to potential product liability risks inherent in the design, manufacture and marketing of medical devices, many of which are implanted in the human body for long periods of time or indefinitely. We are currently defendants in a number of product liability matters, including those relating to our Rejuvenate and ABGII Modular-Neck hip stems, LFIT Anatomic CoCr V40 Femoral Heads and the product liability lawsuits and claims relating to Wright Medical Group N.V. (Wright) legacy hip products discussed in Note 7 to our Consolidated Financial Statements. These matters are subject to uncertainties and outcomes are not predictable. Further, the European Representative Actions Directive (the Collective Redress Directive) mandates a class action regime in each EU member state to facilitate domestic and cross-border class actions in a wide range of areas, including product liability claims with medical devices. The European Product Liability Directive was revised in 2024 and will become fully adopted into each member state's national laws by 2026. The revised Product Liability Directive and Collective Redress Directive exposes us to additional litigation risks and could result in significant legal expenses. In addition, we may incur significant legal expenses or reputational damage for product liability claims regardless of whether we are found to be liable.

Intellectual property litigation and infringement claims could cause us to incur significant expenses or prevent us from selling certain of our products: The medical device industry is characterized by extensive intellectual property litigation and, from time to time, we are the subject of claims of infringement or misappropriation. Regardless of the outcome, such claims are expensive to defend and divert management and operating personnel from other business issues. A successful claim or claims of patent or other intellectual property infringement against us could result in payment of significant monetary damages and/or royalty payments or negatively impact our ability to sell current or future products in the affected category.

Dependence on intellectual proprietary rights and failing to protect such rights or to be successful in litigation related to such rights may impact offerings in our product portfolios: Our long-term success largely depends on our ability to market technologically competitive products. If we fail to obtain or maintain adequate intellectual property protection, it could allow others to sell products that directly compete with proprietary features in our product portfolio. Also, our issued patents may be subject to claims challenging their validity and scope and raising other issues. In addition, currently pending or future patent applications may not result in issued patents and the expiration of patents may lead to a loss of exclusive rights and/or increased competition.

MARKET RISKS

We have exposure to exchange rate fluctuations on cross border transactions and translation of local currency results into United States Dollars: We report our financial results in United States Dollars and approximately 25% of our net sales are denominated in foreign currencies, including the Australian Dollar, British Pound, Canadian Dollar, Euro and Japanese Yen. Cross border transactions with external parties, financing transactions in currencies other than the United States Dollar and intercompany relationships result in increased exposure to foreign currency exchange effects. While we use derivative instruments to manage the impact of currency exchange, our hedging strategies may not be successful, and our unhedged exposures continue to be subject to currency fluctuations. In addition, the weakening or strengthening of the United States Dollar results in favorable or unfavorable translation effects when the results of our foreign locations are translated into United States Dollars. In recent years, currency exchange rates have been especially volatile, and these currency fluctuations have affected, and may continue to affect, our results of operations.

Additional capital that we may require in the future may not be available to us or may only be available to us on unfavorable terms, which could negatively affect our liquidity: Our future capital requirements will depend on many factors, including operating requirements, current and future acquisitions and the need to refinance existing debt. Our ability to issue additional debt or enter into other financing arrangements on acceptable terms could be adversely affected by our debt levels, unfavorable changes in economic conditions or uncertainties that affect the capital markets. Changes in credit ratings issued by nationally recognized credit rating agencies could also adversely affect our access to and cost of financing. Higher borrowing costs or the inability to access capital markets could adversely affect our ability to support future growth and operating requirements. In addition, we have experienced, and could in the future experience, loss of sales and profits due to delayed payments or insolvency of healthcare professionals, hospitals and other customers and suppliers facing liquidity issues due to the current macroeconomic environment, type and number of conditions being treated or for other reasons. As a result, we may be compelled to take additional measures to preserve our cash flow, including through the reduction of operating expenses or suspension of dividend payments.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE RISKS

We could be negatively impacted by corporate responsibility and sustainability-related matters: Governments, investors, customers, employees and other stakeholders have been focused on corporate responsibility practices and disclosures, and expectations in this area continue to rapidly evolve, including in diverging directions. On occasion, we announce new initiatives and make disclosures, including goals, under our corporate responsibility framework. This framework is aligned with our areas of interest and applicable regulatory requirements, which include environment and sustainability, workforce-related issues, diversity, equity and inclusion and supply chain management, among others. Implementation of these initiatives involves risks and uncertainties, requires investments and depends in part on third-party performance or data that is outside our control. We cannot guarantee that we will achieve our announced corporate responsibility initiatives. The criteria by which our corporate responsibility practices are assessed may change due to the quickly evolving landscape, which could result in greater regulatory requirements or expectations of us and cause us to undertake costly initiatives to satisfy such new criteria. Moreover, the increasing attention to corporate responsibility initiatives could also result in, among other things, reduced demand for our products, reduced profits, increased investigations and litigation and an increased risk of reputational damage. If we are unable to satisfy evolving criteria, certain investors and other stakeholders may conclude that our policies and/or actions with respect to corporate responsibility matters are inadequate or undesirable. If we fail or are perceived to have failed to achieve previously announced initiatives or goals, comply with corporate responsibility laws and regulations, meet evolving expectations or accurately disclose our progress, we could face legal and regulatory proceedings and our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely impacted.

Physical effects of climate change or legal, regulatory or market measures intended to address climate change could adversely affect our operations and operating results: Risks associated with climate change are subject to increasing societal, regulatory and political focus in the United States and globally. Shifts in weather patterns caused by climate change have increased and are expected to further increase the frequency, severity or duration of certain adverse weather conditions and natural disasters, such as hurricanes, tornadoes, earthquakes, wildfires, droughts, extreme temperatures and flooding, which could cause more significant business and supply chain interruptions, damage to our products and facilities as well as the infrastructure of hospitals, medical care facilities and other customers, reduced workforce availability, increased costs of raw materials and components, increased liabilities and decreased revenues than what we have experienced in the past from such events. In addition, increased public concern over climate change has resulted in certain, and could result in additional, new legal or regulatory requirements designed to mitigate the effects of climate change, which could include the adoption of more stringent environmental laws and regulations or stricter enforcement of existing laws and regulations. Such developments could result in increased compliance costs and adverse impacts on raw material availability and sourcing, manufacturing operations and the distribution of our products, which could adversely affect our operations and operating results.

ITEM 1C. CYBERSECURITY.

RISK MANAGEMENT AND STRATEGY

We review cybersecurity risk as part of our overall enterprise risk management program. This ensures that cybersecurity risk management remains a top priority in our business strategy and operations.

MANAGEMENT'S ROLE IN MANAGING RISK

Primary management responsibility for assessing, monitoring and managing our cybersecurity risks rests with our chief information security officer ("CISO"). Our current CISO has over 30 years of experience in information technology including over 20 years in cybersecurity and oversees a team of cybersecurity professionals with over 140 security, risk, and compliance certifications. The CISO is regularly informed about recent developments in cybersecurity, including potential threats and innovative risk management techniques.

The CISO implements and oversees processes for the regular monitoring of our information systems. We use various tools and methodologies to manage cybersecurity risk that are tested regularly. We also monitor and evaluate our cybersecurity posture and performance on an ongoing basis through regular vulnerability scans, penetration tests and threat intelligence feeds. In addition, we engage third-party consultants to conduct annual cybersecurity assessments and to conduct audits for compliance with regulatory, Sarbanes-Oxley Act, Service Organization Control Type 2 and International Organization for Standardization standards. We also engage third parties to assess our cybersecurity maturity and risk management programs.

We use a cross-departmental approach to addressing cybersecurity risk, with our cybersecurity, product security and legal teams presenting quarterly on key topics to a committee of leaders in finance, regulatory, and corporate affairs functions. This leadership committee meets quarterly to ensure that we have input and oversight from critical stakeholders into our cybersecurity program and evolving issues.

The CISO oversees a training and awareness program for employees to take part in protecting the Company against cybersecurity risks. We have implemented annual mandatory security education to help employees understand cybersecurity risks and comply with our cybersecurity policies. Additionally, we provide frequent communications around pertinent cybersecurity topics and policies to all employees. We also provide additional cybersecurity and data protection training to employees in certain roles.

As part of our cybersecurity risk management program, we also conduct cybersecurity and privacy assessments on all third parties who integrate with Stryker's data, network, systems and products. We use a combination of internal and external tools to confirm that these third parties meet our security requirements. We leverage standard industry threat model and privacy impact assessment concepts to confirm that data minimization and adequate data protections are in place. We perform supplemental reviews as necessary, commensurate with the risk associated with each vendor.

In the event of a cybersecurity incident, we have an incident response plan that includes immediate actions to mitigate the impact and long-term strategies for remediation and prevention of future incidents. The cybersecurity and product security teams routinely practice this plan with functions across the organization. We conduct tabletop exercises with senior management, during which we practice the procedures in place to ensure that potentially material cybersecurity risks and incidents are escalated to management and the Board of Directors where applicable.

GOVERNANCE

Cybersecurity risks are overseen by the full Board of Directors and the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee is central to the Board of Directors' oversight of cybersecurity risks and bears the primary responsibility for overseeing cybersecurity risk. The Audit Committee actively participates in strategic decisions related to cybersecurity, offering guidance and approval for major cybersecurity initiatives. This involvement ensures that cybersecurity considerations are integrated into our broader strategic objectives.

Our CISO provides comprehensive updates to the Audit Committee quarterly and the full Board of Directors periodically. These briefings include a range of topics, including:

- Current cybersecurity landscape and emerging threats;
- Status of ongoing cybersecurity initiatives and strategies;
- Incident reports and learnings from any cybersecurity events;
- Metrics demonstrating company and industry-standard prevention of common threats; and
- Regulatory changes impacting cybersecurity requirements and strategy.

The Board of Directors is aware of the critical nature of managing risks associated with cybersecurity threats and is actively engaged in our cybersecurity risk management strategy.

RISKS FROM CYBERSECURITY THREATS

Although cybersecurity risks have not materially affected us, including our business strategy, results of operations or financial condition, to date, we face numerous and evolving cybersecurity threats in our business. For more information about the cybersecurity risks we face, see the risk factor entitled "We, our business partners or our third-party vendors could experience a material failure or breach of a key information technology system, network, process or site" in Item 1A. Risk Factors.

ITEM 2. PROPERTIES.

We have approximately 27 company-owned and 297 leased locations worldwide including 45 manufacturing locations. We believe that our properties are in good operating condition and adequate for the manufacture and distribution of our products.

We do not anticipate difficulty in renewing existing leases as they expire or in finding alternative facilities.

ITEM 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

We are involved in various ongoing proceedings, legal actions and claims arising in the normal course of our business, including proceedings related to product, labor, intellectual property and other matters. Refer to Note 7 to our Consolidated Financial Statements for further information.

ITEM 4. MINE SAFETY DISCLOSURES.

Not applicable.

Note: In the fourth quarter 2024 we reorganized our Spine business to align with certain updates to our internal reporting structure. The spine enabling technologies portfolio (Enabling Technologies) was reclassified to Other Orthopaedics, the interventional spine portfolio was reclassified to Neuro Cranial and the remaining Spine business was renamed to Spinal Implants. Neuro Cranial includes sales related to interventional spine of $413, $327 and $282 for 2024, 2023 and 2022. Other Orthopaedics includes sales related to Enabling Technologies of $152, $149 and $131 for 2024, 2023 and 2022. In the first quarter 2024 a product line previously included in Instruments has been reclassified to Endoscopy to align with a change in our internal reporting structure. We have reflected these changes in all historical periods presented.

Consolidated Net Sales

Consolidated net sales in 2024 increased 10.2% as reported and 10.7% in constant currency, as foreign currency exchange rates negatively impacted net sales by 0.5%. Excluding the 0.5% impact of acquisitions and divestitures, net sales in constant currency increased by 9.1% from increased unit volume and 1.1% due to higher prices. The unit volume increase was primarily due to higher shipments across all businesses.

Consolidated net sales in 2023 increased 11.1% as reported and 11.6% in constant currency, as foreign currency exchange rates negatively impacted net sales by 0.5%. Excluding the 0.1% impact of acquisitions and divestitures, net sales in constant currency increased by 10.9% from increased unit volume and 0.6% due to higher prices. The unit volume increase was due to higher shipments across all MedSurg and Neurotechnology businesses and most Orthopaedics businesses.

MedSurg and Neurotechnology Net Sales

MedSurg and Neurotechnology net sales in 2024 increased 11.1% as reported and 11.6% in constant currency, as foreign currency exchange rates negatively impacted net sales by 0.5%. Excluding the 0.4% impact of acquisitions and divestitures, net sales in constant currency increased by 9.5% from increased unit volume and 1.7% due to higher prices. The unit volume increase was due to higher shipments across all MedSurg and Neurotechnology businesses.

MedSurg and Neurotechnology net sales in 2023 increased 11.7% as reported and 12.2% in constant currency, as foreign currency exchange rates negatively impacted net sales by 0.5%. Excluding the 0.3% impact of acquisitions and divestitures, net sales in constant currency increased by 10.2% from increased unit volume and 1.7% due to higher prices. The unit volume increase was due to higher shipments across all MedSurg and Neurotechnology businesses.

Orthopaedics Net Sales

Orthopaedics net sales in 2024 increased 8.9% as reported and 9.4% in constant currency, as foreign currency exchange rates negatively impacted net sales by 0.5%. Excluding the 0.7% impact of acquisitions and divestitures, net sales in constant currency increased by 8.7% from increased unit volume. The unit volume increase was due to higher shipments across all Orthopaedics businesses.

Orthopaedics net sales in 2023 increased 10.3% as reported and 10.9% in constant currency, as foreign currency exchange rates negatively impacted net sales by 0.6%. Excluding the 0.1% impact of acquisitions and divestitures, net sales in constant currency increased by 11.9% from increased unit volume partially offset by 1.1% due to lower prices. The unit volume increase was due to higher shipments across most Orthopaedics businesses.

Gross Profit

Gross profit was $14,440, $13,058 and $11,578 in 2024, 2023, and 2022. The key components of the change were:

	Gross Profit Percent Net Sales
2022	62.8 %
Sales pricing	20 bps
Volume and mix	100 bps
Manufacturing and supply chain costs	(40) bps
Inventory stepped up to fair value	10 bps
2023	63.7 %
Sales pricing	40 bps
Volume and mix	60 bps
Manufacturing and supply chain costs	(40) bps
Inventory stepped up to fair value	(20) bps
Structural optimization and other special charges	(20) bps
2024	63.9 %

Gross profit as a percentage of net sales increased to 63.9% in 2024 from 63.7% in 2023 due to higher sales pricing and favorable volume partially offset by higher manufacturing and supply chain costs primarily due to inflationary pressures impacting fixed and variable manufacturing costs as well as higher amortization of inventory stepped up to fair value.

Gross profit as a percentage of net sales increased to 63.7% in 2023 from 62.8% in 2022 due to higher sales pricing and favorable volume offset by higher manufacturing and supply chain costs primarily due to higher raw material costs in the first six months of 2023 and supply chain inefficiencies.

While segment mix was not a significant driver of the change in gross profit as a percent of net sales between 2024, 2023 and 2022, we generally expect segment mix to have an unfavorable impact for the foreseeable future as we anticipate more rapid sales growth in our lower gross margin MedSurg and Neurotechnology segment than our Orthopaedics segment.

Research, Development and Engineering Expenses

Research, development and engineering expenses as a percentage of net sales in 2024 decreased to 6.5% from 6.8% in 2023 primarily due to lower spend on medical device regulations in the European Union.

Research, development and engineering expenses as a percentage of net sales in 2023 decreased to 6.8% from 7.9% in 2022 primarily due to increased spending for product launches, the write-off of certain intangible assets and higher spend related to the new medical device regulations in the European Union in 2022.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

Selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of net sales in 2024 decreased to 34.0% from 34.7% in 2023 primarily due to continued spend discipline and lower charges for structural optimization and certain legal matters partially offset by higher acquisition-related costs.

Selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of net sales in 2023 of 34.7% remained relatively flat with 34.6% in 2022 as charges of $132 related to share-based awards for Vocera employees that vested upon our acquisition in 2022 were partially offset by disciplined increases in spend and investments in 2023 to support our growth, including sales growth incentives and increased spend on travel and meetings. In addition, in 2022 we determined that certain commercial and regulatory milestones related to technology acquired in the purchase of Mobius Imaging and Cardan Robotics were no longer probable of being achieved and recorded $110 to reduce the fair value of contingent consideration.

Amortization of Intangible Assets

Amortization of intangible assets was $623, $635 and $627 in 2024, 2023 and 2022. These amounts include amortization related to intangible assets acquired in 2024 from various acquisitions, 2023 from Cerus Endovascular Limited (Cerus) and 2022 from Vocera. Refer to Notes 6 and 8 to our Consolidated Financial Statements for further information.

Goodwill and Other Impairments

In 2024 and 2022 we recorded goodwill impairment charges of $456 and $216 related to our Spine business.

In 2024 we recognized an estimated loss of $362 as a result of classifying certain assets in our Spinal Implants business as held for sale. Refer to Notes 8, 16 and 17 to our Consolidated Financial Statements for further information.

In 2024, 2023 and 2022 we recorded other impairments of $159, $36 and $54. Refer to Notes 15 and 16 to our Consolidated Financial Statements for further information.

Operating Income

Operating income was $3,689, $3,888 and $2,841 in 2024, 2023 and 2022. Operating income decreased as a percentage of sales to 16.3% in 2024 from 19.0% in 2023 and increased from 15.4% in 2022. Refer to the comments above for discussion of the primary drivers of the change.

MedSurg and Neurotechnology operating income as a percentage of net sales increased to 29.6% in 2024 from 28.5% in 2023. MedSurg and Neurotechnology operating income as a percentage of net sales increased to 28.5% in 2023 from 26.0% in 2022. Orthopaedics operating income as a percentage of net sales increased to 28.5% in 2024 from 27.2% in 2023. Orthopaedics operating income as a percentage of net sales increased to 27.2% in 2023 from 29.1% in 2022. The key components of the change were:

	Operating Income Percent Net Sales
	MedSurg and Neurotechnology	Orthopaedics
2022	26.0 %	29.1 %
Sales pricing	70 bps	(30) bps
Volume	100 bps	80 bps
Manufacturing and supply chain costs	90 bps	(220) bps
Research, development and engineering expenses	50 bps	20 bps
Selling, general and administrative expenses	(60) bps	(40) bps
2023	28.5 %	27.2 %
Sales pricing	70 bps	0 bps
Volume	40 bps	70 bps
Manufacturing and supply chain costs	(40) bps	(20) bps
Research, development and engineering expenses	0 bps	10 bps
Selling, general and administrative expenses	40 bps	70 bps
2024	29.6 %	28.5 %

The increase in MedSurg and Neurotechnology operating income as a percentage of net sales in 2024 from 2023 was primarily driven by higher unit volumes, higher prices and a decrease in selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of sales partially offset by higher manufacturing and supply chain costs.

The increase in MedSurg and Neurotechnology operating income as a percentage of net sales in 2023 from 2022 was primarily driven by higher unit volumes, higher prices and lower manufacturing and supply chain costs due to supply chain challenges impacting capital products in our MedSurg businesses in 2022 which improved in 2023 partially offset by higher selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of sales due to continued investments including sales growth incentives and a more normalized cadence of travel and meetings.

The increase in Orthopaedics operating income as a percentage of net sales for 2024 from 2023 was primarily driven by higher sales volumes and a decrease in selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of sales partially offset by higher manufacturing and supply chain costs.

The decrease in Orthopaedics operating income as a percentage of net sales for 2023 from 2022 was primarily driven by higher higher manufacturing and supply chain costs primarily due to increased inventory reserves partially offset by higher unit volumes.

Other Income (Expense), Net

Other income (expense), net was ($197), ($215) and ($158) in 2024, 2023 and 2022. The decrease in net expense in 2024 from 2023 was primarily due to higher interest income partially offset by lower interest expense in 2024. The increase in net expense in 2023 from 2022 was primarily due to the release of accrued interest of $50 in 2022 related to the effective settlement of the United States federal income tax audit for years 2014 through 2018. Refer to Note 11 to our Consolidated Financial Statements for further information and higher interest income in 2023.

Income Taxes

Our effective tax rate was 14.3%, 13.8% and 12.1% for 2024, 2023 and 2022. The effective income tax rate for 2024 decreased from 2023 due to the 2024 deferred tax benefit on the outside basis difference related to the anticipated sale of the Spinal Implants business partially offset by the 2023 tax effect related to transfers of intellectual property between tax jurisdictions. The effective income tax rate for 2023 increased from 2022 due to the 2022 effective settlement of the United States federal income tax audit for years 2014 through 2018 and the 2022 reversal of deferred income tax on undistributed earnings of foreign subsidiaries partially offset by the 2023 tax effect related to transfers of intellectual property between tax jurisdictions. Additionally, the effective income tax rates for 2024, 2023 and 2022 reflect the continued lower effective income tax rates as a result of our European operations and certain discrete tax items.

The Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD), which represents a coalition of member countries, has put forth two proposed base erosion and profit shifting frameworks that revise the existing profit allocation and nexus rules (Pillar One) and ensure a minimal level of taxation (Pillar Two). On December 12, 2022 the European Union member states agreed to implement the Inclusive Framework's global corporate minimum tax rate of 15%, and various countries within and outside the European Union have either enacted or proposed new tax laws implementing Pillar Two in 2024. The OECD continues to release additional guidance and we anticipate more countries will enact similar tax laws. Some of the new tax laws became effective in 2024 while others will be effective in future years. These tax law changes and any additional contemplated tax law changes could increase tax expense in future periods.

Net Earnings

Net earnings for 2024 increased to $2,993 or $7.76 per diluted share from $3,165 or $8.25 per diluted share in 2023 and $2,358 or $6.17 per diluted share in 2022. Refer to the comments above for discussion of the primary drivers of the change.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

We supplement the reporting of our financial information determined under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (GAAP) with certain non-GAAP financial measures, including percentage sales growth in constant currency; percentage organic sales growth; adjusted gross profit; adjusted selling, general and administrative expenses; adjusted research, development and engineering expenses; adjusted operating income; adjusted other income (expense), net; adjusted income taxes; adjusted effective income tax rate; adjusted net earnings; and adjusted net earnings per diluted share (Diluted EPS). We believe these non-GAAP financial measures provide meaningful information to assist investors and shareholders in understanding our financial results and assessing our prospects for future performance. Management believes percentage sales growth in constant currency and the other adjusted measures described above are important indicators of our operations because they exclude items that may not be indicative of or are unrelated to our core operating results and provide a baseline for analyzing trends in our underlying businesses. Management uses these non-GAAP financial measures for reviewing the operating results of reportable business segments and analyzing potential future business trends in connection with our budget process and bases certain management incentive compensation on these non-GAAP financial measures. To measure percentage sales growth in constant currency, we remove the impact of changes in foreign currency exchange rates that affect the comparability and trend of sales. Percentage sales growth in constant currency is calculated by translating current and prior year results at the same foreign currency exchange rate. To measure percentage organic sales growth, we remove the impact of changes in foreign currency exchange rates, acquisitions and divestitures, which affect the comparability and trend of sales. Percentage organic sales growth is calculated by translating current year and prior year results at the same foreign currency exchange rates excluding the impact of acquisitions and divestitures. To measure earnings performance on a consistent and comparable basis, we exclude certain items that affect the comparability of operating results and the trend of earnings. The income tax effect of each adjustment was determined based on the tax effect of the jurisdiction in which the related pre-tax adjustment was recorded. These adjustments are irregular in timing and may not be indicative of our past and future performance. The following are examples of the types of adjustments that may be included in a period:

1. Acquisition and integration-related costs. Costs related to integrating recently acquired businesses (e.g., costs associated with the termination of sales relationships, employee retention and workforce reductions, manufacturing integration costs and other integration-related activities), changes in the fair value of contingent consideration, amortization of inventory stepped-up to fair value, specific costs (e.g., deal costs and costs associated with legal entity rationalization) related to the consummation of the acquisition process and legal entity rationalization and acquisition-related tax items.
2. Amortization of purchased intangible assets. Periodic amortization expense related to purchased intangible assets.
3. Structural optimization and other special charges. Costs associated with employee retention and workforce reductions, the closure or transfer of manufacturing and other facilities (e.g., site closure costs, contract termination costs and redundant employee costs during the work transfers), product line exits (primarily inventory, long-lived asset and specifically-identified intangible asset write-offs), certain long-lived and intangible asset write-offs and impairments and other charges.
4. Medical device regulations. Costs specific to updating our quality system, product labeling, asset write-offs and product remanufacturing to comply with the new medical device reporting regulations and other requirements of the European Union.
5. Recall-related matters. Changes in our best estimate of the probable loss, or the minimum of the range of probable losses when a best estimate within a range is not known, to resolve the Rejuvenate, LFIT V40, Wright legacy hip products and other product recalls.
6. Regulatory and legal matters. Changes in our best estimate of the probable loss, or the minimum of the range of probable losses when a best estimate within a range is not known, to resolve certain regulatory or other legal matters.

and the amount of favorable awards from settlements.

7. Tax matters. Impact of accounting for certain significant and discrete tax items.

Because non-GAAP financial measures are not standardized, it may not be possible to compare these financial measures with other companies' non-GAAP financial measures having the same or similar names. These adjusted financial measures should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for reported sales growth, gross profit, selling, general and administrative expenses, research, development and engineering expenses, operating income, other income (expense), net, income taxes, effective income tax rate, net earnings and net earnings per diluted share, the most directly comparable GAAP financial measures. These non-GAAP financial measures are an additional way of viewing aspects of our operations when viewed with our GAAP results and the reconciliations to corresponding GAAP financial measures at the end of the discussion of Consolidated Results of Operations below. We strongly encourage investors and shareholders to review our financial statements and publicly-filed reports in their entirety and not to rely on any single financial measure.

The weighted-average diluted shares outstanding used in the calculation of adjusted net earnings per diluted share are the same as those used in the calculation of reported net earnings per diluted share for the respective period.

We believe our financial condition continues to be of high quality, as evidenced by our ability to generate substantial cash from operations and to readily access capital markets at competitive rates despite the current macroeconomic environment. Operating cash flow provides the primary source of cash to fund operating needs and capital expenditures. Excess operating cash is used first to fund acquisitions to complement our portfolio of businesses. Other discretionary uses include dividends and share repurchases. We supplement operating cash flow with debt to fund our activities as necessary. Our overall cash position reflects our business results and a global cash management strategy that takes into account liquidity management, economic factors and tax considerations.

Operating Activities

Cash provided by operating activities was $4,242, $3,711 and $2,624 in 2024, 2023 and 2022. The increase in 2024 was primarily due to higher cash earnings partially offset by changes in working capital. The increase in 2023 from 2022 was primarily due to higher net earnings and increased collections on accounts receivable.

RE: Final order

Dear Lifescience Logistics LLC,

Enclosed you will find a FINAL ORDER resulting from your hearing before the Board. While the entire order is important, I particularly direct your attention to the portion of the Order setting forth the mandatory obligation of your payment of a fine and costs. As you will see, those amounts are due within a specified period of time from the date of the Final Order and not the date of this letter. The order also states that your renewal will not be processed until the fine has been paid. Permit # 195184 renewal has already been issued so it has been placed on administrative hold until fine is paid.

If the referenced fine and costs are not received by the Board within the prescribed period of time, or special arrangements have not been made with the Secretary of the Board, additional charges will be brought against you.

Sincerely,

Wendy Passmore

FINAL ORDER

On October 16, 2018 this cause came before the Alabama State Board of Pharmacy (hereinafter also referred to as the "Board") on a Complaint against Lifescience Logistics, LLC (hereinafter also referred to as the "Respondent"). Evidence having been adduced thereon, the Board has determined that the following Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law are supported by the preponderant weight of evidence and law.

Findings of Facts

1. The Respondent is a Wholesale Distributor which the Board issued permit number 193417 and also a Third Party Logistics facility which the Board issued permit number 195184.

2. The Respondent was notified of the charges by certified mail at the address provided to the Board by the Respondent, however, the notice was returned by the United States Postal Service with the indication "return to sender insufficient address unable to forward". (Board's Exhibits One and Two)

3. The Respondent made no objection to the timeliness of the Notice of Hearing or the specificity of the Statement of Charges.

4. The Respondent's facility is located at 1105 East Northfield Drive, Brownsburg, Indiana 46112.

5 On April 30, 2018 the Board of Pharmacy, Department of Consumer Affairs, State of California, issued a Citation and Fine to the Respondent for failure to designate a new representative in charge for a period of four hundred and twenty-eight (428) days. (Board's Exhibit One "A").

Conclusions of Law

1. The Alabama State Board of Pharmacy has jurisdiction of this cause pursuant to Code of Alabama (1975), § 34-23-32, Code of Alabama (1975), § 34-23-32.1 , Code of Alabama (1975), § 34-23-92 (11) and (12), Code of Alabama (1975), § 41-22-12 and Board Rule 680-X-2.23.

2. The Respondent was properly notified of the charges, failed to appear, was not represented by counsel and did not contest the matter in any manner.

3. The Respondent made no objection to the timeliness of the Notice of Hearing or the specificity of the Statement of Charges.

4. The Respondent's wholesale distributor permit and third party logistics permit in the state of Alabama are due to have disciplinary sanctions imposed in that it is guilty of violating Board Rule 680-X-2.23 (3) (k) (1) and Board Rule 680-X-2.23 (3) (k) (3) and it was not qualified to possess the permits, and/or its operation was not consistent with the public safety or endangers the public health of the citizens of this state based upon violating California law relating to non-resident wholesales as set out in the Citation and Fine entered by the California State Board of Pharmacy on April 30, 2018 and/or the failure to have a licensed designated representative in charge for Four Hundred Twenty-Eight (428) days as described in the referenced Citation and Fine.

The attached Citation and Fine, ("Citation") is being issued pursuant to Business and Professions Code section 125.9 and California Code of Regulations, title 16, section 1775 et. seq., for violations of the laws and regulations that govern the practice of pharmacy in California. (For exact language refer to the California Pharmacy Law and Index, located on the Board's web site, at www.pharmacy.ca.gov, under Pharmacy Law and Regulation).

The attached Citation references the specific statutes and regulations violated, defines each violation charged and specifies any fine(s) assessed. The attached Citation details the conduct that resulted in the issuance of the Citation.

IT IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY TO READ THE ENTIRE CITATION AND INSTRUCTIONS, TO UNDERSTAND THE PROCESS FOR CONTESTING THE CITATION AND TO RESPOND TO THE CITATION WITHIN THE FOLLOWING TIME FRAMES:

- May 14, 2018: Any contest of the Citation by request for an informal Office Conference must be received by the Board.
- May 30, 2018: Any contest of the Citation by request for a formal Appeal must be received by the Board.

The issuance of a Citation by the Board of Pharmacy is considered an administrative action and substantiated resolution of a complaint and/or investigation. If a hearing is not requested to contest the Citation(s), payment of any fine(s) shall not constitute an admission of the violation(s) charged. Payment in full of the fine(s) assessed shall be represented as a satisfactory resolution of the matter in any public disclosure. (Business and Professions Code section 125.9; California Code of Regulations section 1775).

Additionally, if, at the time of license renewal, the Board has not received full payment of assessed fine(s) and a request to contest the Citation has not been received within the time frames specified, the license shall not be renewed until the assessed fine(s) and renewal fee/s are paid in full.

RE: LSL Explanation for Colorado Citation from 2017

To Whom It May Concern:

This memo provides an explanation of the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy's citation and fine of Life Science Logistics in March 2017.

On April 27th, 2016, the Board received an Application for Change of Designated Representative (DR) from LifeScience Logistics, LLC. The form indicated the prior DR, Thomas Kennedy, disassociated November 16th, 2015, and that Henry Tillman took over as the new DR the same day. However, the resume for the Designated Representative was received July 18th, 2016. Therefore, approximately 180 days had transpired from the time the previous Designated Representative left the position until the time the application was received: and approximately 240 days had transpired from the time the previous Designated Representative left the position, and the new Designated Representative's resume was received.

This finding was determined to be a violation of Board Rule 15.01.14(c) states that any change in the designated representative of a wholesaler shall be reported to the Board on a form supplied by the Board within 30 calendar days of such change. An administrative fine was issued.

In response, the administrative fine was paid, and proof of abatement provided to the board for the citation. The payment and documentation were received and accepted as satisfactorily resolving the matter.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if there are any additional questions.

RE: Case 2016-3687 concerning LifeScience Logisitics, WHO 7828

Dear Mr. Tillman:

The Colorado State Board of Pharmacy ("Board") has received the attached complaint regarding the conduct of the Board-registered out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler detailed above. The Board is investigating this complaint. It is being sent to you as the designated representative of the above listed out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler. The first step in the process is to obtain your response to the allegations raised in the complaint. At this point, no assumption has been made about the truth or validity of any information provided to the Board.

Please send a written response within thirty (30) days of the date of this letter as indicated above. An earlier response may expedite the Board's review of this matter. To facilitate an efficient and timely review, please type your response. If this is not possible, please legibly print your response.

We encourage you to respond electronically. If you do, please submit the response to jean.rowcliffe@ state.co.us. Please scan and attach any relevant documents. Address all correspondence to the Board.

Also, please be sure that any copies submitted with your response are legible. Be sure to include the case number listed above on all correspondences and address your response to my attention.

It is the policy of the Division of Professions and Occupations to copy your attorney (if you are represented) on all correspondences in order to assure that your attorney is aware of the developments in your case. If you are represented by an attorney in this matter, please provide the Board in writing with your attorney's contact information. If the Board already has your attorney's contact information, your attorney name should be identified below as a carbon copy of "cc," indicating that a copy of this letter was sent to that attorney. If at any time it appears that the Board does not have the correct information regarding your legal representation, please update the Board and provide your attorney with a copy of all correspondences from the Board.

We strongly encourage you to begin preparing your response to the complaint as soon as possible, as extensions to the thirty day response time will not be granted except in very limited circumstances. Additionally, if you choose to be represented by an attorney, please contact him or her immediately. A delay in doing so will not be grounds for an extension.

Following receipt of your response, the Board will review the complaint and your response thereto. The Board will then determine what further action, if any, is warranted. Please note you will be advised in writing of the Board's disposition of this complaint.

Thank you for your cooperation and prompt attention to this matter. If you have any questions, please contact me at jean.rowcliffe@state.co.us or (303) 894-7897.

Sincerely,

Tour: The Inspector was provided with a tour suite A and B of the facility. Mr Shipley, logistics manager, explained the business model from incoming product to outgoing shipment. Specific areas such as quarantine were noted and explained to the Inspector.

Alarm/Security: Facility is alarmed and monitored by Johnson Controls Security Solutions. The system consists of a Burglar Alarm System, Access Security with door contacts, Video surveillance, motion detectors and glass break. The facility is also equipped with a sprinkler system. Security also exists to protect IT with specific user ID and passwords for each employee and 15-minute interval timeouts are in place for user inactivity. Server files are backed up daily by an off-site vendor, i365 in Utah. Employees undergo a background check prior to employment, and they always escort visitors within the facility after the visitors sign upon entering. In case of an alarm breach, the monitoring company first calls the building then the first authorized employee on the call list. It is then decided if the police are to be notified. The Inspector was provided a copy of Johnson Controls contract.

Pest Control: Hernandes provided the Inspector with Pest Control invoices and a contract. The Firm is serviced by Florida Pest Control, Fort Lauderdale, Florida. The service includes all interior spaces and the outside perimeter. Service is monthly and a detailed map was also provided showing where traps are located and what is being targeted.

Temperature/Humidity: The Firm is maintained with a Controlled Room Temperature (CRT) of 68-77 degrees F. The temperature and humidity are monitored through a continuous electron monitoring system. There are many loggers throughout the warehouse. The Inspector was provided several temperature and humidity graphs showing continuous monitoring and min and max alarm levels for temperature and humidity. Regarding refrigeration and freezer storage. The Firm does store refrigerated products at 2-8 degrees Celsius according to Hernandes. A graph showing continuous monitoring of the refrigeration temperature was provided to the Inspector. Currently, the Firm does not store any products that require freezer storage.

Quarantine: Inspector was provided a picture of a large secure cage with shelfing units that the Firm utilizes for quarantine products. The large cage is clearly labeled. The Firm states in their SOP-WH-001 that products will be quarantined if products appear to be suspicious or criminal activity is suspected, or the possibility of a counterfeit product being received. The Firm will report the incident to the appropriate state regulatory agency, FDA and the manufacturer. The products will remain quarantined until further guidance from the FDA and the authorized regulatory agency. Products are also quarantined after receiving an inbound shipment that is suspected to be adulterate, misbranded, counterfeit or contraband. In this case Quality Assurance Management is notified and proceeds with steps outlined in the SOP.

Receipt/Storage/Distribution: The Client notifies the Firm of an incoming shipment. The Firm enters product information in DATEX which is the Firms electronic business management model for warehousing, storage and fulfillment. The Client will provide a COA and ASN. Products are placed in a designated area (quarantined) waiting to be released for distribution by the Client. Products are stored under appropriate temperature and humidity conditions in accordance to product labeling. Then only inventory issued with a COA, MSDA or SDS (if applicable) and/or Certificate of Compliance (if applicable), Product Release and Packing Slip by the customer/manufacturer will be shipped and distributed.

Natural Disasters/Emergencies: Hernandes provided the Inspector with SOP-WH-007 which outlines the procedures for Natural Disasters, Emergencies/Disaster and a Hazardous Material incident. The SOP includes Preparedness and Recovery Plans regarding a particular event. The Quality Assurance Department and Operations Management is mainly responsible to carry out the plan. The IT Department is responsible for securing computers and recovery of data and other technology equipment (hardware and software).

Inbound: Hernandes states that inbound documents consist of Receiving slip and BOL. (The Inspector was sent copies of inbound documents). Inspector noted that also a COA is included with some inbound documents and a ASN.

Outbound: Hernandes states that outbound documents consist of a Packing slip and BOL. The Inspector was sent copies of both and will use these documents for the exit inspection exercise on the Departments tablet.

Records: Firm uses DATEX which is a fully integrated real-time business management system. It provides electronic modules for warehousing, storage and fulfillment as well as operational, financial and accounting information per SOP WH-002. Records are maintained mostly electronically and some manual. Records are kept for ? years ???? and records are kept on-site ????????? according to DSCSA: SOP-WH-042 states trading partners such as manufactures, packagers and wholesale distributors must provide and capture drug product tracing information. The Inspector was provided documents at the inspection showing T3, T history and T statement.

Inventory: (FIFO) According to SOP-WH-035, an annual inventory count of the entire warehouse takes place on or about the last business day of each year. Also, daily cycle count procedures occur depending on the product picking methodology within the DATEX System. SOP-WH-031 states the Firm utilizes a FIFO/FEFO rule for shipping of products.

Recalls: The Firm is a 3PL, therefore it does not initiate prescription drug recalls. It is the responsibility of the Client to notify the FDA of a product recall. The Firm monitors the product status in its DATEX System and if the product is updated to "Recalled" in the system the product is immediately removed from dispensing area and put into a designated area for Quarantine. The recalled prescription drug product will then be processed in accordance to the Client's guidelines.

Reverse Distributor/Destruction: Hernandes states the Firm utilizes Daniels Sharpsmart INC. for Destruction and Reverse Distribution. Certificates of Destruction were provided to the Inspector for Daniels Sharpsmart. The Inspector was provided the Florida permits for Daniels Sharpsmart Biomedical Waste for treatment, storage and transportation.

Bus Tax Receipts and 499/61N: The Firm keeps a current version of 499/61N on its desktop. Also, Palm Beach County and Boca Raton Business Tax Receipts are clearly displayed with the Departments permit. Inspector took photographs of licenses.

Export/Samples/Repackage: Hernandes stated that the Firm does export products. She provided several Bill of Lading documents to the Inspector. Also stated was that the Firm has in the past engaged in Prescription Sampling but at this time they do not engage in this activity and currently does not have a customer with drug sample. Lastly, Hernandes states the Firm currently operates as a Prescription Repackager. The Firm has one client, Snap Medical. The Firm provides a kitting service for a Snap Medical Rx Medical Device that has a drug in it. (The Firm basically assembles the kit for Snap Medical).

Due Diligence: It is the responsibility of the Quality Assurance Department to grant final approval of all Vendors, Customers and Carriers. Vendors and Customers are identified for legitimacy and proper licensing with federal and state agencies. If the Firm is unable to authenticate a vendor or customer or if criminal activity is suspected the appropriate Board of Pharmacy is notified within 3 days. If any criminal activity is suspected regarding DSCSA, the FDA will be notified within 24 hours. All Common Carriers are identified for identity, legitimacy and proper licensing to transport prescription drugs. The Firm will verify with the "Secure Transport Solutions" that a product can be maintained, and that identity, strength, quality and purity are not affected.

RELIABLE HEALTHCARE LOGISTICS, LLC	NO.: 24-20252-JDL
Debtor	CHAPTER 11

ORDER CONFIRMING PLAN OF REORGANIZATION FOR RELIABLE HEALTHCARE LOGISTICS, LLC BY TRUSTED PARTNER PHARMA LOGISTICS LLC AS COMPETING PLAN OF REORGANIZATION

Upon Trusted Partner Pharma Logistics, LLC filed a Competing Plan of Reorganization on April 3, 2025 (ECF No. 318), notice being sent to all creditors and parties in interest with plans and ballots of Reliable Healthcare Logistics, LLC ("Reliable") (ECF No. 321) the Court held confirmation hearing on June 26, 2025 based upon the Tally of Ballots for each competing Plan, objection filed by US Trustee; Limited Objection filed by Creditor Pool 5 Industrial TX, LLC ("Pool 5"); and the Limited Objection filed by BCI IV

Palm Beach CC LLC ("BCI IV") . At the hearing on these matters, the Court found the competing Plan of Reliable according to Tally of Ballots was not capable of confirmation and proceeded on the Tally of Ballots of TPPL and the cram down provisions of 11 U.S.C. Section 1129 for confirmation. After testimony of Benjamin Maziel, witness for TPPL on the elements for confirmation; argument and statements of counsel the Court found TPPL Plan confirmable as orally amended at the hearing and makes findings of fact and conclusions of law as follows:

1. The TPPL Plan complies with the applicable provisions of this title.
2. TPPL complies with applicable provisions of Title 11.
3. TPPL based on testimony of the witness has proposed the Plan in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law.
4. TPPL Plan and witness disclosed all the principals of reorganized company and all payments to be made or to be made acquiring property under the Plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the Plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of the court as reasonable.
5. TPPL by Plan and witness has disclosed the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint plan with the debtor under the plan and such appointment to such office is consistent with the interests of creditors and public policy. There is no insider that will be employed or retained by the reorganized debtor.
6. With respect to each impaired class of claims or interest the impaired class has accepted the TPPL Plan or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under Chapter 7 of this title on such date.

7. Class 3.04 Pre-Petition Unsecured Claim of BCI IV treatment is amended to provide as follows:

Class 3.04 consists of the allowed unsecured claim due to BCI IV Palm Beach, LLC ("BCI") for prepetition rent arrearages in the amount of $550,915.57 (the "Cure Amount") for the lease of non-residential real property located at 951 Clint Moore Road, Boca Raton, Florida (the "Lease"). Upon the Effective Date, the Lease shall be assumed by the Debtor. BCI shall retain its pre-petition security deposit as security for the lease. Upon the Effective Date, BCI shall have an allowed unsecured claim for the Cure Amount and the Debtor shall pay thirty percent (30%) of the Cure Amount. The balance of the Cure Amount shall be paid in 9 equal monthly installments commencing thirty days following the initial payment. Upon written notice from BCI of any default by the Debtor in the payment of the Cure Amount, the Debtor shall have ten (10) days to cure such default. Any defaults with respect to the payment of ongoing rent payments shall be governed by the terms of the Lease.

8. Class 4.04 Pre-Petition Unsecured Claims of Certain Lawsuits is amended to specify in the Encube litigation that the Reorganized Debtor will dismiss the Delaware litigation against Encube with prejudice and Encube will not receive any distribution on its claim against the Debtor; that the Debtor's objection to Encube's claim is deemed compromised and settled and by this amendment Encube accepts the Plan and all costs associated with such litigation will be paid by each party for their own fees and expenses.

9. Class 5 Interests of Reliable Healthcare Logistics Investments, LLC, pre-petition sole membership interest in the Debtor, is extinguished on the Effective Date. TPPL is contributing new capital to the reorganized debtor in the amount of $500,000 in exchange for one hundred percent (100%) of the membership interest in the reorganized Debtor. The Reorganized Debtor continues to be the same legal entity upon confirmation. The new capital will be paid on or before the Effective Date in full. Class 5

10. All property comprising of the Estate (including causes of action, but excluding property that has been abandoned pursuant to an order of the Bankruptcy Court) shall vest in the Reorganized Debtor, as of the Effective Date, free and clear of all Claims, liens, charges, encumbrances, rights and Interests of creditors and equity security holders. As of the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor may operate its business and use, acquire, and dispose of property and settle and compromise Claims or Interests without supervision of the Bankruptcy Court, free of any restrictions of the Bankruptcy Code or Bankruptcy Rules, other than those restrictions expressly imposed by this Plan and Confirmation Order. Except as otherwise provided in any provision of the Plan, upon entry of the Order of Confirmation and pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1141(b) and (c), any and all property of the Estate shall vest in the reorganized Debtor free of all liens, security interests, mortgages or other interests in property secured by an Allowed Claim except as expressly provided for in the Plan. Pursuant to §1146(c), no stamp taxes, transfer tax or Tennessee indebtedness tax or other similar taxes shall be due as a result of the making or delivery of an instrument of transfer pursuant to the Plan.

11. Paragraph K.(4) on Exculpation and Limitation of Liability of TPPL Plan is hereby deleted in full upon objection of US Trustee.

12. Pursuant to this Court's order of March 31, 2025, the proof of claim of Pool 5 Industrial TX, LLC is disallowed. Pool 5 has appealed the Court's order. In the event Pool 5's claim becomes an allowed administrative expense claim or allowed unsecured claim, then such claim shall be deemed incorporated into the Plan with the same priority and classification as such other similarly situated administrative expense claims (Class 1) and/or pre-petition unsecured claims related to rejected/terminated leases (Class 4.01).

13. The Plan will become effective on or before the first business day following fourteen (14) days after the Confirmation Order becomes a Final Order. Upon Final Order the Reorganized Debtor will have full access to all accounts, books and records of Reliable.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED THAT the objections to Plan are denied and the Court makes findings of fact and conclusions of law in regard to the Plan and confirmation as stated above. There is at least one accepting impaired class voting for Plan of TPPL. The TPPL Plan is confirmed based upon the testimony of the witness and amendments as stated herein.

RELIABLE HEALTHCARE LOGISTICS, LLC	NO.: 24-20252-JDL
Debtor	CHAPTER 11

ORDER CONFIRMING PLAN OF REORGANIZATION FOR RELIABLE HEALTHCARE LOGISTICS, LLC BY TRUSTED PARTNER PHARMA LOGISTICS LLC AS COMPETING PLAN OF REORGANIZATION

Upon Trusted Partner Pharma Logistics, LLC filed a Competing Plan of Reorganization on April 3, 2025 (ECF No. 318), notice being sent to all creditors and parties in interest with plans and ballots of Reliable Healthcare Logistics, LLC ("Reliable") (ECF No. 321) the Court held confirmation hearing on June 26, 2025 based upon the Tally of Ballots for each competing Plan, objection filed by US Trustee; Limited Objection filed by Creditor Pool 5 Industrial TX, LLC ("Pool 5"); and the Limited Objection filed by BCI IV

Palm Beach CC LLC ("BCI IV") . At the hearing on these matters, the Court found the competing Plan of Reliable according to Tally of Ballots was not capable of confirmation and proceeded on the Tally of Ballots of TPPL and the cram down provisions of 11 U.S.C. Section 1129 for confirmation. After testimony of Benjamin Maziel, witness for TPPL on the elements for confirmation; argument and statements of counsel the Court found TPPL Plan confirmable as orally amended at the hearing and makes findings of fact and conclusions of law as follows:

1. The TPPL Plan complies with the applicable provisions of this title.
2. TPPL complies with applicable provisions of Title 11.
3. TPPL based on testimony of the witness has proposed the Plan in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law.
4. TPPL Plan and witness disclosed all the principals of reorganized company and all payments to be made or to be made acquiring property under the Plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the Plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of the court as reasonable.
5. TPPL by Plan and witness has disclosed the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint plan with the debtor under the plan and such appointment to such office is consistent with the interests of creditors and public policy. There is no insider that will be employed or retained by the reorganized debtor.
6. With respect to each impaired class of claims or interest the impaired class has accepted the TPPL Plan or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under Chapter 7 of this title on such date.

7. Class 3.04 Pre-Petition Unsecured Claim of BCI IV treatment is amended to provide as follows:

Class 3.04 consists of the allowed unsecured claim due to BCI IV Palm Beach, LLC ("BCI") for prepetition rent arrearages in the amount of $550,915.57 (the "Cure Amount") for the lease of non-residential real property located at 951 Clint Moore Road, Boca Raton, Florida (the "Lease"). Upon the Effective Date, the Lease shall be assumed by the Debtor. BCI shall retain its pre-petition security deposit as security for the lease. Upon the Effective Date, BCI shall have an allowed unsecured claim for the Cure Amount and the Debtor shall pay thirty percent (30%) of the Cure Amount. The balance of the Cure Amount shall be paid in 9 equal monthly installments commencing thirty days following the initial payment. Upon written notice from BCI of any default by the Debtor in the payment of the Cure Amount, the Debtor shall have ten (10) days to cure such default. Any defaults with respect to the payment of ongoing rent payments shall be governed by the terms of the Lease.

8. Class 4.04 Pre-Petition Unsecured Claims of Certain Lawsuits is amended to specify in the Encube litigation that the Reorganized Debtor will dismiss the Delaware litigation against Encube with prejudice and Encube will not receive any distribution on its claim against the Debtor; that the Debtor's objection to Encube's claim is deemed compromised and settled and by this amendment Encube accepts the Plan and all costs associated with such litigation will be paid by each party for their own fees and expenses.

9. Class 5 Interests of Reliable Healthcare Logistics Investments, LLC, pre-petition sole membership interest in the Debtor, is extinguished on the Effective Date. TPPL is contributing new capital to the reorganized debtor in the amount of $500,000 in exchange for one hundred percent (100%) of the membership interest in the reorganized Debtor. The Reorganized Debtor continues to be the same legal entity upon confirmation. The new capital will be paid on or before the Effective Date in full. Class 5

10. All property comprising of the Estate (including causes of action, but excluding property that has been abandoned pursuant to an order of the Bankruptcy Court) shall vest in the Reorganized Debtor, as of the Effective Date, free and clear of all Claims, liens, charges, encumbrances, rights and Interests of creditors and equity security holders. As of the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor may operate its business and use, acquire, and dispose of property and settle and compromise Claims or Interests without supervision of the Bankruptcy Court, free of any restrictions of the Bankruptcy Code or Bankruptcy Rules, other than those restrictions expressly imposed by this Plan and Confirmation Order. Except as otherwise provided in any provision of the Plan, upon entry of the Order of Confirmation and pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1141(b) and (c), any and all property of the Estate shall vest in the reorganized Debtor free of all liens, security interests, mortgages or other interests in property secured by an Allowed Claim except as expressly provided for in the Plan. Pursuant to §1146(c), no stamp taxes, transfer tax or Tennessee indebtedness tax or other similar taxes shall be due as a result of the making or delivery of an instrument of transfer pursuant to the Plan.

11. Paragraph K.(4) on Exculpation and Limitation of Liability of TPPL Plan is hereby deleted in full upon objection of US Trustee.

12. Pursuant to this Court's order of March 31, 2025, the proof of claim of Pool 5 Industrial TX, LLC is disallowed. Pool 5 has appealed the Court's order. In the event Pool 5's claim becomes an allowed administrative expense claim or allowed unsecured claim, then such claim shall be deemed incorporated into the Plan with the same priority and classification as such other similarly situated administrative expense claims (Class 1) and/or pre-petition unsecured claims related to rejected/terminated leases (Class 4.01).

13. The Plan will become effective on or before the first business day following fourteen (14) days after the Confirmation Order becomes a Final Order. Upon Final Order the Reorganized Debtor will have full access to all accounts, books and records of Reliable.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED THAT the objections to Plan are denied and the Court makes findings of fact and conclusions of law in regard to the Plan and confirmation as stated above. There is at least one accepting impaired class voting for Plan of TPPL. The TPPL Plan is confirmed based upon the testimony of the witness and amendments as stated herein.

Re: Third Party Logistics Providers

Per H.R. 3204, DQSA, Uniform National Policy, Sec. 585 (b)(2) New Jersey does not regulate third-party logistics providers as wholesale distributors. To qualify for a wholesale drug or medical device registration, a facility must conduct regulated wholesale distribution or manufacturing activity as defined in N.J.A.C. 8:21-3A.3, therefore New Jersey does not issue or require registration of third party logistics providers.

RELIABLE HEALTHCARE LOGISTICS, LLC	NO.: 24-20252-JDL
Debtor	CHAPTER 11

ORDER CONFIRMING PLAN OF REORGANIZATION FOR RELIABLE HEALTHCARE LOGISTICS, LLC BY TRUSTED PARTNER PHARMA LOGISTICS LLC AS COMPETING PLAN OF REORGANIZATION

Upon Trusted Partner Pharma Logistics, LLC filed a Competing Plan of Reorganization on April 3, 2025 (ECF No. 318), notice being sent to all creditors and parties in interest with plans and ballots of Reliable Healthcare Logistics, LLC ("Reliable") (ECF No. 321) the Court held confirmation hearing on June 26, 2025 based upon the Tally of Ballots for each competing Plan, objection filed by US Trustee; Limited Objection filed by Creditor Pool 5 Industrial TX, LLC ("Pool 5"): and the Limited Objection filed by BCI IV

Palm Beach CC LLC ("BCI IV") . At the hearing on these matters, the Court found the competing Plan of Reliable according to Tally of Ballots was not capable of confirmation and proceeded on the Tally of Ballots of TPPL and the cram down provisions of 11 U.S.C. Section 1129 for confirmation. After testimony of Benjamin Maziel, witness for TPPL on the elements for confirmation; argument and statements of counsel the Court found TPPL Plan confirmable as orally amended at the hearing and makes findings of fact and conclusions of law as follows:

1. The TPPL Plan complies with the applicable provisions of this title.
2. TPPL complies with applicable provisions of Title 11.
3. TPPL based on testimony of the witness has proposed the Plan in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law.
4. TPPL Plan and witness disclosed all the principals of reorganized company and all payments to be made or to be made acquiring property under the Plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the Plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of the court as reasonable.
5. TPPL by Plan and witness has disclosed the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint plan with the debtor under the plan and such appointment to such office is consistent with the interests of creditors and public policy. There is no insider that will be employed or retained by the reorganized debtor.
6. With respect to each impaired class of claims or interest the impaired class has accepted the TPPL Plan or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under Chapter 7 of this title on such date.

7. Class 3.04 Pre-Petition Unsecured Claim of BCI IV treatment is amended to provide as follows:

Class 3.04 consists of the allowed unsecured claim due to BCI IV Palm Beach, LLC ("BCI") for prepetition rent arrearages in the amount of $550,915.57 (the "Cure Amount") for the lease of non-residential real property located at 951 Clint Moore Road, Boca Raton, Florida (the "Lease"). Upon the Effective Date, the Lease shall be assumed by the Debtor. BCI shall retain its pre-petition security deposit as security for the lease. Upon the Effective Date, BCI shall have an allowed unsecured claim for the Cure Amount and the Debtor shall pay thirty percent (30%) of the Cure Amount. The balance of the Cure Amount shall be paid in 9 equal monthly installments commencing thirty days following the initial payment. Upon written notice from BCI of any default by the Debtor in the payment of the Cure Amount, the Debtor shall have ten (10) days to cure such default. Any defaults with respect to the payment of ongoing rent payments shall be governed by the terms of the Lease.

8. Class 4.04 Pre-Petition Unsecured Claims of Certain Lawsuits is amended to specify in the Encube litigation that the Reorganized Debtor will dismiss the Delaware litigation against Encube with prejudice and Encube will not receive any distribution on its claim against the Debtor; that the Debtor's objection to Encube's claim is deemed compromised and settled and by this amendment Encube accepts the Plan and all costs associated with such litigation will be paid by each party for their own fees and expenses.

9. Class 5 Interests of Reliable Healthcare Logistics Investments, LLC, pre-petition sole membership interest in the Debtor, is extinguished on the Effective Date. TPPL is contributing new capital to the reorganized debtor in the amount of $500,000 in exchange for one hundred percent (100%) of the membership interest in the reorganized Debtor. The Reorganized Debtor continues to be the same legal entity upon confirmation. The new capital will be paid on or before the Effective Date in full. Class 5

10. All property comprising of the Estate (including causes of action, but excluding property that has been abandoned pursuant to an order of the Bankruptcy Court) shall vest in the Reorganized Debtor, as of the Effective Date, free and clear of all Claims, liens, charges, encumbrances, rights and Interests of creditors and equity security holders. As of the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor may operate its business and use, acquire, and dispose of property and settle and compromise Claims or Interests without supervision of the Bankruptcy Court, free of any restrictions of the Bankruptcy Code or Bankruptcy Rules, other than those restrictions expressly imposed by this Plan and Confirmation Order. Except as otherwise provided in any provision of the Plan, upon entry of the Order of Confirmation and pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1141(b) and (c), any and all property of the Estate shall vest in the reorganized Debtor free of all liens, security interests, mortgages or other interests in property secured by an Allowed Claim except as expressly provided for in the Plan. Pursuant to §1146(c), no stamp taxes, transfer tax or Tennessee indebtedness tax or other similar taxes shall be due as a result of the making or delivery of an instrument of transfer pursuant to the Plan.

11. Paragraph K.(4) on Exculpation and Limitation of Liability of TPPL Plan is hereby deleted in full upon objection of US Trustee.

12. Pursuant to this Court's order of March 31, 2025, the proof of claim of Pool 5 Industrial TX, LLC is disallowed. Pool 5 has appealed the Court's order. In the event Pool 5's claim becomes an allowed administrative expense claim or allowed unsecured claim, then such claim shall be deemed incorporated into the Plan with the same priority and classification as such other similarly situated administrative expense claims (Class 1) and/or pre-petition unsecured claims related to rejected/terminated leases (Class 4.01).

13. The Plan will become effective on or before the first business day following fourteen (14) days after the Confirmation Order becomes a Final Order. Upon Final Order the Reorganized Debtor will have full access to all accounts, books and records of Reliable.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED THAT the objections to Plan are denied and the Court makes findings of fact and conclusions of law in regard to the Plan and confirmation as stated above. There is at least one accepting impaired class voting for Plan of TPPL. The TPPL Plan is confirmed based upon the testimony of the witness and amendments as stated herein.

RELIABLE HEALTHCARE LOGISTICS, LLC	NO.: 24-20252-JDL
Debtor	CHAPTER 11

ORDER CONFIRMING PLAN OF REORGANIZATION FOR RELIABLE HEALTHCARE LOGISTICS, LLC BY TRUSTED PARTNER PHARMA LOGISTICS LLC AS COMPETING PLAN OF REORGANIZATION

Upon Trusted Partner Pharma Logistics, LLC filed a Competing Plan of Reorganization on April 3, 2025 (ECF No. 318), notice being sent to all creditors and parties in interest with plans and ballots of Reliable Healthcare Logistics, LLC ("Reliable") (ECF No. 321) the Court held confirmation hearing on June 26, 2025 based upon the Tally of Ballots for each competing Plan, objection filed by US Trustee; Limited Objection filed by Creditor Pool 5 Industrial TX, LLC ("Pool 5"); and the Limited Objection filed by BCI IV

Palm Beach CC LLC ("BCI IV") . At the hearing on these matters, the Court found the competing Plan of Reliable according to Tally of Ballots was not capable of confirmation and proceeded on the Tally of Ballots of TPPL and the cram down provisions of 11 U.S.C. Section 1129 for confirmation. After testimony of Benjamin Maziel, witness for TPPL on the elements for confirmation; argument and statements of counsel the Court found TPPL Plan confirmable as orally amended at the hearing and makes findings of fact and conclusions of law as follows:

1. The TPPL Plan complies with the applicable provisions of this title.
2. TPPL complies with applicable provisions of Title 11.
3. TPPL based on testimony of the witness has proposed the Plan in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law.
4. TPPL Plan and witness disclosed all the principals of reorganized company and all payments to be made or to be made acquiring property under the Plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the Plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of the court as reasonable.
5. TPPL by Plan and witness has disclosed the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint plan with the debtor under the plan and such appointment to such office is consistent with the interests of creditors and public policy. There is no insider that will be employed or retained by the reorganized debtor.
6. With respect to each impaired class of claims or interest the impaired class has accepted the TPPL Plan or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under Chapter 7 of this title on such date.

7. Class 3.04 Pre-Petition Unsecured Claim of BCI IV treatment is amended to provide as follows:

Class 3.04 consists of the allowed unsecured claim due to BCI IV Palm Beach, LLC ("BCI") for prepetition rent arrearages in the amount of $550,915.57 (the "Cure Amount") for the lease of non-residential real property located at 951 Clint Moore Road, Boca Raton, Florida (the "Lease"). Upon the Effective Date, the Lease shall be assumed by the Debtor. BCI shall retain its pre-petition security deposit as security for the lease. Upon the Effective Date, BCI shall have an allowed unsecured claim for the Cure Amount and the Debtor shall pay thirty percent (30%) of the Cure Amount. The balance of the Cure Amount shall be paid in 9 equal monthly installments commencing thirty days following the initial payment. Upon written notice from BCI of any default by the Debtor in the payment of the Cure Amount, the Debtor shall have ten (10) days to cure such default. Any defaults with respect to the payment of ongoing rent payments shall be governed by the terms of the Lease.

8. Class 4.04 Pre-Petition Unsecured Claims of Certain Lawsuits is amended to specify in the Encube litigation that the Reorganized Debtor will dismiss the Delaware litigation against Encube with prejudice and Encube will not receive any distribution on its claim against the Debtor; that the Debtor's objection to Encube's claim is deemed compromised and settled and by this amendment Encube accepts the Plan and all costs associated with such litigation will be paid by each party for their own fees and expenses.

9. Class 5 Interests of Reliable Healthcare Logistics Investments, LLC, pre-petition sole membership interest in the Debtor, is extinguished on the Effective Date. RELIABLE HEALTHCARE LOGISTICS, LLC	NO.: 24-20252-JDL
Debtor	CHAPTER 11

ORDER CONFIRMING PLAN OF REORGANIZATION FOR RELIABLE HEALTHCARE LOGISTICS, LLC BY TRUSTED PARTNER PHARMA LOGISTICS LLC AS COMPETING PLAN OF REORGANIZATION

Upon Trusted Partner Pharma Logistics, LLC filed a Competing Plan of Reorganization on April 3, 2025 (ECF No. 318), notice being sent to all creditors and parties in interest with plans and ballots of Reliable Healthcare Logistics, LLC ("Reliable") (ECF No. 321) the Court held confirmation hearing on June 26, 2025 based upon the Tally of Ballots for each competing Plan, objection filed by US Trustee; Limited Objection filed by Creditor Pool 5 Industrial TX, LLC ("Pool 5"); and the Limited Objection filed by BCI IV

Palm Beach CC LLC ("BCI IV") . At the hearing on these matters, the Court found the competing Plan of Reliable according to Tally of Ballots was not capable of confirmation and proceeded on the Tally of Ballots of TPPL and the cram down provisions of 11 U.S.C. Section 1129 for confirmation. After testimony of Benjamin Maziel, witness for TPPL on the elements for confirmation; argument and statements of counsel the Court found TPPL Plan confirmable as orally amended at the hearing and makes findings of fact and conclusions of law as follows:

1. The TPPL Plan complies with the applicable provisions of this title.
2. TPPL complies with applicable provisions of Title 11.
3. TPPL based on testimony of the witness has proposed the Plan in good faith and not by any means forbidden by law.
4. TPPL Plan and witness disclosed all the principals of reorganized company and all payments to be made or to be made acquiring property under the Plan, for services or for costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the Plan and incident to the case, has been approved by, or is subject to the approval of the court as reasonable.
5. TPPL by Plan and witness has disclosed the identity and affiliations of any individual proposed to serve, after confirmation of the plan, as a director, officer, or voting trustee of the debtor, an affiliate of the debtor participating in a joint plan with the debtor under the plan and such appointment to such office is consistent with the interests of creditors and public policy. There is no insider that will be employed or retained by the reorganized debtor.
6. With respect to each impaired class of claims or interest the impaired class has accepted the TPPL Plan or will receive or retain under the plan on account of such claim or interest property of a value, as of the effective date of the plan, that is not less than the amount that such holder would so receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under Chapter 7 of this title on such date.

7. Class 3.04 Pre-Petition Unsecured Claim of BCI IV treatment is amended to provide as follows:

Class 3.04 consists of the allowed unsecured claim due to BCI IV Palm Beach, LLC ("BCI") for prepetition rent arrearages in the amount of $550,915.57 (the "Cure Amount") for the lease of non-residential real property located at 951 Clint Moore Road, Boca Raton, Florida (the "Lease"). Upon the Effective Date, the Lease shall be assumed by the Debtor. BCI shall retain its pre-petition security deposit as security for the lease. Upon the Effective Date, BCI shall have an allowed unsecured claim for the Cure Amount and the Debtor shall pay thirty percent (30%) of the Cure Amount. The balance of the Cure Amount shall be paid in 9 equal monthly installments commencing thirty days following the initial payment. Upon written notice from BCI of any default by the Debtor in the payment of the Cure Amount, the Debtor shall have ten (10) days to cure such default. Any defaults with respect to the payment of ongoing rent payments shall be governed by the terms of the Lease.

8. Class 4.04 Pre-Petition Unsecured Claims of Certain Lawsuits is amended to specify in the Encube litigation that the Reorganized Debtor will dismiss the Delaware litigation against Encube with prejudice and Encube will not receive any distribution on its claim against the Debtor; that the Debtor's objection to Encube's claim is deemed compromised and settled and by this amendment Encube accepts the Plan and all costs associated with such litigation will be paid by each party for their own fees and expenses.

9. Class 5 Interests of Reliable Healthcare Logistics Investments, LLC, pre-petition sole membership interest in the Debtor, is extinguished on the Effective Date. TPPL is contributing new capital to the reorganized debtor in the amount of $500,000 in exchange for one hundred percent (100%) of the membership interest in the reorganized Debtor. The Reorganized Debtor continues to be the same legal entity upon confirmation. The new capital will be paid on or before the Effective Date in full. Class 5

10. All property comprising of the Estate (including causes of action, but excluding property that has been abandoned pursuant to an order of the Bankruptcy Court) shall vest in the Reorganized Debtor, as of the Effective Date, free and clear of all Claims, liens, charges, encumbrances, rights and Interests of creditors and equity security holders. As of the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtor may operate its business and use, acquire, and dispose of property and settle and compromise Claims or Interests without supervision of the Bankruptcy Court, free of any restrictions of the Bankruptcy Code or Bankruptcy Rules, other than those restrictions expressly imposed by this Plan and Confirmation Order. Except as otherwise provided in any provision of the Plan, upon entry of the Order of Confirmation and pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1141(b) and (c), any and all property of the Estate shall vest in the reorganized Debtor free of all liens, security interests, mortgages or other interests in property secured by an Allowed Claim except as expressly provided for in the Plan. Pursuant to §1146(c), no stamp taxes, transfer tax or Tennessee indebtedness tax or other similar taxes shall be due as a result of the making or delivery of an instrument of transfer pursuant to the Plan.

11. Paragraph K.(4) on Exculpation and Limitation of Liability of TPPL Plan is hereby deleted in full upon objection of US Trustee.

12. Pursuant to this Court's order of March 31, 2025, the proof of claim of Pool 5 Industrial TX, LLC is disallowed. Pool 5 has appealed the Court's order. In the event Pool 5's claim becomes an allowed administrative expense claim or allowed unsecured claim, then such claim shall be deemed incorporated into the Plan with the same priority and classification as such other similarly situated administrative expense claims (Class 1) and/or pre-petition unsecured claims related to rejected/terminated leases (Class 4.01).

13. The Plan will become effective on or before the first business day following fourteen (14) days after the Confirmation Order becomes a Final Order. Upon Final Order the Reorganized Debtor will have full access to all accounts, books and records of Reliable.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED THAT the objections to Plan are denied and the Court makes findings of fact and conclusions of law in regard to the Plan and confirmation as stated above. There is at least one accepting impaired class voting for Plan of TPPL. The TPPL Plan is confirmed based upon the testimony of the witness and amendments as stated herein.

Challenges Polaris Faced in Minnesota

Polaris entered the Minnesota market in November 2018. The company operates only one pharmacy in Minnesota, which is located at 5220 Park Glen Road, St. Louis Park. Polaris' early experience in Minnesota was not without its challenges, but the company has made a good faith effort to address its challenges and is constantly looking to improve.

When Polaris entered the Minnesota market, it was surprised to find a labor market (particularly for pharmacy technicians) that was much tighter than other markets in which Polaris operates and experienced more staff turnover in Minnesota than it is accustomed to in other markets. The Covid-19 pandemic obviously put an incredible amount of stress on every stakeholder in the pharmacy industry, and Polaris was no exception. The pandemic made it even more difficult for Polaris to recruit, hire, and retain talented staff.

Polaris continues to believe it did not engage in central services by having Minnesota-licensed technicians located in Florida perform remote order entry tasks in connection with prescription orders filled in Minnesota. In letters to the Board dated July 19, 2019, Polaris explained why it began using Minnesota-licensed technicians based in Florida to assist Polaris Minnesota with order entry tasks.

In sum, during its initial months of operation, Polaris faced an unanticipated and unacceptable backlog of prescription orders that needed to be filled in Minnesota. The backlog resulted largely from Polaris' inability to recruit and retain enough capable pharmacy technicians in Minnesota during the early months of operation. To address the backlog and ensure the timely delivery of prescriptions to Minnesota patients, Polaris initially had Minnesota-licensed technicians based in Florida perform order entry services on behalf of Polaris Minnesota. These technicians were experienced technicians who were licensed in Minnesota before they performed order entry work for Polaris Minnesota. Further, while performing remote order entry work from a Polaris Florida location, these technicians were connected virtually to Polaris Minnesota's physical workspace through Polaris' FrameworkLTC software platform, which is commonly used across the long-term care pharmacy industry. At all times, the work of these technicians was overseen by a licensed pharmacist at the Florida pharmacy (where the data was entered into FrameworkLTC), as well as a Minnesota-licensed pharmacist in the Minnesota pharmacy, who ultimately controlled and was responsible for the technicians' work and any prescriptions filled in connection with data they entered into the system. Additionally, until May 2019, Polaris had IND Consulting and its "Team X" do some remote order entry work for Polaris Minnesota. Aside from the order entry function, Polaris Minnesota's prescription processing and filling functions have always taken place entirely in the Minnesota pharmacy. Polaris has at times relied on similar remote order entry processes in other states without triggering central service pharmacy requirements.

Accordingly, when Polaris started using this process to help deal with the Minnesota backlog, it did not anticipate that it might be triggering central services pharmacy requirements. For this reason, Polaris initially did not submit or seek approval from the Board for a central prescription drug processing policy or procedure. In March 2019, after Board staff expressed a view that Polaris' use of Minnesota-licensed technicians based in Florida to perform remote entry work constituted an unauthorized central service arrangement, Polaris took immediate steps to address the issue. Polaris initially flew Minnesota-licensed technicians from Florida to Minnesota, so they could be physically present in the Polaris Minnesota pharmacy while performing the same order entry functions they had been performing in Florida.

Finally, Polaris sought Board approval of several remote order entry variances, with the goal of being authorized to resume using Minnesota-licensed technicians based in Florida to perform remote order entry for Polaris Minnesota, and particularly to deal with emergencies or backlogs. When Board staff initially raised this issue in March 2019, Polaris did not believe it could immediately shift all order entry functions to its limited staff in Minnesota without compromising patient safety and welfare. At the time, Polaris was still working through the backlog, onboarding new care facilities, and working hard to locate, hire, train, and retain technicians and other staff in Minnesota in a challenging labor market. Under the circumstances, Polaris determined it was necessary to continue using Minnesota licensed, Florida-based technicians for a period of time in order to deal with the backlog and continue filling prescriptions in a timely manner for patients who needed them, while simultaneously building up its Minnesota workforce and making the changes necessary to meet the expectations of Board staff. As soon as Polaris was staffed and equipped to perform all order entry functions in Minnesota, it stopped utilizing technicians who were not physically located in Minnesota altogether. Accordingly, from June 2019 to the present, Polaris has only used Minnesota-licensed technicians physically located in the Polaris Minnesota pharmacy to perform order entry work on prescription orders filled in Minnesota. Polaris took concerns raised by Board staff over remote order entry issues seriously, and it believes it acted reasonably under the circumstances to address those concerns, while also maintaining high levels of patient care.

Polaris remained committed to working cooperatively with the Board to better understand what it must do in order to utilize remote order entry processes in the future. Polaris would always attempt to rely on technicians physically located in its Minnesota pharmacy to perform data entry and other prescription filling functions. The Board acknowledged granting variance requests to many pharmacy chains and health-systems that authorize the use of remote order entry processes. In March 2020, the Board also issued Covid-19 related guidance acknowledging that pharmacists and technicians could perform various prescription drug filling functions while working remotely—including data entry of prescriptions and orders; verifying prescriptions; certifying data entry and the finished prescriptions (i.e., the product check); conducting profile and prospective drug utilization reviews; and stage-checking for compounding—so long as affiliated pharmacies were using adequate computer software and hardware for the tasks being performed. While the Board's Covid-19 guidance evolved after Governor Walz's Peacetime Emergency declaration was rescinded, Polaris continues to believe remote order entry processes like those implemented during the first few months of Polaris' operations in Minnesota were safe, effective, and should have a place in the delivery of modern pharmacy services.

The Board approved the central services variance #265679-010 on July 13, 2022 between Polaris Pharmacy Services of Minnesota, LLC and both the Polaris Pharmacies located in Tampa and Ft. Lauderdale Florida for urgent or emergent needs.

BEFORE THE MINNESOTA

BOARD OF PHARMACY

In the Matter of Polaris Pharmacy Services of Minnesota, LLC
License No. 265679

STIPULATION AND CONSENT ORDER

STIPULATION

Polaris Pharmacy Services of Minnesota, LLC ("Licensee") and the Minnesota Board of Pharmacy Committee on Professional Standards ("Committee") agree the above-referenced matter may be resolved without trial of any issue or fact as follows:

I.

JURISDICTION

1. The Minnesota Board of Pharmacy ("Board") is authorized pursuant to Minnesota Statutes chapter 151 to license and regulate pharmacies and to take disciplinary action as appropriate.

2. Licensee holds a pharmacy license from the Board and is subject to the jurisdiction of the Board with respect to the matters referred to in this Stipulation and Consent Order.

II.

CONFERENCE

3. On August 18, 2021, Licensee met with the Committee to discuss the allegations described in a Notice of Conference. Board members Kendra Metz and Stuart Williams comprised the Committee. The Board's Executive Director, Cody Wiberg; Deputy Director, Jennell Bilek; and staff attorney, Brian Park, were also present. Alex Mountain, Assistant Attorney General, represented the Committee. Brian A. Dillon, of Lathrop GPM LLP, represented licensee and was accompanied by Licensee's Pharmacist-in-Charge, Neil Uitto; Polaris' Chief Operating Officer, Steven Baker; and Polaris' Executive Vice President of Operations, Todd Zisek.

III.

FACTS

4. On or about November 1, 2018, the Board licensed Licensee as a pharmacy in Minnesota.

5. Licensee is a closed door, long-term care ("LTC") pharmacy that prepares sterile and non-sterile compounded drug products for dispensing.

6. Licensee has two affiliated pharmacy locations in Florida, both licensed by the Board as follows:

a. On or about July 8, 2016, the Board issued Polaris Rx, located in Fort Lauderdale, Florida ("Pharmacy 1"), non-resident pharmacy license #265101.

b. On or about December 5, 2018, the Board issued Polaris Pharmacy Services of Tampa, located in Tampa, Florida ("Pharmacy 2"), non-resident pharmacy license #265721.

7. On or about March 19, 2019, two Board Surveyors visited Licensee for the purpose of completing a routine inspection, met with the pharmacist-in-charge, and identified the following:

a. Seven pharmacy technicians registered by the Board and employed by Pharmacy 1 and Pharmacy 2, were living in Florida but listed their current physical address as Licensee's address in Minnesota.

b. During the inspection, the Board Surveyors cited Licensee for engaging in central services with Pharmacy 1 and Pharmacy 2, by allowing pharmacy technicians working in Florida to remotely perform data entry of prescription drug information for Minnesota patients into Licensee's Frameworks LTC prescription processing and dispensing software system ("FW-LTC"), followed by verification of the data entry by Licensee's pharmacist staff members working in Minnesota ("Central Service").

c. Prior to beginning Central Service, Licensee failed to submit a copy of its policy and procedure manual and failed to obtain Board approval to participate in a Central Service arrangement with Pharmacy 1 and Pharmacy 2.

d. Licensee disputes that it was operating a "central services arrangement" as it understands that term to be commonly used within the industry. Licensee maintains that its use of remote order entry processes was necessary under the circumstances, due to a backlog of prescription orders that had accumulated due in large part to Licensee's inability to recruit and retain sufficient staff in Minnesota during its early months of operating in the State. Nonetheless, for purposes of this stipulation, Licensee acknowledges and understands the March 2019 citation.

e. Licensee's nonsterile compounding records failed to include an assigned beyond use date ("BUD") for the final compounded drug product, or included a BUD exceeding those recommended within United States Pharmacopeia, General Chapter 795 for Pharmaceutical Compounding - Nonsterile Preparations ("USP 795"), without documentation of a reference for literature or a stability study applicable to the specific drug product allowing for extension of the BUD. Licensee avers that it responded to these findings by providing education to its staff to ensure compounded components included lot numbers, expiration dates, and BUDs, along with noting the supporting reference sources. Licensee states that it is not aware of any other issues regarding its compliance with BUD requirements since 2019.

8. On or about March 20, 2019, the Board received a complaint alleging that Licensee was utilizing pharmacy technicians from outside of Minnesota to enter prescription data. On or about April 9, 2019, a Board Surveyor reminded Licensee, after expanding its operations to 24-hours, that pharmacy technicians working outside of its Minnesota location could not be used to help with covering the additional hours that the pharmacy is open, due to the lack of Board approved policies for Central Services with Pharmacy 1 and Pharmacy 2. As noted above, Licensee disputes that it was operating a "central services arrangement" as it understands that term to be commonly used within the industry. Licensee maintains that its use of remote order entry processes was necessary under the circumstances, due to a backlog of prescription orders that had accumulated due in large part to Licensee's inability to recruit and retain sufficient staff in Minnesota during its early months of operating in the State. Nonetheless, for purposes of this stipulation, Licensee acknowledges and understands the Board's concern regarding the use of out-of-state technicians to enter prescription data.

9. On June 11, 2019, two Board Surveyors visited Licensee for the purpose of an investigation, met with representatives of the Licensee, and identified the following:

a. The pharmacist-in-charge stated that, as far as she was aware, Pharmacy 1 and Pharmacy 2, both located in Florida, were the only two locations providing Central Services for Licensee.

b. Licensee utilized a company named IND Consulting ("IND") for emergency kit ("E-kit") billing and entry of patient information when pharmacy services are initiated in a new LTC facility. IND's website states its staff are able to provide services including, but not limited to, billing services, medical record entry, and data entry solutions, with guaranteed staffing in fully operational data centers that are open 24 hours a day and 365 days a year, located within or outside of the United States across the globe in Mexico, India, the Philippines, and Florida. During the conference with the Committee, Licensee admitted that IND consulting had been used to enter prescription data for prescription drug orders ultimately dispensed by its Minnesota pharmacy. Licensee cannot definitively state where individuals affiliated with IND were licensed or physically located when entering such data.

c. At the end of the visit, the Board Surveyor's provided an Investigative Report requesting additional information and reminding Licensee again that it cannot engage in Central Services without Board approval.

10. On February 12, 2020, two Board Surveyors visited Licensee for the purposes of an investigation, met with representatives of Licensee, and identified the following:

a. After arriving at 4:36 a.m., one of the Board Surveyors observed two of Licensee's pharmacy technicians were allowed badge access to the pharmacy entrance prior to the arrival of RPh 3 at around 5:55 a.m. One technician was found to be working in the sterile compounding area and another was logged into Licensee's computer. A representative of Licensee later stated that three pharmacy technicians had been given keys and passcodes to access Licensee's pharmacy. During its conference with the Committee, Licensee admitted that this allegation is true, but stated that senior management took corrective action upon learning of the situation, including immediately revoking the access code of all non-pharmacists and physically rekeying all doors within the pharmacy. Licensees avers that periodic security assessments confirm that no unauthorized persons have had access to the pharmacy since February 2020.

b. Six pharmacy technicians, including the IV pharmacy technician, were present in the "filling area" with only one pharmacist, who was the second pharmacist to arrive. Another pharmacist was in an "order entry" area, a distinctly different area separated by a wall and door. The Board Surveyors were told that additional pharmacy technicians were scheduled that morning to perform non-technician "staging or stocking" duties. However, the Board Surveyors observed that the additional pharmacy technicians that were supposedly scheduled to perform non-technician duties, were filling orders in the "filling area" to be checked by the one pharmacist.

Licensee avers that is does not have sufficient information to admit or deny the Board surveyors' observations, but that company policy requires compliance with required technician-to-pharmacist ratios.

IV.

LAWS

11. Licensee acknowledges the conduct described in section III above constitutes a violation of Minn. Stat. § 151.071, subd. 2(7), and warrants the disciplinary action described below.

V.

DISCIPLINARY ACTION

The parties agree the Board may take the following disciplinary action and require compliance with the following terms:

12. The Board REPRIMANDS Licensee and imposes a CIVIL PENALTY in the amount of $50,000 for the conduct described in section III above. The civil penalty shall be paid by cashier's check or money order made payable to the Minnesota Board of Pharmacy, c/o Cody Wiberg, Executive Director, 2829 University Avenue S.E., Suite 530, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55414, within 60 days of the date of entry of this Order.

13. The Board places the following CONDITION on Licensee's License: every six months, for a period of three years, Licensee's CEO must certify to the Board's Executive Director that Licensee's licensed pharmacies that provide services to Minnesota residents are in full compliance with all applicable Minnesota statutes and rules.

VI.

CONSEQUENCES FOR NONCOMPLIANCE OR ADDITIONAL VIOLATIONS

14. If Licensee fails to comply with or violates this Stipulation and Consent Order, the Committee may, in its discretion, seek additional discipline either by initiating a contested case proceeding pursuant to Minnesota Statutes chapter 14 or by bringing the matter directly to the Board pursuant to the following procedure:

a. The Committee shall schedule a hearing before the Board. At least 20 days before the hearing, the Committee must mail Licensee a notice of the violation(s) alleged by the Committee. In addition, the notice must designate the time and place of the hearing. Within ten days after the notice is mailed, Licensee shall submit a written response to the allegations. If Licensee does not submit a timely response to the Board, the allegations may be deemed admitted.

b. The Committee, in its discretion, may schedule a conference with Licensee prior to the hearing before the Board to discuss the allegations and to attempt to resolve the allegations through agreement.

c. Prior to the hearing before the Board, the Committee and Licensee may submit affidavits and written argument in support of their positions. At the hearing, the Committee and Licensee may present oral argument. Argument may not refer to matters outside the record. The evidentiary record must be limited to the affidavits submitted prior to the hearing and this Stipulation and Consent Order. The Committee will have the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that a violation has occurred. If Licensee has failed to submit a timely response to the allegations, Licensee may not contest the allegations, but may present argument concerning the appropriateness of additional discipline. Pursuant to this process, Licensee waives a hearing before an administrative law judge, discovery, cross-examination of adverse witnesses, and other procedures governing hearings pursuant to Minnesota Statutes chapter 14.

d. Licensee's correction of a violation before the conference, hearing, or meeting of the Board may be taken into account by the Board but does not limit the Board's authority to impose discipline for the violation. A decision by the Committee not to seek discipline when it first learns of a violation does not waive the Committee's right to later seek discipline for that violation, either alone or in combination with other violations, at any time while Licensee's license is in a suspended status.

e. Following the hearing, the Board will deliberate confidentially. If the allegations are not proved, the Board must dismiss the allegations. If a violation is proved, the Board may impose additional discipline, including conditions or limitations on Licensee's license, a period of suspension, conditions of reinstatement, or revocation of Licensee's license.

f. Nothing herein limits the Committee's or the Board's right to temporarily suspend Licensee's license as provided in Minnesota Statutes chapters 151 and 214, based on a violation of this Stipulation and Consent Order or based on conduct of Licensee not specifically referred to herein.

VII. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

15. Licensee waives the contested case hearing and all other procedures before the Board to which Licensee may be entitled under the Minnesota and United States constitutions, statutes, or rules.

16. Licensee waives any claims against the Board, the Minnesota Attorney General, the State of Minnesota, and their agents, employees, and representatives related to the investigation of the conduct herein, or the negotiation or execution of this Stipulation and Consent Order, which may otherwise be available to Licensee.

17. This Stipulation and Consent Order, the files, records, and proceedings associated with this matter shall constitute the entire record and may be reviewed by the Board in its consideration of this matter.

18. Either party may seek enforcement of this Stipulation and Consent Order in any appropriate civil court.

19. Licensee has read, understands, and agrees to this Stipulation and Consent Order and has voluntarily signed the Stipulation and Consent Order. Licensee is aware this Stipulation and Consent Order must be approved by the Board before it goes into effect. The Board may either approve the Stipulation and Consent Order as proposed, approve it subject to specified change, or reject it. If the changes are acceptable to Licensee, the Stipulation and Consent Order will take effect and the order as modified will be issued. If the changes are unacceptable to Licensee or the Board rejects the Stipulation and Consent Order, it will be of no effect except as specified in the following paragraph.

20. Licensee agrees that if the Board rejects this Stipulation and Consent Order or a lesser remedy than indicated in this settlement, and this case comes again before the Board, Licensee will assert no claim that the Board was prejudiced by its review and discussion of this Stipulation and Consent Order or of any records relating to it. If the Board rejects this Stipulation and Consent Order, the parties agree that this Stipulation and Consent Order will not be admissible in any proceedings.

21. This Stipulation and Consent Order does not limit the Board's authority to proceed against Licensee by initiating a contested case hearing or by other appropriate means on the basis of any act, conduct, or admission of Licensee which constitutes grounds for disciplinary action, and which is not directly related to the specific facts and circumstances set forth in this document.

VIII.

DATA PRACTICES NOTICES

22. This Stipulation and Consent Order constitutes disciplinary action by the Board and is classified as public data pursuant to Minnesota Statutes section 13.41, subdivision 5. Data regarding this action will be provided to data banks as required by Federal law or consistent with Board policy. While this Stipulation and Consent Order is in effect, information obtained by the Board pursuant to this Order is considered active investigative data on a licensed health professional, and as such, is classified as confidential data pursuant to Minnesota Statutes section 13.41, subdivision 4.

Statement Regarding Disciplinary Action

Coupler Enterprises Inc was acquired by Coupler LLC in March 2023. At the time of the acquisition, Coupler Enterprises was licensed in multiple states and a change of ownership was completed for each license held by the previous owner. Coupler LLC made a good faith effort to complete all the change of ownership applications for all states licensed by Coupler Enterprises Inc.

In April 2024, Coupler LLC relocated to 1140 McDermott Drive, Suite 104, West Chester, PA 19380. Soon after the move, Coupler LLC prepared the relocation application for the Missouri Board of Pharmacy and discovered that the change of ownership was not completed. Coupler LLC submitted both the change of ownership and change of location applications to the Board. Due to staff turnover after the acquisition and the transition in ownership, some of our internal processes became sluggish, leading to clerical errors caused by new hires.

The Missouri Board of Pharmacy issued Coupler LLC permit # 2024036874 on 09/10/2024 and placed the permit on probation for two (2) years.

ORDER OF THE MISSOURI BOARD OF PHARMACY ISSUING COUPLER LLC A DRUG DISTRIBUTOR LICENSE SUBJECT TO PROBATION

Comes now the Missouri Board of Pharmacy ("Board") and issues its ORDER granting a PROBATED drug distributor license, license number 2024036874, to COUPLER LLC pursuant to the provisions of Section 324.038, RSMo. As set forth in Section 324.038, RSMo, COUPLER LLC may submit a written request for a hearing to the Administrative Hearing Commission seeking review of the Board's decision to issue a probated license to COUPLER LLC. Such written request must be submitted to the Administrative Hearing Commission within thirty (30) days of issuance of this Order. The written request should be addressed to the Administrative Hearing Commission, P.O. Box 1557, Jefferson City, MO 65102-1557. If no written request for review is received by the Administrative Hearing Commission within the thirty (30) day period, the right to seek review of the Board's decision shall be waived.

The disciplinary period shall become effective immediately upon issuance of COUPLER LLC's drug distributor license. Should COUPLER LLC file a written request for review of this Order, the terms and conditions of the Order shall remain in force and effect unless and/or until such time as the Administrative Hearing Commission issues an order contrary to this Order.

FINDINGS OF FACT AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. The Board is an agency of the State of Missouri created and established pursuant to Section 338.110, RSMo, for the purpose of executing and enforcing provisions of Chapter 338, RSMo.

2. COUPLER LLC operates a drug distributorship at 1140 McDermott Dr., Suite 104, West Chester, Pennsylvania. COUPLER LLC distributed multiple drugs into Missouri from November 28, 2023 through May 17, 2024 without holding a current Missouri license.

3. COUPLER LLC filed an application for a drug distributor license with the Board for the McDermott facility on or about May 17, 2024. The license issued pursuant to this Order is in response to that application.

4. Section 338.333, RSMo prohibits acting as a drug distributor without first obtaining a license to do so from the Missouri Board of Pharmacy.

5. Likewise, §338.337 and 20 CSR 2220-5.050(2) specifically require an out-of-state drug distributor doing business in this state to obtain a license.

6. COUPLER LLC's conduct as alleged above is cause for the Board to deny COUPLER LLC licensure as a drug distributor pursuant to Section 338.055.1 and .2, RSMo, which states in pertinent parts:

> 1. The board may refuse to issue any certificate of registration or authority, permit or license required pursuant to this chapter for one or any combination of causes stated in subsection 2 of this section or if the designated pharmacist-in-charge, manager-in-charge, or any officer, owner, manager, or controlling shareholder of the applicant has committed any act or practice in subsection 2 of this section.
>
> 2. The board may cause a complaint to be filed with the administrative hearing commission as provided by chapter 621, RSMo, against any holder of any certificate of registration or authority, permit or license required by this chapter or any person who has failed to renew or has surrendered his or her certificate of registration or authority, permit or license for any one or any combination of the following causes:
>
> * * *
>
> (6) Violation of, or assisting or enabling ay person to violate, any provision of this chapter, or of any lawful rule or regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter;

7. Section 324.038.1, RSMo, provides in pertinent part:

1. Whenever a board within or assigned to the division of professional registration, including the division itself when so empowered, may refuse to issue a license for reasons which also serve as a basis for filing a complaint with the administrative hearing commission seeking disciplinary action against a holder of a license, the board, as an alternative to refusing to issue a license, may, at its discretion, issue to an applicant a license subject to probation.

ORDER

8. Based on the foregoing, it is the ORDER of the Missouri Board of Pharmacy that, in lieu of denying licensure as a drug distributor, the Board hereby issues COUPLER LLC's drug distributor license number 2024036874 subject to PROBATION for a period of TWO YEARS. This Order shall become effective on the date issued. The terms of probation shall be:

A. COUPLER LLC shall pay all required fees for licensing to the Board and shall renew its drug distributor license prior to October 31 of each licensing year.

B. COUPLER LLC shall comply with all provisions of Chapter 338, Chapter 195, and all applicable federal and state drug laws, rules and regulations and with all federal and state criminal laws. "State" here includes the State of Missouri and all other states and territories of the United States.

C. If, after disciplinary sanctions have been imposed, COUPLER LLC fails to keep its drug distributor license current, the period of unlicensed status shall not be deemed or taken as any part of the time of discipline so imposed.

D. COUPLER LLC shall report to the Board, on a preprinted form supplied by the Board office, once every six (6) months (due by each January 1 and July 1), beginning with whichever date occurs first after this Agreement becomes effective, stating truthfully whether or not it has complied with all terms and conditions of its disciplinary order.

E. COUPLER LLC agrees that it will make itself available for inspection by inspectors employed by the Missouri Board of Pharmacy between January 1 and December 31 of each year it is under discipline. This also includes the beginning and ending years of the discipline. The Respondent shall reimburse the Board for travel expenses and meals incurred to facilitate these inspections including, but not limited to, airfare, lodging, shuttle, and transportation expenses within seven (7) days of being provided a notice and valid receipts for said expenses. Travel expenses and meals shall be governed by the recognized Missouri Office of Administration guidelines for state employee travel.

F. COUPLER LLC shall not serve as an intern training facility for intern pharmacists.

G. COUPLER LLC shall make a representative available for personal interviews to be conducted by a member of the Board or the Board of Pharmacy staff. Said meetings will be at the Board's discretion and may occur periodically during the disciplinary period. COUPLER LLC will be notified and given sufficient time to arrange these meetings.

H. COUPLER LLC's failure to comply with any condition of discipline set forth herein constitutes a violation of this Order.

9. Upon the expiration of said probation, COUPLER LLC's license as a drug distributor in Missouri shall be fully restored if all other requirements of law have been satisfied provided, however, that in the event the Board determines that COUPLER LLC has violated any term or condition of this Order, the Board may, in its discretion, after an evidentiary hearing, vacate and set aside the discipline imposed herein and may suspend, revoke, or otherwise lawfully discipline COUPLER LLC

10. No order shall be entered by the Board pursuant to the preceding paragraph of this Settlement Agreement without notice and an opportunity for hearing before the Board in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 536, RSMo.

11. If the Board determines that COUPLER LLC has violated a term or condition of this Order, which violation would also be actionable in a proceeding before the Administrative Hearing Commission or the circuit court, the Board may elect to pursue any lawful remedies or procedures afforded it and is not bound by this Order in its determination of appropriate legal actions concerning that violation. If any alleged violation of this Order occurred during the disciplinary period, the Board may choose to conduct a hearing before it either during the disciplinary period, or as soon thereafter as a hearing can be held to determine whether a violation occurred and, if so, it may impose further discipline. The Board retains jurisdiction to hold a hearing to determine if a violation of this Order has occurred.

12. The Board of Pharmacy will maintain this Agreement as an open record of the Board as provided in Chapters 324, 338, 610, RSMo.

SO ORDERED this 10th day of September 2024.

I. POLICY

All drugs, ancillary supplies, and infusion equipment will be dispensed according to applicable law and regulation, under the direction and oversight of a pharmacist. The organization assures pharmaceuticals are maintained under appropriate conditions during deliveries, in accordance with manufacturer and USP <797> and <800> requirements.

II. PROCEDURES

A. Non-Compounded Products:

1. All non-compounded legend drugs must be checked by a pharmacist prior to being dispensed for a patient.

2. The drug will be checked:

    a. For NDC, lot number, and expiration date
    b. For the accuracy and completeness of the label

3. The pharmacist will document the accuracy of the filled prescription by signing the delivery ticket/mixing report, unless otherwise required by applicable law and regulation.

4. All non-compounded legend drugs, once labeled, will be stored under appropriate storage conditions within the pharmacy until dispensed for a patient.

5. Lot numbers, manufacturer, and expiration dates must be recorded on a non-compounded form or on the delivery ticket/mixing report.

B. Compounded Products:

1. The final product will be checked by the pharmacist against the original prescription, compounding report, and items used for compounding to verify its accuracy and completeness.

2. All compounded products will undergo a visual inspection of the final product at the completion of compounding and before dispensing should the CSP not be released on the day of preparation.

    a. Physical appearance is expected to be free of inappropriate visible particulates, free of foreign matter, free of discoloration, free of any other defects
    b. Visual inspection includes an assessment that the CSP does not exhibit any defects such as precipitation, cloudiness, or leakage of the container.
    c. Should a product be rejected during visual inspection, it must be labeled as such and segregated from active stock.

3. Whenever possible, the final product will be double checked by another pharmacist, technician, or nurse.

4. The pharmacist will document the accuracy of the final product by signing and initialing the compounding record, unless otherwise required by applicable law and regulation.

5. The pharmacist will review and verify the accuracy and completeness of the labels. Compounded products may be labeled by the pharmacy technicians if allowed by law and regulation. If allowed, pharmacy technicians must initial the labels.

6. All labeled units will be retained under appropriate storage conditions until ready to be packaged and delivered.

7. A pharmacist must check all compounded products prior to being dispensed to a patient.

C. Supplies:

1. It will be a joint responsibility between pharmacy and nursing and other appropriate staff for communicating with the patient to determine the supplies necessary for a patient's care. Supplies may be gathered by non-clinical staff.

2. A nurse may verify the dispensing of supplies if there are no prescription items involved.

D. Equipment:

1. As required by applicable law, prescriptions will be obtained and filed for all equipment dispensed to a patient.

2. Prior to dispensing, the pharmacist is responsible for:

    a. Participating in the selection of the pump to be used along with the other clinicians.

b. Ensure the preventative maintenance sticker is appropriately attached to the pump and dated within the past 90 days to reflect DME's completion of the appropriate cleaning, Routine and Preventative Maintenance, and Safety and Performance Testing.
c. Ensuring that all infusion pumps are accurately programmed prior to being dispensed
d. Communicating all pump parameters to the nursing staff

3. In the event of an equipment malfunction that may threaten the health of the patient, provisions will be made to be able to provide maintenance, replacement, or utilize a back-up system to resolve the problem within a reasonable time of notification.

E. Dispensing Procedure:

1. When dispensing the final products:

a. A delivery/packing slip will be generated by the automated information system, for all pharmacy service products/supplies and/or DME equipment.
b. The delivery ticket/packing slip may be manually generated if the automated information system is inoperable (ie. emergency situations).
c. All drugs and supplies will be gathered and checked against the delivery ticket to ensure that the correct items are being sent and that no item has been omitted.
d. Validate NDC of all non-compounded products and initial the delivery ticket by the appropriate prescription.
e. All orders will be checked by a pharmacist or nurse or double-checked by delivery or other staff prior to leaving the building.

2. In cases of back orders or shortages, all appropriate providers will be notified, and the pharmacist will document this in the progress notes.

3. Medications are dispensed in a timely manner as defined by the organization to meet patient needs.

4. Medications are dispensed in a form that minimizes the need for additional mixture or preparation, when possible.

5. The organization dispenses medications and maintains records in accordance with law and regulation, licensure, and professional standards of practice.

F. Packaging and Delivery Considerations:

1. Procedures for packaging, handling, and transporting CSPs are developed by compounding staff in collaboration with other departments' staff involved in CSP functions. Non-compounding staff are monitored to manage consistent implementation of procedures.

2. All drug products will be packaged in an appropriate manner so that the dispensing pharmacist is assured of the stability and integrity of the product during delivery:

a. Coolers will be used for refrigerated pharmaceuticals.
1) Infusion pharmacy products will be packaged in a Styrofoam cooler with ice packs

2) Select products (Specialty Pharmaceuticals) will be packaged in a Propak cooler with ice packs.
3) CSPs are visually inspected to ensure the integrity of the container closure system to be free from leakage, crack or improper seals.

b. Appropriate packaging precautions will be taken to protect the product from excessive motion that could result in the breakage, leakage, or alteration of the product during transport.
c. Cytotoxic and hazardous drugs must be contained in a clearly labeled zipper-lock bag and placed in a similarly labeled rigid container prior to delivery.
d. All packages delivered by staff will be labeled with the name of the patient.
e. All staff delivering cytotoxic or hazardous drugs must have a chemo spill kit available in the event of a chemo spill.
f. All packages delivered by a courier service will be labeled with the name and address of the patient, as well as any precautionary labels.

3. The delivery slip will be included with the package and the patient/caregiver will sign the delivery ticket/ packing slip upon receipt of drug, supplies and/or equipment and a copy is provided to the patient/caregiver, whenever possible.
4. The original delivery ticket/packing slip will be returned to the office, confirmed as correct, then filed in the patient's clinical record.
5. For packages delivered via third party carrier (i.e. UPS) the tracking number and delivery confirmation may be used in lieu of a signed delivery slip. per payor or contractual requirements

I. POLICY

The designated person or assigned trainer is responsible for ensuring that all new employees who will compound sterile products undergo initial training and competency of core skills followed by validation testing of hand hygiene, garbing, and sterile technique, in both the non-hazardous and hazardous environments, prior to compounding any products for patient use. This validation testing represents the most challenging or stressful conditions encountered by the compounding staff. Frequency of training and competency assessment are outlined below.

II. PROCEDURES

A. Demonstrating Knowledge and Competency of Core Skills

1. Prior to independently preparing CSPs, compounding personnel must complete training and demonstrate knowledge in core skills to prove understanding in how to compound sterile preparations safely and effectively.

2. This training and competency (i.e. didactic training) must be completed initially and every 12 months. Note: This training is in addition to the validation testing noted below.

3. Training and competency must include but is not limited to the topics listed below:

   a. Hand Hygiene
   b. Garbing
   c. Cleaning and Disinfecting
   d. Aseptic Technique
   e. Achieving and/or maintaining sterility
   f. Use of Equipment
   g. Documentation of the Compounding Process
   h. Principles of High-Efficiency Particulate Air (HEPA)-filtered unidirectional airflow within the ISP Class 5 area

i. Proper use of PECs
j. Principles of movement of materials and personnel within the compounding area

B. Overview of Validation Testing

1. All new compounding personnel will be required, initially and every 6 months, to validate the effectiveness of their hand hygiene, garbing, and sterile technique, in both the hazardous and non-hazardous environments, prior to compounding products for patient use.

   a. The designated person may elect to validate technique on a more frequent basis.

2. Testing procedures to assess hand hygiene, garbing and aseptic techniques will be completed by the Designated Person or an assigned trainer using observation following the Hand Hygiene and Garbing Competency Assessment and by confirming negative results from the Gloved Fingertip Sampling procedure, whose guidance is set forth in the United States Pharmacopeia Chapter 797 (USP <797>).

3. Personnel that are only involved with in-process checks or final verifications of CSPs will be required to complete gloved fingertip testing (post garb assessment) and media fill testing annually with their other competency training.

4. Additional personnel not otherwise listed (i.e. not responsible for direct compounding) may be required to undergo additional competencies at the discretion of the DP and/or Pharmacy Director.

5. All results of testing will be documented by individual practice site SOPs.

C. Initial Validation

1. Demonstrating Competency in Garbing and Hand Hygiene

   a. Garbing and Hand Hygiene competency consists of both visual observation (following all procedures outlined in PH104 Attachment 4: Competency Assessment: Hand Hygiene and Garbing) and Glove and Fingertip Testing.
   b. The competency must be completed no fewer than 3 separate times

      i. The 3 successful completions must be in succession – failure to of any of the test require a repeat until 3 evaluations are completed in a row.
      ii. Each of the 3 initial competency evaluations must occur after a separate and complete hand hygiene and full garbing procedure.

   c. Glove Fingertip Sampling

i. Sampling procedures will follow those outlined in USP <797> Section 2.2.
ii. Negative results (no microbial growth) must be obtained from all 3 samples (each sample is one plate per hand) following an incubation period of at 30 °C - 35°C for 48 hours and then at 20°C-25°C for 5 additional days.
iii. Successful completion of the gloved finger-tip testing must be completed prior to beginning compounding CSPs or have a direct oversite of compounding personnel.
iv. Should failure of the competency occur, this should be documented and include the required details as outlined in USP<797>.

2. Demonstrating Testing in Aseptic Manipulation

a. Aseptic Manipulation evaluations consist of visual observation, media-fill, GFT of both hands and surface sampling of the direct compounding area.
b. Media Fill Testing

i. Testing procedures for assessing sterile technique will be accomplished using Media-Fill Challenge Test Kits based upon the most difficult compounded sterile product that the individual is to mix in both the hazardous and non-hazardous environments.
ii. If the personnel compounds only sterile to sterile products, then the media fill test can be conducted only utilizing sterile components.
iii. If the personnel compounds non-sterile to sterile products, then the media fill test must be conducted using non-sterile components.

c. Upon completion of the Media Fill Challenge Kit, the personnel must have their fingertips sampled from both hands INSIDE AN ISO CLASS 5 PEC.

i. Post Mixing Gloved Fingertips will be incubated as per all fingertip testing, but this test cannot have more than 3 CFUs on both plates combined.

d. Upon completion of the Media Fill Challenge Kit, the personnel's direct compounding area must be sampled (i.e. surface sampling)

i. Post mixing surface samples must not exceed 3 CFUs per plate. All other surface sampling procedures must be followed for post mixing surface sampling.

e. Media Fill Tests samples will be incubated at 20°C to 25°C or at 30°C to 35°C for a minimum of 14 days. If two temperatures are used for incubation of media-filled samples, the filled containers will be incubated for at least 7 days at each temperature. Failure is indicated by visible turbidity or other visual manifestations of growth in any sample on or before day 14.

f. A failure of any part of the media fill testing (Media Fill test kit growth, post mixing gloved fingertip and surface sampling exceeding CFU counts) will deem the entire aseptic manipulation competency as failed. Both demonstrations are required to be passed prior to compounding.

   i. Should failure of the competency occur, this should be documented and include the required details as outlined in USP <797>.

D. Ongoing Validation

1. Gloved Fingertip Testing (Post Garbing Assessment)

   a. Garbing and Hand Hygiene competency consists of both visual observation (following all procedures outlined in PH104 Attachment 1: Competency Assessment: Hand Hygiene and Garbing) and Glove and Fingertip Testing.
   Note: The competency only needs to be completed ONCE for ongoing validation.
   b. Negative results (no microbial growth) must be obtained from the sample (one plate per hand) following an incubation period of at 30°-35°C for 48 hours and then at 20°C-25°C for 5 additional days. If any of the sample tests positive (e.g., any CFUs are present), test must be repeated before being allowed to compound sterile preparations.

2. Media Fill Testing

   a. Ongoing validations will follow the same procedures as the Initial Validation Media Fill Test.

E. Media Fill Test Kits

1. Preferably, Media fill test kits will be based off commercially available kits that have a Certificate of Analysis associated with them.
2. Procedures for the media fill test will be developed by each individual practices site's designated person and placed into their SOPs.

F. Testing Plates

1. Plates (or paddles for gloved fingertip testing) must contain general microbial growth agar (e.g., trypticase soy agar [TSA]) supplemented with neutralizing additives (e.g., lecithin and polysorbate 80)
2. Testing shall be completed per the manufacturer's specifications.

G. Personnel that conduct any validation testing must be training according to each site's SOPs

H. Should failure occur and/or serious gaps in aseptic technique be identified, the designated person will be notified to facilitate additional training/reorientation with further mitigation as appropriate.

IV. APPROVAL HISTORY....9

I. POLICY

To describe, standardize and define the process by which the controlled environments (ISO Class 5, 7, and 8) and the general pharmacy preparation area are cleaned, disinfected, and maintained in a manner that ensures an environment suitable for compounding sterile preparations. Environmental contact is a major source of microbial contamination of CSPs, therefore scrupulous attention to cleaning and disinfecting of the areas used for sterile compounding is required to reduce and minimize this potential source of CSP contamination.

II. PROCEDURES

A. Policies

1. Since surfaces in ISO Class 5 Primary Engineering Controlled (PEC) work areas, including Laminar Air Flow Workbenches/Hoods (LAFWs) and Biological SAFETY Cabinets (BSCs) are most intimate to the exposure of critical site, they require disinfecting most frequently. These areas must be cleaned and disinfected (or deactivated & decontaminated) on a regular basis, including but not limited to:

a. The beginning of each compounding shift
b. Immediately prior to each batch
c. Every 30 minutes throughout the compounding shift when ongoing compounding activities are occurring.
d. After spills
e. When microbial contamination is known to have been or is suspected of having been introduced
f. After certification, preventative maintenance, or repairs to equipment/room structure

2. Manufactured designated STERILE products ONLY are allowed for cleaning and disinfecting the PEC.

3. Though the general pharmacy preparation area is not an ISO "classified" environment, it must be kept clean and orderly.

4. No high particle shedding materials may enter the buffer area/cleanroom. This includes corrugated cardboard, paper documents (i.e. compounding worksheets and order forms are allowed but should be kept to a minimum). No worksheets or order forms may enter the ISO Class 5 environment compounding surface at any time. Mixing reports will be placed in a zip lock bag upon entry of ISO Class 5 room and removed minimally as needed.

5. Ideally, disinfection of the general compounding area (buffer area/cleanroom and anteroom/area) shall occur at the end of the compounding shift.

6. If cleaning must occur at the start of the compounding day, all cleaned surfaces must be dry PRIOR to starting any compounding activity.

7. If any compounding occurs during after-hours conditions (on-call situation), additional cleaning may occur at the start of the next business day.

8. Cleaning and disinfection of the controlled environments will not be performed while compounding is taking place.

9. Pharmacy compounding personnel must ensure that cleaning is being performed properly and by personnel who have been adequately trained on the policy and procedures, as well as on hand hygiene and garbing.

10. Due to unique environments in each pharmacy branch, site specific daily and monthly cleaning SOPs are maintained by each specific pharmacy Designated Person. See PH110 Attachment 1: Infusion Pharmacy Cleaning Standard Operating Procedures (Chartwell- Oakdale) and PH110 Attachment 2: Infusion Pharmacy Cleaning Standard Operating Procedures (Chartwell- Altoona), respectively.

11. Cleaning is performed from the top down, in this order:

a. Ceilings
b. Walls
c. Counters, sinks, and easily cleanable work surfaces including stools, carts, shelves, etc.
d. Phones and other devices
e. Outside then Inside surfaces of ISO Class 5 PECs
f. Floors

12. Cleaning Equipment and Supplies:
    a. Shall be stored in a designated area to ensure segregation from compounding supplies
    b. Materials used must be non-shedding and preferably composed of synthetic microfibers.
    c. Materials used must be dedicated to use in specific areas (buffer area/cleanroom, ante-area/room, segregated compounding area, etc.) and will not be moved from these areas except for disposal.
    d. Microcinch or KleanMax Mop is used to maintain the floors. There are mop pads designated for use in the negative pressure room, antibiotic room, TPN room, and the anteroom.
    e. For any reusable cleaning equipment:
        1) Used or saturated mop heads should be thrown away
        2) Manufacturer's instructions on the product used to ensure the effectiveness of the device is maintained and that repeated use does not add to the bioburden of the areas cleaned.
13. Since disinfectant solutions are irritants and can damage the skin and eyes, safety glasses (provided by the pharmacy) should be worn during cleaning of ceilings and walls when there is an increased likelihood of splashing or dripping of solution.

14. Safety Data Sheets (SDS) must be readily available for reference for all decontaminants, cleaners and disinfectants used in the decontamination, disinfection, and cleaning process.
    a. Available at msds.com

15. Tacky Mats:
    a. May be placed at the entrance to controlled areas within the pharmacy compounding area to remove debris from personnel and equipment as they enter these areas.
    b. The Managing Pharmacist, or designee, will determine the location of the tacky mats depending on workflow and room configuration.
    c. Tacky mats must be changed at least daily or more frequently if needed.
    d. Tacky mats will NOT be placed in any ISO area.

16. Any compounding equipment (automated compounders, devices, or pumps) placed into ISO Class 5 PECs are subject to the same cleaning requirements as the LAFW or BSC, itself.

17. If any equipment or device used to compound sterile preparations is removed from the ISO Class 5 buffer area/cleanroom, it must be properly cleaned and disinfected prior to being placed back into service within that environment.

B. Materials and Equipment: *Items listed are examples of industry approved products.

1. Single use sterile cleaning pads

a. Microcinch Mop (clean pads), Kleanmax mop (clean pads)
b. Easy reach tool with Quiltec Sterile pads

2. Sterile Disinfecting Agent
   a. TB1-3300 (dwell time of 1 minute)

3. Disinfecting Agent
   a. PREempt-Plus RTU (dwell time of 1 minute)

4. Sterile Sporicidal Agent
   a. Sterile Peridox RTU (dwell time of 3 minutes on step #1 ONLY)

5. Sporicidal Agent
   a. Peridox RTU

6. 70% sterile IPA
   a. Prostate Sterile IPA wipes

7. Low particle shed wipes if applicable

C. Daily Cleaning of the non-HD PEC (i.e. Laminar Air Flow Workbench)

1. Gown and glove, in accordance with Hand Hygiene and Garbing Procedure

2. If the LAFW has been turned off, restart and allow to run a minimum of thirty (30) minutes prior to cleaning. Ideally, PECs should never be turned off.

3. Apply sterile disinfecting agent to low-lint wipe or pad of Easy Reach Tool.

4. Using unilateral overlapping strokes, clean all surfaces of the hood from top to bottom and back to front.
   a. NOTE: Do not wipe in a large circular motion across the work surface, as it is likely that contaminants and particulate matter will be introduced into the rear portion of the hood as they are captured, carried, and deposited from the front edge of the LAFW.

5. Allow a dwell time of ONE minute.

6. Using a second wipe or pad, repeat step 4 with Sterile 70% IPA
   a. NOTE: Do not splash or spray the HEPA filter with disinfectant solution. Carefully clean the HEPA grills.

7. Allow all surfaces to dry before compounding begins.

8. If the daily cleaning was performed the night before, at the start of each new workday, the LAFW must be wiped down with a wipe wetted with sterile 70% IPA.

9. During the compounding process, sterile 70% IPA must be applied to the horizontal work surface, including any removable work trays of the PEC at least every 30 min if the compounding process takes 30 min or less. If the compounding process takes more than 30 min, compounding must not be disrupted, and the work surface of the PEC must be disinfected immediately after compounding.

10. Prior to, and after performing any compounding in the horizontal laminar flow hood, the cabinet will be visually inspected for gross contamination. If gross contamination is identified at any point, the cabinet will be completely cleaned according to the approved methods outlined herein, based on suspected contaminant and escalated to pharmacy leadership for further investigation. Interventions will be documented using PH202 Attachment 1: Environmental Monitoring Investigation & Correction Action Plan.

11. Once monthly, utilize and apply Peridox RTU follow steps 3-7 above. Ensure additional dwell time of 3 minutes is applied for Sterile Peridox.

12. Document all cleaning activities on file.

D. Daily Cleaning of the HD BSC (Biologic Safety Cabinet)

1. Gown and glove, in accordance with Pharmacy Policy: Aseptic Compounding Considerations when compounding hazardous drugs.

2. If the BSC has been turned off, restart and allow to run a minimum of thirty (30) minutes prior to cleaning. Ideally, PECs should never be turned off.

3. Apply Sterile Peridox RTU to low-lint wipe or pad of Easy Reach Tool.
   a. Agents used for deactivation, decontamination and cleaning should be applied through the use of wipes wetted with appropriate solution and not delivered by a spray bottle to avoid spreading HD residue.

4. Using unilateral overlapping strokes, clean all surfaces of the hood from top to bottom and back to front.
   a. NOTE: Do not wipe in a large circular motion across the work surface, as it is likely that contaminants and particulate matter will be introduced into the rear portion of the hood as they are captured, carried, and deposited from the front edge of the BSC.

5. Allow a dwell time of THREE minutes after the first application.

6. Repeat steps 3-4 with a second application of Peridox RTU.

7. Using a second wipe or pad, repeat step 4 with Sterile 70% IPA
   a. NOTE: Do not splash or spray the HEPA filter with disinfectant solution. Carefully clean the HEPA grills.

8. Allow all surfaces to dry before compounding begins.

9. Place all soiled wipes, covers and cleaning supplies into a disposable bag and place in Yellow Trace Chemo bin.

10. If the daily cleaning was performed the night before, at the start of each new workday, the LAFW must be wiped down with a wipe wetted with sterile 70% IPA.

11. During the compounding process sterile 70% IPA must be applied to the horizontal work surface, including any removable work trays of the PEC at least every 30 min if the compounding process takes 30 min or less. If the compounding process takes more than 30 min, compounding must not be disrupted, and the work surface of the PEC must be disinfected immediately after compounding.

12. Prior to, and after performing any compounding in the biological safety cabinet, the cabinet will be visually inspected for gross contamination. If gross contamination is identified at any point, the cabinet will be completely cleaned according to the approved methods outlined herein, based on suspected contaminant and escalated to pharmacy leadership for further investigation. Interventions will be documented using PH202 Attachment 1: Environmental Monitoring Investigation & Correction Action Plan.

13. Once monthly the front of the BSC must be lifted to thoroughly decontaminate, clean and disinfect, including underneath the deck.
    a. Don the PAPR, for optimal respiratory protection, in addition to all other required PPE when cleaning the BSC.

14. Document all cleaning activities on file.

E. Daily Cleaning of Controlled Environments (i.e. Buffer room) with Preempt-Plus RTU (Peridox RTU for Negative Pressure Controlled Environments)

1. Cleaning must occur from the cleanest to the dirtiest areas. The lowest ISO Class room or environment (ISO Class 5) must be cleaned before the ISO Class 7 buffer area/cleanroom followed by the ISO Class 7/8 ante-area then general pharmacy preparation area.
    a. An exception to this rule is when each room has its own dedicated cleaning supplies.

2. Each compounding day the following must be cleaned in both the buffer area/cleanroom and in the ante-area/room.
    a. The inside surfaces of all ISO Class 5 PECs
    b. Other counters and easily cleanable work surfaces (ie. stool tops, metro cart, shelves, etc.)
    c. Phones and other devices
    d. Pass-through and door handles
    e. All surfaces of moveable carts
    f. Floors

3. Daily Cleaning the Floors in the Compounding Room
    a. Apply Preempt-Plus RTU to mop head of Microcinch or Kleanmax Mopping System.
    b. Mop hard to reach area first, then remainder of floor in an 'S' motion as you exit the room.
    c. Allow Preempt to stay wet for 1 minute.
    d. Change the mop head, during the floor clean, if it is visibly soiled >15%.
    e. Preempt may leave a residue after a few days, due to the detergent. If so, wipe the floors when necessary with sterile or distilled water after the cleaning is done.

f. Follow same protocol for negative pressure room except for using Peridox RTU in place of Preempt-Plus RTU. Dwell time is 3 minutes for Peridox RTU.
g. When mopping in Chemo room is completed, dispose of used products in sealed bag and dispose into the Yellow Trace Chemo container.

4. The SEC will be visually inspected for gross contamination. If gross contamination is identified at any point, the affected location will be completely cleaned according to the approved methods outlined herein, based on suspected contaminant and escalated to pharmacy leadership for further investigation. Interventions will be documented using PH202 Attachment 1: Environmental Monitoring Investigation & Correction Action Plan.

5. Document the cleaning on file.

F. Monthly Cleaning of the Ceilings, Walls, and Floors with Peridox RTU

1. Before starting, protective eyewear should be donned as well as charcoal N95 respirator in addition to normal PPE for respective areas.

2. Apply Peridox to Mop Head of Microcinch or Kleanmax Mopping System.

3. Saturate mop head to full saturation but not dripping wet.

4. Begin at the furthest location from the door for all these surfaces.

5. Use unilateral overlapping strokes.

6. For walls, clean from top to bottom. Stop approximately 1 foot from floor. Clean this area of the wall last using horizontal strokes.

7. Clean floors, starting with hard-to-reach surfaces then work your way out of the room.

8. Change the microfiber wipe if it looks visibly soiled >15%.

9. Dispose of the Microfiber pad in a sealed zip lock bag to contain contamination and odor. When cleaning the chemo room, dispose of used products in sealed bag and dispose into the Yellow Trace Chemo container.

10. NOTE: All surfaces cleaned daily with Preempt-Plus RTU must be cleaned monthly with Peridox RTU.

11. Document the cleaning on file.

G. Monthly Cleaning of Controlled Environments (ISO 7 and ISO 8 spaces)

1. Monthly cleaning includes all the elements of the daily cleaning plus the following must be cleaned during a monthly cleaning with Peridox RTU:
   a. Storage and shelving

b. All storage bins must have contents removed; bins cleaned inside and out, allowed to dry and contents replaced

2. Document the cleaning on file.

H. Routine Cleaning of the General Pharmacy Preparation Area

1. Though the general pharmacy preparation area is not an ISO "classified" environment, it must be kept clean and orderly.

2. Weekly cleaning of bins and monthly cleaning of pharmacy itself is performed.

3. Document cleaning on file.

I. Three-Time Cleaning of Controlled Environments

1. Although not defined in USP, Three-Time Clean (Triple Clean) consists of standard cleaning processes but with three rounds of cleaning. The first round consists of a sporicidal agent (Peridox) with a dwell time of 3 minutes. The second round consists of the sporicidal agent again. The final round involves 70% sIPA.

2. Three-time cleaning may be performed when the following conditions occur:
   a. After action levels are exceeded according to USP<797> – occurring during environmental monitoring air or surface sampling procedures.
   b. After any maintenance work performed in the cleanroom that could compromise environmental integrity. Scope of work performed to be evaluated by local leadership for final determination of level of cleaning required.
   c. If construction is conducted in an adjacent area to the controlled environments, communication will be shared with all employees.
      i. Should there be concern for environmental compromise, compounding will cease within the affected area and pharmacy leadership will be notified for further investigation. Interventions will be documented using PH202 Attachment 1: Environmental Monitoring Investigation & Correction Action Plan.

J. Floor Refinishing

1. The floors of the buffer area/cleanroom and ante-are shall be stripped of the existing finish (depending on floor type) and refinished by qualified personnel on an as needed basis.

2. The managing Pharmacist, or designee, will determine when this must occur.

3. The materials utilized will be of such composition as to not compromise the integrity of the controlled environment and should be manufactured for the expressed purpose of maintenance of the type of flooring which has been installed.

K. Ancillary Support Services

1. Any ancillary cleaning staff, who perform cleaning and disinfecting of the clean room, are trained in proper hand hygiene, garbing, cleaning, and disinfecting procedures as described in USP <797>. This training is conducted by the compounding supervisor, other qualified staff, or, if the organization chooses, a qualified compounding consultant.

2. A competency assessment of hand hygiene, garbing, cleaning, and disinfecting procedures will be conducted for all ancillary cleaning staff, at a minimum, when newly assigned and when procedures change.

Objective

To describe, standardize and define the process by which the controlled environments (ISO Class 5, 7, and 8) and the general pharmacy preparation area are cleaned, disinfected, and maintained in a manner that ensures an environment suitable for compounding sterile preparations. Environmental contact is a major source of microbial contamination of CSPs, therefore scrupulous attention to cleaning and disinfecting of the areas used for sterile compounding is required to reduce and minimize this potential source of CSP contamination.

I. POLICY

This policy ensures that medications are packaged and delivered to patients in stable condition. The organization ensures that quality pharmaceutical products are received by the patient in a timely manner under controlled conditions. Packing procedures and materials are used to protect the integrity, sterility, and stability of the CSPs, while also protecting the staff from exposure when transporting CSPs.

II. DEFINITIONS

Cold chain is a temperature-controlled supply chain. An unbroken cold chain is an uninterrupted series of storage and distribution activities which maintain a given temperature range for pharmaceutical drugs.

Undue delay means that the package is not delivered within the expected timeframe

III. PROCEDURES

Please note, the following tasks should be completed prior to preparing to ship the medication:

1. Ensure that all Compounded Sterile Product (CSPs) are labeled with beyond-use dates and storage instructions and disposal instructions for expired medications.
2. The organization informs the patient or recipient of the need for a properly functioning refrigerator or freezer as required for CSP storage. The patient's or recipient's confirmation that the proper refrigerator is documented.

A. Shipping

1. The Pharmacy ensures that quality pharmaceutical products are received by the patient in a timely manner under controlled conditions.

2. Every attempt shall be made to expedite delivery of medication to the patient.
   a. Patients, caregivers and/or prescribers are notified when equipment/supplies will be delivered.
   b. The Pharmacy is focused on ensuring that the patient receives their medication and prior to administration date.

3. Compounding staff communicate handling and exposure instructions to each transporter and attach the instructions to the exterior packaging of the CSP. The mode of transportation is assessed to ensure that integrity, sterility, and stability of the CSP is maintained.

4. Temperature and light sensitive medications will be shipped appropriately following recommended storage guidelines allowing arrival of medication in an appropriate time frame, based on manufacturers' recommendations.

5. If possible and within reason, the medication will be delivered in conjunction with other products dispensed by the pharmacy.

6. The pharmacy will maintain a copy of the patient's signature indicating receipt of the medication.
   a. The signature is obtained by the delivery representative, delivery vendor and documented on the delivery ticket. Signatures may be obtained through UPS, on the delivery tickets, and by any written correspondence.
   b. Records of patient signatures shall be maintained in accordance with company policy.

7. The Pharmacy can track the location of the product(s) after they leave the facility.
   a. Tracking can be completed via shipping software or by telephone for product(s) delivered by Driver or Courier.

8. If changes to scheduled delivery need to be made, a staff member will contact the patient or caregiver. If doses will be missed, or medication will expire prior to use due to changes in delivery, prompt notification to patient/caregiver and prescriber will be made.

9. The organization is committed to providing patients with accurate shipping of their medications, supplies, and educational materials.
   a. Once the medication is visually checked by the pharmacist for accuracy, the medication is placed in a shipping bin and the delivery ticket with barcode is included with the package.
   b. At the shipping station, the delivery address will be cross checked against the shipping vendor's database via the shipping software (UPS World Ship Address Validation).

10. The organization will evaluate on an ongoing basis, the effectiveness and accuracy of its shipping by monitoring timeliness of delivery/turnaround time, shipping errors, and payment responsibilities.

B. Cold Chain Distribution: Process Controls and Monitoring System

1. The pharmacy has documented and implemented a program for management of its cold chain distribution process.

2. Pharmaceutical manufacturers' recommendations for temperate stability ranges will be followed to ensure stability during shipment and delivery.
    a. Products will be packaged appropriately to maintain the appropriate temperature range for 48 hours to ensure the medication is stable when shipped.

3. The pharmacy will select modes of transit/delivery based on the following factors:
    a. Geographic area

    c. Temperature stability ranges of the medications
    d. Delivery services available in their area; and
    e. Patient/prescriber/caregiver preference

4. The pharmacy will maintain records of shipping incidents via the internal reporting system.

5. The pharmacy has a validated distribution process with the following requirements:
    a. New Packaging Product: When the pharmacy elects to start using a new packaging product designed for cold chain distribution, testing of the new packaging product will be conducted to ensure product stability before implementation.
    b. Testing of cold chain will be completed quarterly, ensuring a variety of temperature ranges are tested.
    c. All cold chain reporting is documented and reviewed during the quarterly Performance Improvement Committee meetings
    d. Correct Packaging: The pharmacy ensures that correct packaging is used for refrigerated and room temperature medications. For more information, please refer to pack-out diagrams/posters in the distribution area.

6. Extreme Weather Delivery Interruption: In the event of extreme weather and expected delivery delays, the pharmacy will consider whether adjustments to packing are necessary, and if so, will make them accordingly.
    a. For more information, please reference Operations Policy: Emergency Preparedness

    a. When the pharmacy elects to start using a new packaging product designed for cold chain distribution, testing of the new packaging product will be conducted to ensure product stability before implementation.

b. Testing shall be conducted on each packaging product/all box sizes, under different ambient temperature ranges and length of shipping time.
c. Testing occurs quarterly and is documented
d. Results of Cold Chain testing are reviewed by pharmacy operations leadership and shared with the Performance Improvement Committee, for review quarterly.

9. Performance Improvement Program Oversight of the Cold Chain Distribution Process:
   a. The Quality Management Committee shall review the cold chain process annually at a minimum, including when updates to the process are required or when packaging product is modified.

      3) Complaints or concerns related to cold chain shipments raised by a patient or prescriber
      4) Undue Delays: The pharmacy has a process for contacting the patient and the prescriber, if necessary, when an undue delay is encountered in delivering a prescribed drug or device to a patient
      5) Delays may occur for many reasons.

10. A pharmacist will identify whether and when patient care will be affected due to untimely receipt of the medication.
    a. The pharmacist will be responsible for contacting and providing counseling to the patient
    b. The pharmacist will determine if the prescriber needs to be contacted for alternative therapy when the medication is unavailable
    c. All interactions will be documented in the patient progress notes

I. POLICY

The designated person or assigned trainer is responsible for ensuring that all new employees who will compound sterile products undergo initial training and competency of core skills followed by validation testing of hand hygiene, garbing, and sterile technique, in both the non-hazardous and hazardous environments, prior to compounding any products for patient use. This validation testing represents the most challenging or stressful conditions encountered by the compounding staff. Frequency of training and competency assessment are outlined below.

II. PROCEDURES

A. Demonstrating Knowledge and Competency of Core Skills

1. Prior to independently preparing CSPs, compounding personnel must complete training and demonstrate knowledge in core skills to prove understanding in how to compound sterile preparations safely and effectively.

2. This training and competency (i.e. didactic training) must be completed initially and every 12 months. Note: This training is in addition to the validation testing noted below.

3. Training and competency must include but is not limited to the topics listed below:

   a. Hand Hygiene
   b. Garbing
   c. Cleaning and Disinfecting
   d. Aseptic Technique
   e. Achieving and/or maintaining sterility
   f. Use of Equipment
   g. Documentation of the Compounding Process
   h. Principles of High-Efficiency Particulate Air (HEPA)-filtered unidirectional airflow within the ISP Class 5 area

i. Proper use of PECs
j. Principles of movement of materials and personnel within the compounding area

B. Overview of Validation Testing

1. All new compounding personnel will be required, initially and every 6 months, to validate the effectiveness of their hand hygiene, garbing, and sterile technique, in both the hazardous and non-hazardous environments, prior to compounding products for patient use.

   a. The designated person may elect to validate technique on a more frequent basis.

2. Testing procedures to assess hand hygiene, garbing and aseptic techniques will be completed by the Designated Person or an assigned trainer using observation following the Hand Hygiene and Garbing Competency Assessment and by confirming negative results from the Gloved Fingertip Sampling procedure, whose guidance is set forth in the United States Pharmacopeia Chapter 797 (USP <797>).

3. Personnel that are only involved with in-process checks or final verifications of CSPs will be required to complete gloved fingertip testing (post garb assessment) and media fill testing annually with their other competency training.

4. Additional personnel not otherwise listed (i.e. not responsible for direct compounding) may be required to undergo additional competencies at the discretion of the DP and/or Pharmacy Director.

5. All results of testing will be documented by individual practice site SOPs.

C. Initial Validation

1. Demonstrating Competency in Garbing and Hand Hygiene

   a. Garbing and Hand Hygiene competency consists of both visual observation (following all procedures outlined in PH104 Attachment 4: Competency Assessment: Hand Hygiene and Garbing) and Glove and Fingertip Testing.
   b. The competency must be completed no fewer than 3 separate times

      i. The 3 successful completions must be in succession – failure to of any of the test require a repeat until 3 evaluations are completed in a row.
      ii. Each of the 3 initial competency evaluations must occur after a separate and complete hand hygiene and full garbing procedure.

   c. Glove Fingertip Sampling

i. Sampling procedures will follow those outlined in USP <797> Section 2.2.
ii. Negative results (no microbial growth) must be obtained from all 3 samples (each sample is one plate per hand) following an incubation period of at 30°C - 35°C for 48 hours and then at 20°C-25°C for 5 additional days.
iii. Successful completion of the gloved finger-tip testing must be completed prior to beginning compounding CSPs or have a direct oversite of compounding personnel.
iv. Should failure of the competency occur, this should be documented and include the required details as outlined in USP<797>.

2. Demonstrating Testing in Aseptic Manipulation

a. Aseptic Manipulation evaluations consist of visual observation, media-fill, GFT of both hands and surface sampling of the direct compounding area.
b. Media Fill Testing

i. Testing procedures for assessing sterile technique will be accomplished using Media-Fill Challenge Test Kits based upon the most difficult compounded sterile product that the individual is to mix in both the hazardous and non-hazardous environments.
ii. If the personnel compounds only sterile to sterile products, then the media fill test can be conducted only utilizing sterile components.
iii. If the personnel compounds non-sterile to sterile products, then the media fill test must be conducted using non-sterile components.

c. Upon completion of the Media Fill Challenge Kit, the personnel must have their fingertips sampled from both hands INSIDE AN ISO CLASS 5 PEC.

i. Post Mixing Gloved Fingertips will be incubated as per all fingertip testing, but this test cannot have more than 3 CFUs on both plates combined.

d. Upon completion of the Media Fill Challenge Kit, the personnel's direct compounding area must be sampled (i.e. surface sampling)

i. Post mixing surface samples must not exceed 3 CFUs per plate. All other surface sampling procedures must be followed for post mixing surface sampling.

e. Media Fill Tests samples will be incubated at 20°C to 25°C or at 30°C to 35°C for a minimum of 14 days. If two temperatures are used for incubation of media-filled samples, the filled containers will be incubated for at least 7 days at each temperature. Failure is indicated by visible turbidity or other visual manifestations of growth in any sample on or before day 14.

f. A failure of any part of the media fill testing (Media Fill test kit growth, post mixing gloved fingertip and surface sampling exceeding CFU counts) will deem the entire aseptic manipulation competency as failed. Both demonstrations are required to be passed prior to compounding.

   i. Should failure of the competency occur, this should be documented and include the required details as outlined in USP <797>.

D. Ongoing Validation

1. Gloved Fingertip Testing (Post Garbing Assessment)

   a. Garbing and Hand Hygiene competency consists of both visual observation (following all procedures outlined in PH104 Attachment 1: Competency Assessment: Hand Hygiene and Garbing) and Glove and Fingertip Testing.
   Note: The competency only needs to be completed ONCE for ongoing validation.
   b. Negative results (no microbial growth) must be obtained from the sample (one plate per hand) following an incubation period of at 30°-35°C for 48 hours and then at 20°C-25°C for 5 additional days. If any of the sample tests positive (e.g., any CFUs are present), test must be repeated before being allowed to compound sterile preparations.

2. Media Fill Testing

   a. Ongoing validations will follow the same procedures as the Initial Validation Media Fill Test.

E. Media Fill Test Kits

1. Preferably, Media fill test kits will be based off commercially available kits that have a Certificate of Analysis associated with them.
2. Procedures for the media fill test will be developed by each individual practices site's designated person and placed into their SOPs.

F. Testing Plates

1. Plates (or paddles for gloved fingertip testing) must contain general microbial growth agar (e.g., trypticase soy agar [TSA]) supplemented with neutralizing additives (e.g., lecithin and polysorbate 80)
2. Testing shall be completed per the manufacturer's specifications.

G. Personnel that conduct any validation testing must be training according to each site's SOPs

H. Should failure occur and/or serious gaps in aseptic technique be identified, the designated person will be notified to facilitate additional training/reorientation with further mitigation as appropriate.

I. POLICY

The organization is responsible for proper disposal of hazardous materials and medical waste generated in the pharmacy and in the patient's home. Staff assigned to clean and remove hazardous waste are trained in safe practices that protect themselves and others and prevent contamination. Storing, handling, disposal and record keeping will be in accordance with all local, state, and federal regulations.

II. DEFINITIONS

A. Culture and Stocks: Culture and stocks of infectious agents and associated biological, including cultures from medical and pathological laboratories; cultures and stocks of infectious agents from research and industrial laboratories; waters from the production of biological; discarded live and attenuated vaccines; and culture dishes and devices used to transfer, inoculate, and mix cultures.

B. Pathological Wastes: Human pathological wastes, including body fluids that are removed during medical procedures, and specimens of body fluids and their containers.

C. Human Blood and Blood Products: Liquid waste blood, products of blood, items saturated and/or dripping with human blood, or items that were saturated and/or dripping with human blood that are now caked with dried human blood, including serum, plasma, and other blood components, and their containers, which were used or intended for use in either patient care, testing, and laboratory analysis or the development of pharmaceuticals. Intravenous bags are included in this category.

D. Sharps: Sharps that have been used in patient care, including hypodermic needles, syringes (with or without attached needles), pipettes, scalpel blades, blood vials, needles with attached tubing, and culture dishes (regardless of presence of infectious agents). Also included are other types of broken or unbroken glassware that were in contact with infectious agents, such as slides and cover slips.

E. Isolation Wastes: Biological waste and discarded materials contaminated with blood, excretion, exudates, or secretions from humans who are isolated to protect others from certain highly communicable diseases.

F. Unused Sharps: Unused, discarded sharps, hypodermic needles, syringes, and scalpel blades.

G. RCRA Hazardous Pharmaceuticals: RCRA (Resource Conservation and Recovery Act) Hazardous Pharmaceuticals include bulk chemotherapy in which more than trace amount is remaining in the container, and empty vials, syringes, IV bags, and tubing that contained P listed or U listed IV Products (listed in appendix A).

H. Trace Chemotherapeutic Wastes: Chemotherapeutic waste (also called antineoplastic and cytotoxic wastes) is defined as all products resulting from the compounding and/or administration of cytotoxic agents and is now recognized as a potential hazard to pharmacists, nurses, and any other personnel that may meet these agents. Only containers with "trace amount" of drug remaining may be disposed of in this container.

III. PHARMACY PROCEDURES

A. All sharps waste will be collected and disposed of in a leak proof, puncture resistant rigid container that is labeled as hazardous waste and meets Department of Transportation (DOT) regulations for hazardous waste containers. All non-sharps hazardous waste, including components of a needless system, can be collected in either a rigid or non-rigid (red bag) container unless prohibited by state regulations.

B. All RCRA waste that is generated in the pharmacy will be disposed of in a rigid Black RCRA bin.

C. All trace Chemotherapeutic Waste that is generated in the pharmacy will be disposed of in a rigid Yellow Chemotherapy bin.

D. As the rigid containers are filled, they will be immediately collected in a timely manner from the compounding area and placed into an area of the warehouse designated for storage of hazardous materials for proper disposal.

E. The pharmacy maintains a segregated area for storage of regulated waste pending destruction.

F. A contract with a hazardous waste disposal firm and/or Sharps mail away program will be established by the organization. The contract firm must indicate how and where the waste is being disposed of and a hazardous waste manifest must be supplied by the firm when picking up the waste. Upon destruction, a completed manifest must be returned to the organization and maintained to document destruction. Records must be kept for 7 years.

G. The pharmacy is responsible for the cost of shipping and cost of disposal.

IV. PATIENT PROCEDURES

A. Chemotherapeutic waste that is generated in the patient's home will be placed back into the zipper-lock plastic bag that it was delivered in. This bag is then placed into the puncture proof HD container.

B. Enough containers will be made available to prevent overfilling and will be sent to patients under long term care.

C. Needle cutting and recapping will be avoided due to the potential to cause injury. If recapping is required, a single hand technique is to be used.

D. In the patient's home, all hazardous materials and medical waste, including sharps, will be placed in a rigid, puncture proof or HD container. When the container is full, the patient will be instructed to seal the puncture proof container and place it in the DOT approved boxes (see below).

1. When the initial supplies are shipped to the patient's home, a DOT approved box or boxes (assume storage for 2 weeks prior to pick-up) will also be shipped. This box will be a rigid, fiberboard box and contain one 200 lb. burst strength polyethylene or equivalent bag (hazardous waste disposal bags meet the intent).
2. The following information is included on the DOT approved disposal boxes:
    a. The box will be marked with a water-resistant universal bio-hazardous symbol
    b. The generator name and company name, address, phone number
    c. The transporter's name, address, and phone number (i.e. United Parcel Service etc.)
    d. The disposal company's name, address, and phone number
    e. Date of shipment
    f. Security seal
3. The patient is encouraged to contact the mail away program for destruction (instructions included within the DOT approved box).

E. Pick-ups and deliveries will be handled by the company or other acceptable service capable and willing to handle such wastes.

F. The pharmacy is responsible for the cost of shipping and cost of disposal related to the DOT approved destruction boxes.

REVIEWED DATE: 5/1/2021, 9/1/21, 9/1/2022, 11/1/22, 4/15/24, 5/1/25	APPROVAL AUTHORITY: KATHLEEN PATRICK, PRESIDENT

I. POLICY

The organization has the permits, licenses, manifests, and safety data sheets required by law and regulation for managing hazardous materials and waste. Cytotoxic or hazardous agents are to be handled according to current standards of practice to minimize the risk of exposure to staff, patients, and the environment. Access to areas where HDs are handled is restricted to authorized personnel to protect others not involved in HD handling. The handling of these agents will be carried out in a manner consistent with the recommendations including but not limited to the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH), USP <800>, OSHA, accrediting bodies, as well as state, federal and local laws. All staff are advised of the risks to their reproductive systems when handling hazardous medications and confirm in writing that the risks are understood.

Refer to the Hazardous Drug (HD) List for current drug handling precautions located in the designated work areas or on the company's shared drive. Hazardous drugs that are not categorized should be handled at the highest risk level.

II. PROCEDURES

A. Exposure

1. The main routes of exposure to cytotoxic and hazardous agents are through:

    a. Absorption through skin of mucous membranes after contact with drugs or contaminated work surfaces
    b. Injection by inadvertent needle stick
    c. Inhalation of drug aerosols
    d. Ingestion through contaminated food, beverage, tobacco products or other hand to mouth behavior

2. A backup generator acts as an uninterrupted power source for the ventilation systems of negative pressure compounding and storage areas, as well as other key operational systems, in order to limit exposure and spread of HD residue.

3. Proper PPE is required; please see pharmacy policy on Aseptic Compounding Considerations and associated attachments for more details.

4. Exposure of personnel may occur during:

    a. Receipt
        - Contacting HD residues present on drug containers, individual dosage units, outer containers, work surfaces, or floors

    b. Dispensing
        - Counting or repackaging tablets and capsules

    c. Compounding and Other Manipulations
        - Constituting or reconstituting powdered or lyophilized HDs
        - Withdrawing or diluting injectable HDs from parenteral containers
        - Expelling air or HDs from syringes
        - Contacting HD residue present on PPE or other garments
        - Deactivating, decontaminating, cleaning, and disinfecting areas contaminated with or suspected to be contaminated with HDs
        - Maintenance activities for potentially contaminated equipment and devices
        - Priming IV tubing

    d. Administration
        - Generating aerosols during administration of HDs by various routes
        - Priming an IV administration set
        - Patient-care activities
        - Handling body fluids (e.g., urine, feces, sweat, or vomit) or body-fluid-contaminated clothing, dressings, linens, and other materials

    e. Spills
        - Spill generation, management, and disposal

    f. Transport
        - Moving HDs within a healthcare setting

    g. Waste
        - Collection and disposal of hazardous waste and trace contaminated waste

B. Receiving and Storage

1. Unpacking HDs from their external shipping containers occurs in a negative or neutral pressure area and is prohibited from occurring in sterile compounding areas. PPE must be worn when unpacking HDs in the designated space per USP <800>.

a. Chemotherapy gloves that meet the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) standards
b. Chemotherapy gown made of polyethylene-coated polypropylene or other laminate non-permeable material. The gown must be back closing, long sleeved, have closed elastic or knit cuffs, and must be without seams or closures that could allow HDs to pass through.
c. Appropriate respiratory protection required
d. Examine the shipping container for signs of damage or breakage (e.g., visible stains from leakage, sounds of broken glass).

2. Damaged containers should be treated as a spill. See below procedures and follow Pharmacy Policy on Emergency Procedures for Cytotoxic and Hazardous Drug Spills for more information.

    a. If the shipping container appears damaged, follow the procedure outlined below:
        - Seal container without opening and contact the supplier.
        - If the unopened package is to be returned to the supplier, enclose the package in an impervious container and label the outer container "Hazardous Material"
        - If the supplier declines return, dispose of as hazardous waste

    b. If a damaged shipping container must be opened, follow the procedure outlined below:
        - Seal the container in plastic or an impervious container.
        - Don all appropriate PPE including NIOSH approved respirator.
        - Transport the container to a biological safety cabinet and place it on a plastic-backed preparation mat.
        - Open the package and remove undamaged items.
        - Wipe the outside of the undamaged items with an approved decontamination wipe.
        - Enclose the damaged item(s) in an impervious container and label the outer container "Hazardous Material".
        - If the supplier declines return, dispose of as hazardous waste.
        - Deactivate, decontaminate, and clean the biological safety cabinet as outlined in Pharmacy Policy on Cleaning and Disinfecting of the Compounding Area
        - Discard the mat and cleaning disposables as hazardous waste.

3. A disposable plastic backed mat may be placed on the receiving surface to protect it from hazardous material.

4. Place each drug in a chemotherapy bag (multiple containers of the same drug can be placed in the same bag)

5. HDs must be delivered to the HD storage area immediately after unpacking.

6. A Spill Kit is available in the receiving area should a spill occur during or prior to unpacking deliveries.

    a. Refer to policy and procedure Pharmacy Policy on Emergency Procedures for Cytotoxic and Hazardous Drug Spills for more information.

7. HDs are stored in a negative pressure room.

8. HDs are stored in a manner to minimize the chance of breakage and contain any accidental leakage.

9. HDs (as well as all other drugs) are prohibited from being stored on the floor.

10. The storage room for HD medications that require manipulation other than counting and repackaging final dosage forms must meet the following requirements:

    a. It is an externally ventilated, negative-pressure room with at least 12 air changes per hour (ACPH).
    b. Refrigerated antineoplastic HDs stored within must have a dedicated refrigerator.

C. Drug Preparation

1. A Biological Safety Cabinet (BSC) must be used to protect against drug aerosolization during Preparation. Pre-administration activities, such as spiking the HD bag and priming of the administration set should occur in the BSC to reduce exposure risk.

2. Safety Data Sheets (SDS) for each antineoplastic agent are accessible to all employees. The method for using the SDS website is located on the company's shared network.

3. A Closed System Transfer Device (CSTD) may be used to minimize the escape of hazardous drug or vapor concentrations outside the system when dosage form allows. Personal protective equipment (PPE) during drug preparation follows USP <800> guidelines and is based on facilities assessment of risk. PPE includes:

    a. Gloves
        - Chemotherapy gloves must be worn for handling all HDs.
        - When used for sterile compounding, the outer chemotherapy gloves must be sterile.
        - Gloves should be changed every 30 minutes or between preparations, whichever is shorter. Also, gloves must be changed when torn, punctured, or contaminated.
        - Hands must be washed with soap and water after removing gloves.

    b. Gowns
        - Disposable gowns made of polyethylene-coated polypropylene or other laminate material must be worn when compounding HD's. Gowns must be back closing, long sleeved, have closed elastic or knit cuffs, and must be without seams or closures that could allow HDs to pass through.
        - Gowns must be changed per the manufacturer's information for permeation of the gown or immediately after a spill or splash.
        - Gowns worn in HD handling areas must not be worn to other areas in order to avoid spreading HD contamination and exposing other healthcare workers.

    c. Head, Hair and Shoe Covers

- Head, hair covers (including beard and moustache, if applicable) and shoe covers provide protection from contact with HD residue.
- When compounding HDs, a second pair of shoe covers must be donned before entering the C-SEC and doffed when exiting the C-SEC to avoid spreading HD contamination and exposing other healthcare workers

4. Additional guidelines relating to drug preparation and administration may be found in Pharmacy Policy Compounding Cytotoxic and Hazardous Drugs.

D. Drug Dispensing

1. Intact tablets or capsules

   a. Tablets or capsules are not to be opened, crushed or split prior to dispensing.
   b. A single pair of chemotherapy gloves must be worn for handling all enteral HDs
   c. A dedicated counting tray and spatula will be used for all Hazardous medications.
      - The tray must be decontaminated after each use by lightly misting a sterile cloth with Peridox solution and wiping the tray. Allow to dry for 5 minutes then wipe clean with 70% isopropyl alcohol. Allow to dry for at least 5 minutes prior to continuing use.

2. IV solutions

   a. Proper preparation for dispensing the final product to the patient is detailed in Pharmacy Policy Compounding Cytotoxic and Hazardous Drugs.

E. Drug Labeling

1. All HDs must be clearly labeled with the drug identity and the appropriate HD warning during transport, storage, and final dispensed product/compounded sterile preparation (CSP).

F. Drug Delivery

1. Refer to Pharmacy Policy on Dispensing and Delivery of Cytotoxic and Hazardous Drugs.

G. Drug Administration

1. When administering hazardous agents, it is recommended that a protective, non-absorbent, disposable, lint-free gown be worn with gloves pulled up over the cuffs.

2. The use of disposable plastic-backed liners is recommended in the area of administration which protects the patient and the environment from exposure during any accidental spill.

3. CSTDs must be used for administration of HDs when the dosage form allows as well as use of needleless connectors.

H. Additional guidelines for chemotherapy administration can be found in nursing policies and procedures. Refer to Nursing Policy on Antineaplostic Therapy Guidelines.

1. Refer to pharmacy Operations Policy on Disposal of Hazardous Materials-Medical Waste.

I. Hazardous Drug Spills

1. Refer to Operations Policy on Disposal of Hazardous Materials-Medical Waste for guidelines regarding emergency procedures for cytotoxic and hazardous drug spills.

J. Accidental Exposures

1. Any accidental exposure to a hazardous drug requires immediate intervention.

2. In the event of an exposure:
   a. Remove the contaminated gloves and/or gown

Chartwell Pennsylvania is a home infusion and specialty pharmacy operating as an affiliate of the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center (UPMC). The pharmacy has a contractual agreement with a managed services organization, CarepathRx LLC, located in the same building but with a different address, which performs data entry, DUR, and claim adjudication. UPMC is a minority owner of CarepathRx and a majority owner of Chartwell Pennsylvania. The facility holds wholesale distributor licenses which have not been utilized in recent years. Insulin is stocked, however, there was no ReliOn insulin observed. No platforms are used that are a marketplace for pharmacies to buy, sell, and bid on overstock and short-date drugs, and no price labels for any such platforms were observed. There is no semaglutide compounded. The PIC was not available for the inspection, and personnel files for sterile compounding training were locked in his desk and therefore unavailable for review by this inspector. Some training requirements are marked missing in the <797> Records Review as the personnel files were not available at the time of this inspection. Please see Doc01_PI_InspectorNotes for the Certificate of Analysis for an API used in compounding. There are no biologicals compounded. Please see Doc02_PI_InspectorNotes for the list of white bagged drugs and sample labels for two of the white bagged prescriptions. White bagged drugs are shipped only to UPMC provider's offices, and not to pharmacies. The latest environmental monitoring report dated 2/20/2024 indicated no microbes were found. ProficientRx is not a current source of product. HC Pharmacy Central Inc, a UPMC warehouse, will be dissolved effective 1/1/2025. David Benedict, COO, stated this source will no longer be used effective immediately. The Baxter Healthcare Exactamix recalled products, Pro 1200 and Pro 2400, are not used at this pharmacy. The Exatamix products used here were not subject to the recall.
